J. BELL KEVIL DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Honored And Beloved Man Succumbs in Sikeston, After Having Three Attacks

A telegram was received here Saturday evening, March 10th, from D. B. Kevil by W. D. Cannon, conveying the information of the death of his father, J. B. Kevil, at Sikeston, Mo., at four o'clock that afternoon. Although not unexpected to those familiar with his weakened condition, it cast a gloom over the entire town and county when it became known. Mr. Kevil lived here in Marion for over a quarter of a century and was ever a paragon of uprightness, sobriety and truth. He had lived several years, prior to his removal here, at Dyersburg where he was engaged in milling. He removed from Dyersburg to Marion with the advent of the railroad and was one of the founders and original owners of the Marion Mill, transferring his interest soon afterward to his son, D. B. Kevil, who still owns it.

Mr. Kevil was honored in many ways by our people. He was county surveyor for many years and probably had as thorough a knowledge of Crittenden county farm boundaries as any man who ever lived here. He was County Attorney of Crittenden Co., Mayor of Marion, Police Judge and held offices of trust in lodge, church, and other important bodies, his counsel being sought when fairness and honesty were needed in affairs of business. No man ever outranked him here in those requisites. He was a Methodist and a Mason for fifty years. His life as a Mason is told in the following article given us by W. D. Cannon: "Bro. Joseph Bell Kevil was initiated Sept. 2-d, 1865, Passed Oct. 22nd, 1866, Raised Nov. 24th, 1866, in Mark Tyler Lodge No. 319, at Wallonia, Trigg county, Ky., degrees being conferred by Major Jabez Bingham, Master of the above Lodge at that time. He was admitted to membership in Bigham Lodge No. 256, July 21st, 1888, his petition being accompanied with a demit from J. C. Whitlock Lodge No. 487, he demitted Dec. 20th, 1890, was re-admitted Nov. 26th, 1892 and remained faithful member till death. He served as Master of Bigham Lodge 1889 and 1912, and as secretary from Dec. 27th, 1893 to Dec. 27th, 1911, making 18 years as secretary.

He was admitted to membership in Crittenden Chapter No. 70, June 23rd, 1888, was elected High Priest in 1891 and served four years as such, was elected secretary of Crittenden Chapter No. 70, Sept. 17th, 1895, and served continuously to Sept. 28th 1915, making twenty years as secretary.

Was elected Master of Wingate Council No. 35, R. & S. M., in 1897, and Recorder Sept. 12th, 1898, and served to Sept. 13th, 1915, making seventeen years continuously as Recorder." Mr. Kevil was born in Caldwell county Jan 23rd, 1844, and was therefore in his 74th year. His wife who was Miss Sarah Frances Montgomery, of Providence, died in July, 1911. Their union was blessed with seven children, all of whom are living and are representative types of men and women of whom the father was most proud. The daughters are Mesdames E. S. Sanders, of Smithfield, N. C.; A. F. Crider, of Shreveport, La.; D. E. Woods, of St. Louis, Mo.; and Miss Mabel Kevil, of Sikeston, Mo. The three sons being Messrs. D. B. and J. S. Kevil, of Sikeston, Mo., and K. K. Kevil, of Malden, Mo. Four brothers survive, being Urie and M. R. Kevil, of Princeton, Ky.; James Kevil, of Benton, Ark.; and A. E. Kevil, of Rockport, Ky.

Mr. Kevil had visited here only once since his removal to Sikeston last June. It was last fall and he was welcomed home.

The remains arrived here Monday morning at 8 o'clock and were taken by his request, to the home of Mrs. N. M. Clark, an old family friend, and remained there until one o'clock the hour set for the funeral at the Methodist church when they were taken there. Rev. J. B. Trotter of the First Baptist church, preaching the funeral, assisted by Rev. H. R. Short, pastor, after which the Masons took charge of the remains which were given a Masonic burial which the deceased looked forward to with pleasant anticipation. He was ready and talked about arranging for death just as if it was a trip for pleasure. There many substantial floral offerings attesting the high esteem in which he was held.

Lowery--Calloway.

That sly old bachelor, Leonard Lowery, of Salem, fooled all of his friends and not married on Wednesday, Feb. 28th. The fortunate bride was Miss Mary Loure Calloway, one of Union county's most beautiful young women. The groom has lived near us all of his life and belongs to one of Livingston county's best families and is entirely worthy of the wife he has won. The editor extends congratulations. The Sturgis News-Democrat had this to say last week: "On Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 28th, at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Donan, occurred the marriage of Miss Mary L. Calloway of Sturgis, and Mr. James Leonard Lowery, of Marion, Ky.

Only immediate relatives were present. Mrs. Lowery is a daughter of Mr. T. W. Calloway, of Sturgis, and a sister of Mrs. Donan.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple boarded the north-bound train for a short trip, after which they will reside in Livingston county."

And the following was clipped from the Uniontown Telegram: COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE.

"The marriage of Miss Mary Calloway to Mr. J. L. Lowery, of near Salem, Livingston Co., which occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. D. C. Donan, at Morganfield on last Wednesday, was the happy culmination to a courtship which begun several years ago when they first met as bridesmaid and best man at the wedding of friends."

Explosion of Dynamite

At the home of Mrs. S. E. Marvel an explosion of dynamite came near burning the residence and did damage one room very badly. The dynamite was put by the fire to dry preparatory to removing some stumps and was accidentally discharged in some way by the children. Fortunately no one was hurt seriously but the glass were blown out of the windows, paper burned off the wall and most of the furniture demolished.

Stop And Think.

Did you ever stop to think that it was one thing to talk about people and another thing to have people talk about you? If those of us who use our tongues a little too freely about our neighbors would stop and reflect about the matter and know the great evil that comes from too much talk and tattling, we are sure we would call a halt and gossip no more forever.

THE BEST TEST

Is The Test of Time.

Years ago this Marion resident told of good results from using Doan's Kidney Pills. Now J. E. Glass, lumberman, of 412 S. Main St., confirms the former statement—says there has been no return of the trouble. Can Marion people ask for more convincing testimony?

Mr. Glass, says: "I suffered from backache which caused me a great many sleepless nights. I took doctors' medicines but nothing had the slightest effect. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at Haynes & Taylor's drug store. They gave me instant relief and in less than a week, the pains in my back had vanished as if by magic."

(Statement given February 4th, 1908.)

On October 17th, 1916, Mr. Glass said: "I have not had any trouble with my kidneys since I made a statement recommending Doan's Kidney Pills before. I consider the cure permanent."

Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Glass has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Boy Scouts:

A special conference of Boy Scouts is to be held in connection with this division of the Fifth Annual State Conference for Older Boys. This part of the conference will be especially directed by Mr. Stanley A. Harris, the Scout Commissioner of Kentucky, and Mr. G. N. Parvish, the Scout Commissioner of Owensboro. Every Boy Scout troop in this city, and in our neighboring cities, should be represented at this conference. Entertainment:

The boys who go from our city will be entertained in the best Christian homes in Paducah while they are attending the conference. The Paducah people are also planning to give the boys a river trip Saturday afternoon on the beautiful Ohio river to the new bridge at Metropolis, Ill.

Object:

The object of the conference as stated, is to plan a campaign by which we may elevate the youth of the western portion of our State, creating, maintaining and extending throughout our schools the high standard of Christian character. To discuss together our points of strength and weakness; to mingle with each other in three days of pleasant fellowship, and to form friendships with others throughout the State who are interested with us in the highest things. To prepare ourselves for better service to other boys; to our church, school and State. It is the hope of the leaders that a large delegation will be present from our community.

GETTING A START

Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr.

THE INVENTOR.

Statistics are misleading, but I may say in passing that millions of patents have been issued, and that thousands of new inventions are patented yearly.

The patent office will grant a patent for a new discovery or invention, irrespective of its commercial or other worth, the patent examiners basing their decisions upon the newness of the thing patented entirely regardless of its intrinsic value.

Inventions have been made by both sexes, and by people of all ages, including the immature youth. Some of them have brought fortunes; but the majority of patents are worth practically nothing, and many a good discovery or invention, through lack of development and exploitation, has not contributed anything to its originator.

A successful invention is dependent upon two conditions: First, the commercial or other value of the thing itself; secondly, proper development.

Comparatively few inventors or scientific men have business ability, and the majority do not understand the marketing of the products of their ingenuity. They can invent, but they cannot exploit. They can discover, but they cannot distribute.

While a few great inventions have been the result of chance or accident, the majority of profitable patents are the result of education and training, combined with unceasing research. Mere brightness and ingenuity are not sufficient. I am inclined to think that the inventor comes by his talent naturally and that he cannot produce it.

If you are ingenious and original and would invent, first train yourself along the line of your proposed course. Secondly, do not invent in a haphazard manner. Study conditions by research, ascertain what is wanted, what can be used, what will be used if properly presented. Then attempt to meet this demand. When the idea is born, search the patent records, for the chances are that someone else has forestalled you. By quiet and more or less secret inquiry attempt to discover whether or not what you have is marketable. Then consult a reputable patent lawyer or solicitor. If you do not know of one, ask the judge of the court, or some high-class attorney at law, to recommend one. Place yourself unreservedly in his hands, for no reliable patent lawyer or solicitor has ever been known to betray his clients.

After the patent is issued to you, get into communication with concerns manufacturing similar articles, or appearing to do so; and either sell your patent outright or arrange for a royalty. The chances are a thousand to one that you cannot properly handle it yourself.

Bear in mind one thing: the result of ingenuity is worthless unless it can be used either commercially or for the benefit of humanity. Financial profit comes only to those who produce something which will sell.

You may be perfectly convinced of the value of your invention, but unless you can make the public realize its worth, you cannot hope to win fame or fortune from it. First, be sure that you have something which the world needs, then make every effort to show the world that you have something very much worth its consideration, by placing it in the hands of men you can trust, men who have the capital and ability to develop it. Don't try to do it yourself unless you have both money and business acumen.

Trivial Annoyances.

It is surprising how trivial are the annoyances which suffice to make some men miserable. A lump of soot falling on a man's linen; a beefsteak overdone; losing a railway train by forty seconds, after running himself out of breath; a visit from a bore when he is overwhelmed with cares; the rasping of his nerves by a hand organ when he is weary, inclined to headache or trying to sleep; even the want of a pin, or a shirt button flying off at an unlucky moment, as when he is dressing for a dinner party and has scant time in which to do it—all these are annoyances which sorely try a man's patience and chafe and vex many a person more than a serious misfortune.

Alexander Smith goes so far as to say that if during thirty years all the annoyances brought on with defeating shirt buttons alone could be gathered into a mass and endured at once, it would be misery equal to a public execution.

Arizona Cacti.

Arizona has more than a hundred kinds of cacti, and Tucson is the center of the great cactus region of the Southwest. These odd plants range in size from the noble Saguaro or Giant cactus, forty or fifty feet high, to small pin-cushion cacti an inch or two in diameter. Saguaro grows in great abundance in the foothills between Tucson and Yuma and are always objects of wonder. It is believed a large plant is at least two hundred years old. Their fruit begins to ripen in June and is gathered in great quantity by Indians, who make fine jam and also a pressed sweet bread of it.

"WHY WOMEN CANNOT SLEEP."

The highly organized, finely strung nervous system of women subjects them to terrors of nervous apprehension which no man can ever appreciate.

The peace of mind, the mental poise and calmness under difficulties, which is necessary for happy womanhood, is only possible when the sensitive feminine organism is in a perfectly healthy condition. If there be any weakness or derangement in this respect no remedy in the world so completely restores womanly health, nervous vigor and capability as the wonderful "Favorite Prescription" invented by Dr. R. V. Pierce. It purifies, heals and strengthens, insures functional regularity, provides physical reinforcement and sustaining power at periods of special weakness and depression.

Covington, Ky.—"For about twenty years I have known of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I began using it because a friend recommended it. When run down, nervous and dragging around I used several bottles of this well-known remedy. It always helps me just as it is advertised to do. It is the most pleasant and the best woman's medicine I have ever used. I have recommended it to several others. My daughter has also used it with just as good results as I have."—Mrs. Lucretia Gibson, 1338 Crenshaw St.

New York Bridges.

I respect the elevated railway system comprising the Second, Third, Sixth and Ninth Avenue lines. And the elevated portions of Broadway and Lexington Avenue sections of the subway. New York City has 42 bridges spanning the East and Harlem rivers, the Bronx and other waterways. These roads over rivers, including the Brooklyn, Manhattan, Delancey street and Queensboro spans, among the greatest in the world, represent, with the real estate required for their approaches, an investment by the municipality of more than $135,000,000.

Running a Race A Sermon for Young People

By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D. D.
Dean of Moody Bible Institute,
Chicago.

TEXT—Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain. And every man which striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible.—1 Cor. 9:24-25.

I have chosen these words because they touch a subject in which most young people are interested in these days—athletics.

Paul was a Roman citizen, but he traveled a good deal in Greece in the course of his missionary work; and it is with this country we chiefly associate the idea of outdoor sports. Corinth was a great commercial city of Greece, where they thought and talked about their running races as much as we think and talk about our baseball and football games.

Knowing this, Paul uses an illustration that would attract their attention and impress them with the great Christian truth he wishes to teach. That truth is the future reward those Christians obtain who faithfully serve the Lord Jesus Christ in this life.

The figure is that of a running race. In a real race anyone may not run just because he wishes to do so. He must have certain qualifications and be properly entered in the race.

And it is so in the Christian race of which Paul writes. One must be a Christian before he can enter that race, and all people are not Christians.

But who is a Christian? Some think they are Christians because they are not heathens, or because they live in a Christian land, or because their parents were Christians, or because they try to live a moral life, or because they attend church or Sunday school.

But this is not right. Paul teaches in another place (11 Cor. 5:17), that a Christian is a new creature, or a new creation altogether; and this agrees with what Jesus Christ said: "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God" (John 3:3).

And how may one be born again? The gospel of John, 1:12, 13 answers that question when, speaking of Jesus Christ, it says: "As many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name, which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God."

We see that to be born again is to receive Jesus Christ as our Savior, and to receive him as our Savior is to believe on him, to put our trust in him to be saved, and pledge ourselves by his grace to follow him as our Lord.

II.

But if you have done this, what then? We come back to our text for answer. Paul says, "Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize?" In other words, all Christians are running in this race, but all will not win the prize. That does not mean that all real Christians are not saved, or that all such will not go to heaven.

But it means that it is one thing to be saved and go to heaven and another thing to get the prize Paul talks about. Just what that prize is he touches on a little later, but here he simply says, "So run, that ye may obtain."

Is not that what we want to do? Do we not want to run successfully? Do we not want to obtain all that God has so lovingly promised us in his Son?

How may we do it? Here is a hint. "And every man which striveth for the mastery," says Paul, "is temperate in all things." You know how it is if you want to be a good all-around athlete. You must take good care of yourself. You must eat the right kind of food, and sleep well, and exercise regularly and patiently hard, and all that kind of thing. You cannot afford to be careless in anything if you would win the prize. And so it is in the Christian race. To be "temperate in all things" means that as Christians we must keep a watch upon ourselves.

And this is worth while, for Paul says: "They do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible." The winner in the Grecian game felt it reward enough if he had a crown of laurel placed on his head in the presence of the applauding throng. Such a crown would soon wither away, however, but not so the crown which God gives to the victorious soul. That is an incorruptible crown, there is no decay in it and it lasts forever.

What is the nature of that crown? It is hard to express it in human language. Paul was once caught upon Paradise, he tells us, "and heard unspeakable words which it is not possible for man to utter." And this illustrates why we cannot understand much that we accept by faith of "the things God hath prepared for them that love him." They are impossible to utter.

Lavishly Praised By

The German Press.

Amsterdam.—Senators Wm. J. Stone and Robert La Follette are lauded by the German press as representative of "the best spirit in America," according to dispatches received here summarizing German editorial views on the senate filibuster, in which 12 U. S. senators defeated the armed neutrality measure depowering President Wilson to protect Americans on the seas.

Bitter comment on President Wilson's inaugural address was made by the Lokal Anzeiger, which dubbed the president as a "meglomaniac," and declared his speech "desecrated the the national capital."

Bloxi, Miss.—Thomas Collins, local blacksmith, forged a forty pound iron cross and sent it today to Senator James K. Vardaman with the inscription, "Let the Kaiser forget."

Wheeling, W. Va.—Wheeling forfeited $820 rather than entertain Senator Robert La Follette of Wisconsin. La Follette was to have lectured here on "Undermining Democracy." Backers of the lecture course canceled the lecture by telegraph losing the $820 they had agreed to pay the Wisconsin senator.

St. Louis.—Senator William J. Stone was hard hit today in resolutions passed by several Democratic ward organizations last night.

He was branded a traitor and asked to give an account of his action in not supporting President Wilson's armed neutrality.

Pensacola, Fla.—Pensacola business men decided today to ask Florida's members of the senate Bryan and Fletcher to introduce in that body the resolution they adopted last night branding the action of Senator Stone in opposing the president's armed neutrality request as "little short of treason."

ONE SOLDIER DISLOYAL.

Paul L. Scharenberg, a member of the First Minn. Infantry, and a native of Germany, has been given a term of 5 years imprisonment for furnishing military information to Germany. A letter addressed to relatives in Germany asserting that ten million Germans in this country were ready to rise up against the government in the event of war with Germany, was intercepted by British authorities and turned over to Washington officials, according to statements of the officers.

Earl D. Luce, commanding the regiment, and Captain P. L. McClay, regiment and adjutant, in confirming the story of Scharenberg's activities declared that he had predicted in his letter that President Wilson "would soon be put out of the way" and had stated that the 200,000 troops on the border would not stand up if put against an efficient force.

SAVED LIVES OF CHICKENS

New York Man Makes a Feather Duster Substitute for a Hen.

Using a feather duster as a brooder to substitute for a cannibal hen, Shorty Eberle saves the lives of some of his chicks.

When Eberle is not busy as manager of the Postal Telegraph company he devotes his time to raising fancy chickens. When one of his hens was not busy scratching she gave her time to digesting some of the brood she had recently hatched.

Eberle noticed the chicks began to disappear. One by one they went until he discovered the hen's appetite was stronger than her mother love. A heavy ration of ground bone and hamburger steak didn't appease her. She ate another.

Then, with a cunning he didn't expect of himself, he threw the hen out, bought a big feather duster and suspended it in the coop. The chicks smugled among the feathers and are perfectly content with their inanimate mother.

THROWS LIGHT 200 MILES

United States Navy Acquires Wonderful Searchlight Invented by a German.

The United States navy has come into possession of one of the largest searchlights ever manufactured, as the result of the European war and the arrest of the German inventor of the searchlight at Liverpool, England, in 1914. Heinrich Beck, the inventor who has been assisting in the building of the searchlight at Schenectady, was not allowed by the British to go to Belgium and Germany soon after the beginning of the European war. He then returned to the United States and opened negotiations which have led to the purchase of his patent rights by the government.

The new searchlight has a mirror five feet in diameter and sends out a violet white shaft of light, which can be discerned at a distance of 200 miles when atmospheric conditions are good.

To Harness the Tides.

The tides are about to be tied down to labor. At Woburn, Nova Scotia, a development company has made a survey on the water of the Bay of Fundy with a view of developing a tide water project at Cape Split. An American expert on hydraulic production of electricity is the scientific guide of that expedition. As Americans are too proud to develop such tide waters as they have for power, it may be expected that this man on a foreign tide may get results to wake us up in this country, says the Uneceda Telegram. The tides of the Bay of Fundy are as famous for their up and down as the revolutions of Mexico, if not more so. A current motor recently experimented with in the Gaspar river was 12 feet long and 24 feet high, and is reported to have developed power as the tide rose which reached a maximum of two horse power by the time the machine was submerged. The later experiments at Cape Split are said to have shown that motor developing 50 horse power in tide current which ran nine miles an hour. As the machine is made like a crab, it takes advantage of the tide going out as well as coming in.

Naturally Surprised.

An old German furniture dealer had a woman customer who was a great talker. Nobody could get away from her when she started in. One day he sent a clerk to the lady's house to try to collect a bill. When the clerk returned empty handed, the old German said:

"Well! Var did de lady say?" "She did not say anything, sir. She was mute," replied the clerk. "Var!" exclaimed the surprised German; "was she dead?"

Saving Money.

"A dollar box of candy for me, hubby? Really, I must curb such extravagance." "I bought you one frequently before we were married." "But things are different now. Instead of a dollar box of candy it would have been better to have gotten me a ten-cent box, and a sports coat, and that parasol I want so much."

Electrocuting Animals.

The Animal Rescue League has facilities for destroying as many as 300 animals in one hour. The diseased or homeless dog is placed in a cabinet, the floor of which is metal. A flexible metal collar is fastened around his neck, and then the electric current turned on. The operation takes but half a minute.

Scorn.

"Wasn't our friend's speech largely made up of platitudes?" "No," replied Senator Sorghum. "He didn't say anything that was reliable enough even to be classed as a platitude."

WOODROW WILSON.

Woodrow Wilson today completed his first term as President of the United States.

No other four years except those of Lincoln have been so eventful, and no other four years except those of Lincoln have made so much history of first importance.

One may like Mr. Wilson or dislike him, approve his policies or detest them, but nobody can deny him a place among the masterful Presidents who have stamped their genius for all time upon the government of the United States. The courses of American history have been changed mightily by the fact that Woodrow Wilson was President, and because he has been President the processes of American Government will never again be quite what they were in the past.

Whatever the verdict of history may be upon the various policies of the Wilson Administration no difficulty will be experienced in fixing the responsibility. Since March 4, 1913, Mr. Wilson has been the Government of the United States in as great a degree as Jefferson or Jackson and in even a greater degree than Washington or Lincoln.

Mr. Taft was never President during his four years in the White House; the Republican Party was President, Mr. Roosevelt was President part of the time during his two terms; the Republican Old Guard was President part of the time, and there were glorious intervals in which Wall Street reigned supreme, after the manner of Frederick the Great, who did what he pleased and allowed his subjects to say what they pleased. Mr.

Roosevelt played the role as a gambler, but of a different persuasion. The President of the United States during this sorry regime has been Woodrow Wilson, and no other, not the Democratic Party, not Wall Street, not the Cabinet, not Congress, but Woodrow Wilson and he alone. What is good is his, and what is bad is his. Never for a moment has he relaxed his grip upon the Government. Never for a moment has any other mind and purpose than his controlled the policies of Administration. He has yielded to nobody. He has compromised with nobody except the American people. Abused and vilified as few Presidents have ever been, denounced by his enemies alternately as a weakling and a despot, a coward and a dictator, he has gone his way if not serenely at least with a sure and certain step.

His critics are fond of pretending that they cannot understand what he is trying to do, but no doubts assail him. He knows what he wants to do and how he wants to do it. When he cannot reach his goal by one path he aboutly changes his course and follows another path, but always with an eye single to the goal itself.

No other President ever so completely controlled Congress or made so little ostensible effort to control Congress.

He has shaped legislation by none of the old and familiar devices. Nobody has been bribed by patronage to support his policies and measures, nor has anybody been punished by the withholding of patronage for opposing the Administration. There has been no denunciation of Congress or of individual members of Congress. Yet on every important issue, no matter how violent the opposition, the President has managed to have his way. He has ruled by the sheer force of ability, because his is the biggest brain and his the broadest vision in Washington. His victories over a sullen and reluctant Congress have been veritable triumphs of mind over matter.

Even his bitterest enemies are compelled to acknowledge this extraordinary intellectual power. When Mr. Roosevelt indulged in his outbursts of foam and fury at the general reluctance of the American people to plunge blindly into war he could give no reason for this state of public opinion except that President Wilson had chloroformed the conscience of the country. In other words 100,000,000 people had been so hypnotized by the President that they thought only what he wanted them to think, believed only what he wanted them to believe and did only what he wanted them to do. A superman, indeed, if this be true a superman above all other supermen in history, yet it is not true. Mr. Wilson's influence over public opinion lies in the ability to understand it, and give it adequate expression, not in the ability to dictate a nation's sentiments.

Nevertheless Mr. Wilson has exercised a greater influence over the political thought of the American people, over the political thought of the whole world, for that matter, than any other man of his generation. He has become in a way the universal spokesman of democracy and a universal leader of democracy. When Europe speculates as to what the United States thinks or what the United States will do, it asks what Mr. Wilson thinks and what Mr. Wilson will do. Even his political opponents at home pay the same tribute to him. In each crisis they have looked to him for decision and admitted that his decision must necessarily be final.

In all the attacks they have been directed against his foreign policies, it is a singular fact that the Republican opposition has never ventured to formulate a definite program of its own as a substitute for his, nor has any Republican member of Congress ever introduced a war resolution to force the President's hand, although the power to declare war is exclusively a prerogative of Congress.

The chief complaint of Mr. Wilson's critics is that he is not belligerent, that he is not war like, that he is too pious to fight. For the welfare of American institutions that is a happy failing. A President with Mr. Wilson's genius for government and his power to impose his political will upon others would be a grave menace to the Republic if these extraordinary gifts were supplemented by military ambition and a passion for military glory.

It was the great good fortune of the United States in the Civil War that it had Abraham Lincoln for President, all of whose principles and habits of government were incorrigibly civilian. Thus a President who might have made himself an absolute military dictator held steadfastly to the creed of the Illinois country lawyer, and that creed was the creed upon which all the foundation stones of the Republic rest. It is still the great good fortune of the United States that in the darkest crisis of modern history it has a President with the same unquenchable passion for justice and liberty, who looks upon military power only as the instrument of civil power and worships no gods of conquest or imperialism.

If the world, after this war, is to be re-established upon the basis of democracy, the political principles of Woodrow Wilson must prevail. Nothing else can save it. On the verge of the crisis, when it is inevitable that the United States must draw the sword in defense of its rights and its honor, the American people can face the future in supreme confidence that they will enter the war under a leadership that knows no ulterior purpose, a leadership that is wise and sagacious and self-restrained and that will safeguard republican institutions as the most precious possession of mankind.

No other American is so well fitted by temperament, by training, by ability and by mastery of the science and art of government to solve the problems that must confront this country during the next four years. No other American in the end is so likely to dominate the political thought of the world and guide it along the difficult path of liberty and democracy. There is nobody else to whom the American people could so safely entrust their destiny, or whose faults as well as whose virtues so surely make for the preservation of government of the people by the people and for the people. —The New York World.

Zimmerman Is Said To Have Been Involved In.

New York, Mar. 13.—A document purporting to show that Dr. Chandee Chakrabastey, Hindu and Ernest Sekunna, German chemist arrested here in connection with an alleged plot to foment a revolution in India, had the approval of Dr. Alfred Zimmerman, of the German foreign office, in their plans, with the recommendation that financial aid be given to intriguers in this country, will be laid before the federal grand jury government officials it is said to day.

Germany's Unpopularity

Has Grown World-Wide

None of the South American republics has deemed itself strong enough to take the same action as the United States in breaking off diplomatic relations with Germany, but the feeling in that part of the world over Germany's submarine policy is unmistakable. Brazil, Peru, Chili and Argentina are now more intensely anti-German than they have ever been in regard to any European country.

On the other side of the ocean the storm is raging fast. Holland is waiting before she decides what to do in regard to the wanton destruction of seven of her ships a few days ago. Norway and Sweden, which until recently were believed to be rather partial to Germany's cause are as indignant as Holland. Never in modern times has one nation arrayed against itself such a world-wide antipathy. —Louisville Post.

Shake Off That Grip

When Spring comes, with its changeable weather and your exposure, it is best to clear away all the symptoms left after an attack of grip. That evil disease leaves you weakened, and when its victim attempts to "do his bit" he exposes himself to the risk of a second attack, for which he is less prepared, and which may have graver consequences.

There's Danger in Delay

April and May are pneumonia months. In this time a weakened system is a constant source of danger, for the pneumonia and grip infections are in the air, and after a long winter the body is so clogged with waste it cannot resist them. Fortify the health, remove the catarrh, and improve the digestion.

For Quick Relief PERUNA

This reliable tonic is recommended to remove the waste from the body, counteract the catarrhal poisons and allay the inflammation that is catarrh, restore the regular appetite and tone up the entire system to resist disease. A well man is safe.

As a tonic after grip it has won many commendations, while its effectiveness in catarrhal conditions is unquestioned. Take no chances—Take Peruna.

Peruna Tablets are always ready to take. You may carry a box with you and ward off colds and chills. The liquid medicine in your home is a great safeguard. Protect your family.

RUSSIA CALLS FOR MISSOURI SHOES.

St. Louis, Mar. 15.—American made shoes are in such demand in Russia that nearly 40,000 pairs are shipped monthly from St. Louis. All are of the better grades, none being furnished to the army.

Archangel, only western Russian port, has been ice-bound since November so St. Louis shoes are shipped over the Pacific to Kobe, Japan, thence over the Japan sea to Vladivostok, whence they are sent in fibre boxes, each holding four pairs, to their destination, by parcel post, transit taking two months or more.

Shipping charges are reasonable for prices are almost double those here. C. M. Chavez, manager of the foreign department of a shoe company which ships monthly twenty to thirty thousand pairs of shoes sold here at $4 to $7, say they bring $8 to $12 in Moscow.

Freight to Vancouver on 10,000 pairs of shoes, said Chavez, is $675. From Vancouver to Vladivostok the charge is $1,327, and from there to Moscow postage is $750. The fibre boxes cost 25 cents each adding $925 to the cost of such a shipment.

Str. Dorothy Quits E'town

The new Steamer Dorothy built for the run from here to Paducah daily, has discontinued the run from Golconda to Elizabethtown. The extra trip to this point necessitates the employing of an additional crew for the boat and the business would not justify the expense. The run from Golconda to Paducah and back can be made in the regulation time of the employment of a single crew, and it was the intention of the builders and Captain McCandless when the boat was being constructed to make her speedy enough to continue the run on this point, but it was impossible. —Elizabethtown Independent.

TO VOTE ON ROAD BONDS

$100,000.00 Bond Issue For Constructing Roads and Bridges in This County

Order calling for an election in Crittenden County, Kentucky, on the question of issuing bonds for the purpose of building and reconstructing roads and bridges.

Crittenden County Court, Regular Term, Feb. 12, 1917.

Hon. John G. Asher, P. J.
Whereas, on the 8th, day of January, 1917, a petition was lodged and filed with this Court, as appears of record on the Order Book thereof, and,

Whereas said petition asks that this Court call an election to be held in Crittenden County, Kentucky, for the purpose of testing the sense of the voters of Crittenden County as to whether, or not, the Fiscal Court of said county shall have power and authority to issue and sell bonds from time to time in sums not to exceed One Hundred Thousand Dollars, ($100,000.00) in the aggregate for the purpose of building, constructing and reconstructing public roads and bridges in Crittenden County, and

WHEREAS, said petition was ordered to lie over until this date for action of this Court, and

WHEREAS, the court finds that the value of the taxable property of Crittenden County, including railroad, according to the last assessment roll, is approximately $3,800,000.00, and, from proof heard, the court finds that to be a fair valuation of said property, and that 5 percent thereof will exceed the sum of the proposed One Hundred Thousand Dollars, ($100,000.00) bond issue, and

WHEREAS, the said petition having been examined by the Court, the Court finds and adjudges that it is in proper form, and from his own knowledge and from proof heard, the Court finds and adjudges that same is signed by not less than 150 legal voters, who are freeholders and residents of Crittenden County.

Now Then, said petition is ordered filed, and it is filed, and it is further ordered and directed by the Court that an election be held at all of the voting precincts in Crittenden County on Tuesday, March 27th, 1917, by the regular election officers in and for Crittenden County, for the purpose of testing the sense of the voters of Crittenden County, as to whether or not the Fiscal Court of Crittenden County shall have power and authority to issue and sell bonds from time to time in a sum, or sums, not exceeding in the aggregate One Hundred Thousand Dollars, ($100,000.00) for the purpose of building and constructing and reconstructing public roads and bridges in Crittenden County. Said bonds to bear interest not to exceed 5 percent per annum, with coupons attached payable semi-annually. Said bonds to be in denominations of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) and not more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) each to run not less than 5 years nor more than thirty years, and to be redeemed within that time at the pleasure of the fiscal court, and to be sold at not less than par value and accrued interest; and D. E. Gilliland, Sheriff of Crittenden County, will advertise said election, and the objects thereof, for at least thirty days next before the 27th day of March, 1917, in some newspaper having the largest circulation in said County, and he shall also advertise it by printed handbills posted up at not less than four public places in each voting precinct, and at the Court House Door. All legal voters shall be privileged to vote at said election, and L. E. Guess, Clerk of the Crittenden County Court, is directed to have prepared a sufficient number of ballots for holding said election on which shall be printed the question,

"Are You in Favor of Issuing One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00) in bonds for the Purpose of Building Roads and Bridges in Crittenden County, Kentucky?" as is provided in the General Election Laws, Section 1159, Kentucky Statutes.

The Sheriff of Crittenden Co., is ordered to have the polls open at all of the voting places and precincts of Crittenden County, on the 27th day of March, 1917, for the purpose of holding said election.

This cause is now continued.
JOHN G. ASHER,
County Judge Crittenden County.

THE FARMER'S BOY.

The sun went down beyond the hills,
Across your dreary moor,
Weary and lame, a boy there came
Up to a farmer's door.
"Will you tell me if any there be
That will give me employ,
To plow and sow and to reap and mow
And be a farmer's boy."
"My father's dead and mother's left
With her five children small;
And what is worse for mother still,
I'm the oldest of them all.
Though little I be, yet I fear no work,
If you will me employ,
To plow and sow, to reap and mow
And be a farmer's boy."

"And if you will not me employ
One thing I have to ask,
Will you shelter me till break of day
From this cold winter's blast?"
At break of day, I'll wend my way—
Elsewhere to seek employ,
To plow and sow and to reap and mow
And to be a farmer's boy."
The mistress said, "Pray take the lad,
No farther let him seek."
"Oh, yes, dear father," the daughter cried,
While tears ran down her cheek,
"For those that will work, 'tis hard to want
And to wander for employ,
To plow and sow, to reap and mow
And to be a farmer's boy."

A LITTLE BIT HUMOROUS
The Difficult Part.
"This motion picture comedian has to work hard."
"Why, it isn't such hard work to fall into mud puddles, have pies smeared on your face, be run over by a street sweeper and receive the contents of a flour barrel on your head."
"I know it, but think how much trouble it must be for him to get cleaned up every evening in time for dinner."

A Misguided Patriot.
"There goes a stout party worker."
"So they say."
"You ought to hear his wife's opinion."
"Yes?"
"She says if he would work for his family more and his party less, she wouldn't have to run a boarding house."

The Practical Side.
"Ah!" exclaimed the poetical person, "Hark to the footsteps of the rain. 'Tis a pleasant sound."
"Unph!" replied the crusty landlord, "So far as I'm concerned, the footsteps of the rain are merely a prelude to the footsteps of tenants, hurrying to my office to complain about roofs leaking."

At the Opera House.
"In the last act the villain was shot and writhed on the floor for nearly five minutes."
"I presume you would call that creating a heavy atmosphere?"
"Yes. And he succeeded all right. By the time he finished flopping about the air was thick with dust."

THE IDEA!
"Yes; I served in the army for four years."
"An' wuz yeh honorably discharged?"
"Discharged? Well, I should say not, I up en quit on me own hook."

Just So!
When a young man proposes
To a maiden, if she's game,
And he has a lot of money,
She will gladly change her name.

Trails Behind.
"Is Doppel the head of a family?"
"He has a wife and several children. If that is what you mean, and he heads the family procession when buying tickets to a motion picture show, but at all other times his place is in the rear."

Domestic Doings.
Gyer—Mr. and Mrs. DeStyle would be only too glad to have a skeleton in their family closet.
Myer—You don't say!
Gyer—Fact. They had one, but it escaped last week.

Dividing Responsibility.
"So you built a bungalow on your lot in the country?"
"Not altogether."
"Not altogether?"
"The architect made the bungle. I get the ouch part."

Realistic Touch.
"What's the dancer doing now?"
"She's portraying the advance of autumn."
"I see. And those young women following her are, I presume, milliners' assistants."

Sure.
"Do you subscribe to the theory that love is a chemical reaction?"
"No," replied the sincere young person. "But I believe love should be able to stand the acid test."

Artless Art.
"It strikes me," said the critic, "that you are inclined to discourage art."
"That's right," rejoined the "movie" director. "I find it pays better to give the people what they want."

"TANLAC SMILE" GREETED FRIENDS

Hotel Man Tells How He Got Back Good Humor.

"TANLAC DID IT," HE SAYS

"You're sure looking good these days. Where'd you get the smile?" That's the way his friends now greet Joseph Kolb, who lives at the Sherwood Hotel in Cincinnati. Mr. Kolb was in the hotel business in Cincinnati for 20 years and is well known all over Ohio and Kentucky.

JOSEPH KOLB.

"That's my 'Tanlac Smile' and I got it after Tanlac had built up my run-down system," is Mr. Kolb's answer.

"But I couldn't always smile this way," Mr. Kolb said. "For several years I was bothered by a dropping of mucus in my throat. It made me 'grouchy' because I couldn't get rid of it. It got on my nerves, too, and kept me awake nights.

Began Losing Weight.

"My stomach went back on me, and naturally I lost my appetite. I couldn't eat much without being sick afterwards. I suffered from bloating and belching gas after eating. I had that tired, heavy feeling, too, and it seemed as if I just had to drag myself around. When I began to cut down on my meals I started to lose weight, too, and my friends got worried about me.

"One of them suggested that I try Tanlac and I did. I am glad to say that it helped me back to health. I've got a man-sized appetite now and can eat anything I want without suffering afterwards. I don't have that heavy feeling in my stomach after meals. My food digests without any trouble and I know it is because Tanlac has fixed me up.

Glad to Praise Tanlac.

"I am glad to pass the good word along to anyone who is suffering like I did. I know Tanlac will do them some good. It sure fixed me up. That's why I'm wearing this 'Tanlac Smile.'"

Tanlac, the most restorative and reconstructive tonic, is sold exclusively by J. H. ORME, Marion, Ohio. Other exclusive agents in nearby towns are as follows: BLACKFORD, A. T. Brown; FREDONIA, W. E. Cox; CRIDER, L. D. McElroy; EDDYVILLE, Withers Drug Co. Adv.

THE FARM FLOCK.

In this day of advancement in pure bred heres, cattle, hogs and sheep, why not improve the poultry on the average farm?

I conscientiously believe after taking into consideration the amount of things consumed by the hen that to other stock will eat and the vast amount of money brought in from the sale of eggs, chickens, turkeys, ducks, etc., to say nothing of the nice fresh eggs and chickens in abundance for home consumption, will pay the farmer a greater profit than any other live stock he may have, considering the amount invested and the cost and care of keep. Then if this be true, why not give more care and attention to this important industry? On the average farm you will—as a rule—find a flock of mongrels, a regular "doodle mixture." With hogs, cattle and other stock the pure bred yield a far greater income at less cost for maintenance, mature quicker, and take on flesh faster than the scrub.

I take it that these facts will not be disputed. All up-to-date farmers at test to these statements by the pure bred and grade stock they keep; in fact you rarely ever see a scrub animal of any kind on their farms.

The same has been fully demonstrated ed with poultry, yet you will hear farmers and not infrequently their good wives, say, "I have better success with a mixed flock." Now how can that be? It is not true in the dairy business for who in that business would select a herd of cows of all breeds and use different kinds of milks, even pure scrubs? Neither is this true of the hog and sheep business. Now there is a reason for this erroneous idea, a farmer's wife will buy a good bred rooster and allow him to run with mixed hens and scrub roosters, the results of such a purchase would be unsatisfactory, of course. But suppose we try a different method; buy a few good roosters from a reliable breeder and as many settings of eggs as you may choose from pure bred stock. Sell the mongrel stock, to mark the chicks with a punch made for the purpose (price 25 cents) keep a record of these toe-marked chicks keep the best of them together with the half bred pullets you raise for your next year's brooders. Mate them to some good roosters (the same roosters you already have if you like, as this one mating will be alright.)

Sell the old hens and off-colored pullets. The second year you will need new blood, cull your flock, buy what rooster stock you need of the same breeder you bought from first and in a few years you will have a flock of birds that you will be proud of and that will give you good results in meat and eggs.

Don't buy but one breed, its too much trouble for the average farmer to keep them separated.

In selecting a breed let me help you if I can, select the one you like best, you will be better satisfied and get better results, as with your stock. Stick with what you start with and if you don't get as good results as you had expected look for the trouble elsewhere; not so much in the breed, as in the feed, not so much in the feed as in the feeder.

The breed you select will depend largely on what you mean to produce. If meat and eggs are what you want select one of the medium breeds, Brahma, Wyandotte, R. I. Reds or Barred Rocks. The latter breeds, in my opinion, are the best all-round birds for the farmer, however, if eggs are what you want I don't think you will make a mistake if you select the White Leghorn. They stand in the egg world where the Jersey cow stands in the butter world.

The quicker way perhaps to build up a flock would be to select the variety you have the most of; for instance if you have a greater number of Rocks, select them, or of Wyandottes, select them.

Now you have the flock on paper, the next is housing and care. The up-to-date farmer has good warm comfortable barns for his stock, with an abundance of good suitable feed, so the hen holding the position she does in the commercial world, must be furnished with good warm dry houses, made tight on two ends and the north side while the south side should have plenty of openings. Plans for building such houses may be had for the asking by writing to U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

The greater part of the feed necessary to feed aside from what they pick up can be raised on the farm at a very small cost. For grain feed, plant kafir corn, milo maize, a small plot of wheat or oats handy to the poultry yards to be harvested by the fowls.

For green feed stock beets or table beets make an excellent winter feed.

Now brother farmer if you will provide the average, plant the grain and raise it the house farmer's wife will provide the necessary fowls. Why the satisfaction the women get from a nice flock of birds, gathering the eggs and showing them to her friends is worth all it costs, to say nothing of the numerous grocery bills and even shoe bills, nails, tacks, etc., for hatching. Yes, I believe if you will provide the house, the good house wife will find a way to get the necessary stock and eggs if she has to sell a few old mongrel hens to get the money, and this I do not have possibly these old hens haven't laid an egg for years.

I may have something more to say on this subject later.

Respectfully,
J. B. CARTER

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY'S STATEMENT

K. R. R. for Rheumatism Helped Him and His Friends — Got Wonderful Results

Rheumatism can be cured and is being cured every day. Today K. R. R. is relieving the agonizing pain of innumerable rheumatic sufferers, who wisely took the advice of those that K. R. R. has cured and are being cured themselves. Read this proof of the power of K. R. R. and get cured.

Testimony of the value of a cure is given by men in prominent places only after actual experience and careful deliberation; remember this while reading the following letter by an eminent North Carolina lawyer:

"Several years ago I was a sufferer from rheumatism. I tried a number of remedies without relief. I was induced to try Kampfmüller's Rheumatic Remedy, and did so with very satisfactory results. I had such good results that a number of my friends who were afflicted with the same trouble came to me to know what I had taken for it. They all tried it with wonderful results."—THORNTON, G. FERR, Prosecuting Attorney, Rowan County Court, Salisbury, N. C.

For rheumatism, lumbago, gout and kindred complaints caused by excess of uric acid, take K. R. R. Bottle $1, at your druggist's. A few doses give relief—cure yourself.

WHAT IS LAX-FOS

LAX-FOS IS AN IMPROVED CASCARA
A DIGESTIVE LAXATIVE
CATHARTIC AND LIVER TONIC

LAX-FOS is not a Secret or Patent Medicine but is composed of the following old-fashioned roots and herbs:

CASCARA BARK
BLUE FLAG ROOT
RHUBARB ROOT
BLACK ROOT
MAY APPLE ROOT
SENA LEAVES AND PEPSIN

In LAX-FOS the CASCARA is improved by the addition of these digestive ingredients making it better than ordinary CASCARA, and thus the combination acts not only as a stimulating laxative and cathartic but also as a digestive and liver tonic. Syrup laxatives are weak, but LAX-FOS combines strength with palatable, aromatic taste and does not gripe or disturb the stomach. One bottle will prove LAX-FOS is invaluable for Constipation, Indigestion or Torpid Liver. Price 50c.

Japan's Railway Gauge May Be Changed.

When the railways of Japan were first planned, the narrow gauge of 3 feet 5 inches was selected for them, because it was cheapest to build and equip and was thought best suited to the country's narrow highways and steep grades. Now the 6,000 miles of Japanese railways, all of narrow gauge, are found to be slowly behind the times, and a movement is on foot to rebuild them to the standard gauge, although the cost is estimated at nearly $450,000,000. At present the trains are slow, the fastest express making less than thirty miles an hour, the coaches are low and narrow, and the sleeping cars are cramped and inconvenient; while most of the railway inventors of other nations cannot be used because of the difference in track gauge and size of cars. The director of the Imperial railways favors the change, in spite of the high cost and estimates that the main To-kaido line could be converted to broad gauge in twelve years and the other lines on the main island of Japan in twenty five years.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless Gull Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

Spark From Man's Body Causes Garage Fire.

When a resident of Dubuque, Ia., wearing a fur coat and rubber boots, walked hurriedly into his garage on a cold morning recently, he did not realize that his movements were storing up a dangerous amount of electricity in his body. But the fact was that the friction of his arms against the coat caused a certain amount of static electricity to be generated, and this was stored in the man's body because it was insulated from the ground by his rubber boots. When he sought to prime the motor of his car with a mixture of gasoline and ether, using a metal squirt can probably of copper, which is a good conductor of electric current the can was brought so close to the motor that a spark was produced between it and the priming cap, igniting the gasoline. The can exploded, throwing the flaming liquid over both man and car. The man escaped with severe burns, but the car and garage were completely destroyed.

Drives Out Malaria, Builds Up System

The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS GULL TONIC, drives out Malaria, enriches the blood, and builds up the system. A true tonic. For adults and children, 50c.

Heat Spots.

The white spots caused by hot dishes can be removed by rubbing fresh lard on them. The lard should be rubbed in with the fingers. If the spots are very bad it will be necessary to leave the lard on a few hours. It is then rubbed off with a soft cloth. The lard will not injure the finish of the table. A finely polished dining table otherwise ruined by hot dishes, can be thus reclaimed.

DISTRESSING RHEUMATISM

If you are a rheumatism sufferer, or feel its first symptoms, start on Scott's Emulsion at once. IT MAY BE EXACTLY WHAT YOU NEED.

MONKEYS HAVE MOTOR CARS

New Craze Has Captured the Boardwalk Summer Girl at Atlantic City.

Gone is the day of the once famous Teddy bear. No longer is the heretofore much cuddled lap dog milady's companion either in her motor car or on her walks. Into the discard has been thrust, hurriedly and without ceremony, the comic doll of early summer popularity.

In their place has come the novelty produced by the combination of a toy motor car and a real, live, regular monkey, which the Atlantic City boardwalk's summer girl has brought into unexpected prominence both on the great wooden way and the bathing beaches, and once or twice in the glittering cabaret places that dot the boardwalk approaches. Apparently the craze for the Simian escorts is taking hold even more quickly than did that which marked the debut of the now all but forgotten Teddy.

Wrapped in garments that are harmoniously in accord with the exaggerated color scheme of this season's bathing costumes, the pets are being trundled with increasing frequency in the afternoon parades along the boardwalk that forms the chief attraction for the resort's feminine contingent. And the monkeys seem to enjoy the outings.

AUTHOR WRONG IN HIS FACTS

There is an infinitely touching story in a magazine article by C. H. Grubb on "Soldiers and Their Songs." It relates how a federal soldier during the American Civil war lay dying in a hospital and wished again to hear the national song. They sang him several recognized national airs, but none would satisfy him till someone struck up "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." "The dear boy," continues the author, "wounded to death, smiled his content and, turning his face to the wall, died happy."

We hate to shatter Mr. Grubb's illusions, but as a matter of fact "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" only came into existence in the later nineties and was a favorite song among the United States troops during the war of 1898.—London Globe.

Music While You Work.

A dry-cleaning establishment in Cincinnati has come to the conclusion that if its employees hear music at frequent intervals while they work it will not only make them happier, more contented and better workers, but that they will accomplish more than if they were without it.

Working upon this theory, there have been installed throughout the big establishment enough phonographs to keep lively music playing most of the day.

The records are selected with care, lest a funeral selection, a dreamy waltz or a sextet from "Lucia" should creep in. There are many lively dance records and popular songs. The workers hum and sing to the lively music, and the speed of the music puts the speed into their work.—Popular Science Monthly.

Painful to Think Of.

"I like you, Mr. Jiggels," said the glorious creature. "In fact, I like you very much, but before giving you my answer I must ask you—whether or not your income would be compatible with my wants."

"In other words, you want to know whether or not I could support you?" "Yes."

"But, surely your father would not be so cruel as to cut off your allowance just when you would need it most?"

State Highway Law.

The New York supreme court has recently decided that, because a car was wrecked through carelessness in workmanship upon a public highway, the state must be responsible. The court held that "any state that undertakes to maintain roads within its boundaries for the traffic of vehicles, thereby... assumes all responsibility for damage and losses which may be sustained by people using such roads."

Reason for Delay.

"Train's going rather slowly today, conductor, isn't it?" asked the commuter.

"Yes, considerable slower than usual," replied the conductor.

"What's the reason?"

"Well, you see, there are a lot of people on the train playing cards today, and they don't want to reach their stations before they finish the games."

Finding Fault.

"The prisoners here seem to be a contented lot."

"Yes. They have little to complain of. However, I have discovered one inmate who is discontented."

"What is it about?"

"He says the Intramural literary clubs don't devote as much attention as they ought to the study of Brown ing."

A Question of Adjectives.

Choice of adjectives is largely a matter of proportion. The American telegrams report "a bloody battle" in Mexico; American consulates, 37. I wonder how many times that number were killed in France and Russia in one day in skirmishes which we don't even call slight.—London Observer.

Suit to Break The Will of W. A. Wilgus is Dismissed; Left $35,000 Estate.

The suit of Mrs. Sadie Wilgus Yeager, et al., or the numerous surviving relatives of the late W. A. Wilgus, to break the will of Mr. Wilgus and recover his estate, was dismissed without prejudice in circuit court this morning.

The motion to this effect was made by the attorneys for the plaintiffs and the costs of the action incurred up to this point will be borne by that side.

When Mr. Wilgus died his will left all his estate to his close friend, T. W. Long, so long as the latter should live. At Mr. Long's death the entire estate was to go to the city of Hopkinsville to be expended through the school board for public playgrounds for the children of the city. Mr. Long lived only a few weeks after the will was probated and his brother, George C. Long, was named as his executor, which made him in turn the executor of the Wilgus will also.

It was several months after the Wilgus will was probated before the suit of the relatives was filed. These were all distant relatives and the family relations had not been kept up, it is claimed. In the suit against Mr. Long and the city of Hopkinsville, these relatives claimed they were entitled to the estate and asked that the will be set aside and they be given the property.

The estate is valued at about $35,000.

Now that the case has been closed by the dismissal of the suit there is said to be no further barrier to the school board proceeding to carry out the provisions of Mr. Wilgus' will and provide the playground for the children. — Hopkinsville New Era

FORD'S FERRY

Your correspondent has been requested to give his definition of the word "love," but he does not think there is any language which can adequately define the full meaning of that magnificent word. He will say this much, however, in regard to love: There is no other emotion more refining, more uplifting and inspiring, more conducive to happiness or more pleasing in the sight of God.

Dodd Cook was in Ford's Ferry Saturday and he agrees with the above in full.

The river has been rising continuously for many days and indications seem to show that it will keep on rising for some time to come. There many people who predict that the water will be some higher this spring than any time since the memorial flood of 1913.

Ford's Ferry school closed Friday with Herschel Franklin as teacher. Your correspondence has heard no complaints in regard to this young man, for he has made us a most capable and efficient teacher. He has performed his educational duties in a most creditable manner and the people, including both patrons and pupils, have been well pleased with his services.

Ed Wathen was in Ford's Ferry Saturday.

March is certainly maintaining its reputation as a blustery month. River navigation has been somewhat difficult during the past two weeks, an account of the high winds which have been prevailing.

Quite a number of young folks attended the dance which was held at the residence of Seldon Ainsworth Thursday night and a most enjoyable time was experienced by those who were present.

Elzie Carlin, who at present is staying in this vicinity, is a very interesting character who has traveled a great deal over the continent of North America. He was born and raised at South Bend, Ind., but when he became grown the call of the wanderlust was so strong in his nature that he has seldom remained long in any particular place. He is an interesting talker and when in a reminiscent attitude he can narrate a number of interesting experiences and adventures of his past life. He is an ardent champion of the laboring class of people and thinks that good, honest toil is not beneath the dignity of any man, whether he be black or white, rich or poor.

Against the Wind

By REV. B. B. SUTCLIFFE
Assistant Superintendent of Men,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—He saw them toiling and rowing for the wind was contrary to them.—Mark 6:47-51.

Jesus had risen to the highest point of his popularity when the people were ready to make him their king. It may have looked to the disciples that the time had come when they would be installed in prominent places in his kingdom.

Storm and Toil.

The Master knew the storm was coming when he sent them out upon that lake to cross to the other side. It may have looked like fair weather to them. There may have been no hint from the air or sky of the coming storm. But all the time he knew what they were going to meet out there upon the water. And he knows our way. He is acquainted with every step that lies before us. We have met no storm that has not first blown past him and we may boldly say with the Psalmist of old, "My times are in Thy hands." We can hear him say as we see the storm-clouds gathering, "As thy day so shall thy strength be." Had these disciples known of the presence of the storm was no sign they were out of his place, and this is as true for us. But the storm was there and he had sent them into it with its consequent toil.

Place of Danger.

The difficulty and danger of their place was not because of the toil. They were doing what they were accustomed to do for they were fishermen on that lake. Neither did their difficulty and danger come from the storm. From their long acquaintance with that lake they would be familiar with storms. But their danger arose because of their loyalty to the Master's command. He had told them to go to the other side, knowing that if they went, they would go against wind and wave. They may not have made much progress against the storm, but at least they were headed right in the path of obedience. It is in this path of obedience that the Christian meets the difficulties. He finds he must sometimes go against the storm of public opinion, the wind that rises in the business world, sometimes blows contrary to him, and even in his home he may meet difficulties if he obeys the Lord. It is comparatively easy to run with the storm; it is difficult to row against it. As someone has said, "any dead fish can go down the stream, only a live one can move against the current."

Place of Safety.

Their safety came not because of their seamanship. They were going not only contrary to the wind, but contrary to their knowledge of how to handle the boat in such a time of stress. Had they exercised their seamanship they would have turned about and run before the storm, but because the Master had said to go forward, their loyalty to his command forbade them seeking safety in disobedience. However, they were still in the place of safety in spite of their seeming recklessness. Neither were they safe because of the seaworthiness of their boat. However good the boat may have been, they were doing the very thing that their experience told them would swamp it. But we are told in verse 48 that the Master was watching them. He could measure the weight of every wave and the force of every blast of wind. He would know just the moment to say "Peace, be still," to both wind and waves. It is not what we see and know, but what he sees and knows. He who notes the sparrow's fall and counts the hairs of our head will never place us where the waves are too mighty or the wind too strong. He knows what lies before us. He often sends us into the place of toil and storm—the place of difficulty and danger—but he is always watching, and because of his watchfulness, our place, however dangerous, is the place of perfect safety.

Place of Satisfaction.

Finally he comes to them walking upon the sea and moving against the contrary wind. He passes through the wind that was so difficult to them with perfect ease. The storm raged about him as it did about them, but he was superior to it all. The measure of our obedience to him will be the measure of our superiority to every storm, our calmness in every danger, and our safety in every difficulty. If this should meet the eye of one of God's tempted ones in the midst of stress and storm, let him know that in the midst of the darkness he is not alone, walking with them against the contrary wind and saying, "Be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid."

Born of God, attach thyself to him, as a plant to its root, that ye may not be withered.—Demophilus.

The Question Of Taxation.

By Representative Edward D. Stone.

The subject of taxation is one of the largest and most complicated questions to which the mind of man can turn. An ideal taxing system has never existed in any nation. Every State in the Union has passed a taxing system, and each State has failed to pass a satisfactory tax law. However difficult it is to work out the details of an intelligently constructed revenue bill, we must, if we study the question aright, concede that an equitable revenue law is in the interest of all legitimate business, and of every man, woman and child within this Commonwealth. Taxes should not come out of the pockets of the many to go into the pockets of the few.

I have been studying the question of taxation for years. After those years I feel much as did Sir Isaac Newton when he likened himself to a boy picking up shells on the seashore. The very size of the question demanded all our attention, and our best action.

Kentucky tax laws are not the best, nor do I believe they are the worst in the Union, the State Press and tax writers hold our system to be the most incomplete taxing system within any State in this Union. Whether this be true or not it becomes our duty as true patriots to stand for justice, and solve this problem in a non-partisan, non-retaliatory constructive way, devoting our entire time and ability at this critical moment in order to enact an equitable revenue measure. This work should not consume any more time than is absolutely necessary.

The Proposed Revenue Bill.

The bill creating a State tax commission to be composed of three members to be appointed by the Governor with a salary of four thousand dollars ($4000.00) each annually, this measure has some opposition, and should be defeated. The tax-payers already have too many officers to support.

A bill providing for six (6) cents per ton on the output of coal in Kentucky. The coal mined in Kentucky annually amounts to nearly 25,000,000 tons, (6) cents per ton would equal $1,500,000.00 This bill would be amended to one cent per ton.

A bill providing for 50 cents on each $100.00 worth of tobacco produced by the farmer. This bill will be defeated. Other bills have been offered imposing a tax on the income of corporations, joint stock companies or associations, on theaters, on distilled spirits & etc.

Real Estate Owner.

The real estate owner pays about 85 per cent of the tax paid in this State. The small land owner pays on the full value of his land. There are good and sufficient reasons why a special method should be devised for the taxation of different kinds of property.

The New York Act of 1906 supplanting an Act of 1905 which levied a tax of five mills on the dollar, uniformly, throughout the State, on the legal and equitable owners of bonds, notes, coupons, or other evidences of debt or obligations secured by any mortgage of real estate, and exempted the same from local taxation.

Bonds and Notes.

In many States bonds are now recognized as a special class of property, limited as to earnings, and incapable of paying the same taxes as other and more productive property. They are taxed on basis of income for State purposes, only, it is claimed. They will not stand triple taxation.

In Maryland, bonds are taxed at the rate of 4 1/2 mills, or say forty-five cents on $100.00, and in Minnesota at three mills, or say thirty cents on $100.00, an increase in Minnesota from $13,919,- $86.00 to $196,548.367.00, in Maryland from $31,625,908.00 to $284,919,296.00. Bonds in Kentucky are added to the amount of $7,375,968.00 of which $4,964,105.00 are in Jefferson County. Twenty counties list no bonds, and only six counties list $100,000.00 receiving $36,879.00 as revenue. It is estimated that there are $140,000,000.00 taxable bonds owned in Kentucky. If only fifty per cent of these bonds were subjected to taxation at the rate of forty cents on $100.00, in lieu of all other taxes for State purpose, the increase in the State revenue would be larger.

The question of taxing notes in this State is one that is launched for consideration, and is sufficient to say that like other intangibles, notes, are being advocated on the same basis as Money and Credits, and is asked be taxed in the same way.

The notes now assessed in Kentucky amount to $10,831,244.00 with revenue of $46,966.00 is recognized as not being on equal basis, and a fairer method of taxation will produce better results. All laws should benefit the great masses of the people. For years they have demanded fair play in the enactment of laws in this State. All interests that are involved in this problem should be taken into consideration in order to promote the public welfare.

What Americans Think Of Solons Who Stand By Kaiser.

Portland, Ore.—A movement for the recall of U. S. Senator Harry Lane, Democrat, for his part in the filibuster which prevented congress giving President Wilson authority to protect American lives and property against German U-boats, has been begun here.

Boise, Idaho.—Former Iowa here languished in effigy Senators Cummins and Kenyon of Iowa, and Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, because of their part in the senate filibuster.

Columbus, O.—Pain and regret are expressed by a resolution adopted by the Ohio legislature, condemning the 11 senators who refused to stand by the president. Confidence in the president is expressed.

Lincoln, Neb.—U. S. Senator George Norris was denounced as a betrayer of his state and nation in a resolution offered in the Nebraska legislature.

New York.—Little short of treasonable is the wording of a resolution condemning the U. S. senate filibuster adopted at a mass meeting, called by the American Rights league here.

Little Rock, Ark.—By unanimous vote both houses of the legislature indorsed the course of President Wilson in the international crisis and condemned the senate filibuster.

Milwaukee.—Two of Milwaukee's five English newspapers bitterly attack Senator La Follette for his course in the senate filibuster. He stands repudiated by the whole press of America, says the Journal. Today the nation's cup of humiliation is full. The nation knows that this bitter draught was forced to its lips by a small minority of men in the senate, resisting the voice of America, but to the world this shameful failure will come only as proof that America is divided in defense of America.

Frankfort, Ky.—We point with eternal and unspeakable indignation to the conduct of Senator Stone, says a resolution introduced in the Kentucky legislature. La Follette and other senators who took part in the senate filibuster equally are denounced.
