FARMERS OF CRITTENDEN CO.

Our County Agent Tells You How to Improve Your Farms in The Article Below

I want to say something about building up Crittenden Co. soil, it is true we have many different kinds of soil in this Co. but all of this is more or less sour, we find that the first thing in the production of any crop, to make a minimum yield, we must have a sweet soil, then the first question 'How will we correct the acidity of our soil?' It has been found that with the use of fine ground lime stone, the land can be made sweet, and produce splendid crops of clover of any variety. So the first step would be for each and ever farmer to put as much money as he could spare, each year in lime, I mean to invest in ground lime, for it would be an investment and not an expense, and should be looked at only as an investment. But every body won't use lime on their land, and we will have to try to form a plan that will work out the best results in all cases. But again use all the lime you possibly can, set aside an amount say $5 or more if possible to be invested in lime each year.

Each farmer can get his farm in a system of rotation, and we will try to map out a system that will work on any and every farm in this Co. The first thing will be to divide the farm into fields, according to the rotation. The best for this Co. is a six year rotation, in that case we would want six fields, with a five year rotation, just start with a corn crop, we will plow our ground deep, and use acid phosphate, if possible, sow this in the fall in rye, turn the rye in the spring and sow to beans or peas, and seed to grass, if a crop of wheat is wanted, the wheat and grass can be sown together, or better leave the grass off, turn the stubble as soon as possible prepare the land and seed to grass about the last of August. This gives us three crops off the land, then this field will remain in grass for three years, we will take off one crop of grass and leave the other two crops to graze. This will give us one field in corn, one field in peas or beans, one field in rye or wheat, and three fields in grass all the time.

To make this clear, we will number our fields, nos. 1-2-3-4-5 and 6, the first year we will put No. 1. in corn, VI. in beans and peas, in the fall we will sow rye in corn field and wheat in pea field, the next spring we will prepare No. II. for corn, and for beans and peas, that fall we will put VI. in grass, I. in wheat, and II. in rye. The third year, we will have III. for corn, II. for beans and peas, and that fall I. seeded to grass II. to wheat, and III. to rye. The fourth year, III. for corn, III. for beans and peas, II. will be sown in grass in the fall, III. to wheat, and III. to rye. The fifth year V. for corn, III. peas and beans, in fall III. to grass, III. to wheat, and V to rye. Sixth year, VI. for corn, V. for peas and beans, fall seeding, III. to grass, to wheat, and VI. to rye, and keep this up year after year, by the time we started on the second series, or when was put in corn the second time we would be able to gather a much larger crop of corn at much cheaper cost than the crop made six years previous. Is it any wonder our old fields fail to give us good returns? What have we given them, all these years? We take every thing away from them and the washing follows, we work them wet, plow them shallow and never think of giving them food. Would you work for nothing, and not even get your meals? Would you work your team without feed? How long would your cow give milk without feed? This applies to our land as well as it will to any of the things mentioned. Farmers of Crittenden Co. wake up and help your old poor fields to help you, they are willing and crying for food, with which to feed your crops for you, give them a chance and they will prove it to you. Come to the farmers meetings, there we try to study out the propersitions in every community, we are trying to get better cattle, better hogs, and yes better men, to use the the crops and make the land, just begin Now, clean up the old place, stop the gullies, make more manure, and save it to put on this good old field, so it can give off more plant food, and yield more abundantly, just say one hundred fold, Don't forget to drag your part of the road while it is wet next time. Don't forget to come out to your farmers club the next time it meets, you have one in reach of you, its yours and if you don't get any good from it, nobody is to blame but You. Meetings this week are in the Southern quarter of the Co. Mon, Chapel Hill, Tuesday, Crayne, Wed. Caldwell Springs, Thurs. Fredonia, and Friday at Lone Star. The one nearest you is yours, come and make it so.

Will give one of my favorite poems, By Prof. Alfred Vivian of Ohio State University. There was a man in our town, And he was wondrous wise, He knew that if he wanted crops, He'd have to fertilize.

It's nitrogen that makes things green, Said the man of active baain, And potash makes the good strong straw, And phosphate plumps the grain.

But it's clearly wrong to waste plant food, On a wet and soggy field, I'll surely have to put in drains, If I'd increas the yield.

And after I have drained the land, And plowed it deep all over, And even then I'll not succeed, Unless it will grow clover.

Now acid soils will not produce, A cloven sod that's prime, So if I have a sour soil, I'll have to put on lime.

And after doing all these things, To make success more sure, I'll try my very best to keep, From wasting the manure.

So I'll drain and lime and cultivate, With all that, that implies, And when I have done that thoroughly, I'll manure and fertilize. - Your County Agent.

FOR ASSESSOR

ONE OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY'S MOST POPULAR YOUNG MEN.

HERSCHEL O. FRANKLIN

The above is a good likeness of Mr. Herschel O. Franklin of North Crittenden, who has announced his candidacy for the office of Assessor of Crittenden County. Mr. Franklin is well known in most parts of the county and is a young man of pleasing personality and high ideals. He is a perfect gentleman in every sense of the word and has a wide circle of friends, not only among the young people but among the older people of the county who will give him their support in the coming election. Mr. Franklin has been teaching for some time and has always taken an active part in Church and Sunday School work. He is thoroughly qualified to fill the office to which he aspires and solicits the support of the voters of the county at the Republican Primary election, Saturday, August 4.

D. C. MAY ABOLISH SALOONS

House Expected to Concur and Law Ending Liquor Traffic in District of Columbia Seems Aured

Sheppard bill, which abolishes saloons in the District and prevents the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors within that territory, but does not prohibit their import for personal use, was passed in the Senate yesterday afternoon by a vote of 55 to 32. The bill becomes effective November 1, next.

The referendum amendment permitting the citizens of the District to express their approval or disapproval of the proposed prohibition was rejected by a tie vote of 43 to 43.

The bill now goes to the House, where its friends asserted last night it would be passed before adjournment and the abolishment of all saloons within the District assured before Congress reconvenes.

Democratic leaders of that body, before the holiday recess, stated that a special rule would be supplied by the rules committee insuring a vote on the bill. It is confidently predicted that the House will support the action of the Senate by a substantial majority. Opponents of the "dry" measure admitted that the bill probably would get through the House without much trouble.

DR. P. Y. MCCOY PASSES TO REST

Revered Physician of Evansville, Dies After Illness of 10 Weeks At The Age of 76.

Dr. Pitt Yandell McCoy died at 8:45 Sun. night at his home in Evansville, Ind., at the age of 76. The end of his long and useful career came peacefully, as a result of a complication of diseases, of which heart trouble was the most prominent at the time of his death. Death followed an illness of about ten weeks.

The death of Dr. McCoy deprives the medical profession of southern Indiana of one of its venerable and revered members. For forty-four years he had been engaged in active and successful practice of medicine. He was one of the most competent surgeons in the central west.

When taken sick in October he was taken to Wesley hospital, Chicago, the last of November, where he might have the benefit of the best laboratory work to discover the cause of the continued fever. The decision there was that the infection was due to diseased teeth which had gradually undermined his strength.

He was brought home three weeks ago.

Dr. McCoy was born in Golconda, Ill., June 29, 1841. He was of Kentucky stock, his maternal grandfather having emigrated to Indiana territory. His grandmother, a relative of Geo. Rogers Clark, whose early emigration into the Northwest territory was one of the most important episodes of American history. Dr. McCoy was reared in Golconda, and his schooling was received at Franklin college, Franklin, Ind.

At 18 he began the study of medicine at Golconda under Count Albert De Leczynski, polish exile, who was a graduate of the University at Vienna, a man of varied attainments and one of the most skilled physicians and surgeons in the world.

Dr. McCoy was married at Salem, Ky., to Miss Nellie Woods in June, 1865, she being a sister of R. H., and D. Woods, of this city.

She died in 1875, leaving a daughter, Jessie, now Mrs. G. R. Nutty of Pittsburg.

He was married again Dec. 16, 1875 to Miss Effie Carr, of Evansville.

He was a member of Indiana State Medical society and had taken post graduate courses in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. He was a member of the Vanderburg County Medical society, a fellow of the American College of Surgeons, and a member of the American Medical association and the Clinical College of Surgeons.

He was also a member of the La Valette commandery Knights Templar, a thirty-second degree Mason and a Shriner.

Dr. McCoy is survived by his wife, daughter, Mrs. G. R. Nutty of Pittsburg, and two grandsons, Gale R. Nutty, jr., and Pitt McCoy Nutty. Mrs. Nutty has been at her father's bedside since November.

Lieut. Gibson Hale of Murray Accidentally Killed Near El Paso.

El Paso, Tex. Jan. 13. -Lieut. Gibson Hale, of L Company, 3rd Kentucky Infantry, was accidentally shot through the temple and instantly killed late this evening while seated in his tent at the regimental camp near El Paso. A few moments prior to the accident, Lieut. Hale and some of the other officers of the regiment had been inspecting a shot gun, the property of Capt. William King of K Company of the same regiment.

Dr. Lee Dorroh Here on a Visit.

Dr. Lee Dorroh, First Vice President of the Farmers' National Bank at Hammon, Okla., a Caldwell county boy who married Miss Ophelia Alves, a Livingston county girl, was here Tuesday enroute to Salem to visit his wife's mother and to attend to some of his interests in this section. Dr. Dorroh says the prosperity of the West and South is something phenomenal. Cotton and oil being the chief products and both in big demand at high prices.

J. H. Orme Has Some Curiosities From The Mexican Border

J. H. Orme is in receipt of a package from Senator Ollie M. James containing a collection of curios from the Columbus Raid and from Mexico. A Mexican saddle from which a Mexican was shot during the Columbus Raid. You can see the Mexicans blood spattered upon the seat of the saddle.

Secondly, a pair of Mexican Spurs these belonged to Panco Villas right hand man. Also a Mexican hackamore, this halter or bridle is made of horsehair. Another thing is a pistol, the Mexican who had it was killed. His name which is written on the pistol. Also a Mexican knife which did not belong to any of the Mexican grandees.

L. Hughes, who died of a stroke of apoplexy Oct. 31st, 1916, at his home in Owensboro, Ky., was born March 23rd, 1844, near Carthage, Crittenden county, Tenn., and was there in his 73rd year when he died. His parents were Mr. John J. and Mrs. Mary Gass Hughes. He left five brothers, Ira C., Winfield S., James B., J. Mack and Rev. U. G. Hughes, all of Marion, Ky., and one sister, Mrs. Belle James, of Memphis, Tenn. He was married three times. His first wife was Miss Malinda A. Rice, of Marion, Ky., to whom he was married May 8th, 1872. Of this union there is one child living, Miss Maude Hughes, of Nashville, Tenn. His first wife died Nov. 30, 1880.

On Dec. 19, 1881, he was married to Miss Willie Belle Yelton, of New Middleton, Tenn., of this marriage there is one child living, Roy Yelton Hughes, of Mitchell, S. D. His second wife died Oct. 10th, 1896.

On Feb. 20th, 1900, he was married to Miss Mary Louise Swoope, of Owensboro, Ky., who survives him. Of this union there is one daughter, Miss Mildred Hughes, of Owensboro, Ky.

In 1860, his father moved to Crittenden county, Ky., and settled on a farm. Here he grew to manhood and on March 23rd, 1864, his 20th birthday, he enlisted in the Union Army, in Company C., Third Kentucky Cavalry. This regiment, in the summer of 1864, was placed in Sherman's cavalry division in Sherman's army, independent of any corps.

Mr. Hughes served with his regiment in the Atlanta campaign and on Sherman's march from Atlanta to Savannah, and after taking of Savannah and Forts McAllister and Palmetto, started in January, 1865, through the swamps and swollen streams of the Carolinas in the dead of winter.

This campaign ended with the surrender of that superb Confederate fighter, Gen. Joseph E. Johnson. Mr. Hughes mentioned with some pride that he was one of Gen. Sherman's escorts when that officer went out to meet Gen. Johnson at the Bennett house a few miles out from Durham, N. C., to arrange the articles of capitulation.

During Mr. Hughes' service in the army he was not absent from his regiment a single day. There was never a shell shrieked or a bullet whistled over the heads of Company C., when he was not present.

He fought in the following battles: Jonesboro, Ga., twice; Lovey, Ga., twice; Van West, Ga.; Waynesboro, Ga.; Blackville, S. C.; and Averysboro, N. C., besides minor spats and skirmishes.

Mr. Hughes was discharged in Louisville, Ky., Aug. 2nd, 1865. Since the war he has been a farmer, teacher, merchant, deputy sheriff, Circuit Court Clerk, and member of county school board of Crittenden county.

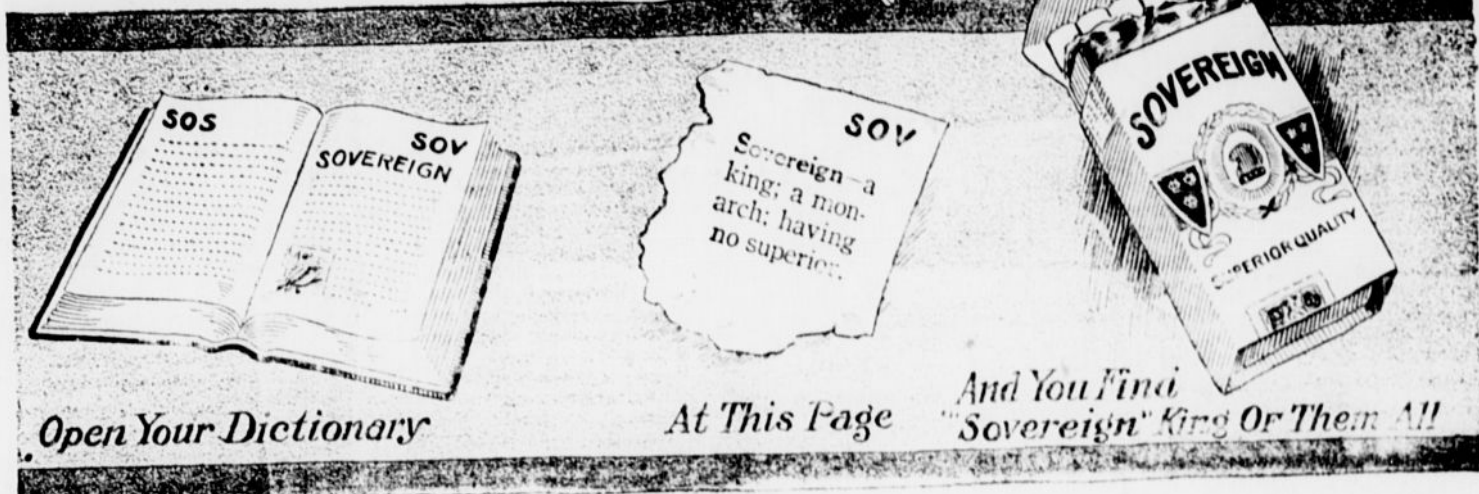

He lived eight years in Kansas. For the past fifteen years he has been in the Revenue Service at Owensboro, Ky.

In the Grand Army, Mr. Hughes served six consecutive terms as department historian and has come up through the successive grades of Junior Vice commander and senior vice-commander, and Department commander, which last office he held in 1913, when the National Encampment met in Chattanooga, Tenn.

He was a devoted member of the First Christian church of Owensboro, and was assistant teacher of the "Twentieth Century Bible Class" which numbers more than one hundred men. He was preparing to teach this class, when stricken Oct. 29th.

He was courageous and upright in all his dealings and numbered his friends by the score.—A FRIEND.

I, a Southern Gentleman, am Named

Well, way back in 1901, after I had been in this bright, happy world for several days, I began to get worried like. I didn't have any name.

Folks were calling me "it" and "the new one" and "what-ya-call-it." I didn't like it a bit. Then one day I heard the Big Chief telephoning all his department heads to meet in his office.

Pretty soon they all came filing in. Tall chaps, short chaps, fat chaps and skinny chaps. "Now that he is here," said the Big Chief, "what will you name him?"

My! how they wrangled and wrangled and wrangled. You know, you have heard them argue whether He'd be called Jack or John or Jim before. Finally, one fellow spoke up and said:

"Why not call him 'SOVEREIGN'? His mother was a Virginian, his father an aristocrat of the Carolinas. He comes from the very best stock. He comes from the very sweetest, ripest, mellowest Virginia and Carolina tobacco. He is being raised right in one of the cleanest, whitest, healthiest homes on earth. He is a Southerner born, a Southerner bred, a Southern gentleman—the king of them all—a real SOVEREIGN."

*The Folks of the South KNOW good blood.
The Folks of the South KNOW good tobacco.*

SOVEREIGN—the best—is none too good a name." So I was named, friend, for I want you as one of my friends, and it means a whole heap when I say—

I am guaranteed by The American Tobacco Co. —Buy me. If you don't like me return me to your dealer and get your money back. I have said it. A Southern gentleman is known the world over for keeping his word, and I have given you mine.

Removing Old Paint.

Old paint may be quickly and easily removed from any surface by scrubbing with the following mixture: Dissolve a quart of baking soda in a gallon of water and add a quart of quicklime. Apply to the surface with a brush and in a few minutes all traces of the old paint may be washed off in warm water. The wood should then be washed with vinegar before new paint is applied to remove all the alkali.

Uncle Billie Lloyd says wouldn't you like to be a boy again and hear a woman's skirts rustle when she walks.

Darby Wyatt says when we first was married I would get mighty mad because my wife wouldn't talk to me. But I got some sense later on.

It seems strange to me that men can't settle down after they marry said Mrs. George Stallions. Nothing strange about it growled George! How can they settle down when their wives are always stirring them up.

John Rice says a wife and a auto are alike in one respect, you never discover that you can't afford them until after you get them.

Howerton says an empty baby can make almost as much noise as a man who is full.

That darned Record Press is always roasting me said Henry Rice, I wish I knew of some way to make it lose so much money that it would have to suspend publication. That's easy replied Daddy Lloyd all you have to do is to buy it and run it yourself for a few months.

Does it cost much to send a boy to college, asked Dan B. Bister "No," replied Daddy but it costs like a blaze to keep him there.

Your husband tells me that he sleeps like a log remarked Mrs. Hughes "Yes," replied Aunt Joe Dollar. He sleeps like a log that is being operated on by a buzz saw.

Clarence Franks says Lots of women look good who are not good looking.

Taylor Stokes says the trouble with giving the women the vote and putting them on even terms with us men folks is that the women are liable to get the idea that they have as much right to

Why a Cold Catches "Sweet."

Put ice cream into a cup and the cup and the air around it constantly become cold. Air consists in part of vapor, and when the air is cooled this vapor turns into water. As the center of coldness is the cup, a good deal of the air in the immediate vicinity gathers on its outside in the shape of water. But, as the air contains much more heat than the cup contains cold, the ice cream gradually melts.

WANTED SALESMAN

For House Hold Necessity
Quick Write To day.

F. Lee Sheppy, 172 N. Halsted Street, Chicago, Ill.; General Sales Manager of the largest concern of its kind in the world, wants three or four men in Crittenden County and several men in adjoining counties to work for him spare time or all the time. He can use only those who have a rig or an auto. Work is very pleasant and no previous selling experience is necessary. Work consists of leaving a wonderful new household necessity in the homes on free trial. Tests at more than thirty of the leading Universitys, and the Government Bureau of Standards show this new article to be four times as efficient as any article now in general use in this section. Article is needed in every rural home and benefits every member of the household—bringing cheer, comfort and happiness in the home. Not necessary to be away from home at nights. Pay from $6.00 to $15.00 per day according to ability and number of homes visited. In writing Mr. Sheppy mention what townships will be most convenient for you to work, what your regular daily occupation is, your age, married or single, how long you have lived in community, what kind of a rig or auto you have, whether you wish to work spare time or steady how much time you will have to devote to the work, when you can start, and about how many homes are within six miles of you in each direction. This is a splendid opportunity for several men in Crittenden County and counties adjoining to make good money, working steady or spare time. Some of the field men earn $300.00 per month, one farmer earned $1,000 working spare time only. No investment or bond necessary.

Maintaining Bond-Built Roads

Make Ample Provision for Upkeep—Analysis of State Highway Reports on Cost of Maintenance

(Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture)

Cedar Creek Concrete Bridge, Louisville, Ky.

The problem of maintaining highways constructed with borrowed money should be given as much consideration as is devoted to the more permanent features of the roadbed. It has not been customary for officials to face frankly the cost of the maintenance and repair of bond-built highways at the time the bonds are issued and before construction begins. As a matter of fact, investigations made by the department show that in the majority of cases where bonds have been issued by local authorities there has been no provision whatever for maintaining the roads when built. This is perhaps the greatest defect in the method of building highways by issuing bonds.

Maintenance is necessary in order to insure to the community the maximum economic service by the road, and also to preserve the investment. The cost of maintenance and repairs must, therefore, be studied at the outset. In the absence of general data, the reports on maintenance from states which have highway departments should be of interest to county officers preparing to issue road-building bonds.

Cost of Maintenance.

The following opinions as to maintenance cost represent the results of careful analyses of state highway reports, as well as much first-hand information gathered by the department's specialists:

All-constructed gravel roads will sometimes sustain several years of fair traffic without showing marked deterioration, even when there has been no maintenance. Such roads sometimes actually improve during the second season; more frequently, however, they show ruts or chuck holes. It cannot be expected that the average life of a gravel surface will be greater than that of a macadam surface, which in the New England and eastern states is between six and seven years. If a sum equal to two-thirds of the original cost of the gravel surface itself is provided for renewals at six-year intervals, it should be estimated at from $150 to $250 per mile per year. If $20 is then allowed for annual dragging and small repairs, the total annual cost of repair and maintenance for gravel roads would be from $180 to $280 per mile. The annual cost of maintenance alone is sometimes below $30. In Burlington county, Vt., during 1912, 175 miles of gravel roads were maintained at a cost of $20.70 per mile. The annual cost of maintenance and repair on sand-clay roads, including all necessary resurfacing at periodic intervals, should not be fixed at less than 10 per cent of the original cost.

What Figures Show.

The cost of repair and maintenance for water-bound macadam roads has been determined with considerable exactness from Massachusetts figures and checked by resurfacing charges in other states and in Germany. Prior to 1913, from $100 to $125 per year ordinarily paid for necessary small

Build Them Now.

Some day we will be unanimously of the opinion that the way to save money on roads is to build them now. The cost per ton mile for hauling on hard surfaced roads should not exceed 12 cents.

IN SOCIETY

One of the most beautiful society events the past week was on Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. E. S. Holloway and Mrs. John Holloway entertained a few friends informally with a musical tea, in honor of Mrs. Marshall Jenkins, of Marion, Ky., who was the guest of Mrs. John Holloway for a few days.

The rooms were artistically decorated with pink and white carnations and smilax.

Mrs. Jenkins is a charming woman and a musician of unusual talent, besides being a harpist of exceptional merit; she also plays several other instruments with equal skill. The guests were thrilled with the beautiful program rendered by Mrs. Jenkins on her harp. Her selections were alternated with vocal selections by Mrs. Charles Williams of Rochester, N. Y. and Mrs. M. Yeaman. Mrs. Arthur Katterjohn, Miss Hatie Belle Spoehr and Miss Helen Sweeten gave several violin selections, some with the harp and some with piano accompanied, and Mrs. Jenkins and Miss Sweeten accompanied the vocalists varying the program of accomplished artists with beautiful symphony.

Enthusiastic applause were responded to with clever recites.

Mrs. Margaret McCreary Dixon greeted the guests at the door and they were received informally by the hostesses and the honor guests.

At the conclusion of the program Miss Annabelle Neale invited the guests into the dining room. The table was centered with a huge cluster of pink and white carnations and the electric dome was wreathed in smilax, developing an artistic effect. Miss Bessie Baskett presided over the tea and coffee-urns and was assisted in serving by Misses Orlene Dixon, Louise Holloway and Lucy Johnson. --From the Henderson Gleaner.

On Saturday evening Jan. 13, in the school auditorium a reception was given Mr. James Homer Moore, by the Freshman Class of the M. H. S. A program which had been planned was beautifully rendered. The High School orchestra gave several sections, which were very much appreciated. Delightful refreshments were served, consisting of Hot chocolate, sandwiches, potato chips and pickles. Small favors were found on each guests plate, representing agriculture.

Wednesday night the Junior girls entertained in honor of Mr. James Homer Moore, coach, and the football team, at the home of Miss Nellie Stone. The contests were carried out in athletic form and the favors were little footballs tied with blue and white ribbon, this being the team's colors. The refreshments consisted of sandwiches, pickles and hot chocolate. Punch was served throughout the evening. Those present were members of the football club and the Junior class.

James Homer Moore is Now A Farm Demonstrator

Marion has sent out another one of her boys, who was called to Greenville by the Marion County Farmers to accept the position of demonstrator at a splendid salary. Jim Homer, as he is called here, deserves much credit for his advancement which was all on account of merit. He has taken advantage of his opportunities, which shows that he has a good head on his shoulders. Instead of wasting his best years in frivolities he has buckled down to the serious side of business life. This will bring him happiness, honor and recognition when ever a place worth having is open. We congratulate Muhl-ebury County for sending to Crittenden County and also on getting Jim Moore. That he will make good goes without saying here, where he graduated with honors from the Marion High School and at Lexington where he won his diploma in the Agricultural department of the Kentucky State College.

BLACKFORD

Since various other places are heard from through the columns of the Crittenden Record-Press and not wishing the readers of that Blackford has fallen into a state of despondency or sunk into oblivion, we shall approach the front again with a few of hand remarks for publication.

Tradewater river is full of water, the ground is frozen, and some sickness still prevails, but our people are glad that matters are not worse.

Our good townspeople, E. F. Stevens and wife, contemplate moving to Dexter, Mo., in the near future. We regret very much to give to give them up, but such is human life. "The best of friends must part."

W. J. and S. W. Parrish, of Gladstone, were here last week looking after business affairs.

Dr. W. C. Kemp, of Logan, was here Sunday enroute from Louisville.

Mrs. M. B. Higginson, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Ringo, at Indianapolis, Ind., returned Saturday.

Rev. R. S. Richardson, of Mattoon, has accepted the pastoral charge of the Methodist church at this place and has already filled one appointment. His regular time is the third Sunday each month.

We saw in a recent issue of the Record-Press an "epistle," written by a former Crittendence, Bartley A. Jacobs, hailing from the sunny south, the contents of which we perused with pleasure. Come again friend Jacobs, for we are glad to know that you are yet among the living.

Some of our standpoints Blackford is yet in the embryonic field, but peradventure we may gradually climb higher.

Relative to religious and political opinions, the people in this "neck of the woods" are somewhat conglomerated. Religiously, we have Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and "Ridge Rooters." Politically, we have Republicans, Democrats, Socialists and "Mug-Wumps." People differ about religion and politics as well as other things.

Nineteen hundred and seventeen is the year for the county campaign, when the various county officials will be chosen by the voters, therefore it becomes each voter to use a little mental "axle-grease" on his "brain-journal" and get it to revolving good and smooth, so it will take to the impression that will not rub off between elections.

While our intention is to be conservative, yet what we write may be more or less tinged with politics, nevertheless we shall write what we deem most prudent to the majority concerned.

With wishes for the unbounded success of all citizens, "devils" and correspondents, graded at 100 per cent, we quit until next time, by saying:

"Mid January's sleet and snow
The doctor has to come and go,
And often hours, with wishful looks
Please put it on the books."

—Status.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEWYORK WORLD in 1917

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. The great war in Europe is now half-way into its third year, and, whether peace be at hand or yet be far off, it and the events to follow it are sure to be of absorbing interest for many a month to come.

These are world-shaking affairs, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, is compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THR! CRITTENDEN RECORD-Press together for one year for $2.00. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

FORD'S FERRY

Luther Clift went to Marion Monday.

Opossum Ridge school is progressing nicely under the direction of its able and efficient teacher, Miss Grace Condit.

Miss Edna Rankin was a pleasant visitor at the residence of J. W. Hughes Sunday and Monday.

Quite a number of farmers in this neighborhood are contemplating raising tobacco this year, as a result of the unusually high price which that product is demanding at the present time.

Jimmy Rankin, of this place, is in Michigan at the present time.

Henry Truitt is somewhat discouraged over the stock law.

Quite a number of people attended the spelling match at Possum Ridge Thursday night. During the hour which preceded the spelling, the crowd was entertained with a burlesque trial, in which Sherman Ford was convicted and found guilty for stealing chickens. After this matter was disposed of, the spellers were divided against each other, and the crowd witnessed some spirited spelling by the contestants. The side which was called No. 1, was victorious over the other side, which bore the appellation of No. 2.

Raising Road Bond Is

Benefits from Good Roads estimated—Necessity for Es

(Prepared by the U. S. Department

Using Drag, Dunn, North Carolina.

Of the various methods of financing road projects the one most generally practiced for raising a substantial fund which will be available for immediate expenditure is through the issuance of bonds. Experience, say the road specialists of the department, has shown good roads to be a sound investment, both from a business and economic standpoint. If properly proportioned and managed bond issues are made for their improvement, the roads themselves will pay off the indebtedness thus created through the utility which they afford and the saving which will result in the cost of hauling.

Some Reasons for Failure. Instances are not lacking where bond issues for highway purposes have proved failures. These failures are due to mismanagement rather than to defective principle. Where counties have issued highway bonds the proceeds of which have been spent to construct temporary road surfaces and maintenance. Too frequently advised locations are adopted.

Need for Highway Engineering. Highway plans for bond issues require expert skill and professional service. Before the amount is determined, a thorough study of the needs of the county is made and careful maps of proposed highway system should be prepared. The sum to be issued is not fixed until it is known what it will accomplish, customary for many counties point a commission of business under whose jurisdiction the money is expended. In other cases the county supervisor or commissioner has the direction of the money. The best results have followed where such commission county boards have secured the services of a competent highway engineer. Guided by the costly ex-on unimproved grades and without proper drainage, failure has necessarily resulted. There are on record in the department of agriculture instances showing where the so-called macadam roads have been built with bond money by simply dumping broken stone at the wrong time of year on muddy surfaces without grades or alignments and without rolling or binding. Investment of money in new roads does not become real economy until provision is made for keeping these new roads in condition by maintenance and repair after they are built.

Through a misunderstanding of the essential principles underlying the establishment of a proper country road system, conflicts of interest sometimes arise which cause the failure of the bond-issue plan. The location of the roads to be improved should not be determined by argument, but upon sound engineering and economic principles. Before a community votes to issue bonds for highways it is necessary to study thoroughly what roads ought to be improved, and the approximate cost of their construction many communities, it is not, on the more common for counties to destroy plan. In all engineering it is customary to allow a percentage of the cost for and supervision. There is an exception to this rule, five per cent of the cost will be set aside for supervision alone. Money hire a competent engineer and for his service are issued and to plan construction will be made a rear bonds in order to obtain of one per cent in a bid or less and then proceed the roads in a most haphazard planned manner.

The split log drag has more toward the economy of public highway implement of modern use can be built or purchased is easily operated by any drive a team.

"TANLAC SMILE" CHEERS MUSICIAN

Noted Tuba Player Finds Relief After Fifty Years.

Kings have heard C. Ferdinand Weise play his giant tuba; presidents of South American republics have wondered at his skill, as have audiences in the United States. But only his associates knew that frequently, a few minutes before a concert, Mr. Weise would be doubled up with cramps while cold sweat drenched his body.

C. FERDINAND WEISE.

ferred from annoying health worries until Tanlac brought him relief.

Sounds Praise of Tanlac.

No horn is big enough now for Mr. Weise to sound the praise of Tanlac. "Tanlac is the greatest thing in the world for worries like mine," he said. His "Tanlac Smile," ruddy complexion and clear, laughing eyes are ample evidence.

"My whole system was run down," he said. "I would be doubled up with pains and feel that I didn't want to eat another bite for a week, because I knew it would form gas and acid and cause bloating and pain."

Gives Tanlac Credit.

"For freeing me from all this I want to give Tanlac the praise it deserves. After taking it I feel better than I have in ten years. It is the best of tonics. For several months I have not taken any, but my digestion continues in perfect working order."

TO TACO FIRM SUES
Ross Vaughn Company Asks $40,000. Claiming interference With Contracts.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 13.—It was announced here that the Ross Vaughn Tobacco Company, of Owensboro, has filed suit in the Ohio County Circuit Court, at Hartford, against R. E. Massant and S. B. Le. Owensboro tobacco men, for $40,000, for alleged malicious interference with contracts held by the plaintiff with numerous tobacco growers in the Green River district. The plaintiff has contracts with 400 tobacco growers for their crops. These contracts were individual obligations made by the growers with representatives of the Ross Vaughn Company. The plaintiff avers that upward of 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco is involved in the negotiations and that the defendants are endeavoring to destroy those obligations. An injunction is asked against the defendants to restrain them from interfering with the contracts held by the Ross Vaughn Company with any of the growers in the Green River district. The filing of this suit is only another indication of the spirit of competition for tobacco in this district.

WHEAT HITS $2 MARK.

Long-Predicted Goal Reached By No. 2 Red For Immediate Delivery

Chicago, Jan. 13.—For the first time war prices on wheat here touched to day a long predicted goal, two dollars a bushel. No. 2 red winter wheat for immediate delivery, sold at that price, an advance of about 2 cents since Sat. Pressing demand for shipment to Europe and for domestic milling needs were generally accepted reasons for the rise. Simultaneous with the ascent of wheat, other grain went soaring. The corn market jumped to above $1 a bushel and barley touched $1.

Among the Chilkat Indians

THE COUNTRY OF CHILKAT

UPON the discovery of the northwest coast of America, the Tlingit were found in possession of southeastern Alaska, with the exception possibly of the southernmost portion of Prince of Wales island, which had been wrested from them by invading Haida from Masset on the Queen Charlotte Islands during the latter half of the eighteenth century. From the testimony of the early explorers, this occupation seems to have been of sufficient age to have developed a racial type, speaking the same tongue, acknowledging established laws, and bound by like conventions, says an article by George T. Emmons in the American Museum Journal.

What knowledge we can gather of their origin and early life from their family traditions, songs and geographical names, although fragmentary and vague, tells consistently of a uniform northward migration by water, along the coast and through the inland channels from the Tshiashian peninsula and Prince of Wales island, which was constantly augmented by parties of interior people descending the greater rivers to the sea.

The social organization of the Tlingit is founded on matrilinearity, or descent through the mother, and is dependent upon two parties, the members of each of which may not marry among themselves, but the two parties intermarry and supplement each other upon the many ceremonial occasions that mark their intercourse.

The two parties are subdivided into six existing families or clans, founded on blood relationship and absolutely independent in government, succession, inheritance and territory. Within the family there is a well-defined aristocracy, wholly dependent upon birth, from which the chiefs are chosen; an intermediate class consisting of those who have forced their way to the front, through wealth, character or artistic ability; and the poorer people. In earlier days there were many slaves who had no recognized rights.

Chilkat the Leading Tribe.

Geographically considered, there are 16 tribal divisions known as "kwans," a contraction of "ka" (man) and "tan" (land lived on or claimed). Of these seven tribes the Chilkat have been the most prominent since our acquaintance with Alaska. The relative importance of a primitive people is measured by conditions of food supply and other natural resources. The commanding position of the Chilkat, at the head of the inland channels controlling the mountain passes to the interior, gave them the monopoly of the fur trade of the upper Yukon valley, and the placer copper fields of the White river region. These products, unknown to the coastal area, were economically important in primitive days, and after the advent of Europeans the increased demand for furs, and their greater value, made this trade even more lucrative. The Tlingit were a canoe people and might be termed semi-nomads, as they were on their hunting grounds in the early spring and late fall, while the summer season was spent in the fishing camps by the salmon streams; but notwithstanding these long absences, they built substantial villages, where, except for social activities, they spent the winter in comparative idleness.

As they looked to the sea for their principal food supply, their villages were directly on the shore just above the high watermark. In sheltered coves, where they could launch their canoes and land in any weather and at any stage of the tide, the Chilkat, differing from all the other Tlingit, lived just beyond the open water in a rather restricted territory on rivers that were veritable storehouses of food, bringing an abundance of fish life to their very doors and so permitting them to remain at home throughout the year, except when on their trading trips to the interior, when gave their habitations a more permanent character, and contributed to the unity of communities.

At the Mouth Town.

Of the four principal old villages, all of which have survived the ravages of constant strife and the still more deadly by-products of civilization—liquor and disease—Klukwan (mother town) has always held the first place in size, wealth and the character of its people. It retained its supremacy long after the more southern coast villages had gone to decay, as its more interior and isolated position and the independent and aggressive reputation of its population kept white traders at a distance. Klukwan lies at the base of a gradual slope on the north bank of the Chilkat, 20 miles from its mouth, where the swift current concentrated in a single channel forms a strong eddy that permits the landing of canoes at any stage of the river.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—An interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Belle Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

A Good Woman Called To Her Home Beyond

Sarah Martha Daniels was born in Williamson Co. Tennessee in the year 1839, and moved to Crittenden Co. Kentucky in the year 1859. Was married to Littleton Owen Threlkeld on Oct. 18th 1856. This marriage relation was blessed with six children, Edna and Uie Threlkeld of Cayn, Ky., T. S. Threlkeld and Mrs. B. and M. Ella Ark. She possessed a faith in Christ about the year 1856 and united with the church at Union in the year 1862, where she lived a consistent christian life to the time of her departure. Sister Threlkeld fell asleep Jan. 3 1917 at his late residence at Crane Ky. Her faith was that of a wife, simple and strong in her love. She was a loving, kind, patient and her devotion to her ones her work and church, was marked. Her funeral was conducted from the Presbyterian church at Cayne Ky. by the pastor T. C. Carter, after which her body was laid to rest in the Crane Cemetery, to await the resurrection. Sister Threlkeld is survived by an aged husband and four children and by a host of relatives and friends who mourn her departure, to whom we extend sincere sympathy.

High Schools Make Gain.

The number of high schools in Kentucky increased the last year from 225 to 340 and the enrollment from 15,547 to 28,638, according to the report just issued by Prof. McHenry Rhoads, supervisor of high schools.

Reports have been received by him from 316 schools. Manual training is taught in fifty-nine, home economics in forty, and agriculture in 173. The average enrollment is ninety. The cost of the pupils in the 216 schools is $9,604.51, an average of $44.90. There are 1,189 teachers with a payroll of $718,993.28 in 252 schools. There were 1,870 graduates last year, of whom 696 are attending college.

High school grounds and buildings cost $4,203,708.56. In 236 schools their libraries total a value of $51,268. In 143 schools their laboratories are valued at $59,960. In 160 schools reporting, manual training and home economics cost $72,430.83. To these must be added twenty-seven colored high schools, of which twenty-five report an enrollment of 1,048; grounds and buildings worth $262,264.31; libraries in 17 schools worth $2,226; laboratories in eleven costing $1,568, and manual training and home economics in eighteen schools whose equipment cost $14,341. These colored high schools have ninety teachers and a payroll of $51,653. Of the forty-three graduates last year nineteen are attending college.

Drastic Action Promised.

On the theory that the habitual keeping open of a saloon in violation of the Sunday-closing law constitutes a public nuisance, of which a court of equity will take cognizance, Assistant Atty. Gen. O. S. Hogan will ask the Court of Appeals, when it is convened for the January term, to advance the case of the Commonwealth against Joseph L. Ruh, saloonkeeper of Covington, and Emma Ruh, owner of the property, seeking to enjoin them from the sale of liquor on the premises on Sunday. The lower court decided against the Commonwealth. In his brief Mr. Hogan stated that "a short time before the filing of the petition number of the citizens of Covington advised the attorney general and requested that all the saloonkeepers, including the appellees, were operating and keeping open their saloons and selling liquor on Sunday."

Far On White Pine Rust.

State Forester J. E. Latham and Prof. H. Garman, of the Kentucky Experiment Station, have been appointed members of the Main Committee of Foresters, which will formulate plans to eradicate white pine rust. This disease started in the New England States and has extended west as far as Minnesota. It is killing trees in the white pine forest in this belt. The committee will draft a bill to be presented to congress requiring an inspection of all nursery stock shipped interstate.

A Pauper Idiot.

BAD WEATHER SAVES LICKIN'

Allies Claim Bad Weather Only Saved Germany From Defeat at Somme.

London.—The battle of the Somme is pictured as a sweeping triumph for entente allied arms in a detailed report by Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, which covers operations from July 1 to Nov. 18. Gen. Haig terms the battle a triumph, in which the German western armies were only saved from complete collapse and a decisive defeat by a protracted period of unfavorable weather that prevented the Anglo-French forces from taking full advantage of their successful advance. He declares that, nevertheless, it was a triumph which proved beyond doubt the ability of the allies to overthrow Germany "when the time comes." The British commander shows himself a firm believer in the doctrine that the entente allies can win the war on the western front.

WILSON ASKS LEGISLATION

Centers With Senator Newlands and Outlines Arbitration Bill He Wants Passed.

Washington.—President Wilson at a conference with Senator Newlands, in the Senate office building, urges the immediate enactment of a compulsory arbitration bill as a protection to interstate commerce in railroad strikes. It is understood that such an answer should be made by Congress to the latest disagreement between the brotherhoods and the railway managers. A draft of the bill has already been prepared by the administration officials.

The president did not even permit Secretary Tumulty to know of his plan to visit Capital Hill. He telephoned to Senator Newlands and made the appointment himself. The chief executive is said to have approved the bill which has been drafted and desired to see that it be passed with the least possible delay.

BOND ISSUE IN SIGHT.

$180,000,000 Deficit May Be Covered By Bonds.

Washington.—President Wilson has tentatively agreed with administration leaders in congress on a bond issue to meet part of the treasury deficit which confronts the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, estimated at about $180,000,000. With Secretary McAdoo, the president is working on other plans for raising additional revenue.

The president has pointed out that he believes a bond issue should be used only to meet temporary and emergency expenditures. Many of these have been caused by the Mexican situation.

The treasury already has authority, by previous acts of congress, to issue Panama bonds, and about $240,000,000 of these are available. They would bear 3 per cent.

Plans for raising the other revenue are understood to concern the income tax, an inheritance tax and special taxes on internal revenue and imports.

Weds in Washington.

Washington.—Miss Julia Fulton Williams, daughter of Senator and Mrs. John Sharn Williams of Mississippi, and Thomas Rives Boykin of Savannah, were married at the senator's home. Mr. and Mrs. Boykin will live in Savannah.

Changes in Office.

Little Rock, Ark.—Wm. M. Stoddard, deputy state auditor, has resigned to succeed R. G. Anderson as clerk of the penitentiary commission. L. A. Wood of Paragould, bookkeeper in the auditor's office, was appointed deputy auditor in Mr. Stoddard's place.

"BUFFALO BILL" PASSES AWAY

Former Scout And Indian Fighter Dies After Brave Fight With Death

Denver, Jan. 10.—Col. William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) died at 12:05 o'clock today at the home of his sister in this city.

"Buffalo Bill," master soldier, scout, and showman, was for many years known to every man, woman, boy and girl in America through his Wild West Show with which he toured this country and Europe. He was a picturesque type of the pioneer frontiersman and lived to see large cities built where he once hunted the buffalo and fought Indians.

Col. William F. Cody was born in Scott county, Iowa, Feb. 26, 1846. His ancestral stock was Spanish, English and Irish. His parents moved West and took up a claim near Lavenworth, Kan. Then a frontier Indian post, when Cody was five years old. At ten years of age he found himself the head of the family, owing to the death of his father, who was killed in an encounter growing out of a dispute over the negro slave question. Young Cody's first employment was as courier between the freight wagon trains operated by the Missouri river and Rocky Mountains. In turn, he became wagon master, trapper, hunter, pony express rider and stage coach driver, all giving a varied experience in a school, the graduation from which left the scholar an adept in every possible line of frontier activity.

Captured Many Prisoners.
Paris.—During the course of last year, according to authoritative figures, 78,500 Germans were captured on the French front by the French and 40,000 by the British, while in Serbia and Macedonia the entente allies took 11,773 Bulgarians and Turks prisoner. During the same period the Italian made prisoner 52,250 Austrians, while the Russians captured more than 400,000 Germans and Austrians.

High Rates on Submarine.

Shake Off That Grip

When Spring comes, with its changeable weather and your exposure, it is best to clear away all the symptoms left after an attack of grip. That evil disease leaves you weakened, and when its victim attempts to "do his bit" he exposes himself to the risk of a second attack, for which he is less prepared, and which may have grave consequences.

There's Danger in Delay

April and May are months. In this time a weakened system is a constant source of danger, for the pneumonia and grip infections are the air, and after a long winter the body is so clogged with the health, remove the
