THE COLYUM.

There has been a time when the conductor of this colyum thought he would like to own a car. After driving Howard Phillips out to his home on the side of the big hill beyond Trilene last Saturday and taking them around to church Sunday in their big Allen, I have about made up my mind that the only people that get any pleasure out of an automobile around here are the ones that watch the others go by. The man who drives one is about the busiest person I know of if he has any respect for the people with him.

o o o o

We went to church at Hill's Chapel Sunday morning and met a number of the good people there, most of whom knew me when I was a youngster who knew twice as much as I know now. Don't know what became of it all.

o o o o

And then to Sunday School at Sugar Grove in the afternoon, in which neighborhood lives as fine a people as there is anywhere. (they're all kinfolks.) Don't know whether all this churchgoing was because Howard is so pious or whether he wanted to show off that car.

o o o o

Coming back from Louisville last Friday it began to look like Hollis Franklin, Gus Taylor and myself were going to be compelled to spend the night in Princeton, than which there is no greater punishment, when we ran into my neighbor Runyan of spar mining fame who sells Dodge cars as a sideline. Friend Runyan was bringing back a couple of new cars with the competent assistance of John Flanary, and kindly let us have a ride with him.

Caldwell county roads are different from what we have—they are in Caldwell county and the rough spots are continuous, whereas, Crittenden county has a stretch of smooth road five yards in length, and I can prove it by Jeff Travis.

Party for Soldiers

And Sailors.

Dr. and Mrs. F. V. Matlock, of Salem, were hosts Sept. 11th, to a peace party, given in honor of the returned soldiers and sailors of the community.

The guests assembled at the residence, where they formed a line and marched in military style to the beautiful park belonging to the hotel. There the soldiers and sailors performed some military drills, to the delight of an audience, composed of almost the entire town. Then some popular war songs were sung, and they marched back to the residence. There, quite a number of interesting games were enjoyed, of which, one will long be remembered. It was "Sailing In An Airship." All the guests reported an interesting voyage, some even affirming that they sailed above the clouds, bumping against the moon, and changed the stars.

At the hour of midnight ice cream and cake in patriotic colors was served to the guests.

Those present were: Misses Lillian Love, Thelma Gray, Elvin Marshall, Corine Graves, Mildred McDaniel, Ada Ryan, Myra Mitchell, Anna Belle Boswell, Ethel Elder, and Mrs. Jessie Cassidy, and the soldiers and sailors were Lieut. J. W. Jennings, Mack Parker, Clifton Bradley, Charley Boswell, Val Rappolee, Robert Mitchell, Jesse Lockhart, Arch Watson, Bernie Kammage, Gay Babb and Grady Waddell.

County Court Clerk's Office Decorated.

L. E. Guess, County Clerk has decorated his office, changing its looks quite a bit. About two weeks ago the plastering all fell off the ceiling, so upsetting things that it was necessary for Mr. Guess to move into the next room until he could have that one repaired.

He has had new paper put on the walls and has purchased a new linoleum rug for the floor, which so changes the looks of the room one would hardly recognize it.

Enjoyable Picnic

Mrs. Geo. P. Roberts entertained the members of the Crittenden County Equal Suffrage League with a picnic Saturday at her beautiful country home at Crittenden Springs. The occasion was a most enjoyable one.

The guests were shown over the fine farm with its splendid modern conveniences, visited the registered stock, the model barns and of course the famous Sulphur Springs. The rides and walks developed keen appetites with which to appreciate the bountiful picnic lunch which was served in beautiful grove surrounding the home.

The Club members who were present, besides the hostess who is president, were:

Mesdames: Samuel Gugenheim, S. M. Senkins, J. S. Henry, M. V. Arnold, W. B. Yandell, T. J. Yandell, Cress A. Taylor, T. A. Frazer, J. R. Gilchrist and J. P. Guess. Misses: Margaret Moore, Della Barnes and Ethel Hard. Little Misses Evelyn and Ethel Roberts and Masters Samuel Gugenheim and Reginald Wilson added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Abe Deboe of Mexico was in town Monday.

Old Time Kentucky Hospitality.

On Wednesday Sept. 11th, at their beautiful country home near Tolu, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Harris served to more than a hundred of their friends and neighbors an old fashioned barbecue dinner.

The sumptuous feast consisted of barbecued mutton, roast pig, salads, pickles, coffee and almost every kind of pie and cakes known to the culinary art. Every one ate to his heart's content, and all seemed ready to agree with Meredith that "we may live without friends, we may live without books, but civilized man cannot live without cooks."

Among the guests were several musicians of ability, and both vocal and instrumental music added to the pleasure of the day. Miss Jennie Houston of Carville a niece of Mr. Harris, presided at the piano, and Mr. Brownie Franks and others brought beautiful strains of music from cornet, violin and other instruments.

Besides the immediate neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harris, several guests from Marion were present. They were: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bennett, Mrs. Trice Bennett and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Yandell and S. Gugenheim and family. Many of the guest who had not before had the pleasure of a visit to this grand old home were enthusiastic in its praise. It is known as the "Judson Bennett place," and was built before the civil war, but is in a state of splendid preservation. The house, a large colonial brick, stands in a beautiful spacious lawn, on the slope of an elevation that overlooks a pretty little lake, while in the distance is a lovely view of the "Beautiful Ohio."

The scenery is so restful and so full of beauty that one longs to get nearer to the great heart of nature and in closer touch with the Divine hand that created so much beauty for man's enjoyment.

We all came away from this lovely home basking in the sunshine of the knowledge that true hospitality is still alive in "Old Kentucky."

TEMPORARY WATERWORKS

The Press is unalterably opposed to the scheme to put in a little temporary water system around the square. This would probably be satisfactory to the few who were benefited by this half baked affair, but what about the people who live out a little way from the courthouse? Are not the residences as much entitled to fire protection as the business houses? Of course the financial loss on a burned residence is not as large in dollars and cents as it would be in a fire in the business section, but if a man loses ten dollars worth of furniture and it is all he possesses it is a greater loss to him than a loss of an entire stock of merchandise does to most of our merchants.

Then another objection to a temporary system is that once we get a little protection for the business houses the temptation would be pretty strong to just let matters rest for a few years more, content with the idea that we were in a manner protected. The Press makes this prediction: Before the snow falls in 1920 there will be an adequate supply of water in Marion.

We don't know what some people think of it but the editor of this dispenser of the chronicles of the neighborhood is almighty tired of looking at the pile of ruins on Main Street. We went to the expense of having some pictures made of the ruins right after the fire, little thinking that they would remain there until the entire nation would have time to walk to Marion and take a look at the pile of brick bats themselves. This is a terrible indictment of the progress of this otherwise progressive little city.

Glad to Try Anything

"Three years ago my system was in a terribly run down condition and I was broken out all over my body. I began to be worried about my condition and I was glad to try anything which would relieve me. Peru-na was recommended to me as a fine blood remedy and tonic, and I soon found that it was worthy of praise. A few bottles changed my condition materially and in a short time I was all over my trouble. I owe my restoration to health and strength to Peru-na. I am glad to endorse it."

DAUGHTER HAD TO QUIT WORK,
MOTHER SAYS

Inactivity Would Have Last-
ed Longer, Had Not Trutona Brought Aid.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11.—Because it had relieved her daughter of troubles which kept her
from her work for five long months, Mrs. Josephine Brown,
a well known Louisville woman
of 721 Washington street recently made the following interesting statement regarding Tru-
tona, the perfect tonic:

"My daughter had been suffering with stomach trouble and nervousness for several months.
In fact, the trouble became so severe that she couldn't work for five months. It seemed that everything she ate would sour in her stomach, causing gas formations and a bloating feeling.
The gas seemed to form around
her heart, causing her much pain.

"My daughter's nerves were
so unstrung that she could hardly sleep at night and she would get up in the mornings almost as tired as when she went to bed. But Trutona has steadied her nerves and she's at last able to rest well at night. This medicine has relieved her of the indigestion, too, and her bowels
are regular now. We think Trutona is a great medicine."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Marion
at J. H. Orme's Drug Store. Adv.

ently disabled from disease or accident, all premium payments cancelled and the full face of the policy paid to beneficiary at your death with NO deductions for monthly installments paid or premiums waived.

Your life is insured from the minute you sign an application and pay your first premium

Take the case of Henry T. Whitt, driver of an automobile truck, who was recently killed by a train at Mexico. This man had signed an application with a representative of The Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company for $1,000.00 life insurance, paid the first premium, and been examined by the Company's local physician. In less than one week he was killed; HIS DEATH
ACTUALLY OCCURRING BEFORE THE APPLICATION WAS ACTED UPON OR THE POLICY ISSUED. As evidence, however, of the good faith of the Company and its fair and liberal treatment of its policy holders, this claim was paid without contest and without question.

Below we reproduce a receipt (the original of which is on file in our office) signed by the widow of Henry T. Whitt, acknowledging the payment of this claim in full.

hand will be stilled forever, and his power to provide for the needs of his loved ones will be at an eternal end."
