The Message of Dec. 16, 1917,

The thought of you, my dear, was love to you. It is the thought of you, my dear, that fills me with love. It is the thought of you, my dear, that makes me happy. It is the thought of you, my dear, that makes me smile. It is the thought of you, my dear, that brings me joy.

The thought of you, my dear, is the light that guides me through the darkness. It is the thought of you, my dear, that gives me strength.

the music that warms my heart.
It is the thought of you, my dear, that makes me feel alive. It is the thought of you, my dear, that makes me whole. It is the thought of you, my dear, that makes me complete.

the air that I breathe. It is the thought of you, my dear, that fills me with hope. It is the thought of you, my dear, that gives me courage. It is the thought of you,
valuable. It is the thought of you,
loved. It is the thought of you,
needed.

the wind that moves me. It is the thought of you, my dear, that brings me peace. It is the thought
feel safe. It is the thought of you,
protected. It is the thought of you,
secure. It is the thought of you,
peaceful. It is the thought of you,
content. It is the thought of you,
good.

the rain that nourishes me. It is the
makes me thrive. It is the thought
grow. It is the thought of you, my dear, that makes me blossom.
It is the thought of you, my dear, that makes me bloom. It is the
makes me flourish.

the sunshine that warms me. It is
makes me happy. It is the thought
smile. It is the thought of you,
alive. It is the thought of you,
complete. It is the thought of you,
whole.

the sky that stretches above me.
It is the thought of you, my dear, that makes me feel free. It is the
makes me feel unshackled. It is
makes me feel unbound. It is the
makes me feel unencumbered.

THE NEW DE LAVAL

National Service M. I. A.

The following is a summary of the work done by the National Service M. I. A. in the fall at the National Meeting.

The world is now in the midst of the great war and its effect is being felt daily. While the world is faced with the problem of the great number of men and women who have been stricken by the war, it is also faced with the fact that a great number of men and women are being stricken by the war. It is every man's duty to be in the war, but it is not true for any of us to be in the war because our country is involved in the war. It is not true for any of us to be in the war because we are the only ones who are involved in the war. It is every man's duty to be in the war, but it is not true for any of us to be in the war because we are the only ones who are involved in the war. It is every man's duty to be in the war, but it is not true for any of us to be in the war because we are the only ones who are involved in the war. It is every man's duty to be in the war, but it is not true for any of us to be in the war because we are the only ones who are involved in the war.

Our thanks to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war. We are grateful to the men and women who have been stricken by the war.

OUTLOOK FOR DIADEMS

Rotten to the Core

The people care not for our affair from the majority of the people, and the worst that the press does is to spread the news. what is the use of keeping the press in business? We don't mind the press, but we do mind the people who read it.

We are going to have a better outlook for diadems, and the people are going to be happier than ever before.

The people must be content and happy if they are to have a democracy.

We hope to see a
better day for diadems,
and the people will be
content and happy.

Germany Must
Quit by Spring

Germany is in a bad way, and we are going to have a better outlook for diadems.

better day for diadems,
content and happy.
