Agricultural Column
By Prof. Geo. M. Goodwin

THE GATE OF FARM MANAGEMENT
When a farmer understands the fundamentals of farm management, he is of distinct advantage to himself. As a result of that understanding, he will be able to make use of the principles involved in the management of his farm, and thereby make his farm a profit center.

REFLECTIONS FROM THE MIRROR

This column is filled by the editor of the Kentucky Farmer, who has been farming for many years. He is a well-known authority on agriculture, and his advice is sought by farmers throughout the state.

REMARKABLE ROAD CONSTRUCTION IN KHYBER PASS

Part of the route consists of a series of bridges, one of which is more than 200 feet long. The entire road is a marvel of engineering and construction.

HATTI HONORS U.S. MARINES AT GRAND REVIEW

Chapter 1

Parker Foster had just held forth a few minutes in the local drug store when he was interrupted by a young man who looked as though he had been in the habit of spending all day at the drug store.

"I want to order some wood," said the young man.

"What kind of wood do you want?" asked Parker Foster.

"I want to order some hardwood," replied the young man.

"And what kind of hardwood do you want?" asked Parker Foster.

"I want to order some oak," said the young man.

"And how much do you want?" asked Parker Foster.

"I want to order 50 pounds," said the young man.

"And how much do you want it for?" asked Parker Foster.

"I want to order it for 50 cents a pound," said the young man.

"And how much do you want it for?" asked Parker Foster.
