Are You Preparing YOURSELF FOR OLD AGE?

STATISTICS show that a vast majority of the people of the United States are dependents after they are past the age of sixty.

THIS is because Americans are a nation of spenders—many people spending their income before receiving it. We advise that you stop spending your money for non essentials.

THE MORAL of this is that you can easily avoid becoming dependent on others when you are old by saving at least one fourth of your income—systematically. Make up your mind to form this habit, and naturally your confidence in the old reliable MARION BANK will lead you there for a safe place to keep your savings—and in addition to absolute safety you draw three per cent interest compounded every six months. ONE DOLLAR will start you as a depositor and you will be treated with as much courtesy on a one dollar deposit as if you brought in thousands.

A SAFE BANK MARION, KENTUCKY

THE COLYUM

About all one hears these days is comment on the action of the city council in deciding to try and wake up this town and starting somewhere with it.

Some of this comment is favorable—and a lot more is not. No one is found for instance who objects to improving the streets—but according to some of the objectors it should be paid for by the other fellow. Sure. Somebody else ought to pay our electricity bills too but they do not. Or at least that is about as logical as expecting the other fellow to pay for your improvements.

Notice is served right now that The Press is going to keep on agitating these improvements until Marion is the pride of Western Kentucky—as she ought to be. That is our program. There may be some people here in town who cannot bear to read such literature. If so we feel sorry for them for it is surely coming. And they are going to read the Press of course. Everybody does. This does not mean that we are sending the paper to everybody in the county. By no means. But they all live in reach of a neighbor who reads the paper and no man would be too stingy to loan his neighbor the county paper after he was through with it.

And I just happened to think that it has been at least two weeks since I called your attention to the condition of that old relic which used to serve as a bridge, way back yonder when our grandfathers went deer hunting, is still doing its very best to serve its purpose of allowing people to cross a gulley between the court house and the old mill out on Bellville Street. Ever see this historic old relic? If not drive out some time and take a look at it. It is one of the finest specimens of its kind in the world. They tear down better ones in the jungles of central Africa.

Of course any one who keeps in touch with the trend of the time knows that one reason why Marion had begun to lose her grip on progress was the fact that most of her merchants had become non advertisers. This is the fastest road backwards known. If you do not believe it just go into the freight station in any town where the merchants are good advertisers and then into one where they are not and if you can prove to me that there are more mail order goods shipped into the town where the advertising is done, in proportion to the population, I promise that I will never say another word about advertising out loud.

But that is an impossibility. Mail order houses know that they reap their harvest where they have no local competition. And it is into territories where the papers receive the poorest local patronage that these great institutions go after business the hardest.

Having been in a position where I had almost daily business with two different departments of the two great houses in Chicago, I have a great deal of respect for them and their policies. They are great merchandisers and go after the business where they are most likely to get it. For which they cannot be blamed. But they have the slimmest chance of getting this business in a wide awake town with advertising merchants and they know it.

And you never saw cob webs on the door of a good merchant in your life. And by the same token you never saw a good merchant in your life who didn't believe in advertising. Of course there are merchants who believe in advertising but who do not do so themselves.

Doctors do not advertise—that is those who belong to the Medical Association do not—but they believe in it all right.

Which reminds me of what I said previously about fixing the streets.

I thank you. W. P. HOGARD

Protecting Your Interests

We believe that the first duty of a bank is to make it just as safe as it is humanly possible to make anything safe. Our vaults were built with this end in view. But we were not satisfied with having the best vaults, so a short time ago we installed the best equipped and most modern electric burglar alarm system on the market. Experience has proved that criminals avoid it because they cannot defeat it. If your money and your valuable papers are in OUR bank, the constant watchfulness of this alive and alert system stands between them and your interests in this bank and protects YOU. Day and night, every day in the year this system will hereafter guard your interests.

We want you to know that whatever can be done to make for greater safety, greater efficiency, and better banking, both in the matter of equipment and along other lines will be done by this bank. We are here to serve you. We yield the point to no one when the question of safety-service-satisfaction is concerned.

BILLY YATES SINGING AT HENDERSON

The following clipping was taken from The Henderson Daily Journal concerning a revival meeting in which "Billy" Yates is assisting.

Hundreds of men heard Dr. Adams at the cotton mill skating rink Sunday afternoon at 2:30 when he preached to men only. His subject was "The Flower of Manhood". His text was Psalm 119:59, "I thought on my ways and turned my feet unto thy testimonies." In a very scholarly way he described the evils existing among men today, and told them that only Jesus Christ would blot out the past and help men to be what they ought to be now and in the future. At the close of the service sixty men came forward to the altar of prayer, pledging themselves to God, and many of them were greatly blessed.

Last night the skating rink was seated to its capacity of 900 or more people with a chorus of about 100, two pianos, one organ, drums bass viol, and cornet. Prof. Yates moved the great audience with the gospel in song in such a wonderful manner as is seldom seen and felt. His solos are especially effective. Dr. Adams' subject was "The end of War and the Dawn of Peace", his text was "Watchman what of the night?" In a very graphic manner he described how God was running the affairs of the world, and that the great events of history were taking place on scheduled time in God's great program, and that the history of the world is contained in the utterances of God's inspired prophets. He said that no amount of peace treaties and leagues of nations will bring universal peace until there is universal regeneration.

Hundreds came forward and asked for prayer.

REV. AND MRS. JOHN A. WALLACE KILLED

The following clipping was taken from the Christian Advocate concerning a son of Riley Wallace who formerly lived on a farm south of Marion on the Princeton road, he left here when he was about thirteen years old.

On Saturday morning, April 17, Rev. John A. Wallace and wife of Canyon Texas, were both killed when the automobile in which they were driving was struck by a train near Kres, Texas. Mrs. Wallace was instantly killed and Brother Wallace died after thirty-six hours of indescribable suffering. He was conscious to the last and his death was triumphant. Brother and Sister Wallace were ardent Christians, loved by all who knew them, and they had a host of friends in Northwest Texas.

Brother Wallace was an honored local preacher, and was a brother of Rev. Ed R. Wallace, of Northwest Texas Conference.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING.

At the meeting of the Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. G. Clifton a most entertaining program was given in the Poets of the Ancients and their works. Papers were read on the subject by Mrs. Clement Miss Flanary and Miss Haynes. A vocal solo was given by Mrs. Yates.

Mrs. Van Pelt was selected as delegate to represent this club at the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs which meets at Madisonville next week.

Mr. R. Sisco and daughter Jaunita were in Hopkinsville Sunday night, where they met Mrs. Sisco from Russellville.

The Decoration Day exercises at Marion Maplevue Cemetery will be held Sunday afternoon, May 30th, at 2 o'clock. A special program will be rendered.

DODSON STOPS SALE OF CALOMEL

"Dodson's Liver Tone" is Taking Place of Dangerous, Sickening Chemical, Say Druggists

Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it," Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, just ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.—Adv.

If You Need a Medicine
You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at one drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the urine acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

Last Carver of Totems

William Shelton Carving His "Life Work."

THIS unusual photograph shows one of the last—possibly the last—of the carvers of totem poles. He is William Shelton, head of the Indian reservation school at Tulalip, Wash. The making of totem poles is an art and few nowadays are the men who can carve them. What a totem pole looks like when completed and set up is shown in the side picture.

Shelton regards this enormous totem pole as his life work. He has already put in 3,000 hours on it. It will set forth the family history of the Snohomish tribe of western Washington. When set in place it will be 6 feet in diameter and will rise 84 feet. Upon completion of this life work Shelton intends to devote the rest of his days to informing the world of the true inwardness of totem poles. It is a large undertaking.

What is a totem? Well, it would take a Philadelphia lawyer to figure it out and then he'd have hard work to make the average man understand the true inwardness of totemism, totem and totem pole.

Totemism, the anthropologists say, is common to primitive man in many parts of the world, but is far from being universal. It is found among the American Indians, but there are tribes which show no trace of it. The Eskimos know nothing of it. Certain African savages have it. The Australians have it.

A totem is a class of material objects, which a savage regards with superstitious respect, believing that there exists between him and every member of the class an intimate and altogether special relation. The connection between a man and his totem is mutually beneficial; the totem protects the man and the man shows his respect for the totem in various ways. If his totem is an animal he may show this respect either by refusing to kill and eat it or by making it his favorite diet.

Early explorers found the American Indian communities, independent of their local distribution into tribes, bands and villages, composed of several distinct clans. Each clan had its emblem, consisting of the figure of some bird, beast or reptile, as for example, the clans of the wolf, deer, otter and hawk. In the language of the Algonquins these emblems are known as totems. Members of the same clan were prohibited from intermarriage; a man could take a wife from any clan but his own. To different totems attached different degrees of rank and dignity; those of the bear, tortoise and wolf were among the first in honor. Members of the same clan, though they might dwell far apart and speak different dialects were yet bound by the closest ties of fraternity. This kind of totem was found in at least three varieties: the clan totem, common to a whole clan and passing by inheritance from generation to generation; the sex totem, common either to all the males or to all the females in a tribe, to the exclusion in either case of the other sex; the individual totem, belonging to an individual and not passing to his descendants.

As to the totem pole, it is hard to say what it is. There is one thing however, which it is not; it is not a fetish or an idol or a thing to be worshipped. The totem pole of one man may be simply his individual totem. A second totem pole may also bear the clan totem of the owner. Then a chief or a rich man may have an elaborate totem pole containing "all his crests and all the stories connected with them." So that a very large and pretentious totem pole may be a sort of family tree of the owner or even an autobiography.

Even in case the carvers of totem poles become extinct, a number of the most noteworthy of these remarkable creations will be preserved for posterity for several generations to come. Uncle Sam realized quite a while ago the advisability of this. The result is that there are two national monuments in Alaska, created in large part with the view of preserving some very fine examples of these curious relics of bygone days.

Sitka National monument was created in 1910. It is about a mile from Sitka and contains 57 acres. It contains 18 totem poles, the highest of which rises 60 feet. These totem poles are carved from red cedar and when the paint wears off the unprotected wood cracks badly. These totem poles have recently been given two coats of paint by the National park service in six colors. Where the carvings were broken or decayed they were replaced. This monument is a picturesque place and from it there is a panoramic view of beauty and interest as the scene of the massacre of Russian fur hunters by Indians in the early days when all this region was owned by Russia.

Old Kansan National monument was created in 1916. It contains 88 acres and within its bounds are an abandoned Indian village, numerous remarkable totem poles and other objects of historical interest.

First American Composer.

Judge Francis Hopkinson, signer of the Declaration of Independence, jurist, inventor, artist, poet, essayist, scholar, organist, composer and first graduate of the class of 1757 of the University of Pennsylvania, is known as the first American composer. Judge Hopkinson was especially noted as a composer of fetching songs for the harpsichord. In 1788 he published seven songs dedicated to his friend, George Washington. In the quaint fashion of his day, he wrote: "However small the Reputation may be that I derive from this Work, I cannot, I believe, be refused the Credit of being the first Native of the United States who has produced a Musical Composition. If this attempt be not too severely treated, others may be encouraged to venture on a path yet untrodden in America, and the Arts in succession will take root and flourish among us."

Milk Consumption.

As it is estimated that only 2.9 of the milk produced in this country is used in making condensed milk, the industry can not have any considerable effect upon the milk industry of the cities. According to figures given for last year, 43.1 per cent of milk produced is used as liquid milk, 41 per cent for making butter, 4.3 per cent for feeding calves, 5 per cent for making cheese, 3.7 per cent for making ice cream, and 2.9 for condensed milk. The United States has about 23,000,000 dairy cows. It is estimated that Europe lost about 22,000,000 cows in the last few years.

WAR AND FUTURE OF ART

Fresh Creative Force May Reasonably Be Hoped For, Is Conclusion of Noted Writer.

As for the action of the world's great war upon the world's great art, it is a theme too vast for easy handling, writes Agnes Repplier in Art and Life, New York. It was said in the spring of 1915 that the Quarter Latin had ceased to produce, having nothing which breathless humanity could pause to look at. Death took its toll of artists and month after month saw the blighting of hope, as men died with their work undone.

Mr. Pennell, an acute, but not a sanguine observer, says plainly that no inspiration—as a result of the conflict—is not to be hoped for. Yet if national fervor was fed by the simplicities of art, by the cartoon, the verses of the trench, the "half articulate songs" that set the soldier's blood astringing, it is reasonable to believe that the high tide of human passion will not ebb before impregnating a lethargic world with fresh creative force.

Rodin, brooding over the darkest hour and minimizing no peril or calamity, spoke with heroic assurance of the future: "Our young soldiers and our old cathedrals fall that there may flourish again a youth, pure, ardent, healthy, hostile to materialism, keen for spirituality; and that a renewed and sublime art may spring from the soil washed and fertilized by blood."

"Too bad. How many words did he know?"

LURE THAT TEMPTED MANY

Adventurers as Well as Dreamers Sought Vainly for the Fabled Fountain of Youth.

In that far-off, never-to-be-discovered country in that region which has shifted and changed just as men's minds alter and expand, in that mystic Himmil was thought to be the spring which, if tasted by mortals, would assure them immortal youth. On that island bubbled a fountain whose waters healed all manner of sickness.

The lure of the Fountain of Youth seized upon not only the dreamer, but caught the fancy of the bold adventurer, Ponce de Leon, and the redoubtable De Soto sought to taste of its life-giving fluid, and it is perhaps the mystery and wonder, coupled with desire, that brought about the discovery, not of the fountain, but of that part of our country known as Florida.

It was on the 27th day of March, 1513, that Ponce de Leon sighted land which he thought was an island. On April 8, which was Easter Sunday, he took possession of the country in the name of the king of Spain and called it Pascua Florida in honor of the day. He explored the country and was obliged to battle with the Indians, and after many adventures, which included another voyage in 1521 to found a colony, this intrepid navigator succumbed to a wound inflicted by a savage, and died while his vessel was making for the island of Porto Rico.

DANGER IN ELECTRIC CURRENT

Neither Fixtures Nor Appliances Should Ever Be Touched by Anything That Is Wet.

No electric appliances should ever be placed where a person in a bathtub can reach them. Such is the assertion of Dr. A. Zimmerman of the Presse Medicale (Paris) in commenting on the death of a college. Electrocutation has taken place with a current of only 110 volts under such circumstances.

The reason is that the water on the hands and body provides an exceptionally favorable condition for conduction of the current. It is not safe to touch when in the bath. Doctor Zimmerman cites recent cases, as follows:

A woman killed by holding an electric light in one wet hand while turning a water faucet with the other; a woman killed by wiping with a wet cloth the current distributing apparatus for an electric heater; a man receiving a severe shock by taking hold of a chandelier while holding an electric light suspended by a wire.

It is very dangerous to change an electric bulb when the hands are wet or the floor is wet; a slight defect in the insulation may cause a severe shock or even death.

Measuring Sludge.

An ingenious method of measuring the depth of sludge in deep sedimentation tanks is employed at the sewage disposal works of Fitchburg, Mass., says a Canadian writer. The measurements are made by means of a pitcher pump and 25 feet of 1-inch rubber hose, marked in 1-foot lengths. The pump is screwed to a 3-foot plank and attached to the hose by a union coupling. In making measurements the plank is placed across the top of a gas vent and the hose pushed into the tank until it is near the supposed sludge level. The hose is then lowered an inch at a time. Between each shift sufficient pumping is done to insure a complete change of water in hose. When the sludge level is reached, the pump will raise sludge. The length of the hose below the chimney top is then noted, and as the distance from top of chimney to bottom of tank is known it is an easy matter to estimate the depth of the sludge.

TOPIARY REVIVES IN ENGLAND

Trees Shaped as Peacocks Are Old Curiosities, and Many Others Are Being Formed.

Travelers on the great highway which leads through Staines by the Belfont church can see two ancient yew trees cunningly trained and clipped to represent peacocks, which stand on either side of the wicket gate.

They are large trees, ages old, and how many years of care and skill with the pruning knife they stand for none can tell. These are, perhaps, the most familiar examples of the topiars' art near the metropolis, but in formal gardens of many stately old country houses their like may be seen in abundance. They are accepted as curiosities, survivals of times past when men had more leisure on their hands than today.

The shaping of living trees into birds and beasts of prey, into spirals, pillars, cannon balls, and any other fantasy chosen, still exists as a British industry. In the Royal Kew nurseries, close by Richmond town, is the largest collection of topiary in the world—nearly 3,000 trees, each one of them trimmed to some animal or bird or architectural form. The work has been done in this open studio, and it has required exemplary patience. The trouble about establishing a formal garden in years past has been that you do not live to see it. The next generation may enjoy it; but with forms that take 40 or 50, even in some cases 80, years to bring to maturity, it is only the grandchildren who can hope to witness their full perfection.—London Daily Telegraph.

LONG IDOL OF SMALL BOY

Famous "Deadwood Dick" Lived and Died in Full Appreciation of His Great Popularity.

Deadwood Dick is dead. His real name was Richard Bullock, and he died most conventionally at an age of seventy-five years in a hospital at Glendale, Cal.

Deadwood Dick should have been the happiest of men. Few men can pass twilight years illumined by the glow of their past. Few men are privileged to read heroic lies about themselves which are founded on a modicum of truth. Achilles never read the "Aeneid." Satan never read "Paradise Lost." Unless he had perused it since Milton's day by the flimsy flames of his plutonic abode, Siegfried never scanned the "Nibelungenlied." The greatest heroes of the greatest lies by the greatest liars have met their end believing they would be unhonored and unsung by posterity.

Not so with Deadwood Dick. His saga was at his elbow these several decades. All he had to do was to take down one of the volumes over which the boys of a generation or two ago pored to realize what a great man he had not been. And all the time he had the consciousness that he really had passed wonderful days on mountain and plain, haunting gold by stage through perils created by nature and by man—that there was enough of the heroic to justify the modern minstrel.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

PEAT ESTABLISHED AS FUEL

In Denmark It Is Employed to Furnish Power for Many Lines of Big Industries.

In 1919 peat established itself as a fuel more firmly than ever in Denmark. It is used now by nearly all the industries, by the private railroads and in the country districts, where it is practically the only fuel. Twelve million peat bricks were taken from the marshes in the Odense district in 1918, and while figures are not available for 1919, it is estimated that the number was considerably larger. The electrical works of the town of Svendborg have successfully used peat gas instead of petroleum. As a locomotive fuel it proved to have some disadvantages, requiring a larger boiler and giving off many sparks.

Peat producers have complained that the government's maximum price on this article has made its manufacture difficult. There have been a number of failures. However, the quality of peat has been greatly improved during the last five years, and more has been learned of its possibilities. It will therefore undoubtedly figure much more than previously as an economic factor in Denmark.—New York Sun.

Physique of Country and City Boys.

Under the selective draft law, registrants were given two physical examinations, one by the local draft boards and another by the army surgeons after the men who passed the local board examination reached camp. Analysis of these records of physical examinations shows that the country boys made better records than those from the cities; the white registrants better than the colored, and the native born better records than those of alien birth. These differences are so considerable that 100,000 country boys would furnish for the military service 4,700 more soldiers than would an equal number of city boys. Similarly, 100,000 whites would furnish 1,240 more soldiers than would an equal number of colored. Finally, 100,000 native born would yield 5,500 more soldiers than would a like number of foreign. The importance of these figures may be appreciated by noting that 3,500 men is equivalent to an infantry regiment at full war strength.

Eat Pure Corn Meal

Do not take chances on getting corn meal that may have weevil, dirt and trash ground into it. Ask your grocer for because all the weevil, trash and dirt have been removed from the corn by the Meadows mill before the corn is ground into meal. Meadows mill meal is perfectly clean properly milled, sweet and healthful.

The weevil spout sifts out the trash and shakes out the weevil and dirt before the corn reaches the grinding burrs.

All dampness is removed by a blast of warm air which blows the meal from the mill. This prevents molding and spoiling of the meal.

Meadows mill meal is never burned in the grinding and none of the nutritious qualities of the corn removed in the milling process. You get a fine quality, round meal that is pure, sweet and healthful.

ALWAYS USE MEADOWS MILL MEAL AND YOU WILL HAVE BETTER HEALTH.

The Most Novel and Unusual Entertainment Ever Brought to Marion

READ WHAT OTHERS SAY:

At the Union League Club there was an irresistible freshness and charm about the first concert last night of the Tyrolean Alpine Singers, from the mountain sides of the Tyrolean Alps. The stage, with its native costumes, looked like a transformation scene from the Alps, with the same piquancy of life and exuberance of song. It was surprising how much genuine music and real art these lads and lassies from the Tyrol put into a beautifully diversified program. The ensemble was so perfect that the best trained festival chorus might have had cause to envy it. The shading was subtle, the crescendos were convincing and the naturalness of the native atmosphere seemed to pervade their every effort.—New York Sun.

The Tyrolean Alpine Singers broke all attendance records Monday night. What constant singing together will do for any choir has been done for them through their long association. St. Louisians have probably never heard such a blending of naturally beautiful voices as from this company. Not only two or three times did the soprano strike the high "E" but often during the evening, and she held it with a force and clarity that called for repeated cries of admiration on the part of the audience.—St. Louis, Mo., Post Dispatch.

The Most Welcome Tire That Ever Came to Market

Men Who Appreciate Superlative Values Prefer The Brunswick

In every great tire factory, the chief question is: "How much can we give for the money?" And the product depends on the policy adopted.

Every man who has become acquainted with Brunswick Tires knows that Brunswick standards are again evident. This famous concern—founded as a leader in every line it entered since 1845—has once more proved that its policy is right.

A perfect tire is simply a matter of knowledge and standards and skill. No secrets nor patents prevent making an ideal tire.

But standards come first. For in tire making there is vast room for skimping, for subtle economies, for hidden shortcomings. Makers without the highest standards don't build high-grade tires.

The Brunswick organization of tire makers includes a brilliant staff of technical experts. Not a man among them has spent less than 20 years in handling rubber.

Each is a master of his craft. And the new ideas they bring to the attention of Brunswick directors receive sincere consideration.

Every proved betterment is adopted unanimously.

The Brunswick Tire is a combination of acknowledged features—plus Brunswick standards of manufacture.

The result is a super-tire, the like of which you have never known before. The kind of a tire you will gladly join in welcoming.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires.

Try ONE Brunswick. We promise a surprise. And we feel certain that you will want ALL Brunswicks.

Then good tires will have a new meaning to you.

KENTUCKY GIRL AT BOOTH HOSPITAL

Declares Her Life Was Saved at Salvation Army Memorial Hospital in Covington.

Not long ago a Louisville young woman was given up for dead by prominent physicians. They pronounced it cancer. Through the Salvation Army this young woman was taken to the Booth Memorial Hospital at Covington, conducted by the Salvation Army. For more than two hours leading surgeons of Covington and Cincinnati operated on this young woman while her faithful friend of the Salvation Army corps stood by to win her back to consciousness.

Today this young woman is alive and well and holds a fine position in a Cincinnati office. She declares that she owes her life to Booth Memorial Hospital, the surgeons and the faithful workers.

One object for which the Salvation Army's Home Service Appeal in Kentucky, May 10 to 20, is to be conducted is to raise money for an extension to this hospital so badly needed. Kentuckians in every part of the state are justified in giving to this fund because all Kentuckians are welcomed to Booth Memorial Hospital whether they have money or not. No person is turned away on account of a lack of funds.

Booth Memorial Hospital holds the record of caring for more charity patients than any other hospital in the United States. A training school is a part of the hospital work, and during the influenza epidemic many Salvation Army nurses were sent into various sections of Kentucky and rendered valuable service.

AMERICAN LEGION TO SALVATION ARMY

Kentucky Department Commander Urie Bell in Strong Letter to All Legion Members.

Urie Bell, department commander of the American Legion, of Kentucky, in a recent endorsement of the Salvation Army, said:

"It will not be necessary for the American Legion to say to the former soldier that the Salvation Army is a good thing and deserves support. It is already well known that 'Johnny Buck' has learned to respect the 'Sally Ann' under a stress that has tried the souls of both. Soldiers of the Salvation Army shared in common, during the late war, the same risks and dangers faced by those who now make up the American Legion. It is the hope of the State Department of the Legion that the Salvation Army will meet with great success in its work and the conviction that 120 units of the American Legion in Kentucky will stand shoulder to shoulder with the Army in all good things."

The Salvation Army's Home Service Appeal is May 10-20.

ANTI-SUICIDE CLUB FOR DOWN AND OUTERS

Helping Hands Stretched Out By Salvation Army Workers to the Despairing.

Many anti-suicide clubs in the state of Kentucky are quietly carrying on the work of inducing people not to take their own lives.

These clubs are among the Salvation Army's many agencies for grappling with moral and social problems. Practically every active Salvation Army corps in the state has one of these clubs—whether the agency bears the name of "Anti-Suicide Club" or not.

State Army officials report that local Salvation Army officers frequently are notified of cases of attempted suicide, or of those suffering from morbid impulses. Particulars in these cases come from police, relatives of the distressed persons, or through other agencies.

Salvation Army officers, when they hear of a case of a person being on the verge of taking his own life, immediately call on the person and give what advice or relief is necessary. By talking things over with the Salvation Army officer, the person gets a different view of things and often concludes that life is worth while.

This is one of the many agencies for good in the work of the Salvation Army, whose Home Service Campaign is on in Kentucky, May 10-20.

F. K. LANE HEADS NATION-WIDE DRIVE

Former Secretary of the Interior to Conduct Salvation Army Home Service Campaign.

One of the best-known men in the country, Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior in President Wilson's cabinet, is to be the national chairman of the great Salvation Army Home Service drive, May 10-20.

Although under contract to assume charge of some great oil well properties for rich westerners April 1, ex-Secretary Lane declared that this work could wait until he had discharged his duties as head of a great campaign to raise money to help the poor and the unfortunate.

A "shirt sleeve" man himself, Secretary Lane knows what the pinch of poverty is. Born and reared a poor boy, he had many a hard knock before winning success.

In assuming charge of the campaign Secretary Lane said: "I know of no greater bulwark that could be raised against the rising tide of human unrest than to strengthen the hands of this hand of self-sacrificing Christian toilers who have the confidence of all men regardless of race, creed, color or position in life."

GOVERNOR MORROW GENERAL CHAIRMAN

Salvation Army Home Service Campaign in Kentucky Will Take Place May 10-20.

Governors of all states east of the Mississippi river are taking an active interest in the Salvation Army Home Service Campaign, May 10-20. Realizing the splendid work done by the Salvation Army and appreciating its earnest desire to fully meet present-day opportunities, Governor Edwin P. Morrow, of Kentucky, has accepted the general chairmanship of the campaign in this state. The state chairman is Judge Henry S. Barker, of Louisville. Judge Barker is very well known to Kentuckians. He served as a member of the State Court of Appeals, was president of the University of Kentucky, and is engaged in the practice of law in Louisville. Judge Barker has always taken a leading part in welfare work in Kentucky. Vice chairmen will be appointed for each of the thirteen districts in the state.

J. Paul Swain is the state director, with offices in the Coleman Building, Louisville. He is assisted by three division directors—H. M. Outfield, for the Western Division; Owen R. Mann, for the Central Division, and C. C. Camden, for the Eastern Division. Charles W. Morris, Louisville, is chairman of the Speakers' Bureau, and George E. Stephens is state publicity director.

In accepting the general chairmanship of the campaign Governor Morrow said:

"The splendid work of the Salvation Army appeals to the heart of all who are familiar with the work accomplished by its unselfish, devoted officers and members. Wherever the Salvation Army carries on there you will find a need supplied; a foot-sore unfortunate comforted; a hungry one fed; an aching heart given surcease of sorrow. I appeal to the great heart of Kentucky to respond generously to the call of the Salvation Army in its Home Service Campaign. Let us not be outdone by other states in rallying to the support of an institution which has done and stands waiting to do its full share, fruitful and running over, for the homeless and the afflicted."

FURNACES differ as much as people, and we welcome a comparison of the Cahill with other pipeless furnaces. The "insides" of a furnace are what count, and that is where the Cahill excels. The casing is unusually heavy, unusually thick and unusually well insulated. This means that heat is retained longer in a Cahill furnace, that the radiation of heat is greater, less fuel is used, less attention is required, and that cracking and breaking of the vitrified castings guarantee greater durability, economy and convenience.

Cahill Pipeless Furnaces

The Cahill Furnace is the result of 40 years manufacturing experience, and embodies the same manufacturing ideas which have given to Cahill Grates and Face Fixtures, an enviable reputation for quality and dependability.

SALVATION ARMY IN PRISON WORK

Adjutant James Thompson Works Army Prisoners in Reformatories at Frankfort and Eddyville.

One of the most important departments of work conducted by the Salvation Army in Kentucky is that of Adj. James Thompson among the men and women in the state penal institutions. Adj. Thompson has been in charge of the Salvation Army corps at Frankfort and in connection with his labors has worked among the inmates of the Frankfort Reformatory and the state prison at Eddyville.

Great attention has been paid to the "Brighter Day League," a national organization of men and women prisoners fostered by the Salvation Army. Each member who joins the League is given a button to wear and a certificate of membership to hang on the wall of his cell. There are more than 600 members of the Brighter Day League in the Frankfort Reformatory and about 500 in Eddyville.

Adj. Thompson conducts a Bible class twice a year in the two prisons, continuing from six to eight weeks. Each contestant must stand and repeat from memory many passages of Scripture. There is keen rivalry among the contestants. Every Sunday the Adjutant spends many hours inside the prison walls, as well as on week days when his services can be utilized.

A prominent feature of Adj. Thompson's work is the care of needy families of prisoners who go to Frankfort to visit their relatives inside the prison walls or who seek to see the governor on pardon matters. Men, women and children often land in Frankfort, knowing no one and with little or no money. The welcome door of the Salvation Army Emergency Home is always open. The visitors are fed and given lodging and a ticket home. This is a part of the work funds for which are to be raised May 10-20.

THE GOOD AND THE BAD

If we remember the good things of life, existence will be the sweeter for us and those around us.

We are too prone to forget the good and dwell upon the seamy side of humanity. It diverts our thoughts from the uplift and plunges us into a gloom that is enhanced by our discontent.

In our own restricted community there is much that is good—there are people whose acts serve as an inspiration to all who would see the brighter side of life.

They are unobtrusive, but their influence is beneficial to all with whom they come in contact.

They see the sordid side of our existence, but they do not dwell upon it.

They see the brightness of the future, and they make it a part of their daily lives.

They radiate happiness and contentment wherever they go.

And because they see the better side of all people and all things, the sweetness of their own lives is seen by us.

It is a good thing to remember that those who think well of the world invariably find that the world thinks well of them.

The sun shines brightly in the lives of all who give it an opportunity to enter.

SOME GOOD ADVICE

Strengthened by Marion Experiences

Kidney disease is too dangerous to neglect. At the first sign of backache, headache, dizziness or urinary disorders, you should give the weakened kidneys prompt attention. Eat little meat, take things easier and use a reliable kidney tonic. There's no other kidney medicine so well recommended as Doan's Kidney Pills. Marion people rely on them. Here's one of the many statements from Marion people.

Mrs. J. R. Summerville, 309 E. Depot St., says: "Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills for slight disorders of my kidneys. From the results obtained, I am only too glad to recommend to anyone subject to a week or lame back." Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Summerville had. Foster-McLburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo N. Y. advt

NOTED CATHOLIC FOR SALVATION ARMY

Cardinal Gibbons Gives His Blessings to National Leaders in Their Work.

One of the most prominent prelates in the Catholic church in America is Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore. The Cardinal is a strong believer in and supporter of the Salvation Army. Cardinal Gibbons has just sent the following letter to Franklin K. Lane, ex-Secretary of the Interior, who is the national chairman of the Army's second Home Service Fund campaign drive, May 10-20:

"My Dear Mr. Lane:—Let me congratulate you on taking up the good work of helping that most deserving organization, the Salvation Army, in its 1920 appeal for maintenance."

"Its splendid self-sacrificing work not only during the world war, but for years prior thereto, has endeared the Salvation Army to everyone."

"May your work and that of your friends and associates in this national appeal meet with the fullest measure of success."

"My blessings and best wishes, faithfully yours, (Signed) 'J. CARD. GIBBONS, Archbishop of Baltimore.'"

The Salvation Army has given out its recipe for doughnuts. This is the formula from which all the crullers for the men of the A. E. F. were made. There is something magic in it, for it worked wonders. Here it is: Five cups flour, 2 cups sugar, 5 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1 saltspoonful salt, 2 eggs, ¼ cup milk, 1 table-spoonful lard.

Knead and cut and drop into boiling lard. The lassies who made these doughnuts in France say that a happy smile, added to the doughnuts at the time of serving makes them even more delightful.

a safe, speedy and permanent cure for you. I do not ask a cent of money UNLESS I CAN SHOW YOU THAT I CAN CURE YOU.

Weak, Nervous, Diseased—MEN

Nervous Debility

Men, whose manhood is diminishing—and there are thousands of them—owe it to themselves to take prompt steps to relieve a condition which ultimately leads to misery and helplessness. At no time in a man's life does he need more the service of a skilled specialist.

I give each and every case individual treatment and my original perfected methods are safe, sure and certain in bringing back strength and vigor. They build up the physical, mental and vital man, permanently stop all drains or vital losses, eliminate the wasted organs and soon restore the sufferer to ROBERT MANROOD.

Unnatural Discharges

Whether recent or chronic, gonorrhea, stricture, inflammation of the bladder and prostate, orchitis, hydrocele and varicocele in all their stages, forms and complications, cured quickly, permanently and without hindrance to business, by remedial treatment in many years of special practice.

REMEMBER: That what my treatment has done and is doing for others it will do for you.

In the vast catalog of the ailments afflicting poor, frail and erring humanity, none are fraught with such terrible consequences as cases of neglected or mistreated private diseases.

"606" Cures Blood Poison

Positive blood tests prove that "606" when introduced directly into the blood by the intravenous method, is a certain and absolute cure for all syphilitic blood and skin affections. One injection will usually do as much as a year's medicine via the stomach. If you have sore throat, enlarged glands, falling hair, sores, pimples and eruptions, rheumatic pains, Acne, Eczema, Psoriasis or any symptoms of blood disorder, either contracted or inherited, come to me and be permanently cured of it. For your offspring's sake—don't marry until you have taken "606." Accept only the Intravenous Method—the only right way to administer "606." The U. S. and other Government Hospitals endorse it.

Don't Give Up! See Me At Once!

Are you reaping the harvest of neglected, youthful sins, dissipation, excesses? Have private and blood diseases ravaged your system and undermined your already weakened vitality? Have weaknesses developed into organic disease? Are you prematurely old, and not the man you should be? Your manhood is on the decline and you will soon be lost. Awake to your true condition. I can restore you to perfect health and manhood with strong physical, mental and vital powers complete.

I Cure Stricture, Varicocele, Hydrocele, in One Treatment. No Knife, No Pain, or Loss of Time.

COULDN'T FORGET THE GREEN

MORALE AIDED BY MUSIC

Mrs. Flannigan's Neat Expression of Loyalty to Her Native and Her Adopted Land.

Fact Brought Out by the War Sound to Have Great Effect on Future Generations.

"Music makes morale," and so promptly music was enlisted in the war. Song leaders were appointed at all the training camps and immediately the glory of real music was spread before the millions of men as a reinforcement and aid to the idealism which had brought them into the war.

From then on the soldiers had music individually, in masses, in groups. They made it themselves, it was made for them by our finest artists. They had phonographs. They had records by the millions. The process of musical education was swift, and the pupils were apt. Now they have returned to us men who know good music as a large part of their life and entertainment, have become reasonably apt performers themselves in a great many cases. What must this mean to the country? It must mean that the people as a whole are readier than ever before to listen to it as well as to be taught it.

Unique Specimens.

CROPS SUITABLE FOR PROVIDING FOWLS WITH VARIOUS ESSENTIAL GREEN FEEDS

Sprouted Oats Nearly Ready to Be Pastured.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Most folks agree that a good salad needs chicken and the poultry family seems to be unanimous in the opinion that good chickens need salad. This story is about chicken salad as henery habits think of it—assuming that they do think.

During the spring and summer months a flock so located that it can range does not need to have any green feed supplied. When the birds are confined in a back yard or in any other limited space where there is little or no green material, they will not do their best unless supplied with all the salad material they can eat once a day.

The question of how to supply the best feed at the least cost is one each poultry keeper must decide largely for himself. It probably makes little difference what green feed is supplied, providing it is palatable. Clover, alfalfa, rape, rye, oats and Swiss chard are some of the crops often grown for this purpose. As it is necessary to shut the hens away from the crop when it is growing, various cropping plans are advocated. The poultry specialists in the United States department of agriculture recommend three plans to fit varying conditions and localities.

Front and Back Alternate Plan.

Back yard.—Permanent. Blue grass and clover or blue grass and alfalfa in sod. To be used as a range while crops are growing in the front yard. Large area desirable.

Front yard.—Temporary crops.

November 1 to April 1. Feed winter rye, vetch, crimson clover, etc.

April 1 to July 1. Grow rape, chard, lettuce, buckwheat.

July and August. Feed.

September 1 to November 1. Grow winter rye, vetch, crimson clover, etc.

Where it is thought best to grow temporary crops in both poultry yards the following rotation is an excellent one in some localities:

Date	Yard A	Yard B
Mar. 1-Apr. 30	Peas & oats	Feeding
Apr. 30-May 25	Feeding	Peas and barley
May 25-June 15	Dwarf Essex rape	Feeding
June 15-July 10	Feeding	Buckwheat and oats
July 10-Aug. 1	Buckwheat	Feeding
Aug. 1-Aug. 20	Feeding	Cow peas
Aug. 20-Sept. 30	Rye, vetch, clover	Feeding
Sept. 30-Dec. 1	Feeding	Rye and vetch

Special care must be taken lest the fowls return to the yard to which they have become accustomed.

The Third Plan.

In this cropping plan one of the suggested crops is to be grown in one yard while a crop is pastured in the alternate yard. Crops should be selected which will grow in the given district. The dates must be modified for extreme north or south.

Yard 1.—From April to July should be growing either oats, chard, lettuce, clover, vetch, sunflowers (shade and seed), cowpeas or rape.

Yard 2.—From April to July flock feeds on winter rye, winter vetch, crimson clover (New Jersey and South), or sweet clover.

Yard 1.—From July 1 to October 1 should be growing either oats, chard, lettuce, clover, vetch, cowpeas or rape.

Yard 2.—From July 1 to October 1 flock feeds on buckwheat, dwarf Essex rape, or flat turnips.

Yard 1.—From October 1 to April 1 should be growing oats, winter rye, winter vetch, sweet clover, or crimson clover.

Yard 2.—From October 1 to April 1 flock feeds on buckwheat, dwarf Essex rape, flat turnips or soy beans.

CALENDAR OF GRAZING CROPS FOR POULTRY PASTURAGE

PREVENT WILTING OF PLANTS

Water Should Be Poured Around Roots Before Dirt Is Filled in—Furnish Shade.

Plants take in moisture through their small feeding rootlets and discharge it through the surface of their leaves. As a result of the breaking of the roots in transplanting, the supply of moisture is cut off and the plants wilt, says the United States department of agriculture. To prevent the wilting of the leaves, water should be poured around the roots before the dirt is filled in; also, the tops of the plants should be shaded and protected from the wind to reduce the evaporation from the leaves.

BUY NOTHING BUT BEST SEED

Signs Displayed Reading "Seeds Sold for Feeding Purposes Only," Are Evasion.

Information received by the United States department of agriculture is to the effect that in some states dealers are displaying signs, "Seeds sold for feeding purposes only." Those signs are for the purpose of evading the state laws requiring a purity tag on bags of seeds sold. Seed sold "for feeding purposes only" is almost sure to be below standard. Buy nothing but tested seed, the department advises.

Small Calf's Appetite.

The small calf's appetite is usually larger than its capacity and it will invariably eat more than is good for it if given the chance.

Weak-Boned Hogs.

The weak-boned hogs, especially sows, that are so often found on some farms are the result of improper feeding.

Roughage for Brood Sows.

Roughage goes a long way toward making the brood sow healthy.

ORGANIZATION OF CROP LAND

Among Other Things Efficient Adjustment Will Depend on Supply of Labor and Its Cost.

Are the crop acreages of the farm adjusted to each other for highly profitable production?

The efficient adjustment or organization of the crop land will depend on, says the United States department of agriculture, the acreage necessary to supply the family and farm needs; the economic importance of enterprises adapted to the region, particularly as to market demand and the relation of prices to costs of production and marketing; the seasonal labor requirements of the enterprises; the supply of labor and its cost; the fertility of the soil; the topography of the farm; and the size of the farm.

POULTRY NOTES

Hen eggs weigh from 15 to 24 ounces to the dozen.

The substitute for an egg has not yet been invented.

Eggs lessen in sweetness and flavor as they grow in age.

Large-sized eggs command and hold trade even when sold by the dozen.

Because the bronze turkey is heaviest it is most popular among raisers, as the fowls are sold by weight.

As a rule, the males and females in a flock of geese select their mates before the breeding season and remain with those selected until midsummer.

Occasionally paint the roosts and nearby woodwork with some good liquid mite killer to destroy the little mites which otherwise prey on the fowls at night, causing loss of profits.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Terrible Tortures From Itching Skin Diseases

No Sure Relief Until the Cause Is Removed.

When the blood becomes infested with millions of tiny disease germs that attack the skin, then the fiery irritation and intense itching will remain with you until these germs are removed from the blood.

Genuine relief, therefore, can only be expected from a treatment that goes right to the seat of the trouble, and strikes at its cause. Such a remedy

S. S. S. has been used successfully in some of the worst cases of eczema and other skin disorders. S. S. S. is an excellent system-cleanser; it is not sold or recommended for Venereal Diseases.

For more than Forty Years Cotton Growers have known that POTASH PAYS

More than 11,651,200 Tons of Potash Salts have been imported and used in the United States in the 20 years previous to January, 1915, when shipments ceased. Of this 6,460,700 Tons consisted of which the cotton grower knew was both a plant food and a preventive of blight and rust,—with it came also 1,312,400 Tons of which has the same effect on Cotton, but which was used mainly in mixed fertilizers.

Shipments of both Kainit and Manure Salt have been resumed but the shortage of coal and cars and high freight rates make it more desirable to ship Manure Salt, which contains 20 per cent of actual Potash, instead of Kainit, which contains less than 13 per cent actual Potash.

MANURE SALT can be used as a side dressing on Cotton in just the same way as Kainit and will give the same results. Where you used 100 pounds of Kainit, you need to use but 62 pounds of Manure Salt, or 100 pounds of Manure Salt go as far as 161 pounds of Kainit.

MANURE SALT has been coming forward in considerable amounts and cotton growers, who cannot secure Kainit, should make an effort to get Manure Salt for side dressing to aid in making a big Cotton Crop.

Muriate of Potash

50 per cent actual Potash, has been coming forward also,—100 pounds of Muriate are equivalent to 400 pounds of Kainit or 250 pounds of Manure Salt.

These are the three Standard GERMAN Potash Salts that were always used in making cotton fertilizers and have been used for all these years with great profit and without any damage to the crop.

The supply is not at present as large as in former years, but there is enough to greatly increase the Cotton Crop if you insist on your dealer making the necessary effort to get it for you.

3,000 Men Join Army Weekly

At Present Rate of Enlistment
the 254,000 Personnel Will Soon Be Filled.

SOLDIERS NOW LEARN TRADES

Military Organization Becoming Vast Trade School—"Earn While You Learn" Is Popular—New Recruiting Policy.

Washington.—Surmounting the inroads of demobilization, the recruiting campaign begun early this year has brought the total strength of the regular army to within 35,000 of the 254,000 personnel authorized under the national defense act of 1916, according to latest war department figures. If the present rate of enlistment is maintained throughout the year, and nearly 3,000 men are being accepted weekly, it will more than balance losses through expired enlistments, furlough to the reserve and other causes.

Most of these enlistments, recruiting officers report, are by men anxious to take advantage of the army's vocational education, an "earn while you learn" system, to fit a soldier for a trade by the time he leaves the army. Last year 75,000 men were accepted who never before had been in the service. Nearly half of the enlisted men are going to school, and the army is becoming not a "university in khaki," but a vast military trade school.

Much of the instruction in technical subjects is given not by officers, but by civilian teachers, sent to the army in many cases by corporations desirous of employing trained men at the expiration of their enlistment. The war department has received communications from concerns who have sent untrained applicants for employment to the army for a year's enlistment and trade instruction with promises of jobs at the end of their service.

Farmers, musicians, stenographers, masons, bookkeepers, pharmacists, mechanics of all kinds, wireless and telegraph operators, printers, gas engine experts, even embalmers, are among the vocations taught. In large cantonments barracks are being transformed into machine shops, laboratories and school rooms. At Camp Dodge, Ia., where the Fourth division is stationed, there is a 200-acre farm where army students do practical work in agriculture and stock raising under the direction of Dean C. B. Waldron of the North Dakota agricultural college.

A committee from the Chicago Church federation visited Camp Grant, Illinois, the home of the Sixth division, the "Sightseeing Sixth," as its members in France called their division, which hiked from one sector to another without getting into action. The committee inspected the division's schools and returned to Chicago, reporting, "the aim of those who have this work in charge is to train men so effectively that at the end of their three years in the army they cannot afford to re-enlist."

Teaching Pharmacy to Men.

At Camp Pike, Ark., the home station of the Third division, which won its spurs at the Marne, a building has been erected to house the school of chemistry. Training in the dispensing and manufacture of drugs will be given, also instruction in the use of the microscope for the detection of impurities in drugs. Students who show the necessary proficiency will be given special tutoring for the examinations of the Arkansas state board.

Formerly, to learn a trade in the army, a man had to be assigned to the ordnance or signal corps, the air service or motor transport corps. Soldiers in such combat branches of the service as the infantry had few opportunities aside from fatigue duty, drill, guard duty and "bunk fatigue." In the "new army" men in all branches of the service not in the field have opportunity to learn trades of their own selection.

Following demobilization, when thousands of men chose to remain in the service, few recruits were obtained by recruiting depots. The recruiting service overlapped to some extent, parties sent out by regiments and divisions allocated to certain states competing with established recruiting stations. Then the new system of vocational training was instituted, followed by a drive for recruits beginning the middle of last January, and the recruiting service was properly co-ordinated.

Enlistments rose from 1,800 for the week ending January 24 to 2,800 acceptances weekly the latter part of March. At present one-third of the army may be enlisted for one year, about 85,000 men. Add to this 55,000 three-year enlistments expiring annually and the total number of men leaving the service annually is 140,000, figuring on the authorized strength of 254,000 under the national defense act. The present rate of enlistment should yield 145,000 annually, a surplus of 5,000 over expiring enlistments.

"The campaign begun January 19 of this year has been successful in every respect," said Maj. Samuel A. Greenwell of the recruiting publicity bureau, which sends out recruiting leaflets to all army recruiting stations. "The personal contact work of the general recruiting service and the parties sent out by authorized organizations followed the same instructions. They did not beg for recruits, they did not offer to send men around the world on a Cook's tour, and they did not tell prospective recruits they would be fought for by eager employers offering fabulous salaries. They received imperative orders that under no circumstances must they 'oversell' the army's attractions to obtain a recruit; they were told that the army wanted a very high class of young men, men who would appreciate and take advantage of the training and at the same time make the kind of soldiers that should represent our country."

"At the beginning of the campaign many civilian organizations offered their assistance. Chambers of commerce, Rotary clubs, American Legion posts, Veterans of Foreign Wars, ministers' associations and others did valuable work in arranging meetings where their own members and officers of the recruiting service explained the plans for the new army. Governors and mayors issued proclamations calling attention to army activities in their states and cities, and in many cases set aside special dates as "Army weeks."

Many branches of the service are over their authorized strength, pending possible increase by congressional action. The motor transport corps, the need of which was demonstrated in the war, is 100 per cent above authorized strength. Chemical warfare 122 per cent, medical department 152 per cent, quartermaster corps 112 per cent, and signal corps 123 per cent. Offsetting this surplus, the infantry is but 75 per cent of authorized strength, cavalry 81 per cent, field artillery 71 per cent and coast artillery 52 per cent.

Strength of Combat Units.

Restoration of the army to a peacetime basis shows many apparent differences in the strength of combat units such as infantry regiments. The national defense act provides for 65 infantry regiments, including the Porto Rican regiment, totaling 88,000 men, an average of 1,350 to the regiment. During the war an infantry regiment numbered over 3,000 men, and some infantry regiments, because of the emergency, must be maintained at over peacetime strength. The Eighth infantry, stationed at Coblenz and on the right bank of the Rhine, has 115 officers and 2,950 men. The Fifth infantry, also in Germany, has 75 officers and 2,330 men. Just back from Siberia, the Thirty-first infantry has 80 officers and 3,100 men. The Twenty-fourth infantry, along the border in New Mexico, has 62 officers and 3,485 men.

With the infantry only at 75 per cent of authorized strength, and the necessity of maintaining a number of regiments above a peace time basis, many regiments are far below the average strength, particularly the regiments back from France and made up when they returned, of casualties, replacements and men enlisted only for the emergency. The famous First division, now at Camp Taylor, Ky., has only 5,000 officers and men. The men of all the infantry regiments of this division wear the French fourragere looped over the left shoulder. The present strengths of these regiments are as follows: Sixteenth infantry, 35 officers 642 men; Eighteenth infantry, 37 officers, 680 men; Twenty-sixth infantry, 33 officers, 649 men; Twenty-eighth infantry, 34 officers, 626 men.

Some War Divisions.

Down at Camp Travis, Texas, is the Second division, which had the heaviest casualties of any division in France, and took one-quarter of the prisoners and artillery captured by the A. E. F. The marine brigade is no longer with this organization, and no infantry brigade has yet been assigned to its place. The total strength of the Second division is 211 officers and 2,956 enlisted men. Like the First division, the infantry regiments of the Second are proud wearers of the fourragere. The Ninth infantry, which fought in China and took the village of Vaux in a brilliant attack in the Chateau Thierry sector, has 8 officers and 372 men. The Twenty-third infantry, which fought alongside of the Ninth in 1912, in the Civil war and in France, has 39 officers and 337 men.

The Third division, which fought at the Marne, St. Mihiel and the Argonne-Meuse, has 113 officers and 2,705 enlisted men at Camp Pike, Ark. The Thirty-eighth infantry, which captured six German regiments and took 600 prisoners at the Marne in July, 1918, has 36 officers and 312 men. The Thirtieth infantry, which stormed Hill 204, west of Chateau Thierry, has 47 officers and 228 men. Of the other infantry regiments of the Third division, the Fourth has 39 officers and 352 men, and the Seventh 34 officers and 278 men.

The Fourth division, thrust into action for the first time near Chateau Thierry, is stationed at Camp Dodge, Iowa, with 245 officers and 1,577 enlisted men. Strengths of its infantry regiments are: Thirty-ninth, 31 officers, 136 men; Forty-seventh, 33 officers, 133 men; Fifty-eighth, 31 officers, 120 men; Fifty-ninth, 31 officers, 133 men.

In battle for the first time at St. Mihiel, the Fifth division is at Camp Gordon, Georgia, with 206 officers and 2,156 enlisted men. The Sixth division, which boasts of having done more hiking than any other A. E. F. division, is now at Camp Grant, with 277 officers and 3,227 enlisted men. The Seventh division, which arrived in France in time to hold the left bank of the Moselle river until the armistice, is at Camp Funston, Kansas, numbering 243 officers and 2,246 men. The total strength of the seven tactical divisions now stationed in this country, each of which would have a wartime strength of 28,000, is 20,770 officers and men.

Gives Till It Hurts.

New Castle, Ky.—A case of rare unselfishness has been brought to light here. When the families of Noah Pettit and Dave Roberts, near Flat Rock, were ill and no help came, their food gave out. Quintis Raxos, himself poor, supplied their larder until his, too, was bare, and he himself faced starvation.

HURT ALL OVER COULDN'T SLEEP

couraged, and at Times
Cared Little to Live.

Leavenworth, Ind.—Mrs. Hannah Peru, of this town, writes: "About six years ago I began the use of Cardui for female weakness. I suffered such fearful bearing-down pains at . . . It seemed like something was just pressing on the top of my head and it burned like fire. I was, indeed, a nervous wreck.

"For four years I couldn't do my housework. I was in bed most of the time. . . . I got so discouraged, and at times I wanted to die, I was in so much pain. At times I hurt all over. . . . At night I was restless and couldn't sleep. I had no appetite, in fact was a misery to myself and every one else.

"I continued in this condition until finally I began Cardui. . . . Took Cardui regularly until I took a number of bottles. It cured me. I cannot say too much for this treatment, and highly recommend it to others."

For more than forty years Cardui has proven beneficial to suffering women.

COUGHED FOR 2 YEARS ORDERED TO DENVER

Doctor said she couldn't get well in Illinois, but she did.

"I had a very bad cough for two years, all the time, day and night. Could sleep but little. I tried everything but got no relief. Finally my doctor said he could no more for me, that I had better go to Denver, as I couldn't live in Illinois. Then I tried Mils Emulsion. From the very first it helped me. By the time I had taken 15 bottles my cough left me entirely. I have gained in strength and flesh and am now in perfect health."

—Mrs. Alice M. Huntley, 182 No. Pearl St., Galesburg, Ill.

Build up your system and give it a chance to fight off disease. Mils Emulsion costs nothing to try and it has done the work for thousands of others. Mils Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physica. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

Price 50c and $1.00 per bottle. The Mils Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

DEW HAS VITALIZING EFFECT

Abundant Proof That It Possesses Invigorating Action That Affects Growth of Plants.

Dew is vitalizing, not entirely because it is water but because it possesses an invigorating action due partly at any rate to the fact that it is saturated with oxygen, and it has been stated that during its formation peroxide of hydrogen and some ozone are developed. It is not improbable that the peculiarly attractive and refreshing quality that marks the early-morning air has its origin in this way. The difficulty of inducing grass to flourish under a tree in full leaf is well known and is generally explained by saying that the tree absorbs the nourishing constituents of the soil or that it keeps the sunlight away from the grass and protects it from rain. It is doubtful whether any of these explanations is true, the real reason most probably being that the vitalizing dew cannot form upon the grass under a tree, whereas as a rule both rain and light can reach it.

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all druggists for 50 cents a large box."

Dear Sirs:—
"I was an untold sufferer from old running sore and ulcers. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars' worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 4 inches by 6 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again."

"You may use this to recommend your ointment, if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

PERU'S DRIFTING SAND DUNES

Plateau Shelf Has Strange Crescent-Shaped Formations That Are Packed Hard.

As one makes the ascent of the Andes from the Pacific port of Mollendo, Peru, following the line of the Southern of Peru railway, the cliffs to the divide is broken by two great steps or widespread shelves of desert or pampa.

On the first of these steps, about two hours' steep climb from the sea, and at an altitude of from four thousand to five thousand feet, are located the famous drifting sand hills of Peru. The plateau is here about twenty miles wide, the air thin and dry and no trace of vegetation to be seen, only these gigantic, crescent-shaped sand dunes, totting the sands as far as the eye can see.

Composed of fine gray crystal sand, they gleam white against the brown of the desert, and their horns point toward the prevailing south wind of this region. They are from fifteen to twenty feet in breadth across the thick part of the crescent and sometimes one hundred feet from horn to horn. So tightly is the sand packed that the feet of the horses or mules make little impression on it.

Unexplored Libya.

Italian Libya now comprises the two provinces of Tripolitana and Cirenaica and lies along the northern coast of Africa, between Tunis (French) on the west and Egypt on the east, in longitude from about 9 to 23 degrees east. The extremely northerly part of Libya is at about the parallel of latitude 33 degrees north; the southernmost point is unknown, as the territory runs south into the unmapped Sahara indefinitely.
