MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED IN RACE FOR DODGE TOURING CAR

Nearly a Score of Young Ladies Nominated and Race Promises to be Very Close.

The opening week of the big subscription drive inaugurated on the Press has opened with a vim and nearly a score of the most popular young ladies of this section have been nominated, and although all will not make an active campaign for the valuable prizes to be given away, it is assured that enough will make the race to make this one of the most hectic battles ever staged in Western Kentucky. As yet some of the ladies are still in low gear in the big fight but enthusiasm is mounting high and by the first count of votes on next Wednesday, it is assured that several of the candidates will have lots of votes for the opening week. Candidates who have failed to get started should do so at once as the campaign only runs for one month and time lost can never be regained.

Largest Extra Vote Offer Closes 15th

The bonus offer, the largest extra vote offer to be allowed during the contest will come to a close at the close of business for the day on Wednesday September 15th. Up to and including this date an extra bonus of 50,000 votes will be allowed on each and every ten dollars in subscriptions turned in, making each subscription average three times as many votes as will be allowed during the closing period of the campaign. Thus a one year subscription which averages 15,000 votes during the opening period only counts 5,000 votes during the closing period of the campaign. It is readily seen therefore just how important it is that each and every subscription be collected and turned in on or before the close of this offer. In some smaller contests which have been inaugurated through this section as many or more votes have been allowed during the close as at the beginning and some people think this contest will be on the same basis. However all rules have been published, and as before stated, will be enforced. Each and every candidate may rest assured that no extra votes of any kind will be allowed during the closing period of the campaign.

Contestants May Still Enter

Ladies who desire to enter the campaign and have failed to do so should get their nominations in now as the polls close for nominations at the close of the bonus offer and no other nominations will be considered. None of the candidates have secured any commanding lead as yet and those who would be the winners of these valuable prizes should not wait till the last minute to enter but should get their nomination in at once. A nomination coupon is printed on this page today for the last time, and this, when properly filled out and sent in, entitles the holder to 25,000 votes. Prospective candidates should fill this out at once and send in, or forever kiss this long opportunity good bye. The Dodge Touring Car, chosen as first prize, has created favorable comment on all sides, everyone admiring its beautiful lines and powerful motor. It is indeed doubtful if any car could have been chosen which could have created more satisfaction on the part of the candidates, as the Dodge is known as the most endurable American car, and many cars, more expensive are not really in the same class as the Dodge.

LETTER FROM HENRY PARISH

I am glad to take advantage of this opportunity to compliment you on the wonderful improvement you have made in the Press during the months since the fire destroyed your old plant. Your printing is first class in every respect so far as I am able to see and this fact seems to be recognized by some of the best business houses in Evansville who are now awarding contracts to you for job printing.

I am always interested in news from any of Crittenden County. My annual visits to the farm near Francis with my mother are full of interest and much pleasure. I now expect to be there again the first part of October.

PROF. EVANS HERE

Prof. Charles Evans of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, arrived Sunday and is conducting the Teachers Institute which convened Monday.

Mr. Evans was formerly Superintendent of the city schools here for a number of years, having resigned several years ago and moved to Oklahoma, where he has been actively engaged in work. He was at the head of Oklahoma Normal for several years, having resigned to accept the presidency of Kendall College.

Mr. Evans is the author of a number of school text books.

He is always welcome here, where he numbers scores of friends among his former pupils.

LETTER FROM T. M. DEAN

The Crittenden Press was one of the main factors in winning the Road Bond election. Some fine letters were printed in it by prominent men in favor of it. Since the election the Editor has had several articles on good roads and a few "prods" at the commissioners for their failure to do something. The people have done a lot of talking and trying to find out why something was not started, but only one little article has been published from anyone regarding the entire subject, and that was what I had to say about the Bond issue being loaned to the state for a purpose somewhat different from the purpose put before the people by the Press and the best and most influential citizens of our county, before the election.

The Editor took my letter as a stab at the State Road, but I did not intend it so. I am for the state road knowing it does not touch my house by six long miles. I am willing that every cent of my road tax be given (or loaned) to building this road. But I do not like the idea of my reputation for old-fashioned honesty helping to get votes for good roads for the people in this end of the county, and then for me to vote to put them off for a time so long off that nobody has dared to guess at it so far.

I had some hopes that after my letter was published, some of the other commissioners would write and tell the people that they did all that could be done under the new conditions that had arisen since the vote was taken. But they have not, perhaps they believed the people they represented would be willing for the loan to the state while I knew very well the people in the end of the county were not.

I do not know myself who is right, since I found it was impossible to get the roads expected by the people. I could not decide what should be done. To look at it one way it looks like the whole thing was a fraud and that the people should be released from further payment of the road tax, but would not this be to say good bye to rock roads in Crittenden county for many years at least.

PERFECTLY SATISFIED WITH HIS FORDSON TRACTOR

Ray Oliver was recently asked what he thought about the Fordson tractor since he had had his long enough now to know what he was talking about. He said: "You may think of all the good things any one has said of a tractor and that is what I think of the Fordson. I have used mine for about everything that power can be used for around the farm and it has delivered the goods in each and every instance. That is pretty strong language but I mean every word of it."

NITROGEN FOR TOP DRESSING

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 3.—Experiments made have shown no gain in yield from the use of commercial nitrogen applied on wheat in the fall, according to the latest report made by the director of the Kentucky Experiment Station. Profitable gains have been made from the use of nitrogen as a top dressing on wheat where wheat follows corn. This application should be made in the spring as soon as growth begins and should be at the rate of approximately 100 or 200 lb of nitrate of soda or its equivalent, depending on the character of the soil and the condition of the wheat. The experiments have been conducted in order to answer the questions coming in annually to the Experiment Station as to whether commercial nitrogen can be profitably used on wheat and whether it should be applied in the spring or fall.

NEW FIRM ABOUT READY TO OPEN

The M. H. Cannan Co., who are to operate a men's and boys' furnishings store in the new building just back of the Marion Bank are now unpacking their merchandise and getting things in shape for their formal opening, date to be announced later.

A reporter for the Press dropped in on Mr. Cannan while he was working like the proverbial beaver yesterday morning, and he very courteously took the time to show him through some of the stock he had opened.

And everything in the store is new, right out of the manufacturers' and jobbers' stocks. Mr. Cannan says they have the only line of shoes in Marion that is complete, inasmuch as it is the only line that includes all lasts, even combination lasts. He says that if the folks who have been going to the city to get fitted in a shoe to actually fit them, not because they wanted to, but because they had to, will come in to their place of business, and get fitted there they sure will have to go to a very large city to get what they want. They really have a very remarkable line of shoes for a town the size of Marion.

The same thing might be said of their handkerchiefs, socks, caps, ties and shirts. They have a very comprehensive showing of high class merchandise, better than which is rarely placed on display anywhere.

The class of merchandise they have, coupled with the nice new building they are occupying and the popularity of the men who compose the firm assure them a very liberal patronage in this territory.

Mr. Cannan asked that he be quoted as saying, "We are not here to fight anybody. We believe that there is enough business in this territory for all of us, and owing to the fact that the line we will carry will be composed mostly of high grade merchandise that has heretofore not been obtainable in Marion, we do not figure that we compete to any great extent with any business here now. Of course we are here to make a living, and intend to get all the business we can honorably, expecting to dispose of our goods on the highest possible plane of merchandising, and to win our way by giving our public all that we possibly can for their money."

Mr. W. D. Cannan, senior member of the firm was for a number of years connected with the firm of Taylor and Cannan and is well known in this part of the state.

M. H. Cannan, "Medley" as most of his friends know him, has had a number of years experience in the men's furnishing line, and before returning to Marion was manager of the largest exclusive men's furnishing store in Bowling Green.

Charley Stuart will assist the Cannans in taking care of their trade, and has a large number of friends who will be glad to see him "grow up" with the new firm.

KENTUCKY COAL MEN PLEAD FOR PRICE QUIZ DELAY

WASHINGTON—State Senator C. M. Harris of Versailles; J. C. Layre, Harlan, and H. H. Morris, representing the Northeastern Kentucky Association; Emil Helburne, representing the Southern Appalachian field; E. L. Douglas of Cincinnati, and A. L. Allies, representing the Hazard field, are in Washington to take up with the Federal Government the prices charged for coal mined in Eastern Kentucky. They represent more than seventy-five Kentucky coal operators.

Their call to Washington is the result of the call of a Federal Grand Jury in Covington to investigate charges of profiteering in coal. The coal operators requested United States Attorney T. F. Slattery of the Eastern Kentucky District to hold up the investigation pending Supreme Court action on the constitutionality of the Lever Act, which request was refused by Mr. Slattery.

The delegation of operators' representatives called at the Department of Justice today and it is understood will renew their request that the investigation be held up temporarily on the ground that since there is no fixed price for coal it is not possible for them to determine what the exact price should be. The government, it is said, will be asked to fix the price of coal mined in Eastern Kentucky.

At the Department of Justice today it was said that no action has been taken on the request of the Eastern Kentucky operators, but that the department will communicate with District Attorney Slattery on the matter.

MAY START KITTY LEAGUE NEXT YEAR

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky.—The baseball spirit is once more awakening in the famous old Kitty circuit and a movement is on foot to put the league back on its feet for 1921.

In the past the Kitty has attracted its full share of attention and has put up a good brand of the national pastime. It has also been a fine field for developing new players, and several of those now in fast company got their start in the Kitty.

The demand for baseball has found expression in the patronage accorded the fast independents which have been playing all over this part of the state. Cairo, Owensboro, Hopkinsville, Paducah, all former members of the Kitty circuit, have such teams this year and games have drawn extraordinarily large crowds. There has been keen rivalry especially between Marion and Princeton and Morganfield and Madisonville, and several championship games have been suggested to determine the best team in the bunch.

If the old Kitty is revived next season there will probably be Sunday games played nearly all over the circuit. In the old league Sunday games were permitted in only about half of the towns and all these games had to be played in those towns. Here in Hopkinsville Sunday ball is not permitted in the town, but games have been played just outside and they have drawn tremendously. Other towns have done likewise with similar results and if the Kitty is reorganized the Sunday games will probably be featured generally.

I. C. GETS NEW ENGINES

PADUCAH, Ky.—New railroad locomotives for use on the Illinois Central lines in this territory will be received at Paducah shops in the near future, it has been announced. Fifty new engines to be placed on the Paducah to Memphis division and other sections will come from Eastern locomotive works. Ten of the new locomotives will be used between Paducah and Fulton. Additional stalls are being built at the Paducah roundhouse and other changes made to accommodate the new engines. The addition of the engines will be an important step in the railroad development of the city.

GET THE HEN HOUSE READY FOR WINTER

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 3.—"I do not know whether it's a Ben Davis or a Baldwin" said a farmer in the eastern part of the state when asked what kind of poultry house he had. This condition prevails on entirely too many farms throughout the State. The old saying that any old place is good enough for the chickens has become a thing of the past.

If the old apple tree is not used some shed on the place is used for the chickens. Neither of these are of any avail as far as getting the best of production. In the case of the apple tree the birds are given no protection from the weather whatever. In the case of the shed one of two kinds is generally found. One of these will be a house with a very few if any windows. Those having windows will generally have all the glass broken and have sacks in the place of glass. The other kind usually has no windows whatever and cracks on every side of the house. One can readily see that neither of these houses afford conditions suitable for a laying flock. Where the windows are stuffed with gunny sacks the birds get no fresh air except when the door is opened at feeding times. The birds will be huddled together on the roosts most of the day because it is too dark in the house for them to see. The house is damp and the roof covered with frost due to a lack of sun-light or ventilation.

A very similar condition is found in the other house in regard to the activity of the birds. In place of no ventilation the house is flooded with drafts which cause a great deal of disease and other trouble. In both cases one finds a large number of birds with bad colds and roup. In neither case will there be many eggs produced during the winter months.

If the reader of this article belongs to the class of those mentioned above he will find it advantageous from the standpoint of production and health of the birds to give them proper housing. By proper housing is meant a house which has plenty of sunlight and ventilation.

MARION BANK IN NEW BUILDING

Undoubtedly Have Most Beautiful Banking Quarters in This Part of the State

Yesterday being a legal holiday, and therefore closing day for all banks in the United States, the Marion Bank took advantage of the opportunity and moved into their new building.

On the morning of the thirteenth day of June 1887 the Marion Bank opened its doors for business. The following well known men were the first officers and stockholders: R. W. Wilson, President; W. C. Carnahan, Cashier; H. H. Loving, Assistant Cashier; R. L. Moore, Sr., Chairman Board of Directors; J. W. Blue, Sr., Attorney. The first board of directors were: R. W. Wilson, W. C. Carnahan, R. L. Moore, Sr., and H. H. Loving.

Since that time the following men have guided the destinies of the institution: as presidents; W. C. Carnahan, Dr. R. L. Moore and Sam Gugenheim. As cashiers: H. H. Loving, and T. J. Yandell. As Chairman of the Board: R. L. Moore, Sr., J. W. Blue, Sr., R. L. Moore, Jr., H. H. Loving, T. J. Yandell and J. D. Threlkeld.

The present officials are: J. W. Blue, Jr., President; Sam Gugenheim, Vice President; J. V. Hayden, Second Vice President; T. J. Yandell, Cashier; J. V. Threlkeld, Neil Guess, and Katherine Yandell, Assistant Cashiers; May Cook, Book Keeper.

That these men in past years have as officers and directors brought the bank safely through two severe panics safely, is a compliment on the stock holders who chose them to lead the bank through those troublesome times in the national world.

That the present set of accommodating and courteous officers are succeeding so well in taking care of the bank's affairs is only following in the foot steps of those well known men who went before them. Every officer that has ever been connected with this bank has been a man of the highest standing in the community.

ty and respected by all who knew them. Many of them will pass on down in traditional history as the pioneers who had much to do with making Crittenden county what it is today. The officials of today are in every way worthy of their banking fore fathers and there is hardly anyone in this large community that does not know of them and of their high standing in the community.

WIN CLOSE GAME FROM ROSICLARE

Yesterday our Marion Reds played Rosiclare, Ill., on the home lot and won it to the tune of three to two. Rosiclare staged a little rally in their half of the ninth inning and things looked pretty dangerous for about a minute. Fireworks for a couple of minutes and the visitors had scored two and had the tying run on third base with one out.

Here is where Conyer showed his grit and coolness and in a tight place—merely struck out the next two men and the game was over.

The outstanding features of the game were Conyer's pitching and Kimsey's home run over among the tombstones. Loyd also lined out a couple of beauty hits, both splashing the water for two bases. He added a single to his string, making three for the afternoon. Oliver was again in a Marion uniform, playing the outfield, accepting his only chance very neatly and getting one clean bingle.

SUGAR AT 15 CENTS

NEW YORK—Announcements were made of the bringing of prices for refined sugar to about the same basis at which "second hand" or speculators' stocks recently have been selling.

The Federal Sugar Refining Company announced a new reduction of a cent a pound, making its price for fine granulated "fifteen cents a pound less 2 percent."

Arbuckle Brothers did not change their list price, although they announced they were offering limited amounts of fine granulated at 15c a pound. This is sugar that has been bought by speculators or others who have returned it to refineries to be "sold at the best price obtainable."

THE CRITTENDEN PRESS

Marion, Ky., Sept. 7, 1920.

By W. F. and W. P. HOGARD.
Miss Leaffa Wilborn, News Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
$2.00 per year cash in advance

How would you like to journey to the nearest city for a pound of sugar, or a yard of muslin, or a spool of thread, or a smoke? And how would you like to make the trip when you need a prescription filled in a hurry, with death running you a race?

You would make some noise if forced to such an extremity—and then more noise.

You would say—and justly so—that a town in which you cannot buy a pound of sugar, or a yard of muslin, or a smoke, or even get a prescription filled, is a mighty poor excuse for a town and not worth living in.

Yet our merchants can only afford to keep these little things for your convenience as long as you buy other things from them.

It is not doing this town any good to buy the little things here and then chase off to the city or send to a catalogue house when you want something on which the merchant has a chance to make a dollar.

Nether is it doing you any good, for the prosperity of each citizen is dependent to a large extent upon the prosperity of the whole.

We are not telling you something you do not know.

We are simply refreshing your memory in hopes the time may come when our people will conclude that a town that is worth living in is worth trading in.

That's all.

There are unmistakable indications of a coming change in our economic condition, and this, we hope, will bring many thousands of our wandering boys back to the farms.

Banks throughout the country are tightening up on loans, and are calling in those made for speculative purposes.

The public is ceasing to buy as extravagantly as of yore, with the result that manufacturers are of necessity curtailing their output.

This is throwing thousands of men out of employment, and many of them are experiencing difficulty in finding other sources of earning a livelihood.

As a rule the farm hand who rushes off to the city is the least experienced in those trades, and it is but natural that he should be the first to be laid off.

What more sane course could he pursue than to return to the farm, where he is an expert and employment is always waiting?

Speed the return of the wandering boy. He is welcome before he arrives.

Joy reigns in the heart of the American housewife.

She is mightily pleased—even tickled—and all because of sugar.

Every day she reads in the papers of how the falling sugar market is squeezing the profiteering gamblers who loaded up on that staple and have been withholding it from market in order to compel her to pay exorbitant prices and clean up fortunes for themselves in a few months time.

She reads that many of these gambling hoarders have lost large sums of money through the slump in price, others are in financial distress, and some are on the verge of ruin.

And she smiles.

Their frantic wails are as sweet to her ears as is the taste of honey to a hungry bear.

Joy be with you sister. Laugh on and laugh heartily.

We laugh with you.

Brains are of little value, unless a fellow has common sense enough to apply them.

Time was when no one ever thought the country would go dry; or that women would be allowed to vote, or that—but, shucks, now-a-days we never know what is going to happen next.

If the job is harder than you tho't it would be, then the logical thing to do is to work harder than you expected.

The fellow who is too indifferent to vote can now remain at home and wash dishes while his wife goes to the polls and performs her duty as a citizen.

When you feel that it is unwise to tell even part of the truth you might compromise by telling the whole of it.

"Safety first" is a good slogan, but "safety always" would be a better one.

Make a practice of surmounting the little problems of life and there will be no big ones to bother you.

Keep your eyes and ears open, and your brain active, and your hands moving, and some day you may be recorded as a success in life.

Any person can give good advice, but it's quite a different thing to set a good example.

Life is full of disappointments only to those who permit themselves to feel disappointed.

If we ever reach the point where automobiles are run on wind some politicians will outdistance themselves.

If you don't like the bad luck that is pursuing you, kick it into the discard and hitch onto a better kind. No one is preventing you.

When you learn to depend upon yourself in all things you will no longer worry over what others may do.

FORDSON

TRADE MARK

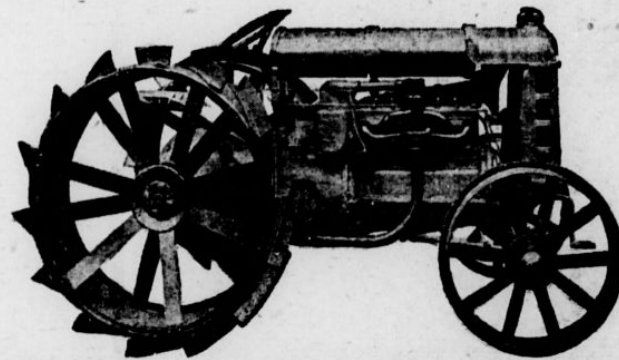

Farm Tractor

When Henry Ford set about building the Fordson tractor he had a thorough understanding of just what it should be and what it should do. His early life on the farm gave him a deep insight into the daily life of the farmer; his mechanical genius saw the type of tractor needed. He began work on a farm tractor thirty-five years ago, and for more than twelve years he experimented over more than 7,000 acres of land in different kinds of soil, with different crops.

So he built the Fordson. It is so simple that a school-boy can operate it. It is low in first cost. It is lowest in operating cost and Fordson parts and Fordson service are always to be had promptly from the dealer.

The Fordson is a profitable investment. It can be used every working day in the year. It is an inexpensive power plant that will lighten your farm work. It has proven its worth on more than one hundred thousand farms not only in operating implements in the fields but in belt and pulley work. And it doesn't eat when idle.

Don't delay ordering your Fordson tractor. The demand is greater than the supply.

"Why," replied the editor, "in the very first chapter you make the old man turn purple with rage, the villain green with envy, the hero turn white with anger, the heroine turn red with confusion and the coachman turn blue with the cold."—T. What Appealed to Robert. To which Robert responded, "Why, daddy, I don't need to look at his face—but he's got the best legs on the ball team."
