Letter from Fort Adams R. I.

Dear Editor,

I am writing to you from Fort Adams, R. I. I have been stationed here for the past two years and have had the opportunity to see and experience much of the history of this country.

I am writing to you today to express my concern about the current situation in fort. The soldiers here are not being treated fairly and are being required to work long hours without adequate rest.

I believe that it is important to bring these issues to the attention of the government so that they can be addressed and corrective action can be taken.

Sincerely,

EDWARD D. STONE

The people should rule," is the slogan of their popular candidate, Edward D. Stone, who is a candidate for County Attorney of Crittenden County, the Republican Primary, August 8th, 1917.

Mr. Stone is widely known and stands high as the trustee type of a gentlemen in this county. He is a deserving young man and enterous the race, not as a candidate of any faction, but as a true Republican, willing and ready to serve the people of the public county of Crittenden, and render to every person a square deal, if permitted upon him.

He is recognized as one of the most liberal and foremost members of the Republican Party. He is the only man who has campaigned for the legislature in this district, in which he was elected their representative. In those campaigns he placed this district before the Republican continent. For four years in the last Legislature he has been a member of the house and is known in this state as the very best source of such a man's abilities and knowledge of the laws, as well as the other matters in his district. He is now offering his services to the people of his district.

He fulfilled every promise made by him to the people, as their Representative, and made a record of which the people of this county are proud, and if elected County Attorney he will fulfill the same duty as he has done as Representative.

Mr. Stone was educated at the Cumberland University, at Lebanon, Tennessee, and since 1899, having started to practice law in 1893. W. E. Burton, of Franklin, Ky.
