FAMOUS SINGER COMING TO MARION

It is with some degree of pleasure to announce that Ada Jones the famous singer who for so many years has been loved by the American people through the songs she has sung on the Edison, Columbia, Victor and other talking machines, is coming to Marion in person.

Ada Jones was the first woman in the world to successfully make records for a talking machine. She is traveling for a Lyceum Circuit in New York City and her program is said to be one of the best offered on the different lyceum courses.

When Ada Jones comes to Marion she will be accompanied by her own pianist, her own violinist and a magician who travels with the company. It goes without saying that the people of Marion and Crittenden county will be anxious to see and hear this woman who has made such a name for herself in the world of music.

The program will be given at the School Auditorium for the benefit of the Marion School Improvement Fund.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

A surprise birthday dinner was given at the country home of Mrs. Ida Hill on Saturday, February 12, it being the 45th anniversary of her birth. All of her children except Press, and several of her friends and neighbors were present. In hearing of similar surprises being given other people Mrs. Hill had remarked that she knew nothing like that could ever be pulled over on her. Everything was planned and carried out so that Mrs. Hill did not suspect anything until she arrived about ten o'clock to find the room full of people.

Her pastor, Mr. J. R. King, with twenty-nine others ate dinner there. Everything from fried chicken to the best cakes ever baked adorned the table.

After spending the afternoon visiting and talking over old times in general, the crowd departed wishing Mrs. Hill many happy returns of the day.

Mr. D. W. Stone reports he has a large peach and apple orchard just beginning to bear. Besides marketing his fruit, he has a cannary and puts up quite a good deal for which he finds a ready market.

YOUNG MAN PASSES AWAY

John Rudy Nimmo, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nimmo, passed away last Thursday morning between five and six o'clock. He had been ill for seven months, having been taken with typhoid fever during the early part of the summer from which he never recovered.

Rudy was twenty years, seven months and twenty days old. He left June 16, 1919 for Detroit Michigan, where he held a position until seven months ago. He was taken ill at that time and returned home.

Rudy had been a member of the Christian church for some time and had expressed several times during his illness his readiness to go. He was a boy with estimable character and had many friends.

The funeral took place at the residence of his parents on North Main Street Friday at one P. M., Elder S. S. Jones, of Sturgis, officiating. Interment followed directly afterward at the Maple View Cemetery.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nimmo, and two brothers, W. C. and Joseph.

METHODIST REVIVAL

The revival began at the Methodist church last Sunday morning. There were large crowds Sunday morning and evening despite the deep snow and cold weather. The religious fervor continues to intensify. All the denominations are attending and taking part in the meeting.

Rev. G. P. Dillon, the pastor, is doing the preaching. He preaches a plain simple gospel with unction and power and the people hear him gladly. Some are being saved this early in the meeting. But few men get such a grip on the people of a community as Brother Dillon has on the people of Marion.

Our very own Billy Yates has charge of the music. He knows how to get a crowd to sing and is a charming singer himself. He is easily one of the greatest leaders of song on the continent. Then the Marion people are musicians, and with the large choir and the instruments being used, they are rendering beautiful music.

The meetings continue indefinitely. Rev. J. R. King of Blackford was in the city Tuesday.

RETURN FROM WASHINGTON D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Loyd, accompanied by their son, C. F. Loyd of Washington, D. C., arrived in Marion Sunday. Mrs. Loyd is very ill of diabetes. Mr. Loyd, a former Chief of Police of this city and one of the best, became paralyzed in his left side on December 19 of last year. Both Mr. and Mrs. Loyd are in a serious condition due to their illness. They will make their home on Bellville Street.

Mr. C. F. Loyd, their son, returned to Washington, D. C., Tuesday.

CONTEST AT MORGANFIELD

The C. I. A. Declamatory and Oratorical contests were held at Morganfield Tuesday evening. The contests were held in the court house and were well attended by visitors as well as the home people. All the schools were represented and a delightful and educational program was given.

The winner in the Declamatory Contest was Miss Lydia Anderson, who represented Sturgis and who resides at Blackford. Her subject was "The Reprisal."

Clarence Herron of Clay was awarded the medal in the oratorical contest. His subject was "The Swing of the Pendulum." Both winners and losers acquitted themselves very creditably in the two contests.

Miss Roberta Moore and Calvert Small were the representatives from Marion. They both deserve a great amount of praise.

The special train that carried the Marion and Sturgis crowd of rooters to Morganfield left Marion about five o'clock with about one hundred loyal followers of the Blue and White on board and returned after the contests.

The judges in the contests were Supt. Gatten of Madisonville; Geo. Robinson, of Murray; and Mr. Matthews of Livermore.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our grateful thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their constant and loving ministry to us in the days of anxiety and bereavement. To the W. O. W. for their kind words and deeds rendered in those dark days; also to Dr. Clement for his wise and attentive service; and to Bro. Jones for his presence and words of comfort.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nimmo and sons

FINLEY MAY RUN

The Madisonville Messenger, under the head of "Republican Politics" says that the Hon. Thos. E. Finley and County Attorney Letcher E. Fox, one or both, may oppose the incumbent Charles Ferguson for Commonwealth's Attorney. If both should run, Mr. Ferguson would no doubt win easily.—Princeton Leader

Society

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club met with Mrs. E. C. VanPelt on Wednesday afternoon. The program for the afternoon was "Thomas Gray and his poem, The Elegy on the Country Church Yard." At the close of the program an interesting talk was made by Prof. R. E. Jagers.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

John Wilson of the Piney section was pleasantly surprised on Thursday of last week with a big birthday dinner. About forty people assembled at his residence bringing all kinds of good things to eat. The occasion was the 87th birthday of Mr. Wilson. He was born and raised in Crittenden county and has lived here all his life.

After spending a pleasant day the friends and relatives who had assembled at his home returned to their homes wishing him many more happy days.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Definite announcement was made Saturday by President elect Harding that Charles E. Hughes of New York and Republican nominee for the presidency four years ago, had been offered the position of Secretary of State for the next administration and that he had accepted.

The county Grand Jury of Campbell county issued a statement last week to the effect that either the police of Newport, Ky. or the gamblers of that city must go. The report denounced the police for not giving evidence to the grand jury. The jury left it to the police to decide which must vacate.

Telephone rates have been reduced in Larue county due to a settlement between the Larue Telephone Co. and an association of farmers who were to establish an independent system.

In a recent issue of the Courier-Journal a table giving a list of automobile and truck licenses issued in all the counties of the state was published. This table showed that Crittenden county has 351 licensed automobiles and 27 trucks. There are 73 counties in Kentucky that have more automobiles than Crittenden. In Clay, Knott and Leslie counties, there is not an automobile or a truck. Jefferson county leads the list with 16,172 cars and 4,611 trucks. The total number of licenses issued in Kentucky was 99,383 automobiles and 13,245 trucks.

Six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Campbell of Hanson, Ky., was killed by an L. & N. train at noon last Thursday.

Charles Miller, colored, died at Sturgis Sunday night from the effect of a gun shot wound inflicted by Marshall A. W. Omer when Miller started to run after being arrested for boot legging.

It is estimated that sixty percent of Kentucky's 881 coal mines are idle.

Webster and Muhlenberg counties both have women candidates for office.

Thirty-six Mexican quail are to be placed on farms in Hopkins county by the State Game and Fish Commission. County Judge Crick says they will be placed with reliable farmers so that they will be protected and allowed to multiply.

The Graded School at Smithland will close March 1 unless the citizens of that place raise a sum sufficient to run the school until May 1.

Kentucky's whisky tax law, imposing a tax of fifty cents a gallon on whisky in bonded ware houses in the state is constitutional, according to a decision of the court of appeals. If the decision is upheld by the higher courts, state officials estimate the tax will produce $15,000,000. This money is to be used for road purposes.

Mrs. Nancy Jane Smith of Hopkins county was burned to death last Friday. It is believed her death was caused by her clothing catching fire from an open grate. Her charred remains were found by her nephew, with whom she lived.

It is reported that a timber wolf is killing stock in the Ashbyburg section of Hopkins county. Several hogs and other live stock have disappeared and though no one has seen the animal it is believed that it is a timber wolf.

Late reports have it that Harry M. Daugherty has been offered the position of Attorney General by President-elect Harding and that he has accepted. Mr. Daugherty was campaign manager during the late presidential race.

The recent snow storm was very heavy in the New England states and in the mountainous parts of Virginia and Maryland. Snow was 16 inches deep in several states. There were ten deaths in New York as result of the storm.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL VOTE

Elsewhere in the Press you will read an election call made by the County Judge at the instance of the Marion School Board. This election is to be held on Saturday, March 5, at the different voting places in Marion. The election will be open and no secret ballot used.

The purpose of this election is to vote funds sufficient to build a new high school. A high school building has been needed in Marion for many years and many trials have been made to get a building and much has been said about the subject. But now it seems that we are really to have a building. The present building, as everyone knows, is wholly too small for the work that must be done, and it does not need an expert to see that the Board of Education is taking the only logical step to secure better conditions.

There are three things for Marion citizens to do in this: they must vote enough funds to build this building and pay for it while they are using it or they must wait until they collect enough taxes to create a sinking fund sufficient to build, or they must do without a school. They can vote on Saturday March 5 for the funds and get the school immediately, in less than a year. But if they wait until enough funds are collected from taxation to build it, they will have to wait 25 years for the building. If they wait until they collect enough to build, every child in Marion will have grown to manhood and womanhood before the school comes, whereas if the school funds are voted now, Marion children will get the benefit of the money as it is being paid.

SWINGING CHURN IS FAVORED

Durability of Homemade Device is Measured in Terms of Half a Lifetime—Cost is Small.

Consult your thrsmith, follow the specifications as outlined by Miss L.
Dorman, a farmettee of Mississippi, and the results will be a swing churn
—a product that is at once new, sanitary, and a labor-saver. It is a homemade device, its durability is measured in terms of half a lifetime, and the cost is negligible.

For a churn of two and one-half gallons capacity, obtain a heavy quantity of block tin and shape it in an 18-by-20-inch square. Pierce it on 2-inch legs, arrange a handle for each end as propellers, and carve a 6-inch opening through the top for pouring the cream.

The covering to the opening fits snugly on the inside, like an old-fashioned bucket lid. A substantial wire handle is soldered at each end of the churn, with a ring in the center. One end of a cord is passed through the ring and the other fastened to another ring or hook in a beam overhead.

Ready for operation, the swinging device can be adjusted to any height.
A small child can operate the churn, which is shoved back and forth. The sudden impact of the cream against the churn affords the friction for making the butter.—S. R. Winters in Popular Science Monthly.

OBITUARY

Thomas Elson Griffith, son of Jno.
and Ann Elson Griffith, was born in Lewis Co., Ky., January 11, 1843.
His mother moved to Crittenden when he was about eleven years old.
At that age he became the dependence of the family for support.
There were three sisters, Mrs. Macena Minner, Mrs. Kit Springs and Mrs. Martha Champion, the latter of whom still lives.

He was married to Miss Finie M.
Witherspoon, April 17, 1872. Five children were born to them, Alice George, Joe, Guy and Walter, three of whom still survive; Mrs. Alice Hatcher and Guy Griffith of Marion, Ky., and Walter Griffith of Marion Ill.

He joined Siloam church and at the age of twenty-five years was appointed steward, in which capacity he served for fifty years. He always furnished the sacrificial elements for the church at his own expense, and many times when at the end of the year his pastor's salary was not fully paid, he completed the payment from his own purse.

God called him home January 8, 1921. When the news of his death spread over the country, many hearts were saddened, for he had been the friend of many. Kind and tender-hearted, he was ever a friend to those in need of a friend. Other than his own children said "He was a father to me."

He was a successful farmer and invested much of the fruits of his success in the interests of the Kingdom, while not possessing material riches, he had laid up treasures in Heaven and was rich toward God.

The funeral service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. O. M. Capshaw, after which his body was laid to rest in Love Cemetery. He will be missed by his family, his friends and his church, but his influence is eternal.

We thank God for his good and noble life. Those who sorrow, we commend to Him who said, "I am the Resurrection and the Life."

Country Aspects In New York City

End of Manhattan island.

CONJURE up the picture presented to the average man by the words "New York City" and it's dollars to the doughnuts that made the Salvation Army famous that the picture will be a conglomeration of skyscrapers, crowded tenements, and thronged and narrow streets. Yet the New York City as the city man knows it is chiefly none of these; it contains productive truck farms of 100 acres or so; rough, rocky precipices that would do credit to a mountain country, bits of exquisite wooded scenery, spots so overgrown with underbrush as to be all but impenetrable, acres of rich pasture land where graze peaceful, contented cows browsing on a portion of Mother Earth whose price per square foot runs into large figures—all these and more may be found within the 300-odd square miles of the wonder city, by whomsoever has eyes to see and who knows his New York, says the Christian Science Monitor.

Within its confines are mercantile establishments which are a marvel of completeness, comfort, and ingenuity, and only a few short miles away are country crossroads general stores which would look more in place in Fodunk Corners. From the tower of the great office building, served by so many postmen each day that it is sometimes less than a half hour between deliveries of mail, you can on a clear day view outlying communities, all within the greater city, where the mail service is so truly rural and provincial that the western farmer with his rural route box has all the advantage. Here are found more variety and contrast, more lights and shadows, more rich and poor, more congestion contrasted with splendid isolation than could be found anywhere else in America within many a day's journey.

Site of Old Fort George.
To the city man one of the most satisfying views, a vista which never loses its charm or variety, is the broad area which greets the eye at the historic site of old Fort George in upper Manhattan. When reached by the subway, the visitor in alighting at the 191st street station platform is at once aware that he is deep below the surface of the ground. From the vaulted roof of the "tub" he hears the drip, drip of water from deep underground springs that will not be closed and which all human ingenuity has thus far been unable to cope with. To the left he sees the entrance to New York's famous tunnel street, a connection hollowed out of solid rock to the roadway of upper Broadway, which here runs deep down in the valley between the two towering rocky spines of the northern end of the island. Then taking the elevator, the impression of depth is confirmed and the visitor goes up and up and up until the surface is reached nearly 200 feet above the level at which he alighted from the train.

Vista of Hills and River.
A short walk brings one to the site of Fort George, whence the country for miles around is seen laid out in its wonderful variety and charm. But before one has opportunity to give it more than a passing glance there is a rumble and a roar, and almost beneath one's feet there rushes a heavy subway express out of the rocky hillside to continue its journey above the travel of the streets of the valley instead of below, so very far below, one's feet. As the long train, so far beneath that it seems almost a toy, winds its snaky way over the elevated structure, from station to station and thence out of sight, one finds opportunity to regard other more beautiful and less noisy features of the view.

Turning his eyes away from the valley, where lie the tier upon tier of apartment houses, their roofs so far below him that they are the noisy cars, autos, and trucks are easily forgotten, and looking instead at wooded hillside and glimpse of the broad waters of the Hudson, with the headlands of the majestic Palisades in the distance, it is easy for the city man to imagine that he is no longer in the great city, but far away in some distant corner of the country. There are no houses to mar the view, only the Billings establishment which occupies the spot of Fort Tryon, the perfect harmony of which only enhances the effect.

Truck Farms on Broadway.
A flat-wheel trolley car in Broadway, far below calls attention back from the mountain solitude, with the beautiful glimpse of broad river through the valley, and brings one back to the realization that this is a city. But as one follows the tiny car on its journey one notices it passing a little truck farm with its regular rows of beets and cabbages and its notice that fresh vegetables right out of the farm are to be had daily. A truck farm on Broadway! Truly, New York is a city of surprises. A few rods farther and the car is passing a quaint white wooden church that looks as though it had just stepped out of the pages of Rip Van Winkle.

In another direction roll out before the eye the wide acres of Van Cortlandt Park and beyond it the varied landscape of Westchester county; on the other side the Harlem river and more wooded and rocky hillside on the Bronx side, with the columns of the Hall of Fame completing the picture. Truly, it is a view worth going many a mile to see, never lacking in interest or variety, and thoroughly typical of the great city wherein it lies. The city man loves that view and goes there often to rest by looking above the rush and hurry-burly and noise of the city, at the beauties which lie on the higher level of vision.

OLD AND PROFITABLE TRADE

Chinese Government Derives a Handsome Revenue From The Tea Markets of Szechuan Province.

The tea trade of Tatsienlu, in the Chinese province of Szechuan, near the Tibetan border, was first started in the reign of Yang Cheng, some 200 years ago. At that time, it is said, Tatsienlu did not exist as a town, but tents were pitched in the valley, and the Tibetans gathered and bartered on the occasion of religious fairs.

The tea trade is now established under government control, yielding a handsome revenue. Licenses are issued quarterly, and taken up by over 100 firms engaged in the trade. Each license costs one tael in Chinese money, equivalent to about 80 cents in American exchange. The license allows the holder to import five bales of tea into Tatsienlu, more being permitted according to requirements.

Tea has become almost indispensable to the Tibetans, hence they are naturally drawn to the tea market, to which they bring their own products for sale or exchange. One of the largest firms in Tatsienlu buys as many as 20,000 bales, others 10,000 bales. The total regular licenses issued annually is given as 108,000. The licenses were formerly issued at Chengtu, but the authority was transferred to Tatsienlu in 1918.

Under the old arrangement, the tax was paid when the tea actually passed the local customs at Tatsienlu. Now it is paid when the licenses are issued, or within three months of that time. The annual turnover is fully 1,000,000 taels. Since the trade has been established so long, it has probably reached its maximum, but with serious competition from India, which the Chinese have feared for many years, the trade in Tatsienlu would decline materially.

Wanted Her Fish.
Augustine Birrell, some time ago, while traveling in a third-class railway carriage in the north of England, sat down hurriedly next to a little girl in shawl and clogs. Happening to glance at her a moment or two afterward, he saw that she was regarding him with no great favor. It dawned upon him that he was sitting on her newspaper. "Here, my dear," said Mr. Birrell, pulling the paper from under him and handing it to her, "I'm sorry."

The little girl did not look quite satisfied, but she said nothing till, a few minutes later, the train drew up at a station. "Please, sir," she then inquired meekly, "may I have my fried fish?" It was in the paper.—New Commonwealth.

DAIRY FACTS

MILK PRODUCTION PROBLEMS

Department of Agriculture Has Been Carrying on Interesting and Instructive Studies.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

For 180 cows that average less than 5,000 pounds of milk annually, the part of the milk check that represented profit and reimbursement for the owner's managerial ability was 23 per cent. For 257 cows averaging more than 6,000 pounds annually, the percent remaining for profit and the owner's skill was 41 per cent.

For the last five years the dairy division, United States Department of Agriculture, has been making studies which bear on this problem in many dairy sections of the country; and two-year investigations on the requirements for producing milk have now been completed on groups of dairy farms in six of these communities. One of the latest of these studies, carried on in Vermont, is the one on which the above figures are based.
What it has disclosed in regard to economy of production and the requirements for producing milk may be of value to the dairyman who is interested in finding out where milk returns are going.

These figures, which were obtained from a study of the production records of 587 cows which remained in the herds a full year, show that the average annual production of the 180 lower-producing cows was 4,146 pounds; also that the average production of 257 higher producers was 7,144 pounds a year. After subtracting from 4,146 pounds the amounts of milk

What Part of Your Milk Check Represents Profit?

required to pay production costs (feed,
1,810 pounds of milk; labor, 800
pounds of milk; and other costs 570 pounds of milk) only 500 pounds of milk remained for the profit and skill of the owner. For the high-producing group, however, 3,074 pounds of milk remained after the following deductions had been made: For feed, 2,302 pounds of milk; labor, 800
pounds of milk, and other costs 162
pounds of milk.

Here, then, were cows in the same locality, in some cases standing side by side, and all requiring about the same labor; yet some were producing three times as much profit as others, even though they were charged with greater quantities of feed and a large amount of "other costs."

The figures adduced are significant also in that they show that in milk checks size is not always a true measure of real value, but that the percent of profit, as determined by the costs that are kept, plays an important part.

The figures upon which this comparison is based were actual records of production; feed, labor, and other costs were obtained by monthly full-day visits on each of the farms for a period of two years. Careful records were made on these visits of the daily milk production of each cow, feed consumed, labor required, overhead costs, etc. Using these data, the requirements for producing 100 pounds of milk were worked out. So far as possible the requirements were determined in terms of pounds of feed, hours of labor, etc., so that constantly fluctuating prices would have no effect on the value of the figures. Results may be interpreted at any time by using prevailing prices.

The requirements for producing 100 pounds of milk, based on 847 cows, with an average annual production of 5,252 pounds of 3.9 per cent milk, were as follows:

	Winter	Summer
Grain (pounds)	32.1	8.7
Hay and other dry rough- age (pounds)	129.9	18.7
Stalks and other equivalent roughage (pounds)	10.3	17.8
Hauling and grinding concentrates	$10.00	$10.00
Bedding (pounds)	11.2	—
Pasture (hours)	—	20
Human labor (hours)	2.7	2.0

WATER OF MUCH IMPORTANCE

Cow Should Have 150 Pounds a Day in Summer and About 100 Pounds in Winter Season.

A cow will drink 150 pounds of water a day at a temperature of 60 degrees, but if the water is ice cold she will not drink all she needs. She will, however, be chilled through and will eat more to get warm. She ought to have in summer time at least 150 pounds of water a day.

STRYCHNINE USEFUL TO DESTROY RABBITS

Good Lively Machine Gun Is Harmless in Comparison.

Record of 1,000 Animals to One Ounce of Poison Made in Gooding County, Idaho—Campaigns in Oregon and Western States

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A good lively machine gun is harmless when compared to strychnine—at least when it is used to exterminate rabbits. In Lincoln county, Idaho, the farmers, working in co-operation with the biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture, report that one ounce of the poison killed 400 rabbits. Farmers in Gooding county did even better with their poison and averaged 1,000 rabbits to the ounce. Minidoka county, conducting a poison campaign under the direction of the bureau, killed 40,000 rabbits.

Those figures are illustrative of the work that has been done under government direction in exterminating rabbits in the western states, where they are so plentiful as to be extremely destructive to orchards and crops.
Large-scale campaigns were organized in Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Utah and Arizona under the leadership of Department of Agriculture representatives and along co-operative lines in which the state governments, the state extension service, and the land owners assumed a share of the responsibility. In addition to the poisoning methods, great rabbit drives were conducted, some of which resulted in the killing of as many as 30,000 rabbits.

The representatives of the bureau of biological survey emphasize the fact that, in the West, the rabbit is a serious menace. Rabbits often devastate large fields of grain and destroy valuable orchards and vineyards. There are instances where orchards representing the work and savings of a lifetime, and which constitute the sole support of the owner, have been completely destroyed in a single night by jack rabbits.

SUPERIOR BRACE FOR FENCE

Timbers Firmly Mortised In Afford
Great Resistance to Heavy Strain of Wires.

The constant strain of a wire fence soon pulls the posts over. This is especially annoying when the fence is built on a curve. Here is a rail brace that presents great resistance to the destructive force of the wires. It is placed 18 inches above the surface of the ground, and is mortised into the posts about one-quarter inch at each end. The posts are set a rod apart, and are 6 or 7 inches in diameter, so that a timber 4 by 4 inches by 16 feet will just fit in between the posts. The posts and rail should be crosscut, and the posts should be firmly set in holes three feet deep. The woodwork will then outlast the wire.

CAMPAIGN FOR BETTER SIRES

More Than 3,000 Persons Have Agreed to Breed All Live Stock to Purebred Sires Only.

The better sires campaign recently passed the 3,000 mark. This means that more than 3,000 persons have agreed in writing to breed all live stock kept on their farms to purebred sires only. It is one of the results thus far accomplished by the United States Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the states and county agents, in a systematic campaign begun only 14 months ago to exterminate scrubs—especially scrub sires—throughout the United States. Breeders and owners of all classes of live stock and poultry are co-operating in the effort which eventually will mean a higher quality average of the country's live stock.

GETTING PRODUCTS TO CITY

Object in Building Roads Should Be to Enable Farmer to Get Best Prices for Crops.

Since the use of public roads is primarily in the transportation of farm products and farm necessities, the aim in building them should be to serve the best business of the nation, of which more than one-half is farming, and the roads should form a state system, connected with the systems in adjoining states.

This means that the road, instead of being from a farm to one market, is one from many farms to many markets. By cheap, quick delivery to shipping points such system will enable the farmer to have access to competitive markets and thus at all times to secure the best prices for his produce.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Marion people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbors. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?

Mrs. Annie Gass, Rochester, St. Marion, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been a household remedy with me for a long time and I am always glad to recommend them. At times I have suffered severely from awful pains across the small of my back. Severe pains shot from my hips to my head when I stooped over and I got so dizzy I could hardly see. When I have these attacks I get Doan's Kidney Pills from Orme's Drug Store and they never fail to quickly relieve me of all the pains in my back. Other members of my family have also taken Doan's and have been greatly benefited by them."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Gass had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y. (advertisement)

COW-TESTING ASSOCIATIONS

Some Notable Improvement in Milk Production Reported From State of New Hampshire.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In seven cow-testing associations in New Hampshire, 216 cows were sold during 12 months, and their places filled by more profitable animals, according to a report made to the dairy division, United States Department of Agriculture. This averages nearly 31 cows for each association. In these New Hampshire associations some notable improvement in production is reported.

In six cow-testing associations in that state, which have been at work for two years, 19 herds made an average increase per cow of 763 pounds of milk annually, and an increase of $49.50 in the income over cost of feed. In six associations that have been at work for three years, six herds secured an increase of 806 pounds in the milk yield per cow, and an income over cost of feed of $58.31 more than the herds formerly averaged.

In general, cow-testing association work in New Hampshire is on a good, sound basis, the department says. Association members are studying individual cow records, the ability of purebred bulls to increase production, wise feeding practices, and the proper raising of young stock. The influence of these studies is affecting even dairy men who are not members of the associations.

On Peruvian Railways.

The railways of central Peru spread out in a Y, at the right-hand end of which is Huancayo, something more than 200 miles from Lima. At every railroad station, old women crowd through the cars selling the favorite sectar of the Incas, all purchasers drinking from the same cup, and generally several from the same filling. Nearly every traveler has his own supply of a more potent native beverage.

Machine of One Purpose

BUTTER FAT is worth a lot of money today. To save every particle of it is the part of wise business economy. The Primrose Cream Separator is the standby of the wise dairyman.

The more you see of the Primrose separator and the longer you use it, the better you will like it. It has but one purpose—to separate cream from milk. It saves all the cream. The escape of a little cream here and there may not strike you as such a serious matter, but bunch those losses over a period of time and you will be astonished at the amount. That is where the Primrose separator protects your pocket-book.

The Primrose is the only cream separator that forces oil through every bearing, not just to them. This and other special and exclusive features about the machine we should like to show you. Call and let us show you just what this means to you as a money-saver. If not convenient to call, phone us, and we will call on you and bring a machine with us.
