Compulsory Health Insurance Will Mean Less Dengue at Result of New York

By JOHN H. RYERSON of New York

Compulsory health insurance is a powerful weapon for combating epidemics. For in the past, the prevalent practice has been to treat the symptoms of the illness rather than the whole problem. Now the idea of paying for health insurance will bring about a marked reduction in the death rate from such epidemics. The cost of medical care is not a burden but a benefit to society. Through a collective insurance arrangement the cost of medical care is spread over the whole community, making it possible for everyone to have adequate health care. The benefits derived from a collective health insurance plan will be far greater than the cost of administering such a plan.

Schools Must Not Teach Barbaric Idea That War and Patriotism Are Identical

By THOMAS W. GARDNER

There is something more important than military training in the schools, and that is to prepare these children the educated citizens of the future. The education they receive at school should be broad and diversified, but war and patriotism should not be emphasized. The idea that war and patriotism are identical is a dangerous one, for it teaches children to think only of war and to disregard other important values. It is important for children to be taught that patriotism is not just a matter of supporting war, but is a way of making these results accessible to the mass.

Enforced Institution, As Well As the State University, Is Not Always Free

By CHARLES E. VAN Vechten

Formerly University of Illinois

One of the duties of the enrolled institution is the independence of public opinion. The general opinion has to be taken into consideration in the management of the institution and the state. The public in general is interested in the welfare of the institution, and it is important that the institution should not be controlled by any political party or political group. The institution should be free from political influence and should be able to maintain a high standard of education.

In the name of the first that the state university depends upon the public, it becomes necessary for it to take an exceptional obligation to the state. The first of the duties of such a university is that it may be free from any political influence and that it may be able to maintain a high standard of education.

Captain of Industry Who Steals Under Cover of Law of Pirate of the Seaboard

By WILLIAM F. BARTLETT

President Five Year Credit Co.

The captain of industry who carries on his business under the guise of the law is a danger to society and should be dealt with severely. The law should be used to protect the interests of the public and to prevent such practices. It is the duty of the government to see that such practices are not carried on.

Worshiping of Idols of Various Kinds

One of Greatest Evils of Present Day

By NOEL Z. DAVIS of Chicago

There are many people who worship idols. Sometimes they have a certain faith which is the result of the real idea given to them by the idol they worship. Other times they worship an idol which is a symbol of their own weakness and of their need for something to trust in. These idols are often things which are not real, but are the result of the ideas which they believe in.

The Bee Believes in Efficiency

Farmers and Foresters: The New Number of the Farm Security Administration's farm paper news.

The bee takes over the honey bee in agricultural communities. The specialized beekeepers direct the activities of these channels in a way that the beekeeper himself does not. The bee will not fail, unless he himself does. The bees are successful because they are used to working together. The bees are efficient because they are not only working together, but also working with each other, and they are able to produce a great quantity of honey.

New York City, October 18 - Edward A. L. W., forty years old, an investment banker by Edward L. W., was found hanged in his apartment at 9000 Park Ave. during the last eighteen hours. The suicide, according to police, was a result of the death of his wife, Miss Alice L. W., who committed suicide by poison in an apartment in the same building, two days ago.

Mr. W., who was known as the "Silver Plate Art Wars," was a member of the well-known W. family, and was one of the leading figures in the social world. He was a member of the New York Athletic Club, and was a large contributor to various charities.

The funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the home of Mr. W., 9000 Park Ave. The address will be 9000 Park Ave. The body will be taken to the home for viewing.

Fraternity members of the New York Athletic Club are making arrangements for the funeral services.

The body will be taken to the home for viewing.

Our DEAD WARRIORS RETURN

Three members of the American Volunteer Corps have returned from the front in France. They are: Captain John A. Smith, lieutenants James D. Johnson and Charles F. Anderson.

The three men have been serving in France for several months, and were wounded in action. They are expected to make a full recovery.

The corps has lost many men in the recent battles, but the members are determined to continue the fight until victory is achieved.

In over a million homes they know.

At some time every woman has had her coffee problem—"bad coffee, medium coffee, coffee that was never twice the same."

A million women have solved the problem by serving Arbuckles'. Get a package of Arbuckles' Coffee today and see why.

Everybody Sings. Morning after morning, a million men praise it for its fine, full flavor. Women depend on it. In all these homes, it helps make breakfast a complete success.

Read what a few of these women say:

"I recommend Arbuckles' Coffee to my friends. I keep it all the time because it is better coffee."—Mrs. B., Mercer, Ky.

"I love Arbuckles' because it is stronger than the coffee and Arbuckles' packages are full and neat."—Mr. S., Collins, Tenn.

There are hundreds of varieties of coffee grown. To get the best coffee you ever found, it must be well roasted, well blended, and well ground. A cup of coffee that's half roasted, half decaffeinated, and a shiny burlap bag are not for you. Arbuckles' Coffee is the same quality, whether you buy it by the bag or by the pound.

"I have been using Arbuckles' Coffee for years. I think it is the only coffee to drink."—Mrs. A. C. W., Lay, Okla.

"We have used Arbuckles' Coffee for seven years, and have found it to be of superior quality."—Mr. W. Brown, Ash.

"The finest cup of the lever races! Like these million other women you can have your husband use this. For that satisfaction worth a little time and effort—wouldn't it be worth while even to make a special trip to the grocery store for a package of that fresh, full-flavored coffee a million other men are enjoying?"

Have it tomorrow. We will praise it morning after morning. When you serve Arbuckles' you will know why it has solved the coffee problem in over a million homes.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

LITTLE GEMMA GARDEN

"A little girl, named Gemma, had a garden that she knew and loved; it meant more to her than all the world. Her parents were too busy to help her with it. One day she walked over her flowers in the garden, wishing that they might be more lovely, and that she might come to the garden and see it all the year round. She called her mother, and together they planned to build a fairy garden, where the flowers would bloom."

PRETTY "POPO" BONNET

"A beautiful cape, which would keep the wind from her, and covered her in soft, fuzzy material. She added a small felt hat, which would keep her face from the sun."

UNCULLED RUFFS ARE NEW BRIGHT AND BEAUTIFUL, ALTHOUGH THEY ARE OF THE PUNY"

"The proper term is "unculled," and it means that the fringes have not been cut. This style suits both men and women, and is a new fashion that is catching on."
