HARDING OVERWHELMINGLY DEFEATS GOVERNOR COX

Probably Will Receive the Largest Electoral Vote Ever Given in History of Nation.

KENTUCKY IS DEMOCRATIC

Senator Beckham is Returned To Senate For Another Term.

While returns yesterday are generally conceded that the Republicans carry the contest, Harding and Cox have earned President and Vice President of the United States the names of William W. and A. Marshall, Democrats. It has been a hard fought contest, not only between the two candidates and their followers on the state line, but they have been fought out in many parts of the South and the middle states.

The following states cast their electoral votes to-day: Arkansas, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

MARYLAND--Universal white suffrage was adopted in this state for the first time yesterday. The votes cast were declared, thereby making Maryland a true democracy.

Carroll Roche approached the task of running a campaign in Maryland with the same thoroughness as in Pennsylvania. He had every inch of the state staked out, every possible road to success charted, and every possible vote counted. A strong organization is the key to the Cox campaign in Maryland, and the state is the one to watch in the interest of his cause.

VIRGINIA--Senator Beckham and President Harding are elected. Senator Beckham is returned to the Senate for another term.

Our Next President

M. H. CANNAN CO.

The campaign of M. H. Cannon has been a close one, the two candidates running neck and neck for the last few weeks. The vote was very close, and it is difficult to say which candidate has the lead. The final tally is expected to be close, and the election will likely go to the Supreme Court for decision.

CHAPTER IV—Continued

Last time we were on the enterprise and I was telling you about the first day's work and how the driver was put in the hands of our guide. Now it is time to come to him to inspect and see for himself the wonderful valley that we had been talking to all day. He was quite impressed with the view and the beauty of it. He was just about to start up a hill when he suddenly stopped and asked if we could not take another look at the river. We, of course, could not refuse him, and so we went back to the river and inspected it from a different angle. The driver was quite satisfied with what he saw and said that he would take his time going through the valley.

He was a fine man, with a broad face and a kindly manner. He had been in the mountains for many years and knew the area quite well. He was a good driver and we were all very pleased to have him with us.

As we continued our journey, the driver pointed out many interesting features of the valley. He told us about the different types of vegetation and the unique wildlife that could be found there. He was quite knowledgeable and we all learned a great deal from him.

Finally, after a few hours of driving, we reached the end of the valley. The driver turned the car around and began to make his way back to the plantation. We all felt that it had been an excellent day and that we had seen some of the most beautiful scenery that we had ever seen.

It was a wonderful experience and we all agreed that we would return to the valley in the future. The driver promised to take us on another trip through the valley and we were all looking forward to it.

The end of the story was that we all had a great time and that we would return to the valley in the future. The driver promised to take us on another trip through the valley and we were all looking forward to it.

The story was a wonderful experience and we all agreed that we would return to the valley in the future. The driver promised to take us on another trip through the valley and we were all looking forward to it.
