WELL KNOWN CHRISTIAN CO MEN

At Head Of Company To Operate
In The Crittenden County
Spar Mines.

Says the Hopkinsville Kentuckian of last Thursday: Articles of incorporation were filed in the office of the county clerk yesterday afternoon by the Federal Spar Company which has already begun business as a mining company. This enterprise is launched by T. J. McReynolds, J. T. Wall, W. T. Fowler, and Gipp Watkins, all of this city except Mr. Watkins, who recently moved to Crittenden county to look after the business of the company in that field.

The Federal Spar Company is incorporated for $150,000. Of this amount Messrs. McReynolds, Wall, Fowler and Watkins will each own $25,000. The company will do a general business of mining floor spar and has already begun operations in Crittenden county, where it has large and rich holdings.

The home office of the company will be located in Hopkinsville and will be officered as follows: T. J. McReynolds, Pres.; J. T. Wall, Vice-Pres.; Gipp Watkins, Secretary-Treasurer.

Spar is used in the process of manufacture of steel, and zinc. The out break of the war has jumped in price from $4.00 to $35.00 per ton. The richest spar mines in the world are in Crittenden county and it is expected that the Federal Spar Company will in the near future become one of the leading spar companies in the State.

Seed Corn For Sale

If you are interested in seed corn, we believe we have what you are looking for. We have been fortunate in securing some fancy quality St. Charles Red Cob White Corn. Germination test, 95 to 98 per cent.

This corn has been selected by hand, hand shelled, nubbed and tipped.

This strain of corn is recommended by the Kentucky Experiment station as being adapted to any part of Kentucky. This famous corn has put Scott County Mo. on the map for her big crops of corn.

It will be risky this year to plant untested seed corn as the tests that have been made show that about 80 per cent of the corn will not germinate. See or call

CRITTENDEN COUNTY ROADS

The All Absorbing Topic Discussed
In An Interesting And Truthful
Way, By A Leading Citizen.

"Be sure you are right then go ahead." We want to know more about the proposed 15 per cent County Tax for the purpose of working the County roads.

For instance if we vote the tax in the Dycusburg precinct and this money is used on some other precinct, road, we are against any such business, but if the law provides that the tax voted in our precinct will be put on the roads in the precinct voting it I am for the tax, as that is about the only way that I see now for the County roads to be worked successfully, since so many of our young men that are in the road working age have gone to war. We are willing to do all we can but these hands will make a great falling off in our road working, naturally the use of the county roads are on the increase and they lead us in every direction to different churches, schools and trading points and it is right that all the county when it comes to taxation for road purposes should share alike for the "LORD" knows that some of our roads need a guardian or else be turned over to the poor house for upkeep.

For once in my life I am glad to know that the proposed tax will take care of all the roads and which will give the same careful attention in all the precincts alike. Fairness and equity is all we can ask in anything and this proposition seems to be the fairest yet offered the people of our county and one too that will benefit all the roads and the people alike now that each fellow will get back what he pays out and right on his own road, lets take advantage of this opportunity and get our roads in condition to give us the best service during the next four years.

New Landlord At The Hotel.

The Hotel Crittenden which for the past 3 months has been under the management of Mrs. J. H. Orme the wife of one of the owners, was leased recently to Mr. Guy Randall late of the Watson Hotel at Golconda, Ill., for a term of three years, and he and Mrs. Watson arrived this week and took charge Wednesday morning. He comes well recommended and makes the change to get to a live town, one which the great mineral development is putting on the map.

Mrs. Orme retires with honors she has proven herself a most creditable hostess and a landlady who has not only made a friend of each guest but has pleased them with the excellent service and cuisine of the Hotel Crittenden under her management.

And It Was Rendered To

The Woman, Too

Black: Did any one ever render you a service that you didn't look back upon and bless?

White: Yes; one man.

Black: Then it could not have been a service.

White: Oh, indeed it was, and I stood at the altar of a church when he rendered it.

The principal place of business will be Hopkinsville, Ky., but the principal holdings are in Crittenden county. The company will do a general business of mining and shipping floorspar--Hopkinsville--Kentucky.

Citizen Of Marion Past Ten Years,
Formerly Resided At Salem,
Goes To His Reward.

Thomas Jefferson Babb an old and highly esteemed citizen of this city died Friday March 22nd 1918 at his residence on North Main street of tuberculosis and kidney trouble. He had been ill for many years but was not generally known to be critically ill until death ensued. With him when the end came were his children, his wife, several old friends and neighbors. The funeral was preached Saturday at 10 o'clock and the interment was at 11 o'clock in the New Cemetery, Rev. J. B. Trotter officiating. His first marriage was to Miss Pernecia Ann Roney, a sister of General J. M. Roney of Salem, and Mr. Babb and his bride located there soon after their marriage which occurred Jan. 10th., 1867 in Robertson County, Tenn. His wife dying May 20, 1879 he was married a second time to Miss Mary Jane Eaton of this county and she survived. His first union was blessed with 4 children 2 of whom died in infancy and 2 survive, they being C. Raymond Babb of Salem and Mrs. K. F. Blakely of Hampton.

Worlds Greatest Battle, Now Being Fought In France.

Six million men are facing each other, with cannon and every other conceivable form of death dealing device, liquid fire, poisonous gas, bombs, airplanes, Zeppelins, mines and etc. Some reports are that 100,000 Germans are being mowed down daily, other reports are that 40,000 Allies and 600 guns have been captured by the Germans.

There is nothing definite to report as to the decision of this battle. The newspaper reports all being similar for the past 3 days.

FORMERLY OPPOSED THE BOND ISSUE

J. I. Clement Now Favors The Road Tax And Gives The Voters
His Reasons Therefor.

I suppose the voters of Crittenden county know there will be an election held upon the 10th of April, 1918, to get the sense of the people as to whether, or not, there shall be a tax of Fifteen Cents (15 cts) on each One Hundred Dollars worth of taxable property in the county for assisting in working the roads. As some seem not to understand the object of this tax, I thought it might be well to make a brief explanation of the matter in the Crittenden Record-Press.

Now, if this proposition carries, the money derived from this tax in each magisterial district is to be expended on the roads in that district to assist in working the bad places, where it requires so much time and labor, and in putting in and repairing culverts, etc., and, in this way the people all over the county will derive some benefit from the money they pay out by reason of this tax.

There are to be no sub-supervisors. The overseers will work the roads under the same system as at present--but this tax is to relieve the road bonds as much as possible on the parts of the roads that are so difficult to work. The most of the road work is done by farmers. Farm help is scarce and hard to get; the young men who are strongest and best, able to do this work, are subject to draft in the army--a good many have already gone, others will go--so that the road working will fall mostly on the older men, who can not afford the loss of much time from their farms at this season of the year, and I feel that it is our duty to take as much as possible of the heavy work off of them.

This tax is to run for four years only. At the end of that time--if we do not like the plan, we can quit it. There will be no bonds or interest to pay, and, in this way, all the money collected will be spent on the roads.

GOOD BACKS FOR BAD

Marion Residents Are Learning How To Exchange The Old Back For A Stronger One

Does your back ache, feel weak and painful? Do you suffer headaches, languor and depression? Is the urine discolored, passages irregular?

The kidneys may be calling for help. Weak kidneys cannot do their work. Give them the help they need.

To cure kidney backache you must cure the kidneys.

Use a tested and proven kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test.

Convincing proof merit in the following endorsement:

W. H. Burton, M. D., 202 Green St., Clay, Ky., says: "My kidneys were weak and the least cold I took settled on them. There was a dull ache and soreness across the small of my back and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills soon strengthened my back and regulated my kidneys."

Price 60 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Burton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

FORD'S FERRY

Your correspondent has spent several days of intimate association with a very disagreeable companion which was none other than the measles. We will be genuinely glad to get rid of this old gentleman who has tormented us in most grievous manner during the period of his visit. Fortunately he seems to recognize the fact that he is not wanted any more after his first visit and he makes it a rule to never call upon anyone the second time.

Ollie James' latest speech was fine, but we don't think it was quite so good as the oration which he delivered at the St. Louis Democratic convention in 1916. Possibly a man, who is afflicted with measles is not in any position to accurately judge the real qualities of a speech, but sick or well, we will certainly vouch for the fact that Ollie James possesses a wisdom, an elegance and patriotism which makes him SOME man.

With the advent of spring the many different Sunday schools throughout old Crittenden will soon be re-organized, and we sincerely trust and hope they will have a prosperous year.

STOP CATARRH

WITH VIN HEPATICA.

Right now is when catarrh is most dangerous and most easily contracted. You go out and get your feet wet, expose yourself to cold, and the first thing you know you have Catarrh, which, if not stopped at once may quickly lead to deadly pneumonia and tuberculosis.

No matter how slight your case is, even a slight dropping in the throat, you should start immediately to take Vin Hepatica the great vegetable prescription which acts with such soothing and healing effect upon the mucous membranes, cleansing and toning up the vital organs of the body and enabling them to perform their natural functions in throwing off catarrh and making you proof against other diseases so prevalent this time of year. We recommend it. Come in and get a bottle now.

THE BOYS OF CAMP SHELBY.

Here's to the boys of Camp Shelby. A noble fighting bunch. And when it comes to fighting, they've surely got the punch. They have gone to lick the Germans, and capture "Kaiser Bill." For they have never been defeated nor they never will.

We are one happy lot, us boys, who wear the Brown, For we belong to "Uncle Sam," and we'll never turn him down, And when we reach the trenches, to our oath we will be true. When we are ready to do our bit for the Red White and Blue.

The Kaiser's men are murderers, this fact we all know well. And where he'll answer for his crimes would be most hard to tell. If it wasn't for the villians there would be no war today. In none of Europe's countries, or in the U. S. A.

The Germans are a stubborn bunch, but we can tame them down. And we are going to do it, and we'll get the Kaisers crown. We have no fear of his submarines, or any of his guns. For we belong to "Uncle Sam," we're a fighting set of sons.

Us boys in khaki are just waiting to sail across the sea. To try and lick them Germans and set all nations free. And when we are on the battle line in that foreign land. We will never lose our courage, but by the flag we will stand.

We are going to fight with Pershing, a gallant man is he. He will guide us through this struggle and on to victory. And we will look up on our navy, a noble fighting band. To help us down the Kaiser and win freedom for our land.

Some have gone before us, and we must go on still. For they need us over there to fight Mr. "Kaiser Bill" And we will teach him a lesson before we come away. He will wish he never heard of war until his dying day.

In times of war prepare for peace, is what some people say. But the Kaiser is a bully and he must have his way. He wants to rule the world, but this he cannot do. In our great noble land, under the Red White and blue.

Daylight Saving Is Welcome

Washington, March 19.—The President today signed the daylight saving bill. It puts clocks forward an hour the last Sunday in March and turns them back again the last Sunday in October. The people will rise, transact their daily business, and retire an hour earlier, but with the clock an hour fast, won't know the difference, and yet gain an hour of daylight in the afternoon.

A War Verse.

They, our boys have left their homes so dear, Their mothers' voices they cannot hear; But ours, so noble and brave Are in lovely France fighting our homes to save.

We feel America is in the right, We should be patriotic to go and fight Those Germans on land or sea, Until our dear land of America is free.

But if America is in the wrong, We should implore our God on His throne. That all we do each day for our land We must be led by His own hand.

It is sad for mother to say "goodbye" With a hot burning tear in her eye, But thankful she should be That she has a son to help America to free.

Not only is it hard on mother, father is sad Without his brave, bold, young lad; Dreaming in a dreamy sort of trance Thinking of his pride and darling in France.

But some day how glad the parents will be When the battlefield cannon echoes "America is free" And to the humble home the brave boy will return To tell of the brave deeds he has done.

How proud "America" will then be, That she is once more a "sweet land of liberty." And although we will be free we should shout with joy, For the freedom was all won by our dear boy.

The sweetheart of this soldier boy Should lift her heart to God with joy For many sad, lonely, hours have sped As they across the dark sea many tears have shed.

And many of the boys looked back over past year, And thought of the hours together they did share, So now they, on their return without their golden hair gray.

Become man and wife forever and a day.

Composed by Lemah Franklin, age 15, of Union school.

Live Stock Market

The trade opened vigorously and 10 to 15c per cwt higher than Saturday's close and continued lively throughout the session, with $17.60 the extreme top, equalling last week's best time. This top was a speculative sale, but the bulk of the good hogs with weight, sold from $17.30 to $17.55; good mixed hogs with weight, $17.15 to $17.40, pigs from 120 to 140 lbs, $15.75 to $16.25; 110 to 120 lbs $14.75 to $15.50; lighter pigs, $11 to $14.50, best rough hogs $16.25 to $16.50.

Fresh receipts were 6500. The beef steer trade lacked just a little of the wire edge noted last Friday, otherwise offerings of the different classes were absorbed readily, and for stock cattle, there was a particularly active call at the prices.

The general market shows an advance of $1 to $1.50 per cwt on all kinds compared with the close a week ago last Friday.

Hardly enough available of late to stimulate activity, but the market is being well maintained and is 15c to 25c higher than the close last week on lambs and fully steady on fat sheep. Good to choice lambs $16.50 to $17. medium to good lambs $16 to $16.50; fat sheep $12 to $12.50; choppers $9 to $10; canner sheep $6 to $7. Goats $8 to $10; kid goats $11 to $12.

FORD'S FERRY

(delayed from last week.)

The great majority of the schools in Crittenden have been brought to a successful finish with suitable entertainments on the last day. Your correspondent visited a considerable number of schools during the recent term, and he has decided that two of them are especially deserving of honorable mention. The members of the Hebron school are distinguished for their intelligence and good looks, and the pupils of the Weston district are characterized with a nicer behavior and a more orderly conduct that we have ever seen in any other school throughout the County, and a teacher as fair as a lily.

A number of people in this vicinity have expressed grave apprehension over the unusual shortage of labor which will confront the farmers during the present year. Is there a Catamount or a Panther in the Hebron neighborhood? There are a number of people who think so, and they have given some reasons which seem to prove that there is at least some kind of a wild animal roving around west of Crooked creek. More than one person has solemnly attested that they have given some interesting descriptions concerning the size and physical appearance of the creature. It has been seen for the most part after nightfall but there are a few individuals who claim that they have caught a glimpse of it during the broad open daylight. It is said that there was one man who encountered the animal while riding on horseback, whereupon the steed became immediately frightened and thru the rider so heavily that it knocked out number of his teeth. There are some people who claim that they have heard the cry of the animal while it was roving around in the darkness. It is certainly a fact that your correspondent heard a weird, gruesome, uncanny sound one night while he was passing through the Hebron neighborhood. The voice came from the direction of the Dunn Springs cemetery and a number of people have declared that it must have been the voice of the dreaded panther.

There is nothing better for health than taking an occasional mild laxative, perhaps once a week; such a one as you can get at any drug store, made up of May-apple, jalap, aloes, (sugar-coated, tiny, easily taken), which has stood the test of fifty years of approval—namely, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. But for the "Spring Fever," the general run-down condition, the lack of ambition, the "hives," one should take a course of treatment every spring; such a standard tonic as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, now to be had in tablet form in sixty-cent vials. Watch the people go plodding along the street. There's no spring vitality. A vitalizing tonic such as this vegetable extract of Dr. Pierce's gives you the power to force yourself into action. The brain responds to the new blood in circulation, and thus you're ready to make a fight against stagnation which holds you in bondage. Try it now! Don't wait! To-day is the day to begin. Gain a little "pep," and laugh and live. Vim and vitality are the natural out-pouring of a healthy body. It does not spring up in a night. Try this spring tonic, and you gain the courage that comes with good health.

IN THE SPRING

will be the great test of a life and death struggle on the Western front. In the everyday walks of life, it is the spring time that brings ill health. One of the chief reasons why the run-down man finds himself in a bad state of health in March or April, is because he has spent nearly all his hours for the past four or five months hunched up within the walls of house, factory or office. It is the reason for our diminished resistance—that is, lack of outdoor life, coupled with perhaps over-eating, lack of good exercise, insufficient sleep, and over-occupation. In other words, we keep feeding the furnace with food but do not take out the "linkers," and our fire does not burn brightly. Always keep the liver active.

There is nothing better for health than taking an occasional mild laxative, perhaps once a week; such a one as you can get at any drug store, made up of May-apple, jalap, aloes, (sugar-coated, tiny, easily taken), which has stood the test of fifty years of approval—namely, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. But for the "Spring Fever," the general run-down condition, the lack of ambition, the "hives," one should take a course of treatment every spring; such a standard tonic as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, now to be had in tablet form in sixty-cent vials. Watch the people go plodding along the street. There's no spring vitality. A vitalizing tonic such as this vegetable extract of Dr. Pierce's gives you the power to force yourself into action. The brain responds to the new blood in circulation, and thus you're ready to make a fight against stagnation which holds you in bondage. Try it now! Don't wait! To-day is the day to begin. Gain a little "pep," and laugh and live. Vim and vitality are the natural out-pouring of a healthy body. It does not spring up in a night. Try this spring tonic, and you gain the courage that comes with good health.

America And Her

National Defense

President Wilson walks the tight rope. It stretches across the sea with its wreck and dead. He holds in his hands the richest treasure ever lodged in the keeping of one man since God said let there be light. The treasure is our very life, our liberty, our institutions, our homes, our firesides, our all. Gentlemen, let me plead with you—plead with all Americans—do not shake the rope. Do not badger him. Do not heckle him. Do not annoy him. He will make the journey safely over this ocean of blood and peril. Keep silence! Hold your tongues!—From the speech of United States Senator James of Marion Ky.

America's Aim

What are we fighting for, the Liberty, the self Government and the undictated Development of all people, and every feature of the settlement that concludes this war must be conceived and executed for that purpose.

Wrongs must first be righted, adequate safeguard must be created to prevent their being committed again. We ought not to consider remedies merely because they have a pleasing and sonorous sound.

Practical questions can be settled only by practical means. Phrases will not accomplish the result, effective re-adjustment will, and whatever re-adjustment are necessary, must be made.

SALEM

(delayed from last week.)

Dr. Hayden returned from Dawson Springs Sunday.

A big land deal was consummated here last week. J. M. George sold to J. O. Gray and Homer Maddox, 600 acres of fine land for $24,000.00. It is known as the Bob Hill farm near Pineknobville.

Several weeks changed hands here last week at fancy prices.

W. H. Rappolee is confined to his room with several boils on his face and neck.

Miss Nell Underwood was in Paducah Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Presnell of Smithland, organized a chapter of Red Cross here last Thursday. We are patriotic, even to eating. A number of our boys have already gone to the front.

The hum of automobile, tractor and trucks are again heard in our land-spring is here.

J. W. Welton is building a fine stock barn for J. C. Green.

Homer Maddox is in Smithland this week, a member of the equalization board.

The weather lights last Thursday night attracted a great deal of attention and created some alarm. Perhaps this accounts for a large attendance at church Sunday.

If you want a job, come to Salem. The farmers and mining companies are complaining of a scarcity of hands.

The Real Road To Success

In the March American Magazine the famous lecture of Frederick Winslow Taylor is printed, in which Mr. Taylor says:

"Quite a large proportion of young men set out deliberately to do barely enough to satisfy their employer, in fact, many of them would feel happy to do as little as they can and still satisfy their employer. Another set of men propose to do just what their employer wants. They, however, are at all times exceedingly careful to guard their own rights and not to give a single thing in the way of service that they are not paid for. About one man, however, in twenty, takes the real, quick road to success. He makes up his deliberately that in all cases he will not only give his employer all that he wants, but that he will surprise him with something unexpected, something beyond what his employer has any right to ask or expect, and it is astonishing how fast this line of action leads to success."

APRIL 1 LAST DAY FOR FEDERAL RETURNS

Penalties for Income Dodgers Are Severe—Get Your Return in if You Are Liable.

April 1, 1918, is the final day allowed under the federal income tax law for the filing of federal income tax returns. Persons who are required to file returns under the provisions of law and who fail to get their returns in on time are subject to severe penalties, as follows:

For making false or fraudulent return, not exceeding $2,000 or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court, and, in addition, 100 per cent. of the tax evaded.

For failing to make return on time, not less than $20 nor more than $1,000, and, in addition, 50 per cent. of the amount of tax due.

If on account of illness or absence from home you are unable to render your return within the time prescribed by law you may obtain an extension of 30 days if a request therefor is filed with the collector of your district before the due date of the return. In this request you must state the reason why the return cannot be filed within the time prescribed by law.

Collectors of internal revenue are not authorized to grant extensions of more than 30 days, but the commissioner of internal revenue has authority to grant a reasonable extension beyond 30 days in meritorious cases. If you desire an extension of more than 30 days your request should be addressed to the commissioner and should contain a detailed statement covering the reasons which make it impossible for you to file your return on or before April 1.

The internal revenue men are now completing their tour of the country, during which they were in touch with the people of every city and town. If you failed to get in touch with the deputy which visited your section it is not too late to get advice. Consult your postmaster as to where the nearest deputy is now. Get your blank form, study the directions and the requirements as shown thereon and make your return without fail if your income was sufficient to come within the bounds named in the law.

It is pointed out by Commissioner Roper that it is important that the people comply with the federal laws as fully as they are complying with the drafts for men and the conservation of foods and fuel. "The war must be paid for," says Commissioner Roper. "Congress has as much right to conscript a just portion of income as it has to conscript our boys. The tax for 1917 is designed to reach moderate as well as large incomes, so that all persons who are in financial position to bear a portion of the heavy government expenses can be assessed in proportion to their ability to pay."

"The man who is barely making a living or barely supporting a family is not affected by the 1917 law. But the man who is able to bear a share of the burden has been reached by the new law, and he should accept his responsibility in the same patriotic spirit that our young men have shown in offering themselves for this great purpose of the country to make the world safe for people of all kinds to live in and to govern themselves."

This tax is one which recognizes women as on an equal basis with men. The unmarried woman or the married woman with a salary must make tax return just the same as any man. Only the woman supporting her mother or other members of her family may take out $2,000 exemption.

Under the law the head of the family is the one whose earning power contributes to the family's support.

Similarly a widow with small children to support can take out $2,000 exemption and $200 additional exemption for each of her children under eighteen. Thus it is intended that the law shall work no hardship to women having to struggle to get along. But each must file return if her income is $1,000.

A man whose wife dies and who is left with small children to support upon a moderate income may also take full exemption under the new tax law and also claim $200 exemption for each of his children under eighteen.

The widower under the law is a single man and must make tax return accordingly. Married men need not file returns unless they are earning $2,000 or more.

"This is as much a national obligation as the reporting for duty of a man drafted for service with the colors," says D. C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue. "As it stands, it is much a matter of the man or woman's own conscience. It is for him or for her to determine just how far he is liable to the tax. He must figure his own income and if it reaches the figures named in the law must make faithful report upon it to the proper authority."

"This tax is distinctly a war measure and will be in effect during the war."

"This is a people's tax—it reaches right down into the pockets of the small wage earner; it makes him a partner in the job of winning the war."

Poor Amusement.

Kissing a woman against her will probably is the poorest form of entertainment, and that accounts for the fact that it has but few devotees.—Topeka Capital.

Has Finger Cut Off

To Enter U. S. Service.

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 26.—Some men "lose a finger" to keep out of military service, but not so with Thomas Thoman, Denison Texas, who had one taken off so he could get in. Thoman tried to enlist as a stenographer but examination disclosed the little finger on his right hand was crooked and stiff.

"That finger will have to come off if we take you," he was told. Without a word Thoman left Half an hour later he returned.

"Well, Sergeant, I had her cut off," he said. He was accepted.

To Can Pears.

Pare the fruit, cut in halves, and remove cores, retaining the stems. Make a syrup of one cupful of water, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, and the juice of one lemon. Skim, add pears, and cook until tender. Sterilize jars and covers, and with silver fork place pears in jar. Fill jar to overflowing with hot syrup. Adjust rubber and cover and tighten securely at once. Bartlett pears are the best for canning. To can pears by the cold-pack method, blanch the fruit a minute or two, plunge in cold water, and pack closely in jars. Cover with hot syrup, place covers loosely in position, and after water in boiler has reached boiling point, sterilize 20 minutes.

Crown Roast of Pork.

Take four pounds of the rib part of pork loin cut in one piece, separate all the ribs without detaching them; roll the ribs into a crown shape, leaving the space in the center, skewer up or tie with a string to keep the meat in good shape. Then place it in a baking pan with three tablespoonfuls of butter, put the pan in the oven to roast, during which time add some more stock as that in the pan reduces, and take care that the meat is kept basted well during the cooking. When cooked, take up the meat and put it on a hot platter and pour around boiled green peas. Garnish with parsley and trim each chop with a paper frill.

Spiced Plums.

Make a syrup, allowing a pound of sugar to each pound of fruit, and a scant pint of vinegar to every three pounds of sugar. To each peck of plums allow one tablespoonful of ground cinnamon, one tablespoonful of cloves, one tablespoonful of mace, one tablespoonful of allspice. Prick each plum, add the spices to the syrup, and pour the latter, boiling hot, over the fruit. Let the whole stand three days, then skim out the plums, boil down the syrup until quite thick and pour in hot over the plums. Set away in a stone jar.

Wrap With Newsprint Paper.

Newsprint paper is being used extensively as wrapping paper in South America, according to the commerce department, which points out that since the outbreak of the war there has been a heavy increase of such exports from the United States to Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador. Newsprint is admitted free into these countries, and, with the rise in price of all other grades of paper, retailers have found it the cheapest kind that they can obtain for wrapping purposes.

To Change Tokyo's System.

A plan is on foot to place the Japanese capital under direct supervision of the minister of home affairs, according to the East and West News. At present there is divided responsibility between the governor of Tokyo prefecture and the home minister. With its population of 2,000,000 Tokyo is governed under the same system as a town of 30,000 inhabitants. This new municipal system will be submitted to the diet at its next session.

About Jelly Making.

Honey can be substituted for sugar in making jelly. Either too much sugar or too long cooking sometimes causes the formation of crystals in jelly. Fruit juices should be brought to the boiling point rapidly in making jelly.

For Saving Daylight

Washington, March 16.—The daylight saving bill, under which the nation's clocks would be turned forward an hour every spring and back in the fall, was passed by the house 252 to 40. It passed the senate last June, but as the house aided two months to the period involved, further action by the senate will be necessary before the measure goes to the President.

Under the senate bill the clocks would be changed the last Sunday in April and the last Sunday in September. The house made it the last Sunday in March and the last Sunday in October.

This plan was adopted last year in England, France, Germany, Italy Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Portugal and this year in Australia and Iceland. The Canadian government is considering it but has withheld action until the United States decided what to do.

The bill has had the support of practically all the large industries in the country and its proponents have argued that it will result in a great saving of fuel and benefit wage earners, in that they will have more time for recreation during daylight hours.

HOME SERVICE NO HAPHAZZARD, ODD JOB TASK

Red Cross Civilian Relief Workers Are Taught to Furnish Aid in Systematic Fashion.

EDITOR'S NOTE.—This is the fourth of a series of five articles prepared by Mr. Fleeter on the subject of Red Cross Home Service. The remaining article is "Organizing and Training 20,000 Home Service Committees."

By James L. Fleeter,

Director, Bureau Civilian Relief, Lake Division, American Red Cross.

American Red Cross Home Service workers in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, already administering to families of some 1,500 enlisted men, carry on their work with a "catchism" which includes what may be termed "eleven commandments." As these "commandments" typify the spirit in which this type of Red Cross relief is given, I am stating them here, leaving the reader to draw his own conclusions.

1. Don't overwhelm people with questions before they have a chance to say what they want to say.
2. Don't suggest to them the answers they should make.
3. Don't forget that their hopes and plans are more important than any single fact that the Home Service worker wants in order to make complete a report or record.
4. Don't encourage the children to talk about things that concern their elders—about family difficulties and so on.
5. Don't let the children come to the office with messages and requests except when there is a real emergency and no older person can possibly come.
6. Don't discuss the affairs of a family, nor tell the facts that come to your attention in the course of Home Service work to any outsider.
7. Don't give confidential information about the family when making inquiries.
8. Don't make inquiries of the present neighbors or do anything that will expose the family to gossip. Protect the family in question as you would your own family from anything that would help their self-respect.
9. Don't venture to make permanent plans on a first visit.
10. Don't fail to discover whether there is immediate and urgent need of relief and to make some temporary provision for supplying it before waiting to make further inquiries.
11. Don't fail, however, to inquire (before paying the first visit if possible) what other agencies are interested.

True, the "do's" taught Home Service workers in Red Cross Home Service Institutes, far outnumber the "don'ts," and one or two should be mentioned to further exemplify the spirit of the service and the manner in which it is given.

One is: "Be sure that there is a definite invitation from the family or some responsible person competent to speak for them before entering the home in the name of the American Red Cross."

Another: "Be sure that the member of the family in question is in some branch of the service."

Casual reading of these instructions may lead to the impression that Home Service is a simple bit of work to be done in the odd moments of the members of a chapter committee. It is not a simple work, nor is it an "odd moment" task.

Not Ambitious.

We have no desire to get into the strong man class when it comes to carrying a load on the mind.

SIMPKINS PAYS HIS INCOME TAX

By ROBERT McBLAIR.

Mr. Simpkins gazed at the portrait on the wall till his eyes filled with tears. It was a portrait of his father, Colonel Simpkins, who had four times been promoted for valor during the Civil War and had died bravely on the field of action. Mr. Simpkins' throat ached now for two reasons: First, he revered and adored the memory of his father; secondly, his age and his eyes and his game leg wouldn't let him go to war himself. And as he observed the martial bearing and uncompromising gaze of Colonel Simpkins he saw, in imagination, the khaki-clad lads of the new generation marching forth and crossing three thousand miles of sea to fight, maybe die, for liberty.

Mr. Simpkins peered around to make sure that neither Bess nor John (who were at the teasing ages of sixteen and seventeen) were where they could see him, then he straightened and threw his right arm up for a salute. But his gouty shoulder twinged, and he groaned. He couldn't even salute.

"Damn!" said Mr. Simpkins, and with his other hand he fiercely twirled his white mustachio.

He turned and limped into the library and sat down creakily before the mahogany desk on which were lying the blanks for his income tax statement, blanks which he had rather grumpily got from the Internal Revenue officer only that day after lunch on his way home from the club.

Mr. Simpkins' income for 1917 had amounted to just about $15,000, and he had been rather snappy on the subject of taxes ever since he had discovered that the more income a man has the greater the percentage of it he pays in taxes. He could think of several men who, like himself, were married and had two children, and yet, although their incomes were nearly half of his, they would pay only a small fraction of the amount he paid. He gloomily drew the blank nearer and began filling in the information that it asked for.

As Mr. Simpkins' income was $15,000 he had to figure out the amounts payable on each of the successive smaller classes of incomes in order to arrive at the total due from himself. He passed over the first class who must pay taxes, that is, single men making over 1,000. His calculation for married men then showed up as follows:

First, they pay 2 per cent. (under the 1915 law) on all income over $1,000, deducting $200 for each of their children under eighteen years. In Mr. Simpkins' case this was $212, which he put down in the "payable" column.

He saw next that, under the 1917 law, married men pay an additional 2 per cent. on all over $2,000—with the same allowance for children. This added $252 to his "payable" column.

He then observed that for every $2,500 jump in his income over $5,000 he had to pay a Surtax, the percentage growing larger with each jump. This was $250 more added to his burden. And on top of all this came an "Excess Profits" tax of 8 per cent. on all "occupation" income over $6,000, making $720 more.

The total, then, he must pay was fourteen hundred and thirty-four dollars.

"Whew!" exclaimed Mr. Simpkins angrily. "There's young Henry Wilkins, who married Jake Johnson's girl, he makes $2,000 and he doesn't pay a cent of taxes. I guess this is his war as well as mine!"

Thinking of young Henry Wilkins, he remembered that Mrs. Wilkins went every afternoon to make bandages for the Red Cross and that Henry, who was a lawyer, was aiding the Local Draft Board with his questionnaires.

"Well," he admitted to himself, "that makes a difference."

He thought next of Judge Willoughby, whose income was about $3,000.

"He only pays $20," commented Mr. Simpkins, not quite so angrily this time; and then a thought struck him and he sat up rigidly in his chair.

Judge Willoughby's son had been drowned on the Tuscania when it was submerged with the loss of two hundred soldiers.

"Judge Willoughby gave his son to America," muttered Mr. Simpkins. He leaned forward suddenly and put his face in his hands.

For a long time Mr. Simpkins sat very still in that position. There was no sound in the library except the ticking of the tall clock and an occasional trill of laughter from the children skylarking upstairs. The square of light on the carpet gradually withdrew itself through the window, and first twilight and then darkness settled in about the quiet, white haired, sometimes triscent old man.

Mr. Simpkins was thinking things which he would never afterward speak of, he was thinking things that were too sacred ever to be put into words. But some inkling of his thoughts may be found in his rejoinder to Mrs. Simpkins when that placid lady came in and turned on the lights, and asked him whether he was ready for dinner.

"Judge Willoughby's only son was worth as much as fourteen hundred and thirty-four dollars, wasn't he?" Mr. Simpkins demanded of her.

As his wife, who was not unused to his superficial irritations, watched him in mild astonishment, Mr. Simpkins limped out to the hall and took his old felt hat and silver-headed cane from the hat rack. Letting himself out into the foggy evening, he tapped his way down to the corner, and mailed his income tax statement and check with his own hands.

"Now, God be thanked," said Mr. Simpkins as the lid clanked shut over his missive, "I can do this much for my country, anyhow."

Young Leaves To Make

Crittenden County Survey

Engineer Robert H. Young left this morning for Marion, Ky., to make road surveys for Crittenden county. The work will take at least a week. Crittenden is about to launch important road improvement under state-aid and secure the services of Mr. Young to make her surveys. Engineer Young supervised all the survey work in McCracken county for work done last summer and fall by the Figg company.—Paducah Sun.

This is my sober declaration before all men, the universe and God. I deny that God is a monarch, and that He has any monarchic characteristics. I affirm that He is my Father, full of fatherly justice, patience and forgiveness.

I deny that life is necessarily a tragedy. I affirm that to any brave simple and honest soul life is always a success.

I deny that any fraud or wrong ever profits the doer. I affirm that the laws of cosmic goodness the so-called moral laws, are just as accurate as the laws of matter and force.

I deny that death ends all. I affirm that I and that love shall survive death.

I deny that fear ever did any permanent good. I affirm that the first virtue for every soul is courage.

I deny that the world is getting worse. I affirm that all success of wrong is only apparent, and that the only things that grow are goodness, health and truth; so that every century humanity is better than the preceding.

I deny that money, force or authority ever helped the truth or helped the people. I affirm that only noble living, honest thinking and loving doing have ever advanced the coming of the Kingdom of God.

I can prove none of these statements. But I stake my soul on them.—CRAYNE.

Where Was The Mule?

The farmer alleged a freight train of the defendant company had hit one of his mules.

"Now, Mr. Jones," said the attorney for the corporation to the aggrieved party who occupied the witness stand, "will you kindly tell the court whether or not your mule was on the track the property of the defendant when hit by the train?"

"Well sir," replied Mr. Jones. "I didn't witness the occurrence, but I suppose things must have been about as you say. This was pretty bright mule, and I reckon if that train had took out after him in the woods which fringe the track there where he was killed he would have got behind a tree."

All In The Family

Betty was milking the cow when the mad bull tore over the meadow. Betty did not stir but continued milking. Observers who had run into safety, saw to their astonishment that the bull stopped dead within a few yards of the maid and cow, turned around and went away sadly.

"Were you afraid? Why did he run away?" asked every one of Betty.

"He got scared," said Betty. "This cow is his mother-in-law."

THE 15 CENT ROAD TAX

What it Means Ably Discussed And Explained by Prof. Fred
H. Hillyard.

Q. What is the 15c road tax?
A. It is a proposed tax of 15 cents on each $100.00 worth of property in the county to be expended for road construction and maintenance, only.

Q. Who authorized calling the election on this tax?
A. The Fiscal Court, under authority granted by an act of the Legislature.

Q. How many miles of road has Crittenden county?
A. About 200.

Q. How much is the present road fund of Crittenden county?
A. About $10,000.

Q. Is this not sufficient?
A. No. There is a great to pieces for lack of revenue, and in the future when the money is spent, road work must stop.

Q. How much additional funds will the 15c tax provide?

A. About $5,000.

Q. Will this give Crittenden county enough funds?

A. Not to make Boulevards in every section of the county, but it will restore and maintain the present roads satisfactorily.

Q. How is this fund to be apportioned?

A. Equally among the eight magisterial districts, each district getting about $600 or $700.

Q. Will the tax raised in each district amount to that much?

A. No, not by any means. The town of Marion pays more than one third of the taxes of the county, and its taxes are divided equally among the other districts.

Q. What would the 15c tax represent per acre?

A. Only 14 cents per acre. The average assessed valuation of an acre in Crittenden county is about $10. The value of a good road is certainly more than 14 cents an acre to any property.

Q. Has the increased cost of everything affected road construction?

A. Yes, seriously. Labor, teams, materials and machinery have practically doubled in value.

Q. Have the people been satisfied with the condition of the roads heretofore?

A. No, but the court was helpless without sufficient funds, and the people seem to overlook the fact that the roads are THEIR property, and they can only be maintained by their paying for them.

Q. Is there any other way of raising the money than by levying a tax?

A. Yes, by bond issue.

Q. Is a bond issue advisable?

A. No, because you have to pay too much interest on the bonds, and the amount paid for interest does not go to building roads.

Q. Are people able at this time to vote an additional tax?

A. Yes, because they are receiving high prices for all of their products.

Q. Is it advisable to do road work during the war?

A. Yes, and a patriotic duty. The Government is asking the people to keep the roads open and maintain them at this time so foodstuffs may be gotten to market as soon as possible. "Food will win the war."

Q. Do I not pay sufficient road tax now to keep up the roads along my property?

A. No, go to the Court House and investigate the records, and you will find the road taxes paid on as much as ten miles of road would not actually build one mile of road.

Q. Why has this been brought to our attention sooner?

A. The Act of the Legislature allowing the proposed vote to be submitted to the taxpayers was only passed at the extraordinary session.

Q. When will this 15c tax be voted on by the people?

A. On April 16th, 1918. The polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Q. How is the court going to spend this revenue?

A. They are going to spend the money in co-operation with the citizens of every community, according to the best engineering advice. They want the people to attend the Fiscal Court meetings, tell them what they want, and advise with them as to the best methods of taking care of the county.

Q. Is the Court trustworthy?

A. The county judge was elected by a majority of the voters of the county. The magistrates were elected by a majority of their districts, and they are all successful in their respective lines of business.

Q. Is this additional revenue to be used on state aid roads?

A. It is not. It is to be used on bad lines and rough portions of the roads that cannot be worked according to plans and specifications.

Q. Do I need further evidence that I am not paying what I should keep up the roads?

A. No.

GOOD ROADS

PROPER WIDTH OF HIGHWAYS

Writer Advocates Narrower Roads and Restoring Acres of Valuable Land to Farming.

Just at this time many are interested in the question, how wide should our public roads be? A number of things should be considered in answering this question, says a writer in Utah Farmer. The kind of material to be used in making the road. The topographical conditions through which the road will pass, the proper drainage of the road. The special use to which the road may be put, if any.

For years very little attention has been given to the waste of land in our road building. Land has been cheap and plentiful and years ago we did not give the attention to proper road building as we do now.

Public roads have been of a uniform width of 60 feet and the by-roads about 40 feet. They have been too wide if we were to judge by the condition in which we find many of them. Wasted land on either side is used only to grow weeds.

Why not make them the width that is used and plant trees on either side as we have advocated in these columns before? Then the thousands of acres of land that are now practically wasted could be put to some good use.

Some of the Eastern railroads are teaching us a lesson in this regard for they are farming their right-of-way. On a recent trip East I saw great long stretches of land on either side of the railroad track planted to alfalfa. Acres were planted to truck gardening. I understand similar conditions are to be found in some parts of California.

For the sake of economy in building and upkeep let's build our roads more narrow. Restore the acres of valuable land to farming. Build scientifically constructed roads the proper width and plant trees on both sides.

KEEPING UP COUNTRY ROADS

Whether or Not Farmer Lives on Public Highway He Should Take Interest in Nearest One.

Every farmer should feel his dependence upon good roads. Whether or not one lives on a public highway he should take an interest in the nearest one to his farm or the road he must use to market his farm, orchard and garden products.

There are many times when a day's work can be spared for the road. After heavy rains the road may need certain repairs or improvements when the overseer is not ready to call out the hands. Why not individual farmers devote a day's work on the road at such time?

By keeping a road drag and dragging the road along one's land after heavy rains the road may be greatly improved. It is an easy matter to have an agreement so each farmer will drag the road in front of his farm. This would maintain the road till the regular hands could be called out at stated intervals or till the commissioner could make the repairs.

The time has come when we must consider the roads an asset, indispensable to the well-being of the farmer and his family. This being true, is it not every man's duty to do all he can to keep the roads in good condition?

GOOD ROADS IN CONNECTICUT

Concrete Highways Being Built in Twenty-Two Cities and Towns—Cost $15,000 a Mile.

The construction of concrete highways is going on in 22 cities and towns in Connecticut, and when these contracts have been completed there will be about 70 miles of concrete-surfaced pavement in that state. The highways are 18 feet wide and cost $15,000 a mile. The longest single street of concrete road in Connecticut is two miles in Cheshire, on the main highway from Plainville to New Haven.

Good Roads.

Any neighborhood that does not have enough enterprise to keep two or three log road drags going for a couple of weeks during the late fall, is sadly behind the times. Farmers who are too lazy to do this ought to be compelled to drag their weary logs through the mud to town next spring—as they surely will.

Best Results for Dragging.
The best results from dragging are obtained only by repeated application.

Marion Widower Congratulated

"Since my wife's death, five years ago, I have suffered greatly from stomach and liver trouble and gas attacks. I lost 50 lbs., and at times was as yellow as saffron. My doctors could not help me. Six doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy have entirely cured me. I have regained my weight and every one is congratulating me how well I look." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Kill The Kaiser.

Kill the Kaiser, boys,
He'll be better dead,
Strike with all your might, boys
Ere old Bill has fled.

Training you're to learn, boys
—work with a will;
For you've got to work, boys,
If you get "old Bill."

Don't stand and wait, boys,
Under God's blue sky;
How can you get him, boys,
If you never try?

If they win a battle, boys,
Never be down cast;
Fight another battle, boys,
You'll get "Bill" at last.

We're praying for you, boys,
We know your task is hard;
Never give up, trust God, boys,
He'll give you your reward.

Never give up, boys,
You'll come home the wiser;
You'll gain a large reward,
boys,

When you kill the Kaiser.

IN MEMORY.

On March 19, 1918, Otto Harmon, a bright and prosperous youth of only seventeen years, answered the call which we all shall be asked to answer sooner or latter.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harmon, of Repton, Ky., and is survived by his mother, father, two brothers and one sister.

He was sick only about a year, last spring he had the measles which settled on his lungs and throat and developed into tuberculosis.

During this short time of illness he was provided with the best medical attention that could be had. He was examined and was advised by a specialist in Evansville, but all to no avail.

His father then took him to New Mexico where he had the very best physicians, a day nurse and a night nurse, and everything else that was necessary. Mr. Harmon stayed with him and saw that everything was done that could possibly be done.

Otto lacked for nothing and it was hoped that he was getting better, but all at once the disease went to the brain—as is often the case with patients as young as he was—then all lost. God was ready for Otto to come up higher and live close to Him, and when He is ready for His children, He always finds a way to take them. Otto became a child of God during his last illness.

I had the very great pleasure of having Otto in school when he was a child. Only a mere child, though, he was studious and obedient. I knew him all his life. He had such a sweet disposition that it was a great pleasure to be with him in school or out of school.

He died Tuesday night at ten o'clock, arrived here Friday morning on the 8 o'clock train, and was buried Monday morning at the Crowell cemetery. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. John King, at the cemetery.

The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Dear mother, father, brothers and sister, weep not for it was only God's will that Otto leave this world of pain and sorrow and live forever in the joys of Heaven.

Otto is not dead but asleep; Asleep in Jesus,

FISH IS A SPLENDID FOOD

Rich in Protein, Mineral Salt and Phosphorus—Stale Fish Cause Ptomaine Poisoning.

Under the heading of sea food come fish, shellfish, crabs, lobsters, clams and oysters.

Fish may be divided into two classes—fresh and salt water. Some well-known varieties of fresh-water fish are white fish, black and rock bass, perch, lake, mountain and brook trout. Cod, haddock, halibut, flounder, smelts, salmon, bluefish, mackerel and shad are of the sea.

Fish is rich in protein, mineral salt and phosphorus. It spoils very quickly and so must be used while in perfect condition. It is easy to digest, especially when boiled. Fish must be firm, particularly along the backbone. The gills should be red and bright, the eyes full and clear. Discard the fish with sunken eyes. Stale or decayed fish causes ptomaine poison.

Crabs and lobsters are coarse feeders, with flesh that is coarse in texture and hard to digest. They spoil rapidly after death; crabs must be alive when cooked, and live lobster is as necessary. Do not use them if they are dead. Ptomaine poisoning is sure to follow.—Exchange.

Knit Practical Gifts.

Women waste much time in fancy work which is neither beautiful enough to make it praiseworthy nor serviceable to make it practical. The knitting hysteria which has swept the country will do more than anything else to show how much good their time can be put to in making things worth while, and so help them to stop their everlasting time wasting on little things which amount to nothing, says an exchange.

Knit red and yellow and purple sweaters and labor upon them in your machine and at your tea parties, and at the theaters and concert halls—and work night and day.

This is the right attitude toward the war, especially when there are so many hundreds of thousands of boys over in the chill and cold, suffering for sweaters and helmets and stockings.

A Bad Man Of The Old Days

(By LONNIE CLIFT.)

Many traditions have been handed down from generation to generation concerning the wickedness and evil deeds of one, James Ford, who was one of the original inhabitants of Crittenden County back in the days when the bear and the panther prowled at random through the woods and a only a small part of the land had been cleared and settled. "Old Ford" as he is generally called by the people of the present day and time, must have been one of the worst men the county has ever known, unless, he has been grossly misrepresented by those who were acquainted with him.

It is not known when James Ford first came to Crittenden county, but it is generally thought that he settled at the mouth of Crooked creek, just immediately after the second war with England. He owned a large farm in addition to a number of negro slaves and it is said that he was a very hard and cruel taskmaster.

"Old Ford established a ferry across the Ohio river and the little town which was eventually built near this place came to be known as Ford's Ferry. There was a considerable number of travelers and emigrants who crossed the river at this point and it was rumored, that not a few of them were lightened of their pocket-books while passing through this neighborhood for old Ford had some plans and methods for receiving money and property which were similar to those which were employed many years later by a well known gentleman who bore the appellation of Jesse James.

Old Ford organized a band of desperadoes and robbers who were known as the Ford's Ferry gang. The terrible deeds of robbery and murder which was committed by this gang, caused the news of their infamy to become circulated far and wide over the land and it was only a few years ago that I read an article in a big magazine which gave some interesting facts concerning the old Ford's Ferry gang. In writing this article at the present time, however, I am not seeking to plagiarize the literary production which I have just referred to, and I will conscientiously endeavor to tell in my own language a number of things about James Ford which have never yet been published.

Notwithstanding all the fearful deeds which were committed by old Ford and his gang and which would seem to indicate that he was a villain of the deepest dye, it is said that he was not a real brave man when put to the supreme test. The people who knew him have reported that he was big and strong in body, but he did not possess a heart and nerve which would match his physical prowess. There was one man who gave him a severe whipping in a fair, stand up fistie combat, and there was also another man who cursed him bitterly on another occasion and compelled him to beg for mercy. Old Ford must have nursed many bitter feelings against the man who whipped him for he finally wrecked out vengeance against his conqueror by having him killed.

As I have already stated, old Ford owned a number of negro slaves and he exhibited ruthless cruelty toward the poor creatures who were under him woe betide any of them who incurred the ill will of their tyrannical master. He cut off the ears of one of his slaves and then salted the wounds, but not being satisfied with this measure of punishment he also caused the poor fellows hand to be pressed with a blacksmith's vise until the victim cried out in agony from the effects of the torture, so it was told of him.

When we take into consideration all the fearful deeds which were committed by James Ford we are disposed to wonder whether he was not more like a veritable demon than some human being. But the very worst of men have got some good about them, just like the very best of people are not without certain weaknesses and imperfections. Old Ford had his good points, in his rough manner he did a number of good acts and he befriended his neighbors in more ways than one. If any man in the community had a barn-raising or a log-rolling old Ford and his crew of slaves would be among the first to volunteer their assistance. There is no doubt but what he had a few good qualities and there is equally no doubt but what his wickedness and evil deeds heavily outweighed all the good which was in him.

James Ford was shot in 1832. He was killed one night in a rather unexpected manner and the great majority of people never knew just exactly who did the deed. A number of men were suspected, but it was never definitely established just which one of them actually committed the act. It was generally thought, however, that it was some man whom old Ford had wronged or badly mistreated in some manner. Probably it was a relative of some of the people who had been murdered by the Ford's Ferry gang. After the death of their leader, this infamous and widely known gang of outlaws were scattered and dispersed in many different directions. Old Ford had been the directing genius which had guided the movements of the notorious band; he had kept them inspired by the magnetism of his personality and when the followers found themselves deprived of their cunning and able chieftain they lost heart and eventually disbanded.

In writing this article I do not wish to cast any reflection on the good name of the many Fords which are living in Crittenden county at the present time. To the best of our knowledge they are not any relation of the notorious James Ford of the old days. He has not got any descendants in this county that we know of. The Fords which we are acquainted with are all respectable and law-abiding people and they have never committed any such crimes and depredations which were once charged against old Ford and his gang of outlaws who once terrorized this neighborhood for many miles around.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins

Dear Sir,

Please find enclosed a check for $1.50, for which continue to send my paper to Ft. Worth Tex. 6 months, and also send me one to my present address, for six months, my address at present is (above.) Perhaps your readers would like to see a few items concerning Pueblo. Pueblo is situated 50 miles South of Pike's Peak mountain, located on a body of table land, four thousand six hundred and eighty feet above sea level, it is surrounded on the North, West, and South, by mountains which are snow clad the year around, has a population of sixty five thousand, and is a great resort for people who have lung trouble, it has the second largest steel manufacturing plant in the world, larger even than Germany's highly boasted gun factories, it has 2-700 employees, and manufactures every thing from railroad rails down to broom wire. Pueblo has also several other small manufacturing plants, and two large Smelters, where they extract lead, zinc, silver and other metals from the ore. It has six Railroads, five Banks, and 3 packing houses, good public buildings, good churches and school buildings, and plenty of them. The Arkansas river flows through the city, from which the principal part of the city is watered. It has all the dry goods, groceries, and other stories necessary to supply the needs of its population.

And last, but not least, thank God! Pueblo contains not one saloon, not one brewery, and there is not one foot of ground in the city on which an intoxicant of any kind can legally, or lawfully be sold, it, like the whole state of Colo., is bone dry.

For fear of making myself tiresome, I will ring off at present. And if this escapes the waste basket and sets its self into the columns of the paper, I may jot down a few more of Pueblo, good things later on. Best wishes to the Press force and its many readers.

THE NEW DE LAVAL

USE the same good judgment in selecting a cream separator that you would in making any other investment. Before you buy a separator, there are certain things that you ought to know about it.

Will it skim clean under all conditions?
Will it deliver cream of uniform thickness?
Does it run easily and require little or no attention?
Is it simple, so that it will not continually be getting out of order?
Is it easy to clean?
Is it built to last?
Most important of all,

What do people who are using it say?

The man who is using a machine is the man who can tell you the truth about it. We'll be glad to give you the names of a number of De Laval users right around this town—some of them men who formerly used separators of other makes. See these men and ask them why they changed, and what they think of the De Laval. It will be worth your while to do so.

The NEW De Laval has every good feature of the older machines and many more besides, such as the new self-centering bowl which gives greater capacity and skimming efficiency, the ball speed-indicator which insures operation at the proper speed, and the improved automatic clogging system.

We'll be glad to let you try out a NEW De Laval on your own farm before buying.

Mountain Branch National Soldiers' Home, Tenn., Mar. 11, '18.
Mr. S. M. Jenkins,
Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir:

Not all the people in the world have ever seen inside of a soldiers' home. I have, twice in my life, and could say quite a lot about one if I only knew how. So to begin with, here at this home, we have in the corporate limits 100 acres, all dressed down to a perfect lawn, with 32 buildings, all modern for quarters, two hospitals three stories high, 50 by 150 feet; twelve buildings for governor and other officers, all two story modern cottages, the entire lawn is thickly set with shrubbery and flowers; one green house 100 by 200 feet; dining hall 150 by 200 feet; tables to seat 700 men at a time. At these tables we have a change of food every day and plenty of it for men that don't work. It is here as it is all over the country, we don't have all of what we like. We have two churches, one M. E. church and one Catholic church.

Now we leave the home and go out on the farm and take a look at eighty head of as fine milk cows as this country can produce, with a fine barn to shelter them in, and plenty of hay, corn and silo feed on the side.

There are 300 acres in cultivation which is broken and ready for the spring crop. The remainder of the 640 acres are in timber. At the edge of this timber we have a hotel, home, store, restaurant, picture show, billiard and pool hall, where the old boys can while away the lonesome hours. All the income from these places, go to support the home which goes along ways toward making the home self supporting. A little over the hill we have a five acre lot fenced in, and in that lot we have about 25 elk to look at and once a year one to eat. In this grove of timber there are lots of grey squirrels. We can go out and hunt them all we want to, but not a shot must be fired at them. Lots of fun, see.

ROAD BUILDING

TIME FOR DRAGGING ROADS

Much Depends on Character of Road Material—No Exact Rule Will Fit All Cases.

If clay is mixed with water and "puddled" and then allowed to dry a hard, almost waterproof, and nearly dustless material is formed. If a smooth, well shaped road could be constructed of this material it would never become very muddy or very dusty, and would be an ideal earth road. Under ordinary conditions this ideal is not realized, because, after being puddled the earth dries in ruts and holes which are rough while dry and which hold water like dishes when it rains. If the muddy road, after being puddled by the horses' hoofs and wagon wheels, can be smoothed 95% and properly shaped before drying, then the ideal is attained, and this smoothing and shaping is the work accomplished by the road drag. The water standing in pools and puddles is spread out over a larger surface, so that it dries quickly, the minute holes or pores in the clay are smoothed over and closed, making the surface more nearly waterproof; the ruts and holes are gradually filled up and made smooth, and just enough earth is moved toward the middle to give the proper crown. The result is a smooth, hard, well-shaped road which will shed water and never become very muddy in wet weather or very dusty in dry weather.

From the above discussion it can readily be seen that dragging should be done when the road is wet, at least when it is moist. The exact time to drag any given road will depend upon the character of the road material, and no exact rule can be given which will fit all cases. If traffic can be kept off from the dragged portion for awhile then the road may be dragged when it is very wet and sloppy, but if wagons are going to follow right behind the drag, making deep ruts as soon as the old ones are filled up, the dragging must be deferred until the road has partly dried out. Good judgment and experience on the part of the operator will soon tell him what is the best time to drag any given road. Roads which dry out quickly must be dragged immediately after a rain, while others may be allowed to dry for several days before being dragged. Dragging a dry road simply makes it dusty. Dragging should be done, if possible, after every rain, and as soon thereafter as conditions are right.

SURFACING THE FARM ROADS

Materials Ordinarily Used in Building Roads Are Too Expensive—Few Good Suggestions.

Many of the materials ordinarily employed in road construction will be found too expensive for use in improving the farm roads. One or more of the following will, however, usually be found available and within the means of the farmer for surfacing his roads and paths: gravel, mixtures of sand and clay, cinders, brickbats from old buildings, brickyard waste and quarry waste. The material selected should, however, be hard enough to withstand crushing under heavy loads and possess sufficient binding power to compact well and maintain a firm, hard surface under all ordinary weather conditions.

IMPROVE ROADS AND DRIVES

Where Any Considerable Amount of Hauling Is Necessary Surface Improvement Is Needed.

Roads and drives immediately around the farmyard and barns which are used very frequently are usually of sufficient importance to warrant some surface improvement. Very light or extremely sandy soils cut up badly in dry weather, while certain heavy and absorbent soils become very sticky and soft during the rainy season. Where any considerable amount of hauling is necessary, roads over soils of this character may require to be surfaced.

$300,000,000 Lost Yearly.
The farmers of the United States have been allowing $300,000,000 in real money to escape from their pockets each year because of poor roads, according to the testimony of experts who made a survey of the effect of bad roads upon markets for the department of agriculture.

To Cut Paper.

When you lose your knife or do not have a pair of scissors at hand for cutting the paper a common pin or needle of any kind serves the purpose admirably, says Popular Science Monthly. If it is a single sheet from which the clipping is to be removed, lay the part on another paper, hold the pin slantwise so that the point will follow around the clipping, just as if tracing its outline. Pass back over the scratch with the point in the lead and you will be surprised how smoothly the pin cuts the paper.

Such a Name!

A college professor in California has discovered a mineral hitherto unknown to science, which he has called "crest-morite," because it was found at Crestmore. We are told by way of description, says the Providence Bulletin, that it is "a new hydrous base of orthosilicate, containing small amounts of other oxides in place of silica," which leaves us altogether in the dark as to whether we shall soon be using crestmorite as an improved stovepipe material or wearing it as a watch chain.

Tricks of Worms.

Ministry in animals, "hitherto an unsolved mystery," is explained in the North American Review by Hudson Maxon. When a bird is about to attack a worm he looks at the worm, trying to ascertain whether the worm is a food worm or a puff-adder. The mental process of the bird is transferred to the nervous system of the worm, who, now aware of the fact that the bird would hesitate to attack him if he were a puff-adder, proceeds to imitate the puff-adder.

Ignorance

Mr. Carroll Gill, of Marion, Ky., route 4, came to The Enterprise office last Monday to get a little printing done, purporting to be the foundation principles of the Holy Roller church. The young man said he is 19 years old and resides with his father. He also said his aim was to keep members of his church from having to bear arms, as the doctrine of his church opposes the shedding of human blood. Blank spaces were to be made on the printed sheet for signatures of persons who affiliate with his church and several scriptural references were made in his writing in support of his church's doctrine. We declined to do the printing, but advised the young man to return home and go to work; that he was engaged in trying to make slackers out of drafted men, and if kept up he most probably would be arrested by United States authorities and fined or imprisoned.

There seemed to be a two-fold object in his efforts—one to gain church membership by offering to secure nonentrance into the fighting ranks, and the other to get slackers out of the army, or to keep them from getting in the army. He said there were several members of his church in Livingston county, and mentioned that most of them resided in the Lola community. A Livingston county drafted man was with him and said he believed the doctrine taught by the Crittenden county man. The impression made on this Editor is, that a mixture of ignorance, laziness and cowardice constitutes the cause of such detestable and shameful propaganda and that the United States prison will never stop gaping until its doors are securely closed on the promulgators of such idiotic, unsavory and hellish pro-Germanism.

The Enterprise warns its readers, and especially the drafted men, to have nothing to do with such unpatriotic rot, but advises them to walk into the ranks of the country's defenders and advise others to do the same when called to colors. The time has come when we need and must have patriotism instead of slackers.—Livingston Enterprise.
