A Certain Man
A Certain Samarian

A certain man was putting away his coffee when saw a certain man who had just made a purchase. The certain man was quite pleased with his coffee and wished to thank the other man for his generosity. The certain man was not pleased and said, "Your coffee is not as good as mine." The other man chuckled and responded, "Well, I suppose you have your own secret recipe." The certain man was silent, thinking of all the times he had shared his recipe with others.

A Letter From

Dr. H. L. LAMB,
GENERAL MERCHANDISE
Granye, Ky.

Dear Editor:

I have just read your news item about the improvement and early rebuilding of Washington and am greatly interested in the report that New York, has been completely rebuilt. I went there to take a look at some of the new buildings and was very impressed by the progress made.

Washington is a great city and it is a pleasure to see how it has changed for the better. I enjoyed visiting the historical sites and seeing the many famous buildings that make up the city.

Thank you for sharing your experiences.

Yours truly,

H. L. LAMB

OLD DRAPE SHADOWS PARTY.

Adams, Sept. 7.—The Drape Shadows, a shadow play group, which left Fortress this morning, is preparing for a performance this evening, and a number of Romanov, French, and other foreign figures, who served in American war prisoners, was presented to the group by Fortress, by German Windi, who gave them the old American war prisoners, and the group, after an hour's talk, went out in the field to see the Italians, and to make the children's shadow plays more interesting.

PRISONER OF WAR.

Mrs. E. D. Barton, the wife of the American consul, who visited the fortress on Tuesday, reported that the prisoners were in good health, and that the food was satisfactory. She also stated that the supplies of clothing for the prisoners were ample, and that the weather was warm and pleasant.

KILLED IN CATTLE STAMPEDER.

Cass County, Sept. 7.—A cattle stampeder, which occurred near a farm in Cass County, took the life of a man and a woman, and injured several others. The stampeder was caused by a group of cattle, which became excited and ran wild, and the man and woman were killed by the herd.

WILDLIFE SAID TO BE IN GREAT SHAPE FOR HUNTING SEASON

holding on to the essentials, such as quality money and savings, can help maintain financial stability during tough times. This is especially important when:

- Managing household expenses
- Preparing for unforeseen financial obligations
- Planning for retirement

By prioritizing these elements, you can ensure a more secure financial future. Always consult with financial advisors and consider your personal circumstances when making financial decisions.
