

When you serve it, you will never know how much pleasure coffee can give

A million other women have learned what good coffee means—they have solved this question in their homes for all time.

They know now that to get good coffee, the coffee itself must be right.

There are hundreds of varieties of coffee grown. The coffee itself must be put up by men who know coffee. Arbuckles' Coffee is put up by Arbuckle Bros., the greatest coffee merchants in the world. There is more of it sold than any other coffee—that is why you can afford to give you the best value for your money.

And no matter how good coffee itself is, if it isn't well taken care of, it makes a poor drink. Arbuckles' Coffee is put up in sealed, dust-proof packages, carefully wrapped to protect it from moisture, dirt and store odors. It arrives in your kitchen with all its original strength and flavor.

Have in your home the enjoyment of drinking the coffee which, of all the coffees in America, is the most popular! Solve your coffee problem in the identical way a million other women have. Serve Arbuckles' Coffee tomorrow—know how much pleasure coffee can give.

What The Holiday Brings Fourth.

The best part of the holiday season, perhaps is the opportunity it gives for home gatherings and the family reunions that in these busy days are all too few. Many a young man finds time to get back to the old hearthstone and sits down in the dear home circle, who, if the holidays were omitted, would be kept strictly at his tasks. All the schools are dismissed, boys and girls are at home, teachers likewise are off duty and, with no care pressing in thousands of places parents and children have happy times together for which they may thank the festive season.

For two thousand years all of the nations, in every generation and every year of that generation, have been celebrating the birthday of one man. This man was not born in a palace, nor in a mansion, but in a manger, for his mother had gone up to Bethlehem of Judea and the inn was too crowded to accommodate her. And when the Babe was born, He was wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger. During His short life-time of 33 years, He did not sit on a throne nor in halls of state, nor did He associate with rich and the aristocratic of His day. His birth was not announced to the king nor the rulers, but to some humble shepherds, watching their flocks at night, around about whom were suddenly shone a blaze of light, causing them to fear, and angels were singing to them: "Glory to God in the highest and on earth, peace, good will toward men." He has been called the Prince of Peace, and this message, "Peace on earth, good will towards men," has been the message of the Christmas time all down through the ages.

French Transport Filled

With Uroops Is Sunk.

Berlin, Dec. 12.—The sinking by a German submarine of a 6,000-ton French transport filled with troops was announced today by the Admiralty.

The announcement follows: A German submarine on November 27 near Malta sank the French transport steamer Karnak, 6,000 tons. The Karnak was crowded with troops destined for Saloniki.

The Karnak was 447 feet long, was built in 1899 and was owned in Marseilles. She was a passenger liner and was last reported on her arrival at La Ciotat on August 8, since which time she apparently has been in the service of the French Admiralty.

Last January she reported on her arrival at Marseilles with a large number of passengers from Alexandria and Malta that she had been pursued for several hours by a submarine.

London, Dec. 12.—Lloyds reports the sinking of the following vessels.

British steamships Burcombe, 3,516 tons gross, and Istar, 4,582 tons gross.

Norwegian steamship Skjoldur, 489 tons gross.

French sailing vessels Briantais, 256 tons gross, and Cap. Lihou, 252 tons gross.

Queenstown, Dec. 12.—The British steamship Harpalus, 1,445 tons gross, was sunk yesterday by a submarine. The crew was landed.

Brest, France, Dec. 12.—The Norwegian steamer Erich Lindoe, the Greek steamer Dimitri and the French schooner Marie Marguerite have been sunk by submarines. Their crews were saved.

Russia to Get Constantinople
And Straits When Allies Win.

Petrograd, Saturday, Dec. 2 (Via London, Dec. 3, 2:46 a. m.) The semi-official news agency says that in the Duma to-day Premier Trepoff read a proclamation announcing officially that an agreement concluded by Russia, Great Britain and France in 1915 and later approved by Italy, establishes in definite manner the right of Russia to the Dardanelles and Constantinople.

Premier Trepoff's announcement is quoted by the news agency as follows:

"For more than a thousand years Russia has been reaching southward toward a free outlet on the open sea. This age-long dream, cherished in the hearts of the Russian people, now is ready for realization.

Living Prices Still Soar.

The prices of foodstuffs, clothing and all staple articles continue to go higher and just a here they will stop is not known.

an average 100 per cent. Think of corn being sold on the market at shucking time for 87cts. per bushel; wheat is quoted at $1.84, other produce prices have advanced proportionately. Our local merchants are offering 40cts. per dozen for eggs; 15cts. per pound for navy beans. Only a short time ago we considered the price of 35cts. per bushel for corn at shucking time a fair price; $1.00 per bushel for wheat was rare; 4cts. per pound navy beans was a customary price and if the farmer's wife could get 15cts. per dozen for eggs there was no thought of any of the children "doing without" any necessary article.

The farmer is reaping the largest share of the profits. His products have increased larger in proportion than any other. It is true that what the farmer has to buy has materially advanced in price, but a good farmer (should) sells much more than he buys, and if he fails to make money at the present quotations he had better hunt another job.—Independent.

GERMAN NAMED TO RULE IN OCCUPIED RUMANIA

Military Government Established Under Gen. Tueliff.

Berlin, Dec. 3 (by wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.).—Gen. Tueliff von Tocheffe and Weidenbach have been appointed chief of the military administration of Rumania says an official statement to-day, which declares:

"A large number of German members of these departments partly belong to other parts of the country will be carried out according to the principles previously established, which, in part, correspond to the necessities of Rumania and are, in part, on account of the necessities of the Central Powers, cut off by England, contrary to international laws.

DEATHS

Mrs. Mary Hicklin died at her home on Morganfield street Saturday, Dec. 9th, of pneumonia.
Her death was not unexpected to her loved ones who watched over her during her recent illness, but was a great shock and surprise to every one else as few knew of her serious condition. She had been unusually well, although of a frail build and was up and about, only two weeks ago attended services at the Methodist church, to which she had belonged for many years.

The funeral was preached by Rev. H. R. Short at the residence Sunday morning at nine o'clock, and the remains were taken to Green's Chapel in the Rodney section, where she held her membership. Rev. Short accompanying the remains and officiating there also.

Mrs. Hicklin was born Dec.
19th, 1843, and was a Truitt before her marriage to Benjamin T. Hicklin, which occurred in February, 1865, in this county where they resided all their lives except for a few years residence in Livingston county.

Her husband died in January, 1887, and she had lived a widow since that time.

One brother, Albert J. Truitt, survive her, being the last survivor of a large family.

Mrs. Hicklin leaves six children: two daughters, Mrs. Annie Asher, wife of Jeff D. Asher, and Miss Iva Hicklin, of the Marion Graded and High school faculty; four sons, being W. T.
Hicklin, of Kansas; James and John of this city and Rev. Carl Hicklin, recently of Colorado.

FOR SALE—A sey cow with a fer calf a week

Nov. 30th.

...ice when there is no reason to either. other suggestions—the increase interstate commerce membership and in its facilities forming its manifold duties, the son for full public investigation assessment of industrial disputes, the grant to the executive of the or to control and operate the rail- when necessary in time of war her like public necessity—I now earnestly renew.

The necessity for such legislation is manifest and pressing. Those who have entrusted us with the responsibility of duty of serving and safeguarding them in such matters would find it hard, I believe, to excuse a failure to act upon these grave matters or any unnecessary postponement of action upon them.

Not only does the interstate commerce commission now find it practically impossible, with its present membership and organization, to perform its great functions promptly and thoroughly, but it is not unlikely that it may presently be found advisable to add to its duties still others equally heavy and exacting. It must first be perfected as an administrative instrument.

The country cannot and should not consent to remain any longer exposed to profound industrial disturbances for lack of additional means of arbitration and conciliation which the congress can easily and promptly supply. And all will agree that there must be no doubt as to the power of the executive to make immediate and uninterrupted use of the railroads for the concentration of the military forces of the nation wherever they are needed and whenever they are needed.

This is a program of regulation, prevention and administrative efficiency which argues its own case in the mere statement of it. With regard to one of its items, the increase in the efficiency of the interstate commerce commission, the house of representatives has already acted; its action needs only the concurrence of the senate.

For Control and Operation.

I would hesitate to recommend, and I dare say the congress would hesitate to act upon the suggestion should I make it, that any man in any occupation should be obliged by law to continue in an employment which he desired to leave. To pass a law which forbade or prevented the individual workman to leave his work before receiving the approval of society in doing so would be to adopt a new principle into our jurisprudence which I take it for granted we are not prepared to introduce. But the proposal that the operation of the railroads of the country shall not be stopped or interrupted by the concerted action of organized bodies of men until a public investigation shall have been instituted which shall make the whole question at issue plain for the judgment of the opinion of the nation is not to propose any such principle. It is based upon the very different principle that the concerted action of powerful bodies of men shall not be permitted to stop the industrial processes of the nation, at any rate before the nation shall have had an opportunity to acquaint itself with the merits of the case as between employee and employer, time to form its opinion upon an impartial statement of the merits, and opportunity to consider all practicable means of conciliation or arbitration.

I can see nothing in that proposition but the justifiable safeguarding by society of the necessary processes of its very life. There is nothing arbitrary or unjust in it unless it be arbitrarily and unjustly done. It can and should be done with a full and scrupulous regard for the interests and liberties of all concerned as well as for the permanent interests of society itself.

Other Legislation Urged.

Three matters of capital importance await the action of the senate which have already been acted upon by the house of representatives: the bill which seeks to extend greater freedom of combination to those engaged in promoting the foreign commerce of the country than is now thought by some to be legal under the terms of the laws against monopoly; the bill amending the present organic law of Porto Rico; and the bill proposing a more thorough and systematic regulation of the expenditure of money in elections, commonly called the Corrupt Practices Act. I need not labor my advice that these measures be enacted into law. Their urgency lies in the manifest circumstances which render their adoption at this time not only opportune but necessary. Even delay would seriously jeopard the interests of the country and of the government.

Immediate passage of the bill to regulate the expenditure of money in elections may seem to be less necessary than the immediate enactment of the other measures to which I refer; because at least two years will elapse before another election in which federal offices are to be filled; but it would greatly relieve the public mind if this important matter were dealt with. The circumstances and the danger of obtaining and spending the funds stand clear under redelay and the methods of redelay would be frankly studied in time until apothecaries; and a and some special other very so it might be thought, coming of those who urged it. It hand taken now with facts for without suspicion of partiality. I shall not argue at length the ability of giving a freer hand to matter of combined and concerted effort to those who shall undertake the essential enterprise of building up our port trade. That enterprise presently, will immediately assume, has indeed already assumed, a magnitude unprecedented in our experience. We have not the necessary instrumentalities for its prosecution; it is deemed to be doubtful whether they could be created upon an adequate scale under our present laws. We should clear away all legal obstacles and create a basis of undoubted law for it which will give freedom without permitting unregulated license. The thing must be done now, because the opportunity is here and may escape us if we hesitate or delay.

Porto Rico's Needs.

The argument for the proposed amendments of the organic law of Porto Rico is brief and conclusive. The present laws governing the island and regulating the rights and privileges of its people are not just. We have created expectations of extended privilege which we have not satisfied. There is uneasiness among the people of the island and even a suspicious doubt with regard to our intentions concerning them which the adoption of the pending measure would happily remove. We do not doubt what we wish to do in any essential particular. We ought to do it at once.

There are other matters already advanced to the stage of conference between the two houses of which it is not necessary that I should speak. Some practicable basis of agreement concerning them will no doubt be found and action taken upon them.

Inasmuch as this is, gentlemen, probably the last occasion I shall have to address the Sixty-fourth congress, I hope that you will permit me to say with what genuine pleasure and satisfaction I have co-operated with you in the many measures of constructive policy with which you have enriched the legislative annals of the country. It has been a privilege to labor in such company. I take the liberty of congratulating you upon the completion of a record of rare serviceableness and distinction.

Bound to Make Good.

The well-dressed stranger stepped into the drug store and, passing by the boy who usually attended to casual customers, approached the proprietor, who was arranging some goods in the show case.

"Mr. C—, I presume?" he remarked, pleasantly, and the druggist turned and bowed gravely. "I have heard my friend, Mr. Quorn, speak of you often," said the brisk man. "He told me if ever I needed anything in this line to come to you. He spoke of you as a man on whom one could rely with perfect confidence, who had only the best of everything and with whom it was always a pleasure to deal."

"Mr. Quorn is very kind," answered the other, beaming with gratification. "He is one of my best customers. What can I do for you this morning?" "Well—this morning, as it happens," said the stranger, with just a little briskness, "this morning I should like, if you will allow me, to consult your directory."

"Certainly," was the calm reply. "We also have a good selection of one and two-cent stamps as well as railway time tables, if you need anything of that kind."

Franklin Objects Seriously.

She isn't very large, that's true, but being a county seat, and boasting of a college, several factories, flour mills, railways, interurbans and her lately acquired Masonic home, Franklin feels that she is not a town to be passed lightly by, in fact, she knows her importance, and thought that everyone in the state realized it until she was taken down a bit lately. During the big conference of the Methodist churches held recently in the town a meeting of the Indianapolis presbytery was in session at the same time at Hopewell, a country church in a prosperous farming community a few miles out. One of the Presbyterian delegates, on leaving the train joined in the throng headed for the Methodist church. When it came to registering, some of his inquiries caused someone to suggest that probably he was in the wrong place, and he asked innocently: "Isn't this Hopewell?" "No, this is Franklin," was the proud reply.—Indianapolis News.

Rather Embarrassing.

Irvin Cobb, the war correspondent, home from Europe long enough recently to get his breath and look over the proof sheets of a new book, attended an authors' banquet in New York.

A deaf man sat next to Cobb. Farther down the table another man told a funny story, and when he finished, the deaf man laughed and applauded louder and longer than any of the rest.

"Good old boy!" shouted the deaf man. "That reminds me of a story," he added to those near by.

"Get up and tell it, Charlie," cried several. The toastmaster sanctioned the suggestion.

Then the deaf man got up and told the same story the other man had told.

He Was on the Job.

The undertaker arose and said to the mourners assembled:

"If anyone present wishes to say a few words of tribute to the deceased, now is the time, when the family will be glad to hear such."

A stillness prevailed, and after a few moments of silence it was broken by a young man, who arose and asked:

"Do I understand that no one wishes to make any?"

Good Tobacco Sale

Hopkinsville Kentucky: V. M. Acree, of near Oak Grove, this week sold his crop of 60,000 pounds of tobacco at $11 around without any limit on luxs. His crop is very fine and the sale brings him six thousand, six hundred dollars. Other farmers are turning their crops loose at the present satisfactory prices.

THE RICHES OWNED BY KENTUCKY FARMERS

The farmer to-day represents a new generation of intelligent, independent, thrifty people with money and inclination to be progressive. The farm products of this year bring to the farmers and planters probably five billion dollars, which would prove that they could corner the money market of this country if they got together and used it as one man. Strength, strenuousity and the future health of the American people depend upon our country folks. As a rule, country folk are healthier than those who live in our crowded cities. Consumption is a disease of civilization. Life in the open air and sunshine gives vitality and health. Nature is the great teacher and developer of mankind. People have more faith in a remedy which is taken from nature, from the vegetable kingdom, than from any other source. A remedy which has enjoyed a grand reputation for nearly half a century is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, an alternative extract taken from barks, roots with pure glycerine, without the use of a particle of alcohol or narcotics. This medicine goes to the root of disease by imitating nature's methods of replacing wasted tissue, enriching impoverished blood and increasing nerve force. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce coaxes the digestive functions and helps in the assimilation of food, or rather takes from the food just the nutriment the blood requires.

The prompt and certain action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in driving all harmful germs and impurities from the blood, sets in motion the repair process which works actively on the diseased membrane where catarrh flourishes unchecked or where the skin gives warning of the bad blood beneath by showing pimples and boils, also the skin clears up and becomes wholesome and ruddy.

"Wonders will never cease," exclaimed Mrs. Albert Elder. "It says here that a method has been discovered whereby a man can get drunk by absorbing the rays of the sun."

"That's nothing," replied Albert. "I know lots of people who get drunk by absorbing moonshine."

Uncle Duck Green says, It will take you twenty-four hours a day to mind your own business.

Uncle Gus Bentley says, A man always has plenty of self control until he needs it.

Ed McNeely said, A five word prayer from the heart will get you more than a 500 word from the lips.

Ed Baker says, It might be possible for a man to serve two masters. But it is impossible for a woman to serve both style and comfort.

Carliss Oakley said: "Pa, will moth balls kill flies?"

"Yes, my son, but you'll have to throw straight," replied his father.

Darby Wyatt says, One good thing about being married is that you can always blame it on your wife when you make a mistake.

Uncle Billy Loyd says, We are busy yelping for freedom of speech. But we said half of the fool things my brother says, we would be in the hospital all the time.

Hub Butler says, P. T. Barnum dug up a lot of freaks in his time, but he never discovered a man who could out talk his wife.

John Warren Travis says, It isn't always unbelief that causes a man to keep away from church. Maybe he had a church wedding when he was married.

Carliss Oakley said: "Pa, who killed the dead language?"

"I guess they must have been talked to death by the women folks, my son," replied his father.

"Carliss, you go right in the house and take a dose of medicine," said Mrs. Oakley.

Editors, as a rule, are kind-hearted and liberal. An exchange tells of a subscriber who died and left a fourteen year subscription unpaid. The editor appeared as the lid of the coffin was being screwed down, and put in a linen duster, thermometer palm-leaf fan and a recipe for making ice.

Sharp Axe or Dull Axe.

(W. J. Bryan)

The boy who drops out of school under the delusion that the money he can earn will be worth more to him than an education, makes a fatal mistake. As a wood chopper can afford to stop chopping long enough to keep his axe sharp so the students can afford to postpone money earning long enough to complete his education. The difference between meeting life's problems with a trained mind and a dull mind is even greater than between chopping wood with a sharp axe and a dull one.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

In future we will use the "automatic mailer" which discontinues each paper when the time expires. We are adjusting our lists of subscribers to it as rapidly as possible, so each name will go off automatically at expiration.

$1.25 A YEAR

Will Be Price of The Cadiz Record After January First.

For one time the question of increasing the subscription price of The Record has been staring us in the face, but we have been holding it off with the hope that something might appear to stop the rapid advance in price of news print. But it has continued to increase in price by leaps and bounds until now it costs us almost three times as much per pound as it did eight months ago, and we have recently been assured by the paper houses that there will be another considerable advance before the first of January.

In view of these conditions, we have been forced to increase the subscription price of our paper, and after January 1st, 1917, said price will be $1.25 per year, cash-in-advance, in place of $1.00 per year, our present price.—Cadiz Record.

A Happy Christmas to grown people and a Merry Christmas to the children! And let it be a happy Christmas; for that one day put away worries and disagreeable feelings and enter into the real spirit of Christmas, which is to give happiness into some human life. It is not in the giving of presents alone that is the true Christmas; it is in bestowing kind words, kind looks and smiles where there is not always sunshine. Why do people so often think Christmas a burden and wish the holiday season past? Why should the sad and sorrowful look forward to it as a dread anniversary? This is the worst form of selfishness. Christmas should be a day of self-forgetfulness and of thinking of some one else's life and how it can be made brighter. There is a great deal of sadness and sorrow in all stations of life and a few cheery words accompanied by a smile and encouragement and effort.

Sparks Electric.

A telephone system is being installed by the Spanish Government to connect up cities on the Canary Islands. Electricity automatically awakens the firemen, releases the horses and opens the doors of a fire station in England. Wireless messages have been received with a detector made of the lead of a broken pencil and two safety razor blades.

More than one thousand electric ranges were sold to the housekeepers in staid old Boston, Mass., during the year ended October 31st. An electrically operated coffee mill—so small and light that the whole outfit could be tucked in an overcoat pocket—is used to grind coffee in the home. Gongs will not awaken deaf mutes in case of fire so one institution has installed a fire alarm system for flashing electric lights in the sleeping rooms at night.

Electrical goods to the value $35,000,000, it is estimated, will be exported during the year 1916, the most prosperous year in the history of electrical manufacturing.

Courts have recently sustained the patents on Mazda lamps owned by the General Electric Company and no further importations will be permitted.

An electrically ignited pipe which lights the tobacco at the bottom of the bowl instead of the top, thus avoiding the collection of moisture in the stem, is the newest in smokers' inventions.

A miniature Mazda lamp, lighted by a single cell of dry battery and used for surveying is visible for 50 miles. It is used in the triangulation surveys of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

A committee on Russian industrial affairs reports that there is need for a rapid increase in the means for generating electric power in Russia. At present there are 93 generating stations.

SAFETY DEMANDS FEDERAL CONTROL OF THE RAILROADS

Only Way to Meet Emergencies of Nation, Says A. P. Thom.

STATES' RIGHTS PRESERVED

Principles Which Railways Held Should Govern Regulatory System in Interests of Public and the Roads—Compulsory System of Federal Incorporation Favored.

Washington, Dec. 12.—That the interests of national defense require that control of railway lines should rest with the federal government and not with the states was the claim advanced by Alfred P. Thom, counsel to the Railway Executives' Advisory Committee, in concluding his preliminary statement of the case for the railways before the Newlands Joint Committee on Interstate Commerce.

"We must be efficient as a nation if we are to deal successfully with our national emergencies," said Mr. Thom, "and we must appreciate that efficient transportation is an essential condition of national efficiency. If we are to halt and weaken our transportation systems by state lines, by the permanent imposition of burdens by unwise regulation, we will make national efficiency impossible."

States' Rights Would Not Suffer.

Mr. Thom cited many instances in which shippers in one state were seriously affected by selfish regulations imposed on the railroads by neighboring states. He pointed out that federal regulation would be no invasion of the rights of the states but would be the means of preserving the rights which they acquired when they entered the Union, one of which was the right to the free movement of their products across state boundaries.

What the Railroads Advocate.

The principles which the railroads believe should be incorporated in any just system of regulation were summarized by Mr. Thom as follows:

1. The entire power and duty of regulation should be in the hands of the national government, except as to matters so essentially local and incidental that they cannot be used to interfere with the efficiency of the service or the just rights of the carriers.

2. As one of the means of accomplishing this, a system of compulsory federal incorporation should be adopted, into which should be brought all railroad corporations engaged in interstate or foreign commerce.

3. The Interstate Commerce Commission under existing laws has too much to do and is charged with conflicting functions, including the investigation, prosecution and decision of cases. The latter duties should be placed in the hands of a new body which might be called the Federal Railroad Commission. Regional Commissions should be established in different parts of the country to assist the Interstate Commerce Commission by handling local cases.
