Gigantic Comet Coming.

A gigantic comet, outclassing in size and brilliancy all those seen in modern times including Halley's is speeding through the solar system towards the sun at an approximate rate of 1,134,246 miles a day. The comet will be a thing of glory in the north western sky this spring and will probably remain visible for three months. It will be at its best in June.

Cow Swims To Island.

It is reported that almost every day an unusual scene may be witnessed on Loch Duich, Rosshire, New Brunswick, where a number of cows swim over to an island in the loch, about 200 yards from the mainland, feed there and return in the evening. They are never driven, but take their bath entirely of their own free will. If the wind is against them on their return journey, and the sea is rough, it sometimes is necessary for a man to put out in a boat and help them over in turn by holding out his hand under each cow's chin, since they become dazed if the sea dashes in their faces, and swim in circles instead of going straight ahead.

Girls Entertainment a Success.

One of the most enjoyable attractions of the year was the entertainment given by the girls of the High School last Friday evening at the School Auditorium. The program which was original, was unique and delightfully pleasing in every particular. The cast of fifty showed marked talent and was a splendid example of what our own boys and girls, who never fail in anything they undertake, can do.

The first part of the program, The Evolution of the American Woman, was one of the most beautifully arranged program features of its kind ever given on the local platform. "Excellent" is the only word which even begins to describe it.

Miss Gladys Hardy who has an enviable name in Marion as a reader was splendid in her interpretation of Brownings "Evalyn Hope." The daring detectives in the person of Miss Ruth Travis and Miss Ruby Dean did some clever things in their individual diary readings.

The High School Girls Quartet which has won for itself the name.

Best Players
Burgert Pierce
of Grand Harmony
Guss Hardy

was better than ever before and was very graciously received by an appreciative audience.

The concluding part of the program "The Negro Husking Bee," was one unending source of laughter and fun from beginning to end. The negro preacher Miss Lucile Moore, was on to the job; her soloist, Miss Katie May, arrayed in gorgeous apparel was great, the organist Miss Virginia Guss dressed in the latest fashion provided music as well as a source of constant amusement for the gathering. The cullud suffragette, Miss Bernice Sutherland, delivered a "flowery" discourse on that subject, so interesting to women at present. The lovers and the musicians did their parts splendidly. Everything seemed to work in perfect harmony throughout the program, and there was not a hitch from first to last.

The program was arranged and given under the direction of Miss Minor, who has charge of the Girls Literary Society of the High School. While an entertainment of this sort affords a splendid opportunity for the display of talent of our own boys and girls, we know that the success depends primarily on the training given in preparation, and the great success of this pleasing program is due in the first place to this splendid teacher. We are sure that the Girls Literary Society will continue to grow in numbers and in the quality of the work done, so long as Miss Minor is in charge.

The Kentucky Girls Quartet.

The Kentucky Girls Quartet composed of Miss Martha Louise Lipps, Hustonville mezzo soprano and drums.

Miss Margaret Helen Ripy, Lawrenceburg pianist and reader.

Miss Berdce Wimberly, Franklin violinist.

Miss Linda Rebecca Jenkins, Marion clarinetist. Are contemplating summer Chautauqua. They are soon to appear at Franklin, Beuchel and Lawrenceburg.

The quartet consists of an orchestra of piano, violin, clarinet and drums, dramatic sketch work and each of the four do solo work, they do also quartet singing.

We had the pleasure of hearing the quartet in a special rehearsal on a recent visit to Louisville and can heartily endorse them. They are girls of charming personality and rare talent. They have had excellent training and are now under the management of Mrs. Glenn Hook Daily, Dramatic art instructor from the Curry School, Boston, Mass.

Seventeen Miles To Dawson Springs.

(Providence Enterprise.)

Surveyors, who are now making the permanent survey of the I. C. Extension to Dawson Springs, state that the distance of the proposed line will fall under seventeen miles shorter than the dirt road. The new route will have the road enter Providence at the fair grounds and goes out by Hill's coal mine. The road will run within a mile and a half of Dalton.

The Old Bay Horse And His Friends Heard From.

To the voters of Crittenden Co: We, the undersigned, are your humble, faithful and obedient servants and we come to you in great trouble, asking for an act of kindness and mercy.

Since we were first able to work it has been our lot to tug and toil on the miserable roads that you have provided us. Until now we have trodden warily and patiently along, but our burden has become so great that we must cry out for mercy. We have struggled over rocks and gullies, through mud and mire, which was more mawkish and bely deep, giving you our very best service. We have borne your lashes and some of our kind have died in the harness doing your command. Hundreds of us are crippled and maimed with stiffened joints and bruised bodies because we are not provided with suitable roads on which to do our tasks. Many of us are blind and in total darkness from straining through the terrible mud, and now when we lift our feet we have to guess whether they will land next in deeper mud or in a deep rut or gully or land among sharp rocks. If our wishes could count for votes we would have good roads even before you had a war with Germany. Mr. Man, please vote for the road bonds, for on good roads we can do your work easier and faster. Vote to take us out of the mud and you will have our everlasting gratitude and our cheerful service.

Your Humble and Obedient Servants,

P. S. The above petition was also presented to the He Donkey for his signature but he refused to have his name on it and this is what he said: "I am agin good roads because they might not come out by my place." "I am agin good roads because we aint got any rocks to spare on them." "I am agin good roads because it aint fair for the town folks and the Rail Road Company to have to help pay for them when the country folks would do nearly all the travelling on them."

I say if the country folks want good roads let them build them and pay for them!" "And agin I am agin roads because them Squires didnt select ME to handle all that money that is to be handled. I could a made it pay me big but them fellers that are agoin to handle it will let every cent of it go on the roads and it wont benefit any body but a lot of work hands and some few others and the travelling public."

"And lastly I am agin good roads because the town folks and the rich country folks and the I. C. Rail Road Company would have nearly all the tax to pay and the good roads wouldnt cost the poor folks a single penny and the poor folks would travel on them more than any body and that aint fair!"

So you see Mr. Voter the reasons that the He Donkey did not join us in our petition. But we want you to vote with us any way. However if you must vote for him he will be much pleased and when you pass his way he will say to you—YEEEE HAW YEEEE HAW YEEEE HAW YEEEE HAW YEEEE HAW HAW HAW.

Methodists Are Having Revival.

Rev. W. P. Baird of Henderson arrived Monday and preached his first sermon to a large and interested congregation at the Methodist Church where a series of revival meetings are in progress. He is assisted by the song evangelist, Mr. E. O. Harbin, of Louisville and the well known Marion Quartette and other local talent including W. B. Yates who has just returned from a successful meeting in Missouri. With favorable weather and general health conditions improved all over the city the meeting has opened auspiciously and we predict a great revival.

Livingston For Bonds.

Smithland, Ky., March 20.—There is a strong sentiment in Livingston county to call for a vote on a $150,000 road bond issue for the improvement and reconstruction of county roads. It is thought petitions will be circulated soon and that no difficulty will be had in securing the required number of signers. With an issue of $150,000 in bonds, and a like amount through state aid, Livingston will have $300,000 for the improvement of her roads.

The coal mine fully equipped with mining machinery, producing very best steam coal and twelve miles of railroad is offered to the U. S. Government for its free use in case of war.

One Of Our Girls Writes From The West.

Bison, Okla.
March 20, 1917.
Dear Editor.

As people always say, one never appreciates the Press until they are away from home. It ranks next to a letter from the home folks to me.

I have been in the west since last June, like it very much but I will always be a loyal Kentuckian. I have seven weeks more of teaching then I will come home for the summer.

I learn that Crittenden is to vote on the Road Bonds again. If every voter of the county could spend one day on the roads of Garfield County Oklahoma they would go home and give a unanimous vote for the bonds. Their roads here are almost like paved streets the year around. Three fourths of the farmers have automobiles and use them in winter the same as in summer.

Oil is the subject of conversation every where here now. Some good wells have been struck and about fifty test wells are being put down in this county.

To any teacher who is interested in the school opportunities here, I will say that the salaries are much better but there are plenty of teachers here in the northern part of the state. The expenses are greater also and the certificate requirements higher.

Hurrah for Marion's new High School Building! I only wish that it had been there five years ago. With best wishes to the Press and all Crittenden.
Sincerely yours,
Ina Vaughan.

NEW RUSSIAN REPUBLIC BORN

Grand Duke Abdicates.—Czar Gives Up Throne and Rule By People is Declared

Petrograd, March 20.—Unless improbable events occur, Russia has today become a republic. The outcome depends on how the manifesto of the new government is received by the 6,000,000 soldiers at the front.

Emperor Nicholas abdicated at midnight last night on behalf of himself and the heir apparent Grand Duke Alexis, in favor of Grand Duke Michael Alexanderovich.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon Grand Duke Michael himself abdicated, thus bringing to the Romanoff dynasty to an end.

The Government, pending a meeting of the constitutional assembly, is vested in the Executive Committee of the Duma and the newly chosen Council of Ministers. A manifesto to this effect was issued by the Duma committee today, and it will be telegraphed to the general army headquarters this evening.

A Reuter's Petrograd dispatch says that prior to his abdication, the Russian Emperor transferred the supreme command of the Russian armies to the Grand Duke Nicholas.

Letter From Prosser, Wash

Dear Mr. Jenkins:
I am sorry I have been so slow in the two last papers, of which I miss so much, it means so much to me to hear from my friends back in dear old Kentucky. We are having fine weather here. The farmers are all at work doing their spring pruning and plowing.

I have 150 little chicks. This is sure a lovely climate. We like better every year. Will hope to get my paper so n.

Hope all are well and happy. we are, and if we never meet here on earth again, that we will meet in heaven.

Yours Respectfully,
Mrs. C. W. Miller.

Relationship Badly Mixed

I married a widow with a grown up daughter. My father visited our house very often, fell in love with my step daughter and married her. So my father became my son-in-law, and my step daughter my mother, because she was my father's wife. Soon afterward my wife had a son—he was my father's brother-in-law and my uncle, for he was the brother of my stepmother. My father's wife, i. e., my stepdaughter, also had a son. He was of course my brother, and in the meantime my grandchild, for he was the son of my daughter. My wife was my grandmother, because she was my mother's mother. I was my wife's husband and grandchild at the same time. And as the husband of one's grandmother is his grandfather I am my own grandfather.

WHY KENTUCKY NEEDS A NEW TAX SYSTEM

Proposed Changes In The Laws Being Considered By The Legislature

When land grows stale and unproductive it may be allowed to lie fallow for a while but in time the owner will awake to the realization that he is losing money on his investment and will seek for means to make it pay as he knows the loss on the fallow land must be borne by his productive fields.

For twenty-five years under a baneful taxing system the State of Kentucky has had a lot of fallow land and other unproductive property lying around and contributing nothing to the revenue and the expense of running the government has been imposed on other land and property in sight and easily taxed.

The tax rate has been increased thirty-seven and one-half (37½) per cent and the assessments of property sixty (60) per cent but the revenue has not kept up with the expenditures and the State has piled up a debt of Four Million Dollars, which is increasing at the rate of Sixty Thousand Dollars per month.

The State needs more money for Schools, Roads and the support of its institutions and every year will see an increase in the assessment of the same property with a probability of an increase in the tax rate unless some plan can be found to discover other sources of revenue from other property to be taxed.

There is said to be over a Billion and a Quarter of untaxed property in the State which local assessors are apparently unable to discover and as this represents more in value than the property taxed it is very plain that the latter is overburdened.

The State Tax Commission appointed under Resolution of the Legislature of 1916, composed of three Senators and four Representatives from the Counties of Harlan, Bourbon, Allen, Lyon, Carlisle, Shelby and Jefferson, of different political affiliations, farmers, lawyers and business men—after seven months' labor in investigating the tax laws of this and other States has proposed a remedy and the Legislature has been called in extra ordinary session to consider same.

The New Laws embody the practical and successful methods of taxation in vogue in other prosperous States as applied to existing conditions in Kentucky.

They involve no intricate or revolutionary changes, but leave the taxation of property for State purposes undisturbed except in the reduction of the tax rate from 45 to 40 cents and propose to secure additional revenue largely from property not now contributing its fair share of taxes. The only other change in State taxes is in placing a nominal tax on bank deposits, which will bring in a revenue of not less than One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000) from a source now contributing less than Six Thousand Dollars ($6,000)—this is one of the certain results.

The only radical change is in eliminating Intangible Personal Property, Agricultural Implements, Manufacturing Machinery and Raw Material in process of manufacture from local taxation, by counties and towns, but as the items affected represent only a comparatively small part of the revenue the beneficial effects of the change will be far greater than the losses to counties and towns, and the collective advantage will be enormous.

The principle and purpose of classifying property for taxation is to make all classes bear a proportionate share of the burden and force property not contributing its pay towards the support of the government.

The plan is to tax property instead of persons and as nearly every taxpayer owns more than one class of property the taxes of all are uniform on each class. All classes will be taxed for State purposes, land and improvements and some kinds of tangible property will be taxed for County purposes where the owner resides in the country and also for Town and County purposes if the owner lives in a Town. The reason is obvious, as real and tangible property is valuable according to its location, the tax on land is levied by County Improvement, roads and schools and Town lots and improvements by the protection and facilities afforded by Towns. This is rational and fair to all.

There is no law that limits the kind of property a person may invest in or own, but the law may fix the taxes on any kind of property as long as the owner of each class has the same taxes to pay on the same class or classes he may decide to invest in. This is the only uniform plan of taxation ever devised.

If a man resides in a Town or City he should pay for the privilege in Town or City taxes. If he prefers the country he should pay for the County expenses. As both live in the State both should pay for the expenses of the State government.

It is a well founded theory that the workman should not be taxed on his tools, which are his third hand, and to tax the implements of the farmer or the machinery of the factory is unjustifiable under any pretext. The constitution, however, forbids the exemption of such property from State taxation and the best that can be done is to eliminate it from town and county taxes.

As to Intangible Property, on which the development of the State depends, there is no sense in throttling the sources of wealth, and as summary laws simply drive such property away, the approved modern method of taxing it is by limiting the tax to the State revenue and thereby bringing it to light. Such property limited in its productive income cannot and will not stand quadruple taxation for State, County, Town and Schools consuming from one-half to two-thirds of the interest, and as it is neither subject to equalization or exemptions, as other personal property, and assessed at a higher percentage, when located, the tax amounts to practical confiscation and in consequence 95 per cent of it now evades all taxation.

These are the problems the Legislature has to meet and may they act wisely and fairly to all should be the prayer of all who have the interest of the State at heart.

Neighing of Horse

Leads to an Arrest

Harrodsburg, Ky., Mar. 21.—The persistent neighing of a horse for its companion about midnight led to the apprehension of Horace Franklin, negro, 16 years old, who, it is charged, robbed the store of Raymond Lawson, about three miles from this city, last night. Frank, it is alleged, went to the home of J. T. Cunningham, in the suburbs, and took a horse and buggy to drive to the store.

The continued neighing of the animal left behind caused Mr. Cunningham to investigate, and on missing his property he called a neighbor and they watched the road. When Franklin returned he was taken and part of the goods were discovered in the buggy. Mr. Lawson was called over the telephone made an investigation and found that his store had been robbed. After Franklin was placed in jail Sheriff Morgan found a lot of canned stuff and other articles hidden behind a rock fence.

Rev. Trotter Called From Henderson To Preach Funeral.

Ministers are often called on to attend the sick or to preach the funeral of those who have departed his life and they always respond regardless of the prospects of the pay, some times they are forgotten entirely. The Rev. of the late Wm. Hughes did not forget Rev. Trotter who was called home from Henderson to preach his funeral.

They sent him a letter thanking him and enclosing a substantial check. This was a thoughtful and proper act for them to do and proves that they have the right idea of justice, as well as propriety.

News Item Boys'

Conference Paducah.

The boys of the local High School have just received from the State Young Men's Christian Association the blank forms for their registration and credentials to the Older Boys' Conference, which will be held in Paducah, March 30-Apr. 1. Considerable interest is being shown for this Conference in our City, as well as the other cities in Western Kentucky. It is the hope of the school authorities that a large number of our boys will attend this Conference. The reports from the sister cities indicate that all the High Schools in Western Kentucky will be represented at the Paducah Conference. This is the first Conference of this character to be held in our section of the State, and both the State Y. M. C. A. and the local schools are anxious to make it a grand success. It is stated that if this year's conference prove to be the successful one, it will become an annual affair for the boys of Western Kentucky. The principal speaker is expected to be a prominent leader in the school at this Conference. It will be a conference of the elite of high-grade, fine-mannered young men of our High Schools.

SPEAKERS.

A glance at the list of speakers and leaders expected, indicates that the boys who attend will have a rare treat in the way of interesting and helpful speakers to growing young men. Mr. Bake W. Godfrey, of Jackson, Miss., the State Secretary of Mississippi, will be one of the principal speakers, and it is said that there is no more interesting speaker in the whole Southland for boys than Mr. Godfrey. Dr. W. A. Ganfield, President of Centre College, is also on the program and his speeches are always interesting and of the very highest type; Mr. Stanley A. Harris, State Boys' Work Secretary, and the organizer of High School Clubs and Scout troops throughout Kentucky, will have a large share in the program as a speaker, as well as being the promoting secretary of the Conference for the State Association. Mr. Harris is not as well known to the boys in Western Kentucky as he is to those in Eastern Kentucky, and it is the hope that the boys from our section will get to know him well at this conference. C. A. Tevebaugh, City Work Secretary of the State Y. M. C. A., who has been speaking in practically all of the High Schools in the larger cities in Western Kentucky regarding this Conference, will also be on the Conference program. All the General Secretaries of Y. M. C. A.'s in Western Kentucky will be present at this Conference with a group of boys. These include Mr. R. C. Manchester, Bowling Green; G. N. Parrish, Owensboro; J. F. Meyer, Henderson, and Acting Secretary, W. L. Threlkeld, Madisonville. Judge W. V. Gregory of Mayfield, will address the Conference on the subject: "A Boy As a Coming Good Citizen." Judge Gregory is said to be one of the fluent orators of Western Kentucky.

ENTERTAINMENT.

All the boys who go from here will be entertained in the best Christian homes in Paducah. This is always one of the features of the Conference which makes a lasting impression upon the boys. No doubt the banquet on Friday in connection with this Conference will be the greatest affair of that sort any of our boys have ever attended.

Any boys or parent desiring further information about this Conference can get the same from our High School principal, or by writing to Mr. Stanley A. Harris, 345 Y. M. C. A. Building, Louisville, Ky.

From The Louisville Post.

It has more or less escaped notice in the furor created by his more regrettable participation in the filibuster against the President, but Senator William J. Stone, of Missouri, committed a grave offense against the ethical standards of the government if not against its absolute law, when he divulged in senatorial debate, proposed plans of the navy department to protect United States ships in the barred zones. Stone deliberately informed a double entendre, and world at the same time that the Secretary of the Navy purposed to follow up merchant ships with convoys and by use of submarines on the convoys to sink them. The value of the plan rested largely in the fact that it would have been kept secret, as all things of the sort are, and would have been a bludgeoning of Stone's secrecy became past history. If his other performance had not been of a nature to eclipse the first it is probable that Stone would have come in for rebuke if nothing more. It is hardly possible to comment satisfactorily on the state of mind of a United States Senator who would be so brash with his government's secrets, and comment on Stone, has become rather a waste of time at best. — Post.

A Masonic Lodge Adjourns a Session That Began in 1865.

Raleigh, N. C.—In examining the records of Hiram Masonic Lodge, No. 40, of this city, it was recently found that the regular meeting of the Lodge that was begun on the night of April 17, 1865—the night news was received here that Lincoln was shot—had never been officially concluded, and on a recent night this formality was carried out with historic ceremonies.

John Nichols, 83 years old, former Representative in Congress, who as master opened the memorable session of the lodge more than half a century ago, acted as master again, Masons were present from many southern States, since the ceremony was preliminary to the opening here on the 113th meeting of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina.

On the night of April 17, 1865, the city of Raleigh was occupied by Kilpatrick's division of Sherman's army. When the union soldiers on the outskirts of the city learned of the assassination of Lincoln, the retaliatory measures were suggested and the officers had difficulty in holding the men in check. While the civil population of Raleigh was unaware of the assassination and of the excitement among the troops, Hiram Lodge opened its regular meeting as usual, but in the midst of it Capt. W. C. Whitten, of the Ninth Main Regiment, detailed as provost officer informed Master Nichols of the assassination and requested that the meeting be dismissed in order that no gathering should add to the confusion when the news became generally known. The members dispersed immediately, without the formality of closing the lodge.

Five Languages to Tell It.

A man in one of Caribou's (Me.) stores recently inquired for something in the German language. The clerk replied in French. A bystander repeated the question in Swedish; another again repeated the question, using Spanish. Of course the conversation was translated into English for the benefit of others who were present, making five languages spoken.

Colds Coughs Catarrh

A trinity of evils, closely allied, that afflict most people, and which follow one on the other, in the order named, until the last one is spread through the system, leading to many evils. But their course can be checked.

PERUNA CONQUERS

It is of great value when used promptly for a cold, usually checking it and overcoming it in a few days. Ample evidence has proved that it is even of more value in overcoming chronic catarrh, dispelling the inflammatory conditions, enabling the diseased membranes to perform their natural functions, and tending up the entire system.

The experience of thousands is a safe guide to what it may be expected to do for you. Liquid or tablets—both tested by the public and approved.

Big Gray Wolf Shot In Wabash County.

Mt. Carmel, Ill., March 20.—A gray wolf which has been running at large in the northern part of Wabash county for some time past was shot by Charles Bradham of Hick Prairie precinct.

For the past several weeks the wolf has been worrying the farmers in the section along the Bonpas creek where he made his home. He has carried away pigs and other small animals and poultry. A week or more ago a huge wolf drive was carried on in the hope of capturing him, but it failed of results. The animal is said to be an exceptionally large one.

The Age Of Sanitation.

This is the age of perfect sanitation, especially in the manufacture of foods.

And no one is more particular about sanitation and cleanliness than careful Mrs. Housewife.

She is daily growing more cautious about the foodstuffs she buys, and she makes it her important duty to learn, if possible, the various methods of manufacture practiced in the factories of everything she buys.

The food article that cannot convince her that its methods of production are absolutely above reproach can find no place in her home. Its manufacturer has lost forever the careful woman as a customer.

She has read so much about sanitation and the pure food regulation that she has at last awakened to its full importance.

She cannot be too cautious in her investigations of such food products as canned goods, Baking Powders, etc.

There is one Baking Powder manufacturer, for instance, whose factory doors are always wide open to the careful housewife.

If you could visit this plant, the largest and most sanitary in the world, where Calumet Baking Powder is made, you would be amazed at the wonderful cleanliness of everything and every employee.

In this, the world's most modern Baking Powder plant, every movement in Calumet's manufacture is done by spotless machinery. No human hand ever touches the Baking Powder and it reaches you absolutely pure.

WHAT MANY KENTUCKY FOLKS SAY.

Louisville, Ky.—"When I lived at Hardysville, Ky., I had rheumatism, constipation, took cold easily and blood was thin. I was 'down and out' so I could not do any work. I bought one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and was pleased that it overcame my rheumatism, gave me an appetite, acted as a laxative, and made me a new man. I give all the credit to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as I took no other medicine at the time."—Mr. W. A. HARTNER, 2025 4th Ave.

A HUMAN MATCH FACTORY.

The body contains phosphorus sufficient to make 483,000 matches. Phosphorus is one of fourteen elements composing the body—divided among bones, flesh, nervous system and other organs. The perfect health of the body requires a perfect balance of the elements. These elements come from the food we eat—the stomach extracts and distributes them. But if stomach is deranged—the balance of health is destroyed and the blood does not carry the proper elements to the different organs, and there is blood trouble—nerve trouble—rheumatism—gout—heart trouble. Pain is the hungry cry of starved organs. Put the liver, stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition into a condition of health. That is just what is done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so favorably known for nearly 50 years. It is now put up in tablet form, as well as liquid, and can be obtained of medicine dealers everywhere or by mail by sending 50 cents in 1c stamps for trial box—address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. The Country Paper.

When the evenin' shade is fallin' at the endin' o' the day—an' a feller rests from labor, smokin' at his pipe o' clay, the e's nothing does him so much good, be fortune up or down, as the little country paper from his ol' home town. It ain't a thing o' beauty, and its print ain't always clear, but it straightens out his temper when a feller's feelin' queer, it takes the wrinkles off his face and brush's off the frown, the little paper from his ol' home town. It tells of all the parties an' the balls o' Puckin' Row, 'bout who's spent Sunday with who's girl an, how the crop'll grow, an' it keeps a feller posted 'bout who's up 'nd who's down, that little country paper from the ol' home town. Now I like to read the dailies an' the story papers, too, an' at times a yaller novel, an' some o' the trash, don't you? But when I want somethin' readin' that will brush away the frown I want the little paper from the ol' home to read.—Exchange.

Rosary of Christian Graces

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL
Superintendent of Men, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT.—And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue, and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity.—II Peter 1:5-7.

We hear much of "character building." Indeed, the words of the text have begotten in some minds the idea of adding various graces, one at a time, until a beautiful structure of character has been completed. Accompanying this idea is usually the thought that much effort of will must be expended to accomplish the end sought. To say the least this whole conception seems to be out of harmony with the gospel of salvation by grace, yet our text appears to favor it.

It will clear up matters considerably to note the change of translation in the Revised Version which instead of saying, "add to your faith," reads, "in your faith supply virtue," etc. In other words, faith is the root from which all these graces blossom forth. They are not entities to be added but flowers which will bloom if we care for the root of faith. We shall notice these graces in order.

First comes "virtue." The root idea of this word in both Greek and English is manliness, vigor, firmness, strength of will. The thought is embodied in a hymn Mr. Sankey used to sing with great effect.

Dare to be a Daniel!
Dare to stand alone!
Dare to have a purpose true—
Dare to make it known!

Such firmness is the fruit of faith. Men who have tried other cures for enslaving habits, but in vain, have found help here.

After virtue comes "knowledge." How appropriate that this should follow virtue, for no man is more dangerous than he who has a strong will but is not instructed in the use of it. He is related to the mule rather than the ideal man. But the new spirit which comes through faith in Christ brings light as to our duties and the word of God is found a lamp to our feet. (The knowledge referred to here is practical rather than speculative; we may not be told the dimensions of heaven, but the way to get there is made plain.)

"Temperance," or self-control, comes next. What a commentary on our national sin that the word suggests abstinence from drink! But its meaning is much broader, for our judgments, our tastes, our speech must be controlled. (Here is found one of the secrets of greatness of character; great men impress us by their reserve, while little men put all their goods in the showcase.)

"Patience" may be defined as cheerful or hopeful endurance. It is far removed from the stoical idea; it is not the patience of the Indian at the stake, but of the Christian who sings as he suffers. It grows out of faith but is nourished by the hope of Christ's appearing, for we read often of "the patience of hope."

The next grace is "godliness," the fundamental idea of the word being reverence toward God. There is a notable lack of this virtue today. Would that we could keep ever before us such a revelation of God as is found in Isaiah 40, where we see him holding the oceans in the hollow of his hand, weighing the mountains in scales, calling the stars by name, and accounting the nations as the small, invisible dust of the balance!

Following godliness is "brotherly kindness" or as the Revised Version reads, "love of the brethren." This is distinctively Christian, for those who are near to Christ will love one another. Many young Christians have been helped to assurance by the text, "We know we have passed from death unto life because we love the brethren."

Finally, we have "charity," or love. This is love to all men, in the most general sense. Hence, Christians are incited to do all that mere humanitarians will do, and more!

It is to be noted in this cluster of graces, growing out of faith, that two are active, "virtue" and "knowledge;" two are passive, "temperance" and "patience;" one, "godliness," has reference to God; another, "brotherly love" has reference to the church; the last, "love," has reference to all mankind. How appropriate that they should be just seven in number, for this is the number of completeness!

We cannot urge sufficiently that these graces are not to be added, one at a time, but are to grow and develop simultaneously, out of our faith in Christ. Galatians 5:22 speaks not of the fruits of the Spirit, but of the "fruit," growing on the one cluster.

Old Jeremy Taylor speaks of this text as "a rosary of Christian graces." Let us tell over its beads frequently, with much prayer that these things may be in us and abound.

K. R. R. the Real Cure for RHEUMATISM!

It's a powerful remedy—yet absolutely harmless—won't hurt your stomach. Read what Mrs. Josie Sweet, 1046 Fehr Ave., Louisville, Ky., says: "I had Rheumatism for six years. I was treated by three prominent doctors, got very little relief. Two years ago I was confined to bed with Lumbago; I could not help myself at all. My doctor tried all kinds of Rheumatism medicine, but nothing did me good. I had given up all hope when a friend prevailed on me to try

A BIT OF ADVICE

First—Don't Delay. Second—Don't Experiment.

If you suffer from backache; headaches or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. In such cases the kidneys often need help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Marion residents desire more convincing proof of their effectiveness than the statement of a Marion citizen who has used them and willingly testifies to their worth?

Mrs. J. R. Summerville, 309 E. Depot St., Marion, says: "Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions for slight disorders of my kidneys. From the results obtained I am only too glad to recommend and advise the use of this medicine to anyone subject to a weak or lame back."

Price 50 cents at all druggists. Don't simply ask for a kidney—get Doan's Kidney Pills the same that Mrs. Summerville had. Foster-McBurn Company Props. Buffalo, N. Y.

Let's Be Charitable.

Enormous Revenue.

Washington, March 21.—Preliminary reports to the Treasury Department from every section of the country since March 1 indicate that the government will collect $300,000,000 in income taxes during the current fiscal year, or about two and one-half times as much as during the preceding twelve months. If the internal revenue receipts are expected to exceed $700,000,000, an increase of nearly $200,000,000.

A Letter From New Mexico.

Part 18, New Mexico.
March 21, 1917.

Mr. Editor,

I saw a letter in the Record Press that Uncle Billie Joel Hill wrote. I couldn't sit still any longer, for that is what we have been wanting to see for so long, you good people in Kentucky don't realize how much cool it does us away out here. West to see a good letter from some of the good neighbors or our old friends, so when I saw Uncle Billie's good letter, I told Mr. Newcom I sure was a going to write a few lines.

It makes me think of the days gone by, when he talks about the wood fires, I might enjoy setting by a good wood fire. But I would not enjoy carrying in big back logs, I used to lift those kinds of things, till I could see ten thousand sparks around the moon. I br kemy back, till I am not worth a penny now. Uncle Billie said his wife would cook sweet potatoes and old fashion corn bread on that good fire, and had so many good peaches. I am so thankful, Uncle Billie gave me a chance to tell our good neighbors that is the way we live out here, only we don't have the good wood fire, our fuel cost us more than Uncle's does him, but we have the hot fire just the same, our fuel cost us ten dollars a ton now.

Well, they have hominy, meat, gravy, eggs, potatoes, cream and peaches all by a good fire and eat out of their tin plates. Well, I haven't got the tin plate.

But we have all he has told about every day, and a little more, you may think I am bragging a little, if you don't believe me come out and see for your self. We have our sweet potatoes every day our big white biscuit, egg corn bread, plum and apple jelly, raisins, cranberry preserves, and a big stand of honey sets on the table 365 days in the year, we also buy crackers by the 25 lb box they are on the table the year around, we buy Ginger snaps by the 15 lb. box. By me a baking one like a week this box of cakes will last all summer.

I am like Uncle Billie I think I have a good man I don't know what he thinks about me. I am afraid to ask him myself, but I don't think he will say anything bad. Mr. Newcom does all the feeding and the work out of doors. I do the cooking and we both do the eating, so you see we live happy. Can say thank the Lord for the many blessings we have received.

If I just had a little more paper I wouldn't stop writing all day. Oh, I will have to tell Mr. J. D. Asher, Mr. Albert McConnell, and Mr. G. D. Kemp about E. H. Newcom's little white faced calves, I wish you could be here and see him feed them, after they get all the milk he gets his pan and gives each one a pint of cotton seed meal and the same of corn meal. Now you ought to see them eat, each one knows his place.

Mr. Newcom said he would have some pictures made of them this summer and send some of them to the Marion boys.

We haven't had the blizzard weather out here, we had one cold spell in January, and one in February the rest of the months were warm and nice. We have more sand storms than any thing else out here, but we don't get so mad now, when the sand begins to blow like we did when we first come out here we dig the sand out of our eyes and go on about our work. We can raise most anything out here to eat or feed but Irish potatoes, we don't have rain at the time they need it worst but sweet potatoes will grow whether you look at them or not.

Well, I have ten hens setting, I aim to raise a few chickens this summer, I raised five hundred last year. Uncle Billie, you said W. T. Oakley liked sausage and ham why don't you say fried chicken too, I never saw a preacher and his wife but what I'd chicken, we have a peach root here. He is a holiness, when he comes here I have to kill two chickens at a time, and what they can't eat, they want me to fix it up and let them take it home with them so here it goes, any way to get shed of them. They are not all that away. But they all like something good to eat. I wish I could have been a preacher so I could make people wait on me. And cook me something good every time I come around to see the church members. I wish I could give Mrs. Mary McConnell a good blessing in this letter, I hate to say much about the poor woman I know she has so much to do, she can't write very often. Well Uncle Billie if you don't remember us, you ask W. T. Oakley or his good wife, who we are they can tell you more than you will want to know. I want some one else to write a good letter to the Press, so we will have something to read about our old Kentucky home.

Your Lovingly,
Mrs. E. L. Newcom.

"Cured"

FARM LOAN BANK HEADS CHOSEN

Federal Board Announces Officers And Directors of The Louisville Bank.

Washington, D. C. — Officers of the Federal Farm Loan Bank at Louisville were announced by the Secretary of Treasury as follows: Walter Howell, of Union City, Tenn., president and director; J. P. Brennan, of Columbus, Ohio, vice president and director; James B. Davis of Brazil, Ind., secretary and director; L. B. Gore, of La Porte, Ind., treasurer and director; H. A. Sommers of Elizabethtown, Ky., director, and A. G. Dulaney, of Bowling Green, Ky., registrar and attorney.

The long deferred announcement of the personnel of officers and directors of the Louisville bank was no surprise to these members of the Kentucky delegation who remain in Washington. They were informed long ago that politics were to cut no figure in the selection of men for these positions and for that reason no Kentucky member of the Congress offered an indorsement of any ambitious constituent who sought to be appointed to position in connection with the Louisville bank. More than that, no member of delegation took more than passing interest in the prospective appointments.

GETTING A START

By
Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

BE A MAN.

Man is made of Dust,
Dust settles,
Be a man.

Settle! That is a good word with which to conjure.

He who does not settle his accounts, whether they are monetary or otherwise, is not manly and does not stand well among men.

Everybody is under obligation to somebody. He owes money or he owes something beside money. He cannot succeed, he cannot be true to himself and to the world, unless he is under obligations to somebody or to something, and unless others are under similar obligations to him.

Reciprocity is one of the first laws of business and of every other department of life.

Alone, we amount to nothing. With others there is no limit to our attainment.

Many a man pays his bills promptly and forgets to keep his engagements. He is financially honest and socially and otherwise dishonest.

An obligation is binding, no matter how small it may be.

If you agree to meet a man at a certain hour or upon a certain day, it is just as important that you keep this engagement as it is that you pay your bills.

Nothing detracts more from one's reputation than carelessness in keeping obligations, however small they may be.

Men of mark, men who rightly occupy high positions, never forget an engagement, they are always on time, and they consider themselves under obligations to those with whom they come in contact, in business and out of it. Their word is as good as their bond, and their bond is usually above par.

I do not find any excuse for professional men who are forgetful and who do not appear to realize the importance of meeting every obligation and of keeping every engagement. Some of them may excuse themselves by claiming that their minds are preoccupied with other things. Sheer nonsense! The mind that cannot grasp and surround and meet an obligation, whether it belongs to a great scientist or to a clerk behind the counter, is not the kind of mind which is predestined to succeed.

There is no excuse for failure to meet an appointment or other obligation, or for delay in answering a letter which requires an immediate reply.

"I am too busy," is not an excuse. You can trust a busy man, you can depend upon him more than you can upon a man who has nothing to do.

If I desired help, I should go to the busiest man I know, for he has time. The loafer hasn't.

At times it may be impossible for you to do the work of the day during the day, but in the majority of cases, each day's work can be performed more easily today than it can be done tomorrow.

Settle at the time of settlement. Today is yours; tomorrow may not be.

You are dependent upon your fellow men. Treat them as you would have them treat you, and realize that they have equal rights with you; that when you promise to do a thing, and do not do it, you have stolen another man's time and are just as much a thief as you would be if you robbed his money drawer.

Religion of the Future.

From President Eliot's "Religion of the Future" it appears that the "progress of the nineteenth century far outstripped that of similar periods"—as far perhaps as that of the last twenty-five years has in turn outstripped it. The "new ideas of God" which it has produced give the basis for a new twentieth century religion superior to all others. Some of these new ideas are monotheism, immanence, God's love, the adoration (dulia, not latria) of all righteous persons, and the "tendency toward progress." It rejects polytheism, apotheosis, tribal religion, sudden change of character, mediation, dogma, mystery, sacraments, the fall of man, alienation from God and the condemnation of the majority. It abhors the devil and will attack all his works quickly; it will teach that he is best who loves best and serves best, and the greatest service will be to increase the stock of good will.

Magic String.

Procure a few pieces of cotton string each about one and one-half feet long, and fill them well with soap. Prepare a brine by dissolving three tablespoonfuls of salt in a cupful of water. Place the strings in the brine and allow them to soak for two hours or longer. It is necessary that they be thoroughly saturated with the brine.

When taken out of the brine and thoroughly dried, suspend one of them from a nail on a ledge, and hang a finger ring on its lower end. Apply a lighted match to the string and allow it to burn. The ring will not fall, but will hang by the ash.

HERE'S A HAPPY "TANLAC FAMILY"

Sisters Join Their Mother In Declaring Tanlac Meant New Start In Life For Them.

MRS. JOHN LOWE.

MRS. S. C. BURNETT.

MISS FRANCES BURNETT.

"Someone suggested the other day that we tack a sign on our house saying, 'This Is a Tanlac Family.' That's because my two daughters and I talk so much about Tanlac. We all wear the Tanlac Smile, too," Mrs. S. C. Burnett, 1408 Walnut street, said.

"But why shouldn't we talk about it when we feel that it has done us a world of good. Everyone of us has been helped by Tanlac and I'll tell you we can't say too much for it."

"First my older daughter, Mrs. John Lowe, tried it. She had lost 30 pounds and was so run down and nervous that even the rumbling of a wagon or the clanging of a door would upset her for hours. We feared we would have to send her to a hospital."

"I honestly believe that Tanlac saved her from complete breakdown. Nothing else seemed to help her. But Tanlac put her on her feet again right quick. Today she is one of the happiest women in Cincinnati."

"Then Frances became run down—sort of half-sick. She had dizzy spells. We were going to take her out of school because she kept complaining of spots and webs before her eyes. Her complexion got pasty and she didn't look a bit well. Tanlac, however, proved to be just the thing she needed and now she is back in good health again."

Mother Was Half-Sick.

"As for myself, I felt almost the same as Mrs. Lowe. My stomach troubled me. My appetite was poor and I suffered after eating with bloating and belching of gas. But with the help of Tanlac I got rid of these troubles and now I feel simply splendid."

"But I started out at first to tell you about Mrs. Lowe. She simply thought she was going to die. She felt so bad I believe she almost would have been glad to have it all ended. It was just pitiful to watch her. Her weight dropped from 140 to 110 pounds. She couldn't eat without being sick. We had just about given her up. Then we heard of Tanlac and she tried it. All of a sudden she seemed to take new interest in life. Within a week she began eating solid food, just like she did before she had trouble with her stomach. The food nourished her, too, and she began taking on weight. She slept sound and it seemed like no time before she was feeling well again."

Helps Youngest Girl.

"One day Frances was up to see her sister. She's the youngest, you know. She was feeling bad and Mrs. Lowe gave her some Tanlac. It made her feel better and she came home and said, 'Mama, I believe that new tonic that helped sister will do me some good. Please get me a bottle.' So I did and do you know that in a week she began to feel better. Now she eats all she wants, sleeps well and doesn't have those dizzy spells or spots before her eyes when she is studying."

"I was such a firm believer in Tanlac by the time it had built up the health of my two girls that I got some for myself. It certainly toned up my system. I used to have nervous spells but they are all gone now. I got back my appetite and now I sleep as well as I did before my stomach-ache started to bother me."

"I tell you Tanlac has done a lot for our family and we can't say too much good about it."

Tanlac, the most reliable and constructive tonic, is sold exclusively by J. H. ORME, Madison. Other exclusive agents in nearby towns are as follows:

HANDICRAFT FOR BOYS

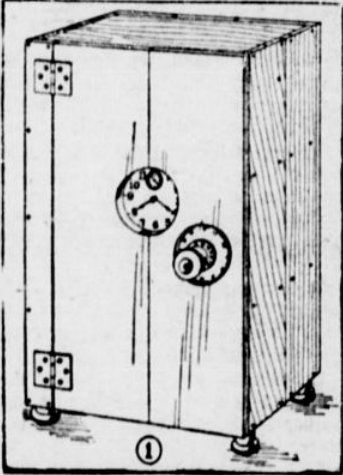

By A. NEELY HALL
Author of "The Handy Boy," "The Boy Craftsmen," "Handicraft for Handy Boys," etc.
(Copyright, by A. Neely Hall.)

A HOMEMADE SAFE WITH A TIME-LOCK.

All of you boys will want to make this unique safe for your bedroom. An ordinary alarm-clock is required for a lock.

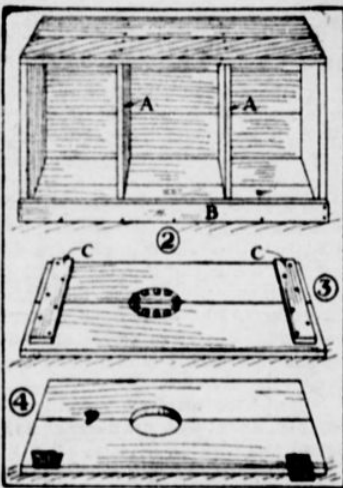

Let the dimensions of the safe be determined by the size of box which you can get. Fig. 5 shows the interior, with shelves spaced at the right distances apart to allow for four tiers of boxes. Cigar boxes with spool knobs are excellent for these boxes. Fasten the shelves as shown at A, Fig. 2.

Nail a strip about an inch and one-half wide to one edge of the box, for a hinge-strip (B, Fig. 2.) Then make a door out of the box-cover boards, fastening these together with battens (C, Fig. 3). Locate the opening for the clock face in the center of the width of the door, and several inches above the center of the height. Make it a trifle smaller than the clock case, so the case will set over it as shown in Fig. 5. Fig. 3 suggests how to make the hole by first boring a number of holes and then cutting out the wood between with a small saw or chisel. Hinge the door as shown in Figs. 1 and 4.

Now for the time-lock. Fasten the clock back of the opening with a staple driven over the top ring and another over each foot (Fig. 5). Then cut latch D (Figs. 5 and 6) several inches shorter than the width of the door, and cut crosspiece E several inches shorter than D. Nail crosspiece E to the door an inch and one-half below the clock, pivot latch D to it with a screw, and nail block F to the door just below E for a stop for the latch. Screw a screw-eye into the door at H and I; then tie a latch-string to screw-eye G, run it up to and through screw-eyes H and I, and down to the alarm winding key of the clock. Pull the string taut, and, after winding the alarm, tie the string to the key. Now, when the alarm goes off and the key reverses, the string will wind about it and raise the latch. There must be a catch J (Figs. 5 and 6) for the latch to drop behind. The combination shown in Fig. 1 is make-believe. The knob is a spool

(A, Fig. 1), the large dial is the top of a strip can, and the two are pivoted to the safe door with a nail. A button mold (M, Fig. 1) may be used to keep the spool from pulling off of the nail.

Four spool feet fastened with nails to the safe bottom, and a couple of coats of black paint, will complete the safe.

By setting the alarm-hand twice a day, you may have the safe open each morning when you arise, and each night at bedtime.

Home Town Helps

THAT HOME-TOWN FEELING

Something That Is Never Forgotten, No Matter How Far Wanderings May Carry One.

Most people grow up with the home-town feeling for the old town, the town where they were youngsters, where they knew every kitten and puppy, every street and every alley, every cracker barrel and every candy counter, everybody and everything at least for many a block around. It was not of course a feeling of which you were unconsciously conscious. As likely as not you never knew that you had it until you came back after the summer in the country or perhaps came home from school for the holidays. It was then that the home-town feeling grew large within you, a fine, big, warm spot of feeling. If it happened that you lived in a medium-sized town in those days, the sight of the station was a deeply satisfying thing. It seemed as you rattled along in the little old hack, past the courthouse square and across the one street car line, that you had come back to yourself, a very comfortable sort of feeling indeed. Perhaps you lived in or near a much smaller village, but it was the same home-town feeling you had as you climbed under the heavy, horse-smelling robe into the buggy and rode down the street. The general store, the white church, the brick house where the one rich family lived and the patched-up cabin where the one poor family lived were so familiar to you that you were immediately conscious of every new sign in the store window and every new patch in the cabin roof. And if, perhaps, you lived in a much larger town, the distant smoke, the insistent clamor, the crowds and the rush of traffic were the things you were looking for and the things that satisfied the home-town feeling.

The home-town feeling for the new town, the town where you go after you are grown up, the town where you work, the town that adopts you or that you adopt, is, of course, not so natural or easy a thing. At least it is not a thing which can be deliberately acquired along with a new job or even with the actual purchase of a new house. It is not a thing that comes with friends or with pleasant associations. It seems to come just of itself and it comes, some day, all of a sudden. You may be standing in a crowded street car, you may be pushing your way through the market, you may be sitting on your own back step while supper is cooking. It is certain to come when you are not thinking or caring particularly about it, and when it comes it has come to stay.

PLEA FOR BETTER SCHOOLS

Improved Methods of Education and Hygiene Are Urged Upon Country's Smaller Communities.

The federal school extension agent, Mr. McBrien, wrote recently in a special statement: "In educational opportunity the city boy and girl have privileges far superior to those of the farm boy and farm girl. In funds, in length of term, in equipment, in buildings, in administration and supervision, in courses of study, in efficiency of the teaching force, and in salaries paid, the superiority of the city schools is so far above that of the rural schools as to make the situation in many sections of the county deplorable. It has been so desperate in many instances during the past 25 years, when contrasted with the splendid opportunities of the city school, that it is given more times than any other reason by fathers and mothers for moving from the farm to the city."

Other critics are laying stress on rural sanitation and hygiene. Senator Ransdell, chairman of the senate committee on health and quarantine, has been urging a special inquiry into the methods of preventing disease in rural America, particularly such diseases as malaria and typhoid, which are wholly preventable. The senator's measure proposes systematic co-operation between local and national authorities, and is based on the idea that "the problem of rural sanitation is not a local problem, but one which concerns the health and physical integrity of our entire nation." The two diseases named, it is estimated, cost the country $900,000,000 a year.

To Imitate Thatch Roof.

Of the various attractive roof effects which can be achieved with either the asphalt or the wood shingle, none are more popular at present than that of the imitation of the old English thatch.

This effect is obtained by what is known as the woven shingle method, whereby the shingles are laid in courses varying in width from one inch to seven inches.

While undoubtedly a roof of this sort lends charm and distinction to houses of a certain style of architecture, from the nature of the workmanship required in its construction, the roof cannot be considered a cheap one.

To those who do not have to consider expense closely, the soft finish of the imitation thatch must make a strong appeal.

Someone has said that it is hard to distinguish between poison ivy and Virginia creeper.

It is the easiest thing in the world to do this. Poison ivy has a three-part leaf. Amelopsis or Virginia creeper a five-part leaf. The latter is of rampant climbing habit.

The ivy seldom grows to a greater height than three feet. It may overrun an old stump, or a heap of stones, and have the appearance of being a vine, but a close examination will show you that it does not really climb. It generally makes a bushy growth, sending up a mass of slender stems from its spreading roots, and covering a considerable amount of space.

If one studies the structure of the peculiarities of the two plants, it will be impossible to mistake one for the other.

Some persons complain that they find it difficult to exterminate poison ivy. They mow it down, and in a little while it sprouts, and before long there is more of it than ever.

It cannot be killed by simply mowing it. But if, after mowing it, the ground in which it grows is sprinkled with kerosene and burned over it is not a difficult thing to kill. All the roots may not be killed with one application, however.

If some of them send up sprouts, cut these off close to the ground, and pour kerosene over the stub and about it—enough to saturate the soil well. This will generally put an end to the nuisance.

It cannot be killed by simply mowing it. But if, after mowing it, the ground in which it grows is sprinkled with kerosene and burned over it is not a difficult thing to kill. All the roots may not be killed with one application, however.

If some of them send up sprouts, cut these off close to the ground, and pour kerosene over the stub and about it—enough to saturate the soil well. This will generally put an end to the nuisance.

Some persons complain that they find it difficult to exterminate poison ivy. They mow it down, and in a little while it sprouts, and before long there is more of it than ever.

cure the blues, then his clerk, Richard McDowell, has begun to take an interest in the song service, and he is, well in fact Shady Grove excels any small town in talent that you ever saw, and in fact we think these are fine times in general. The reason for this is peace with the Lord and one another.

So if spring will open up and the weather settled, you will see some hustling times about Shady Grove, when the good old women begin to talk about gardening. But now days you seldom ever see any one but what she is carrying something in her hand we don't know what, but we think they call it tatting. They flip their hands and jerk them around sometimes drop a stitch, while the old man sits in the corner waiting for her to sew a button or two on his clothes, but he had better not say much till they get the stitch picked up.

Well things are sorty funny any how. Life is what we make it, and we don't think people ought to get old in ways while the way to feel right is to do right. We have had a pretty hard winter and a good deal of sickness but we hope it is all for the better. Our old friend, Dr. McConnell, has about worn himself out this winter but he is certainly a good one.

We met Bro. Bob Moore the other day, and he is a candidate this time and we think every one should vote for him.

Say, folks, if the weather gets a little warmer, we are going fishing, so we rather expect we had better close for this time, wishing everybody well and the same old fellow. If this does not go to the waste basket, we will write more next time.

If rocks and stones possessed any commercial value Crittenden county would certainly come to the front.

Ellis McConnell has recently recovered from a severe attack of measles, but we are sorry to learn that the epidemic had such an unfortunate effect on his ear drums as to render him almost deaf. A number of surgical operations have been performed, in his ears and we sincerely hope that he will recover his normal hearing as soon as possible.

There is a considerable amount of agitation in this neighborhood over the question of road bonds. It seems like the majority of the people in this vicinity are against this proposed measure, but according to recent information this condition does not prevail in other parts of the county.

The farming land of Crittenden Co., does not yield as large a crop as the land of some of the neighboring counties, but our dear old home county is certainly distinguished for the quality of its products and it surpasses many of its competitors in that respect. The sorghum molasses which are produced in this county are much brighter and sweeter than the molasses which are produced in Union county and the quality of our corn and wheat is also superior to that of our more wealthy neighbor. There are many farmers in Union county who come to Crittenden in order to obtain good seed wheat and they are also well pleased with the quality and excellence of some of our other products.

Life an' Lights may lure, but home's Home! An' say, ain't it great to get back to the folks an' the real stuff once in awhile. Don't it just give you new life and heart to see the faces of those you love an' hear the voices you hunger for?
