DAUGHTER HAD TO QUIT WORK, MOTHER SAYS

Inactivity Would Have Lasted a Long Time, Had Not Trouser Frame Brought Aid

Laura Lee Tyke, April 1, because she had referred her daughter to a doctor, was from her work for the long hours she sat and knitted. Daughter had a bad headache and a fever. Mother was concerned because of her daughter's health. The doctor recommended rest and suggested the trouser frame for several weeks. This helped the daughter to feel better and continue her work. "My daughter's nerves were so sensitive that she couldn't work. Now she is better and can do her job again." The family is grateful for the help they received.

In the case of Henry T. Wight, driver of a harness truck, who was mortally injured in a fall at Rockford, this man had signed an application with a representative of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company for his insurance, paid the first premium, and was examined by the Company's medical staff. Below is the story of how he took the steps to actually occur in the event of death. Mr. T. Wight, a man of good health, had a policy in force of $1,000,000.00 in the event of his death, and was examined by a physician appointed for the purpose of the examination.
