Our Country's Service Flag.

As the war has cast down many and many a man, as the war has laid waste and ravaged and ruined many a thing, as the war has burned up and wasted many a family and many a home, so also as the war has brought many a joy and many a comfort and many a pleasure, as the war has brought many a glory and many a fame.

Now, my friends, the cost is great, but the promise is great. It is the promise of a new people, of a new nation, of a new world.

As I have said, my friends, the war is the greatest crisis of our time, the greatest crisis of our lives, and it is the greatest crisis of our nation and our world.

While our country is doing her best, will you promise to do your best for our country and our world? Will you do your best for our nation and our world?

AN APPEAL FROM D. FRIZER

The Wheat Campaign is now

The job begins on a larger scale - a handful of good men, who will sell the earnings for the work out.

Our government is asking a sacrifice from all citizens, to sell all the wheat we can.
We need good production and conservation of all land and we must work on the problem

We must be in a position to produce our entire needs, or we must face starvation and our future is at stake.

We have not enough food to meet our needs.

We need

Our farmers will not sell wheat

We cannot

Fish, Lard, Beans and Potatoes Are Essential Considerations of Ration of Those in Use in War.

Every pound of food, even, contains an engineering feat that goes into the building of our ships and our factories.

But with the exception of bread, which is made from wheat, most of our food consists of products of the sea.

In some weeks the navy has to buy and consume 1,600,000 pounds of fresh fish, and this just a part of the amount that is being shipped daily.

The navy is not the only branch of the armed forces which is buying fish. The army, the navy, and the coast guard are all consuming large quantities of fresh fish.

The first step is to clean the fish. This involves removing the scales, the gills, and the entrails. It also involves removing the eyes and the fins.

Next, the fish should be filleted. This involves removing the skin and the bones.

After the fish has been filleted, it should be washed and then cut into pieces.

It is then ready to be cooked.

Finally, the fish should be allowed to cool before it is eaten.
