MARION HIGH SCHOOL MOVED FROM CLASS B, TO CLASS A.

The Steady And Faithful Work of Our High School Faculty Has Been Rewarded And Now Our High School is in The Class
With The Best in The State

The addition of splendid physical laboratory equipment and an extra teacher to the High School raises the standard.

Supt. V. L. Christian

Prin. Hollis C. Franklin

The men who did it.

The Crittenden Record-Press has always been an earnest supporter of the Marion City Schools and we are very much pleased to learn that the High School here has been placed on the "A" list of High Schools and now ranks among the best in the State. The Committee on Accredited Schools of the State College Association on January 27 upon the recommendation of State Supervisor of High Schools Prof. McWhorter placed the Marion High School from Class B to Class A.

This is an honor of which the town and country should be proud and which speaks well for the men who have, by their untiring efforts and faithful service, given us, in spite of the many difficulties they have had to face, a school which not only measures up to the standard set for the best high schools of the state, but which is alive, wide-awake, progressive and earnestly seeking to meet the needs of the County.

The enrollment the first term was 125 and many new pupils expressed a desire to enroll at the beginning of the second term but owing to a lack of room they could not be taken until school opens in September 1917, which will be by far the largest opening the school has ever had.

The splendid physical laboratory equipment which has helped to raise the standard of the school was installed last year and not having a fund to draw from for that purpose the school has been paying for the apparatus by plays, entertainments etc. which the patrons and citizens of the town, appreciative of the good work being done by the school, have loyally supported it.

Crittenden County is rapidly working up in an agricultural way and to meet the needs and the demands of the many young men and women of the County who wanted a better understanding of that line of work, the High School now offers courses in Agriculture under a thoroughly competent instructor Mr. G. M. Gumbert, graduate of the Dept. of Agriculture of State University now has charge of the work in Agriculture.

The two Literary Societies, under the supervision of the faculty are doing better work this year than ever before and offer splendid opportunities for the young people who are seeking self-improvements.

Profs. Christian and Franklin are planning for a great year in 1917-18 and the Record-Press having watched them succeed in whatever they have undertaken in years past, feels confident that success will crown their efforts and that Marion and Crittenden County will have many things to be proud of in their joint High School of the future.

His wife who was a sister of Pension Commissioner W. J. Stone and of Caleb Stone, father of Mayor G. W. Stone, died many years ago.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to extend our sincerest thanks to all who so kindly gave us help and sympathy in the sickness and death of our father, R. D. Moore.

May God's richest blessings rest on each one is our prayer.

Examination At Shady Grove.

The examination for County Promotion Certificate for Shady Grove School, was held at the school house on Feb. 1st and 2nd 1917. There were eight took the examination and seven made passing grades. Those who passed were: Lexi Easley, Raymond Hollowell, Davis Hollowell, Ernest Tovey, Arrena Stephens, Ina Coleman, and Beulah Boyd. Mary Tovey, Teacher.

Interesting Day at Walton School.

Our school closed here last Wed. Feb. 14. A large crowd being present, they were amused by the older pupils of the school.

The morning was spent in talking and laughing and at noon a nice dinner was served. Exercises began at one o'clock P. M. and were started by a song (Uncle Sammy) sang by all the school. Then the play entitled (Mrs. Tubbs of Shanty-town) was exhibited and created much laughter and amusement among the company.

Miss Lillian Bennett as Mrs. Tubbs, a very poor widow. Misses Mabel Gahagen and Anges Winders as Queenie Sheba, and Punky Dumps, her daughters. Romie Walker, Dick Rankin, and Frank Gahagen as Jimmie, Suffles Methusalem, and Billy Blossom, her son's. Rubye Sturgeon as Clinge Vine a romantic old maid. Her lady boarder, Miss Ruby Gahagen as Ellen Hickey, a neighbor friend, who knew one thing and that was to keep her mouth shut. Miss Beulah Walker, as Elmira, her daughter. Miss Winnie Walker, as Miss Maydell Campbell, the school Miss of Shanty-town. Charley Hughes as Tom Riordan the census taker. Geo. Thorn, as Simeon Rubbles, a wealthy old widower who is hunting a wife. It was an enjoyable day and the only cloud that rested on us was parting with our dear teacher. Miss Pope has taught us a fine school, the best we have had for many years. All the parents are pleased with what the children have learned and the children loved their teacher so much. She was good to us all and won our love by kind words. The pupils have taken more interest this year in their school work.

Several nice presents were given by our teacher for good attendance and headmarks. We are hoping to get our same teacher for another year. —Written by one of her pupils.

Miss Addie Carter, of Union, who was the attractive guest of relatives here, left last week for her home.

May God's richest blessings ways be upon you and yours, our prayer.

MOTHER GOOSE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Cast of Sixty School Boys and Girls Will Give Play Friday Evening, Feb. 23rd.

Not the Lyceum but just as good.

The very best attraction of its kind ever offered in Marion will be the Mother Goose Birthday Entertainment, to be given at the School Auditorium next Friday Evening Feb. 23: The cast consists of sixty people. The characters which represent the many quaint personages of Mother Goose fame are young people of the First and Second Grades in our own school, who after being trained by the teacher of the First Grade, Miss Ethel Hard, and Miss Lena Holtzel have an evening of entertainment and pleasure for those who in the cares of every day life have a moment to pause and travel back for a time to the land of childhood.

What would you give to be a child again just for an evening? Since this cannot be, why not do the next best thing and come help the little folks celebrate the birthday of one loved by every boy and girl in the land? The little tots will be assisted in the program by the Girls Chorus of the High School, which offers some pleasing novelties, variations etc in the way of songs which are specially suited to the program. The proceeds go for the Primary Dept. of the Marion Graded School. Don't forget the day Feb. 23; the place School Auditorium, the time 7:30 Friday evening.

Admission 25c, School 15c.

Burned to Death.

The 3-year-old son of Mr. Mrs. Willis Boswell, living at Spring Grove, seven miles southwest of Uniontown, was burned to death at that place Monday afternoon.

The child was playing with his brother, six years old, in an ice house which had recently been filled with ice and bedded down with straw. The children were in possession of matches and set the straw on fire. The older child climbed out of the ice house and ran to its mother telling her of the fire. The mother rushed to the burning building, but the flames had gained such headway that she could not save her boy. —Marionfield Sun.

Kentuckian Postmaster at Chicago.

William S. Carlie, a native of Lebanon, Ky., has been nominated by the President as postmaster at Chicago. Mr. Carlie has been nationally prominent in insurance circles for years.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere and heart-felt thanks to our friends for every act of kindness they so freely gave to our dear father, (Phillip H. Deboe) during his sickness and death.

Especially do we want to thank Dr. O. C. Cook for his faithful and untiring efforts in trying to save our father.

Honors to Washington

ON Wednesday last the mortal part of Washington the great—the Father of his Country and the friend of man—was consigned to the tomb with solemn honors and funeral pomp.

This is the opening paragraph in the newspaper story of the burial of George Washington as told by the U. S. County Gazette, published at Kingston, N. Y., Jan. 4, 1800. Although the column rules of the newspaper are inverted, the story appears to have been only secondary in importance in the minds of the editors, as it is published on the third page and without any unusual display.

It is dated at Georgetown, Dec. 20, 1799, and bears the modest head "Washington Entombed." Genuine copies of the paper are rare and valuable, but it has been reprinted in facsimile many times.

The paper says: "A multitude of persons assembled from miles around at Mount Vernon, the choice abode and last residence of the illustrious chief. There were the groves—the spacious avenues, the beautiful and sublime scenes, the noble mansion—but, alas, the august inhabitant was now no more! That great soul was gone. His mortal part was there indeed; but, ah, how affecting, how awful the spectacle of such worth and greatness, thus, to mortal eyes, fallen—yes, fallen, fallen!"

"In the long and lofty portico, where off the hero walked in all his glory, now lay the shrouded corpse. The countenance, still composed and serene, seemed to express the dignity of the spirit which lately dwelled in the lifeless form. There those who paid the last sad honors to the benefactor of his country took an impressive, a farewell-view."

"On the ornament at the head of the coffin was inscribed 'Surge ad Judicium,' about the middle of the coffin, 'Gloria Deo,' and on the silver plate, 'General George Washington, departed this life on the 14th of December, 1799, Aet. 68.'"

"Between 3 and 4 o'clock the sound of artillery from the vessel in the river firing minute guns awoke a fresh solemn sorrow—the corpse was removed—a band of music with mournful melody melted the soul into all the tenderness of woe."

"The procession was formed and moved on in the following order with arms reversed: "Infantry, guard musk-adeers." "The general's horse with his saddle, holster and pistols." "Masons, Thomas, Ramsey, Payne, Gilpin, Markster and Little, pallbearers, corpse, mourners, Masonic brethren, citizens."

"When the procession had arrived at the bottom of the elevated lawn, on the banks of the Potomac, where the family vault is placed, the cavalry halted, the infantry marched toward the mound and formed their lines, the clergy, the Masonic brethren and the citizens descended to the vault, and the funeral service of the church was performed."

"The firing was repeated from the vessel in the river and the sounds echoed from the woods and hills around."

"Three general discharges by the infantry, the cavalry and eleven pieces of artillery, which lined the banks of the Potomac back of the vault, paid the last tribute to the entombed commander in chief of the armies of the United States and to the departed hero."

CAT, DOG, AND HEN.

"A cat, a dog and a hen," said Daddy, "were sitting on the piazza of a large house."

"Along came another cat. 'Meow-meow,' she said. 'Would you like to see me call on you? Is that dog polite?'"

"polite," said the cat. And wagged his tail, which meant, 'ou'."

"I think I'll stay a while," said the cat. "I would like a sun bath, it's chilly in the cold wind. You all sitting outside in the house? Of course Mrs. Hen doesn't belong here. She has a house with the other hens and Woman Suffrage.

The Campaign of the National American Woman Suffrage Association to secure Presidential and Municipal Suffrage for the women of the country, through the State Legislatures, has won its first victory. The North Dakota Woman Suffrage Association affiliated with the National Suffrage Association today wired Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, President of the latter body as follows:
"Please accept, with North Dakota's compliment, five more electoral suffrage votes. The Governor will sign bill without fail."

The Illinois Law, which has now become the model for the nation-wide campaign, extended the suffrage to the women of that State for all measures and election which are not specially named in the constitution as necessarily decided by male electors.

It gives the women the right to vote on Constitutional Amendments, certain county officers and for all municipal officers, as well as presidential electors. The bill must, of necessity, be adapted to the constitution of each state and will vary in small particulars.

It will not give women the right to vote for Congressmen, Senators, Legislators, nor State officers. The importance of the measure was demonstrated in the first Chicago city election after the passage of the bill by the Legislature of that state, when a quarter million women voted for all the city officers including the mayor. Their activity, organization and interest in that election arrested the entire attention of the world.

It is predicted that many other states will follow the example of North Dakota whose Legislature has only been in session three weeks.

The same bill has just gone through one House in Tennessee with splendid prospect of passing another.

The art of life consists in talking each event which befalls us with a contented mind, confident of good. -Jas. Freeman Clark.

ago through the Record-Press, "Why

No one has answered it, so here is the the educated Jews."

THIEF CALLED BY WORK BY

Most Industrious of the Finally Landed in Seattle.

LOOTED MANY HOMES

Operating on Systematic Basis, Thru Marauder Was Able to Accumulate Bank Account and Says He Likes Game.

Seattle, Wash.—Carl Peterson, the most industrious and busiest night burglar that ever operated on the Pacific coast, who confessed that an alarm clock called him to "work" every night and that he systematically and carefully went about his business as a banker or merchant would take up his duties for the day, is in the city jail here.

Peterson has been in Seattle since last April and during this time has robbed about 80 private residences and stores. Regularly every morning, according to his story, he would rise at the call of his alarm clock, at 1:30 in the morning, eat a light breakfast, load his revolver, put a couple of "jimmies" and a flashlight in his pocket and then start out to plunder some house.

Lifetime of Robbery.

Quick-eyed, well-built, with features betraying a love for excitement, Peterson devoted almost a lifetime to robbing folks, "on a business basis with a bank account to show for it." He, says he took up burglary as his profession many years ago he proudly boasts that he has no equal. He has made a thorough study of the art of burglary and offered to place a wager that he could jimmy his way into the home of the chief of detectives and rob it without awakening the occupants. Peterson says he never wears any socks while "at work" and that he always removes his shoes before entering any house.

Seattle officers are of the opinion Peterson has committed more burglaries than any other single man in the criminal history of the West. Although only twenty-seven years old, he has been a prowler since he wore knickerbockers. In Oakland, Cal., the prisoner boasts that he robbed 100 homes and stores in four months and that he also operated extensively in San Francisco and Sacramento.

Would Rise at 1:30 and Start

Burglar Has Bank Account

The loot obtained by Peterson is valued at thousands of dollars. A transfer wagonful of goods, including clothing, canisters, jewelry, suit cases, and a varied assortment of other valuables was taken from his room headquarters. Later the room was stormed with victims of operations.

Peterson said the thrillment of the game appeals to him but that he took up regular business and make it a success and businesslike lines. He once thought his criminal life was worth while, but he must get a pretty good one. "You nobody can identify. You bad game if a fellow tries to have to be a pretty close by. I thought I had it fine, but I got caught just Piermont, N. Y.—A good-sized frightened dog, upon being startled, tore down a clothes line of the Hudson river and cut off a baby carriage and cut off a baby. Emerging terrified from a trap in Alpine it leaped over a railing over a baby carriage and Donald Riker, aged two, cut mud. Its antlers later ripped the clothes line of Mrs. Rose in Piermont and carried off sheet some distance after it disintegrated. Finally it plunged the river and swam to the Dutch shore. The deer later was seen by over Edwin Gould's country.

PEACE

What was the first prophetic word that rang When down the starry sky the angels sang,
That night they came as envoys of the Birth—
What word but peace, "peace and good will on earth?"
And what was the last word the Master said That paring night when they broke brother-bread,
That night he knew men would not let him live—Oh, what but "peace I leave" and "peace I give?"
And yet behold: near twice a thousand years
And still the battle-wrath, the grief, the tears.
Let mercy speed the hour when swords shall cease,
And men cry back to God, "There shall be peace!"
—Edwin Macklam.

future use, and if she cannot use it herself, will pass it on to her dearest friend.

It offers an opportunity for a charming combination of materials, as the panels both front and back, as well as the flowing sleeves, will be of georgette crepe, while the rest of the frock will be of velvet. Fur bands are the only trimming if you do not count the tassels which finish the ends of the narrow velvet sash.

This panel idea of the crepe is not only graceful and novel, but practical for the reason that in the back it saves the velvet from the very evident marks which wrinkles when one sits into a velvet gown always leave.

This frock is cut in one piece in true chemise style. It goes on over the head, the left shoulder seam being left open as far as the georgette crepe sleeve and provided with snaps to give plenty of head room when the gown is slipped on. Can you think of a prettier style that is as practical as this chemise frock?

It is safe to say that if a thing is good it may be talked about more than once, so it will do no harm to mention again that the Russian note is particularly strong this winter, especially in coats and suits. Indeed, to look at a representative array of coat suits one might come to the conclusion that Russian styles monopolize things. The vogue of astrakhan trimmings makes the Russian coat even more pronounced, for this is a Russian fur, while the fact that the Russian cosack turban more than often tops such costume emphasizes still further the Russian style invasion.

EASY AND ATTRACTIVE EDGE

Crochet Work That Puts Proper Finishing Touch on Centerpiece or Towel.

At the crucial moment when you have a centerpiece or towel all finished but the edge, you are stranded for want of a quickly worked crochet edge. Clip this description of an easy and attractive edge for future use. It will finish off a collar or a towel or a bit of lingerie or a luncheon set. Try it!

Make single crochets rather closely around the entire edge to be finished, taking them over the turned-in hem of the material or just through the edge of the goods. Then chain four, skipping four of the singles, and fasten this chain of four in every fifth with a single crochet stitch. After you have gone around the edge in this manner go over the chain of four with four singles, then make two singles in next loop, turn the work, chain four, catch with single in middle of last loop, turn and work over this with four singles, finish the two singles in the other loop and proceed as described.

You can vary this edge by making doublers instead of singles with picots on the loops, or by making the loops longer and using more singles or dou-blers to fill them.

FASHION PARAGRAPHS

Rather heavy silver laces are much wanted for the draperies of evening gowns.

Persian designs are applied on the flat petals of metal flowers for millinery uses.

One of the most attractive combinations is the frock with coat of contrasting color.

Some new skirts have a long tunic opening at the sides showing a different material.

Bunches of tiny ostrich tips perch cunningly on the very edge of the wide-brimmed hats.

So much rabbit fur is being used for trimming that the other furs might be said to be exceptions.

One may have either the fitted waist or straight-line frock, and be as fashionable in one as the other.

HOME TOWN HELPS

PLANTS GIVE LIVING TOUCH

House Cannot Be Called Complete Without Their Presence, Is Opinion of Expert.

However attractive a house may be made by the architect and builder, says Realty, it is at best incomplete without the living touch contributed by the addition of a few plants. These, when properly arranged with a due regard to form, size and color, contribute greatly to the attraction of the house and give it at once the "homey" appearance and consequently a greater selling value. There is nothing that will carry a more forcible appeal to the homeseeker than a suggestion and promise of the beauty which he himself can achieve later.

The practice of improving large areas by grading, laying walks and planting trees has long been in vogue by live real estate men. How much more definite then is the result when the effort is focused on an individual house. Then the cost is small. This will be at once obvious when a comparison is made between the cost of the lot, the plans and the building, and the almost negligible amount of money and labor necessary to make the property the vitalizing atmosphere that a few well-selected plants will impart.

It surely will make a better and quicker sale.

This work need not be permanent; that is to say, attractiveness may be imparted without great expense. Every owner will have his own idea about what he would like and where he would place it. His taste and pocketbook might include high-priced shrubbery.
Therefore, the selling proposition would be just as good if the work were confined only so far as it would create temporary effect and throw into relief the work of the builder.

PLANNERS DID GOOD WORK

Town of Gary, Ind., Built on Prearranged Design, Is Looked Upon as a Model City.

Gary, Ind., built in the open on a pre-arranged plan, generally looked upon as the most efficiently organized industrial city in the world, is still less than ten years old. The first shacks for its construction gangs were thrown up in 1903. The founders wished to avoid the paternalism which had proved so detrimental to the civic development of Pittsburgh, one of the earliest pre-considered industrial cities of the country, without falling to the haphazard methods which have bred so many inconveniences in all cities of the past.

The homes for the employees were built with a proper consideration for the health and comfort of the occupants. They could be purchased on easy terms if desired. The parks, streets, recreation centers and other adjuncts were well outlined. The public schools have been recognized as the best in the country, as is evidenced by the fact that New York city arranged for the construction of 12 schools after the Gary pattern. They are to be built and organized under the supervision of the Gary school superintendent.

PLANTING OF TREES A DUTY

Texas Newspaper Urges Citizens to Recognize the Necessity for Concerted Action.

There should be trees set out along all highways. The Banner has often called attention to this needed departure from the beaten track. For several hundred years the people of this country have been trying to get rid of trees, but the pioneer days are gone and there is need of not only overcoming the habit acquired during these many years of tree destitution, but the habit of planting and setting out trees should be encouraged and inculcated at every opportunity. Trees increase the attractiveness of the highways, improve the general appearance of the community through which the highways run, and bring about a condition which means greater development, higher ideals, general esthetic improvement of the public. It is time to plan the placing of trees along the highways. If the people who live along the roadways are not willing to contribute some time to setting out and caring for trees, there should be some plan fallen upon which will bring about this needed improvement.— Greenville Banner.

Have a Definite Plan.

Before commencing a work on the grounds of the new home it is necessary to have a definite plan for all that is to be accomplished. This plan should include not only the work to be carried out in one year, but should be an ideal for the future development of the grounds. For a place should not grow hit or miss, but should be developed with care and precision, says House and Garden.

SPECIAL SESSION

To Revise Tax Laws.

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact that only forty out of the one hundred and twenty counties in Kentucky contribute anything toward the general expenses of the State government, but when it comes to criticizing the management of the State's finances and denouncing the extravagance of the Legislature in making appropriations, the greatest complaints seem to be made by the eighty counties which do not pay a dollar of the expense.

It is refreshing to read in an editorial in the Livingston Enterprise the frank admission that "It takes all the money Livingston County pays into the State treasury to pay the school teachers of this county. The State taxes being $16,867 and teachers' salaries $16,595, etc., amounting to about $4,500, paid out of the State treasury. * * * Livingston County contributes nothing to the running expenses of the State, yet we have a voice in the State's affairs and often criticize the administration on its extravagance, when the whole expense is borne by other counties. * * * Until we reach the point of paying our own expenses we cannot charge unfairness in any tax law."

There are seventy-nine other counties in the same situation as Livingston, but few of them seem willing so freely to confess their shortcomings, nor will they hasten to do so as long as the forty other counties are willing to submit to higher assessments and list more taxable property on which the excess taxes go toward paying the expenses of their delinquent neighbors.

The editorial referred to also presents an epitome of taxation in the following sensible language:

"In considering any taxing system it is well to examine conditions in various sections of the State; ascertain the capacity of each county to pay as well as to receive benefits and then enact a law as would yield the required sum of money and levy its collection as equally as may be upon the people of the whole State."

And that is exactly what the laws proposed by the State Tax Commission are designed to accomplish. If newspaper editors generally would follow the Livingston Enterprise the State would soon be out of debt and in receipt of ample revenue to meet its growing demands.—Courier Journal.

TAXATION

Only To Be Considered.

The Governor called an extra session of the Legislature for February 14 to consider a new tax law. Some of the newspapers have found numerous objections to the laws proposed by the Tax Commission, and it is very probable that the laws, as proposed, are not perfect. If there are objectionable features, they will undoubtedly be pointed out to the members of the extra session, who will have ample time to give the various sections ample consideration and make such changes and corrections as may be desirable. With only one matter for consideration and with politics and log-rolling kept out, the extra session of the General Assembly ought to give the people a fair and equitable tax law that will meet with the approval of the vast majority of the people of the State. Here's hoping!—Cynthiana Log Cabin.

NO POLITICS

In New Tax Laws.

In so serious a matter as tax reform, Kentuckians, regardless of party affiliation, should support Gov. Stanley and the extra session, and all Democrats should stand together, regardless of antecedent differences of view or leaning.

Kentucky is backward because of the need of a better tax system. Put Kentucky up with the foremost in the march of progress. "Kentucky first" should be everybody's slogan.

Roads, now much discussed, can be better built when we have a better tax system. An influx of capital awaits a better tax system. That means better living, better schools, more values to tax, more employment, better wages.

There can be no legitimate excuse of any obstructionist tactics during the extra session. Anyone guilty of an effort to obstruct will prove himself a petty politician, and not a good citizen of Kentucky.—State Journal.
