STORE

Oxfords for the Whole Family

One of the most important departments in our entire store is our shoe department. We are proud of the showing we are presenting to you for footwear for the summer months. You may be able to buy your shoes elsewhere but not the kind we have on display here. Compare our prices and quality with what you are offered and you are sure to make your purchase here.

Ladies’ Oxfords

Three Important Items were taken into consideration when we purchased our ladies’ oxfords. Style, quality, and price. We honestly believe that there is not a better nor more comprehensive line of ladies’ oxford shoes outside of the largest cities. The line was carefully selected and represents the very latest shapes, the best qualities in both materials and workmanship and we have priced them at a figure that will interest you. Courteous and attentive salespeople will be glad to show these oxfords.

Oxfords for Men and Young Men

We have a lot of good points that we could tell you about the big stock of men’s shoes and young men’s oxfords— about the different shapes you will find here and about the satisfaction you will have in knowing that you are well served—and best of all that the Oxford will deliver the goods when it comes to long service and won’t have that woe-be- todo appearance after you have worn them a few times. If you are men looking for real lasting satisfaction with your footwear this summer you will come here.

Our motto: "Not Satisfied Till You Are," works just as hard in our shoe department as it does anywhere else in our store.

Pull Together for an American Merchant Marine

President Roosevelt emphasizes the importance of an American shipbuilding program.

Everyday upon us as we must keep busy as a nation. Our merchant marine needs must be met. It is the duty of all of us to work in this direction. This country can only continue to grow if we have an American merchant marine. We must build our own ships and not rely on foreign countries to do this for us. For "An American Merchant Marine."
LADY LARKSPUR
By MEREDITH NICHOLSON

CHAPTER 1

In the charming little garden outside the cottage where I had my station as a young girl, there was a lovely larkspur. It was my favorite flower, and I would often spend hours there picking it and making arrangements with it. One day, while I was picking it, I came across a little girl who was also picking flowers. She looked rather forlorn, and I asked her what was wrong. She told me that she had been picked on by some boys who had been teasing her because of her appearance. I immediately took her under my wing and promised to protect her. We became great friends, and I taught her all about flowers and how to pick them. This became our little secret, and we would often meet in the garden to pick flowers and make arrangements. To this day, I value the memory of those happy days spent with my little friend in the garden.
