Like a Dog Barking at the Moon

It is well known that a dog always barks at the moon, but it is not easy to say why. Some say the dog is trying to bite the moon, but others believe it is just trying to show off. Whatever the reason, it is interesting to watch a dog bark at the moon.

DEADLY FOE OF LATE FALLS

Tuberculosis the one of the most effective enemies of farm life. It is a disease that robs the farmer of his best stock, and makes his livestock expensive.

Those who are familiar with the disease know that it is a highly contagious and fatal disease. It is caused by a germ which is present in the saliva of the sick animal.

There are several ways to prevent the spread of this disease, but the most effective method is to control the disease by the use of vaccines. These vaccines are made from the dried saliva of healthy animals and contain a small amount of the disease-producing germ.

It is important to consult with a veterinarian before using any vaccine, as there are several types available, and the wrong one can be dangerous.

TRAINING COURSES
OPEN FOR TRAINING CROSS COUNTRY RIDERS

For the benefit of the equine enthusiasts of the area, a training course is being offered. The course will cover the basics of cross country riding, including the techniques and strategies necessary to succeed in this challenging discipline.

The course will be held on weekends, and will be led by experienced trainers. Participants will have the opportunity to practice and develop their skills in a supportive and encouraging environment.

All interested individuals are encouraged to sign up, as spaces will be limited. Please contact the organizers for more information and to reserve your spot.
