WANT TO HAVE SUMMER SCHOOL

The Summer School will begin in Marion on Monday, June 6th and continue for five weeks, closing June 27th. This school will be under the direction of the Western Kentucky Normal school and all work done in the school will be accepted toward graduation in the Normal.

The school has been established to meet the requirements of the law passed in 1920 which requires all teachers to take Normal High School training. Both academic and professional subjects will be taught in this summer Normal. Full time given to each subject. English, Mathematics, Reading, History, Civics, Latin, Physical Geography, Physiology, Agriculture, School Organization, Course of Study and Physical Education will be given. The law requires that all teachers have at least five weeks of professional training before July 1, 1922. The professional training may be had by attending this school. If any teacher has had high school work she may get professional training in this school. If she has not all of the high school work she may continue to work it off and get credit for professional training. All work will be in charge of Superintendent R. E. Jagers of Marion City Schools and Prof. H. H. Arnold, Supt. of the Clay County Schools.

This Summer School is backed by the County Board of Education. The last week of the school will be Institute Week. All teachers in the county will attend that week. Arrangements are being made to care for all boarding students.

Farm Bureau Notes

Community Club News

The Tula Community Club held its first meeting last Tuesday evening at the school house. Quite a large crowd attended and gave suggestions to the program as previously printed in the Press. It is hoped that there will be a much larger crowd of farmers present at the next meeting.

About 45 farmers were present at the last meeting of the club at New Salem. The importance of pure-bred stock was discussed in connection with an interesting talk delivered by E. F. Kilpatrick, District County Agent. New Salem Community has taken a good step in advance by the placing of a pure bred Bedford bull in their community.

Meetings next week are as follows: Monday May 16 at Brown School; May 17 at Oakland School and May 18 at Caldwell Spring School. Let us have every wide awake farmer in the respective communities present at these meetings.

The Farm Bureau directors held their regular monthly meeting last Monday at the Farm Bureau office in Marion. Business matters of the Farm Bureau were discussed as well as the need for growth of the present organization.

CHEAP NITROGEN SUPPLIED BY SOY BEAN AND CORN CROP

Farmers can obtain approximately 30 pounds of nitrogen worth about 25¢ per pound or a total of $7.50 from each acre of land at a cost of 30¢ to 50¢ by planting soy beans in their corn at the rate of six pounds to the acre according to Ralph Kenney, crops extension expert from the College of Agriculture. The best practice to follow is to sow soy beans in a row between corn rows and to plow them off or pasture them with any kind of live stock, according to Mr. Kenney. This keeps stock in first class condition at no expense to the farmer and also aids in building up the soil since the droppings of the animals contain 80 percent of the fertility which was in the feed consumed. This is returned to the soil without loss.

Those interested in a co-operative cream shipping organization are urged to get in touch with some member of the committee. This will be a great big thing for Crittenden County farmers and contains lots of possibilities.

Pig and Corn Club Members will receive a letter in the near future relative to their work.

LETTER FROM MISSISSIPPI

Ruleville, Miss.
Rev. W. F. Hogard, Marion, Ky.
Dear Friend:

With the hope that you may be pleased to know something of my whereabouts I shall write a short epistle to inform you that I am now in the sunny south.

The reason that I am here at this time is a legitimate one and is this: the Association of Surgeons of the Illinois Central Railroad Company met at Memphis April 29 and 30th and by virtue of his appointment as surgeon became a member of the Association therefore I attended said meetings.

Relative to this conference I say that with a gathering of 200 men from various places the Surgeons Association which was held at the Hotel China was electrified with the spirit of brotherhood and the gathering was kept enthused by the happy sayings and expressions voiced by the members of the Association.

Dr. G. G. Dowdall the popular and earnest chief surgeon of the I. C. R. Co. made each member of the Association feel at home and each man to know that the gathering was for his benefit.

During a banquet which was given on Friday a delicious menu was served and cigars were provided in plenty for the devotees of "lady nicotine."

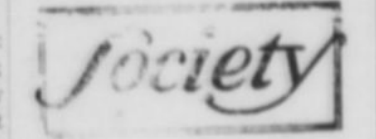

It was a great occasion for the members who attended. Among the ones whom I had already met were: Dr. Dowdall chief surgeon; Dr. F. Boyd of Paducah; H. T. Reynolds of Paducah.

While at Memphis realizing that life is uncertain and not knowing whether I should ever this far south again I decided to go to Ruleville in the region where my brother George M. Reynolds now resides. I found George all right. He is very much delighted with his chosen home and is apparently as happy as a "June-bug."

I am enjoying my trip splendidly so far but would enjoy it more if the weather conditions were better. Give my regards to all the "hill-billies" of old Crittenden (especially Billy Joel Hill) and tell them that I hope to see them somewhere this side of the "Golden Gate."

"When the weather grows warm and the flies begin to swarm I intend to board a flat and return to my habitat."

With best wishes
JOHN L. REYNOLDS

The Eutzelian Class of the First Baptist Church were entertained Friday evening at the home of Miss Leaffa Wilborn on South Main Street by Mesdames Frank Williams, James Henry, Misses Jane Thompson and Leaffa Wilborn.

Delightful refreshments, consisting of fruit salad, sandwiches, coffee and cream cake were served.

Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Mernsey; Mesdames Blanton Wiggins, Press Guess, Leonard Hurst, R. E. Jagers, Elizabeth Pope, W. E. Cox, Mary Kuykendall, Myrtle Towery, J. R. Gilchrist, J. R. Perry, R. C. Hopper of Memphis, Robert White of Morganfield, Harry Joiner, A. M. Henry, Hugh Driver, Frank Williams, James Henry, Carey Henry; Misses Della Barnes, Lois Atkins, Jane Thompson and Leaffa Wilborn.

MEN WANTED

The School Improvement Club has been organized for eight months and as there are no men members we are wondering why. Perhaps they think it is a woman's organization, but it was not intended as such. We need the influence and co-operation of the gentlemen and we are solicitous of their membership at their earliest convenience. Also the ladies of the Club intend to give a social soon and invite their husbands, so you who would like to come appoint yourself a committee of one to see that your wife joins before that time so you will receive an invitation.

Yours for a better school,
The School Improvement Club

WESTERN BLOOMER GIRLS BASE BALL CLUB

The Western Bloomer girls will play here on Monday May 16 at the local base ball park. One feature of the game will be the pitching of Miss Kate Becker, the champion lady base ball pitcher of the world.

The record of this in 1919 was: won 105, lost 51 and in 1920 won 112 lost 26 games, which is a record for any league club to be proud of.

The club carries two catchers, one Mable Bohle, the only lady catcher in the world, and four pitchers so as to always be in good shape to give a good account of themselves on the field. Some people ask "Do you use men?" The answer is yes, a few, not all, just enough to make the home boys step out if they want to win. The ladies' club always use five girls in the line-up.

The local boys will have to play in mid-season form to beat this club of ladies on the above date.

Mr. Baker, the Business Manager of the ladies club asks the home boys to play as hard as they can to beat the girls.

As the clippings show that Mr. Baker carries from various games played throughout the country that these ladies do know the game and they will demonstrate that when they cross bats with the local club. Ladies are especially invited to attend this game as well as men. Everybody turn out and make it a real holiday in Marion.

THE AVERAGE MAN

Elsewhere in this issue of the Press appears the announcement of the presentation of "The Average Man"—the newest of the Parker plays, by members of the Marion High School Alumni Association. This is one of the newest plays on the market, having been copyrighted in 1921, and is said to be one of the very best of the many plays written by that well known play writer.

It is a story replete with good playing parts and having many amusing situations. It is the first royalty play given in Marion in several years and promises to be one of the most enjoyable. Those who take part in the play have done some hard work in preparation for the last few weeks and we feel safe in saying that when the curtain goes up at eight o'clock Friday night that every player will be "all set."

The play will be given under the direction of Miss Lena Holtzclaw and the music will be furnished by the Alumni Orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Lucile Pope Wiggins.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, on March 24, 1921 the angel of death softly called at the door of Mrs. O. T. Lowery and took from us a faithful and devoted member; thus calling her to receive the reward of a well spent life.

Resolved, That the School Improvement Club has lost an efficient member, the community a good citizen, the church a loyal worker and the family a devoted wife and mother.

Resolved That our kindest sympathy be extended the bereaved family and commend them to our kind Heavenly Father who will console us in our trying hours.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, one spread on the minutes of the Club and one published in the Crittenden Press.

OPENING OF BASE BALL SEASON

The local base ball club will play their opening game of this season at Cook Park Monday. The opening contest will be with the Western Bloomer Girls.

The line up for Marion: Kimsey, 2nd base; Guess, 3rd base; Frazer pitcher; Driskill, c; Lamb, cf; McConnell 1b; Threlkeld, if; Wheeler, ss; Hardin rf.

Marion has plenty of home talent for a good semi-pro team and only needs the support of her loyal fans. Come to the opening game and bring your voice with you.

Mr. Sam Gugenheim and Dr. J. H. Orme spent the week in Louisville.

GOOD ROAD CONVENTION

The fact that it is candidate year has given impetus to the good road Convention which will be held at the Jefferson County Armory, Louisville, June 7-10 under the auspices of the Kentucky Road Engineers' Association. Candidates are expected to swell the attendance and arrangements are being made for accommodation of 3000 delegates and visitors.

The meeting will be absolutely non-partisan in its nature. Candidates of all political faiths realize they can not wage an intelligent campaign before the people without being well versed on the subject of roads. The Convention will afford them golden opportunity to inform themselves. Every phase of road construction and maintenance will be discussed by experts who will avoid technical terms, using language understood by the layman.

Motion pictures will be used to illustrate road building and upkeep. Delegates will be taken on automobile tours of inspection of various types of roads. Modern equipment will be demonstrated.

The movement has the hearty support of the State Highway Commission. Jos. S. Boggs, State Highway Engineer, who was in conference this week with the committee in charge of arrangements, is urging that every county have good representation. Fiscal Courts are authorized to appoint delegates. Mr. Boggs has pointed out in letters to them. County Engineers, County Judges, Fiscal Courts and citizens interested in road projects will be welcome. All sessions and entertainments will be open to the public.

THE ELECTION

A petition signed by a legal number of voters of the county was presented to the County Court some months ago and an election was ordered to be held May 10th, to determine whether or not the citizens of the county would prefer the county affairs to be conducted under a commission form of government.

The election was held Tuesday. It was a very quiet election. Everybody seemed to have been ready to vote as he or she preferred.

There were 1955 votes cast, 57 in favor of the commission form and 1898 in favor of the existing form. Evidently there is no room for a contest. The people have spoken and we will all abide by the voice of the people.

LOCAL BOY ELECTED SUPERINTENDENT IN OKLA.

Prof. Moore, now in charge of the grade schools at Wynona, Okla., and said to be one of the best educators in the state, has been employed by the School Board as Superintendent of Pershing High School for next year.

Prof. Moore is exceptionally qualified for the position for which he has just been employed and we are assured of a progressive and successful school year under his management.—The Pershing (Okla.) Gazette.

Hebert Moore graduated in the High School of Marion in 1916. He then spent one year at the State University at Lexington then went to Vanderbilt and from there to the State University of Oklahoma, where he graduated.

Hebert's parents died while he was quite a boy and his grandfather reared him and did a splendid job like he did his own boys.

Marion is always glad when her boys make good.

COAL SHORTAGE SEEN

The country is headed for a serious coal shortage, according to Charles H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central System, in a prepared statement to the public designed to encourage the movement of coal from mines to retail dealers and consumers. In order to prevent that shortage, Mr. Markham says, it is necessary that the volume of coal movement be accelerated immediately.

A coal shortage was created in 1920 by the failure to move coal in adequate volume during the early part of the year, and yet the movement for the first six months of 1921 was at the rate of 43,626,791 tons a month compared with an average monthly output of 32,750,000 tons for the first three months of 1921, a monthly average that has fallen off since March.

Based upon these figures, Mr. Markham shows that "in order to equal the record of coal production for 1920, when there was a shortage the mines would have to produce and the railways would have to move, more than 380,000,000 tons during the latter half of the year, if the movement is not increased in May and June. Through the establishment of an order requiring the railways to furnish open top cars preferentially for the handling of coal—resulting in the postponement of housing and other construction work which was vitally needed—the coal movement for the latter part of 1920 reached nearly 295,000,000 tons. The statement makes the point that to handle 380,000,000 tons during the second six months of 1921 would overtax the mines, probably resulting in higher prices of coal. The instability of coal movement, caused by delay in purchasing and storing coal at points of consumption makes for higher prices during the time of heavy movement.

"The coal-carrying equipment of the railways is sufficient to handle a large evenly-balanced coal tonnage but it is inadequate to handle the coal movement when the bulk of it is thrown upon the railways in a comparatively short period after mid-summer," Mr. Markham's statements says.

"Coal mine operators are now, in a position to produce, and the railways are in a position to move, a large volume of coal. If dealers and consumers fail to take advantage of the present opportunity to lay in fall and winter supplies, and another coal shortage eventuates, the public in fairness certainly will not attach blame to the coal operators and the railways. More than 255,000 open top cars are now standing idle on the side-tracks of the railways. Nearly one-half of the open top equipment of the Illinois Central System is idle."

TEACHER'S EXAMINATION

The next teachers' examination will be held on the third Friday and Saturday, May 20, and 21. All teachers expecting to enter this examination should come to my office at 8 o'clock on the first morning. The questions on Theory and Practice of Teaching will be based on "The Work of the Teacher" by Davis. I have a few copies of this book. No High School credits are required to enter this examination.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Commencement exercises in the Marion Public Schools will begin Sunday May 22 when Dr. W. P. Maroney, of this city will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the High School in the auditorium of the Main Street Presbyterian Church.

On Monday night the Seniors will have their Class Night and on Tuesday night they will present their class play. Every member of the Senior Class will be seen in these exercises.

Thursday has been given to the members of the Alumni Association of the Marion High School.

On Friday evening Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Center College will deliver the Commencement Address to the Graduating Class.

On Wednesday evening the Eighth Grade class will be addressed by Dr. J. T. C. Noe of the University of Kentucky and will receive their promotion certificates. Their program will close with a pageant, "The Courtship of Miles Standish."

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

The City Council met last Friday night with all members present except W. T. McConnell. C. J. Pierce was elected to succeed R. F. Haynes, who had resigned.

The City Assessor turned in the assessment. Show license were reduced to $25 per day and $35 per week.

A cement walk was ordered in front of Mr. Brookshires lot extending across the stream. When this is completed a new bridge will be built across the stream.

The hitch rack and posts were ordered to be removed from around the Public Square and placed on Jockey lot, and a concrete pavement extending around the Square was ordered to be built, 6 feet wide and with a curbing on the inside and a coping around the outside for drainage.

An ordinance was passed forcing the city to place garbage cans on the streets and to keep the garbage hauled away.

The Council is to be commended for these progressive steps they have taken. The PRESS congratulates the Council and the ladies for their interest in seeking to beautify the city as well as protect our health.

MRS. C. E. HEARIN

The above is the photograph of Mrs. C. E. Hearin, wife of the successful Cashier of the Farmers National Bank of Clay, Ky.

Mrs. Hearin has been with this institution ever since its organization some fifteen years ago. She was the Assistant Cashier up to last year when she was honored as active vice president of the bank. She has attended every State and American Banker's Association for the last ten years.

Mrs. Hearin was honored in 1919 by being elected Vice President of National Bank Section of American Bankers Association for Kentucky, and during that year 65 new members were enrolled by her efforts. The 1920 Convention elected her to the Vice Presidency of the American Bankers Association for the State of Kentucky to succeed Max B. Nahn. This office is the highest of said association in our state.

OLD KENTUCKY HOME CAMPAIGN

Monday was tag day and the young ladies realized about $34 from the sale of tags. The chief money getter for the week was intended to be an elaborate musical program and tabla but as the school auditorium
the only suitable place since the fire will be in constant use during all of May on account of rehearsals and entertainments in connection with the Commencement exercises; it has been decided to defer the Old Kentucky Home entertainment to Wednesday evening, June 8. There will be no personal solicitation of funds to raise the $200 quota for Crittenden county. To raise that sum enough voluntary should and no doubt will be made. Not much will be needed of any one and if every one will donate a little we will soon have the fund in hand. And every one should donate something so that he may feel that he has helped preserve for posterity this Stephen Foster Home and Kentucky shrine.

The Cashier of the Marion or the Farmers Bank will be glad to receive any voluntary donations, now matter how small or how big the sum.

OBITUARY

Sarah S. McKee, daughter of H.
W. and Pernecia McKee was born in Crittenden county, state of Kentucky, November 21, 1881. She professed faith in Christ and joined the General Baptist at Enon and was baptized Saturday before the fifth Sunday in June 1901. She was married to J. J. Ray August 10th 1903.
Two children were born to this union, Gladys and Glenwood. She departed this life April 26, 1921 at Saligman, Arizona. She was a devoted wife, a loving mother, kind sister and a good neighbor.

She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, two children, aged mother and father, three sisters and one brother, Jno. R. McKee; Susie Miller of Repton, Sallie Inboden of Sa-lie Mines, Ill., Flora Henry of Caseyville, Ky.; and a host of relatives and friends. How we appreciate the kindness and sympathy shown her by her neighbors and friends of Saligman, Arizona in her sickness and death. All that loving hands could do for her was done but God claimed her for His own. We would say to the bereaved husband and family to weep not as those who have no hope but prepare to meet her in a better world.

The floral offerings were beautiful. The funeral was preached by the writer from Isaiah 1:18. Her body was laid to rest in the Crowell cemetery to await the resurrection morn. REV. J. R. KING

DISPLACING INFERIOR Sires

Many Farmers Tell Department of Agriculture of Compliance With Better-Sires Plan.

"I disposed of a grade bull last month."

"I sold a high-grade yearling bull."

"Disposed of a scrub bull because we expect to breed to a purebred."

"I castrated an inferior male hog and put in a purebred."

"I will have to buy hogs and they will be purebred."

These comments were received in one day recently by the United States Department of Agriculture from persons enrolled in the better stock movement. In addition, many others stated that, although they did not own purebred sires, their female stock was bred to such animals, thus complying with the essential requirements of the better stock campaign.

USE OF HOG-CHOLERA SERUM

Work of County Agent in Alabama Community Results in Material Decrease in Losses.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Losses by hog cholera have been materially reduced in Bullock County, Ala., as a result of the work of the county agent in training farmers in various centers throughout the county to use the serum and apparatus developed by the department. Forty-nine cars of hogs, 3,928 head, have been marketed from the county through cooperative work, with an estimated saving of $6,000. In Houston County the department's representatives taught 18 men to vaccinate hogs. Six sets of instruments owned by the D-

Injecting the Serum.

than Rotary club were supplied to the demonstrators and a serum-distributing point was established in charge of a reliable veterinarian. More than 9,000 head of hogs were treated. In many cases it was found that sickness, other than cholera, was due to some incidental cause, such as bad peanut meal, and balanced rations were advised. The county agent's work resulted in 32 farmers establishing pastures to keep their hogs off the open range, the land thus pastured being freed of many noxious weeds by the rooting of the animals, and prepared for future cultivation. Forty-four farmers in the county were interested in stump removing, and about 2,000 acres of land was cleared in this movement. About five tons of dynamite was bought for the purpose, largely on the co-operative plan.

BREEDERS FAVOR PUREBREDS

South Dakota Association Inaugurates Campaign to Discard Scrubs Now in Use.

"You have the butts and they are needed, needed badly. Let's get them working for the breed."

This appeal, made by M. J. Flanagan, president of the South Dakota Shorthorn Breeders' association, has been sent to all Shorthorn breeders in the state, preparatory to putting on a purebred sire campaign. According to the plan, selling expenses will be kept down to the lowest possible figure. "But we will put out a lot of bulls," the letter of notification states, "that will do good and create a demand for better cattle. It is constructive work of the best kind."

In a letter to the United States Department of Agriculture, Mr. Flanagan, who also is president of the South Dakota Federation of Livestock Breeders' associations, states: "With the co-operation of the various departments we shall be able to do a good work in getting purebred bulls in use where scrubs are now used."

PUREBRED RAMS HELP SHEEP

Lambs at Six Months of Age Outweigh Dams and Yield More Than Twice as Much Wool.

Native ewes bred to purebred rams at the Mississippi coastal plain experiment station resulted in lambs which at the age of six months outweighed their dams and yielded more than twice as much wool. This result of the use of good purebred sires is announced by the United States Department of Agriculture, through the bureau of animal industry, in a report covering the last fiscal year.

GOOD FEED TO FATTEN HORSE

Linseed or Flaxseed May Be Used to Advantage for Supplementing Animal's Ration.

Linseed or flaxseed is very good feed for supplementing the fattening horse ration. If used with soft feed, it may be boiled to advantage. Otherwise it should be ground and fed in limited quantities up to half a pound after being accustomed to it. Oil-cake meal, which is the by-product without the oil, may be fed up to one pound per day.

PRINCIPAL CAUSES OF ILLS

Pigs Are Too Often Compelled to Work Over and Live Upon Same Soil Too Intensely.

Experience teaches us that the most serious diseases of swine are those of an infectious or contagious character, and the parasites that get onto or into the pig. Now most of this is caused primarily by the fact that the pigs are all too often forced to work over and live upon the same soil too intensely, without any intervening renovation of that soil.

Excellent Plan to Scatter Rough Feed Away From Sheds and Let Them Pick It Over.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

OUR FAR-FAMED KENTUCKY DERBY

Men and Women of Renown From All Parts of the World Come to Louisville to Witness the Running of This Historic Race.

CABINET MEMBERS AMONG THOSE IN ATTENDANCE THIS YEAR

Few of us native Kentuckians realize, perhaps, what a truly magnificent world event the Kentucky Derby has come to be.

Year by year, it has grown steadily in popularity, until now it tops all other sporting events on the calendar; thereby advertising the state as millions of dollars' worth of space in the public prints could not possibly do, besides attracting periodically hosts of people who spend their money freely and greatly benefiting an industry of vast importance to Kentucky in particular—the breeding of the thoroughbred horse.

The list of personages who cheered the winner of the 1921 Kentucky Derby would stretch out far beyond the limitations of this little article. Suffice to say that it included several members of President Harding's cabinet; distinguished visitors from abroad and financial and commercial giants from all parts of the county; some of the latter the owners of horses that started in the Derby and heavy investors in Kentucky estates, elaborately improved and primarily maintained as breeding establishments.

HIS LAST JOKE.

"Would you care to make a few remarks before we spring the trap?" asked the sympathetic sheriff.

"No," replied the condemned man. "I may have my faults, otherwise I wouldn't be here, but trapdoor eloquence always did offend my idea of the fitness of things. Besides, a number of newspaper men are present. They would certainly take down anything I said, and if they got it wrong after the—er—ceremony I wouldn't be in a position to claim that I was misquoted."

Getting Practical.

"You know Bodins, the tenor, who used to sing to Miss Skeezicks that every morn he would bring violets?"

"Yes; did he?"

"That's what he did, and they got married and now they're living in the country where every morn he has to bring her two buckets of water and help wipe the dishes."

Business.

"I was surprised to see you in conversation with a notorious gambler," remarked the domineer. "Were you aware of his general reputation?"

"Most undoubtedly," replied the deacon. "I was trying to find out where to cash in the various poker chips I find in the collection basket."—Town Topics.

CAN'T TELL

Mrs. W.: Have you any cooks on hand?

"Six in the anteroom."

"Ask 'em to look me over and see if there is anybody here I might suit."

Reciprocity.

"One thing works out simply grand," said gushing Gertrude Proctor.

"The doctor pays a visit and the visit pays the doctor."

Distant Acquaintance.

"Handle that horse! Don't let him handle you!" bellowed the sergeant to the cavalry rookie just receiving his first lesson. "Give him your spurs, Goughie him!"

"I can't get close enough to him!" screamed back the John hysterically. —American Legion Weekly.

They Seldom Work.

"The distinguished-looking foreigner resents the imputation that he is a nobleman in disguise."

"He's wearing overalls, too."

"Yes, and he's working in a garage."

"Well, all I have to say is that if he is a nobleman his disguise is perfect."

Cautious.

"And George?"

"Yes, dearie?"

"Will you swear I'm the only girl you ever kissed?"

"Well—er—angel, I'll say you're the only one I care to mix up in any confessions, honey."

Revenge.

"I don't believe in revenge."

"I don't either. But just the same there are a number of men I do business with who have kept me waiting in outer offices for half an hour or more I'd like just once before I die to keep waiting to see me."

Home Town Helps

BEAUTY COMES WITH GROWTH

American Towns, if They Are Well Planned, Will Develop Along Proper Artistic Lines.

We see American towns in the process of growth, and the slow transition from hastily erected "shacks," a one-story general store, a blacksmith shop (these are still needed), a garage now, a church and a schoolhouse, into a flourishing community not always attractive. There is a period when there are no shade trees, when streets are dusty or muddy and unpaved, where there is an unfinished appearance about everything. It is not so many years since a large number of the towns and villages of Indiana had an unkempt, untrimmed look. Seen from trains in passing, they looked uninviting. As a matter of fact, the residents had other things to think of than beauty. They were building their homes, making their living by arduous labor, sending their children to school and sacrificing many desirable things for the sake of the necessities. This is the history of all towns.

The conditions are different now. Indiana is full of beautiful towns and small cities that were the "gopher prairies" of years ago. Beautiful homes, handsome lawns, paved and shaded streets, substantial business houses, attractive public buildings, including libraries, and a general air of prosperity distinguish them. The same people live there who were there at the beginning. When they and their children came to the point where beauty and luxury could be added to the necessities of living, they reached out and provided them. It is the way with American towns.—Indianapolis Star.

ASSIST IN BUILDING HOMES

Associations Through the Country Teach Thrift and at the Same Time Make Good Citizens.

Pointing out that a man who owns his own home probably will be a good citizen, C. Clinton James, president of the Building Associations' council for the District of Columbia, issued a statement showing what building associations in the district are doing to encourage home owning and thrift.

While complete figures are not available, it is estimated that the total assets of building associations in Washington will be more than $28,000,000, he announced.

"The building associations throughout the country are teaching thrift and trying to educate the public to own their own homes," Mr. James stated. "The motto of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations is 'The American Home—The Safeguard of American Liberties.'"

"The building associations have assisted very largely in solving the housing question by assisting persons of limited means to finance the buying of their home, but the demand for loans has been much greater than the funds available," it is asserted.

While building associations are not as necessary in smaller towns as in the cities, the same idea expressed in community spirit will work out to the desired result in the end.

Give a Hand.

In every community there are successful men—men of experience, men of means. In every community there are young men who might make a success of life. They have it in them; all they lack is some one to give a hand. It may not be money they need, perhaps only an interested friend. Somebody helps whenever a young man gets started right in anything. Somewhere every successful man got a start by some one's help. To keep the world moving on an upward slope the process must be made perpetual. Each man, once started, should become a starter of others. And who starts another gets himself along at a more rapid gait. There is that in helping another that reflects not credit alone to the agent, but a bent of mind, an outlook on life, a generosity of soul, that wins a way forward for himself also.—Thrift Magazine.

Set Out Hedge Plants.

There are few homes that could not be made more attractive by a frame setting of hedge plants, not necessarily a tall-growing hedge that would inclose the grounds, but a low-growing one to mark the boundary of the home grounds and add a certain amount of privacy.

Trees Benefit Community.

Nothing that costs so little adds so much to the appearance of a community as do tree-lined streets. Comfort and beauty alike are served, and there is cash in a shady walk wherever homes are for sale.

Begin to Recognize Truth.

Far-seeing business men have come to realize that it is the country that makes the cities and not the cities that make the country.

Plant Shrubs Now.

Now is a good time to plan for some flowers and shrubs around the house. They are worth the little extra care they make.

Marguerite Armstrong is regarded as one of the most charming women in the "movies." She is an unusually dainty blonde, and well liked because of being of the especially refined and pretty type. She has been playing the leading role in a recent popular production.

LIBRARIES.

THE forerunner of the modern libraries were the collections of manuscripts and clay tablets which the ancients made. The literary library of Ashurbanipal at Nineveh dates back to 698-626 B. C. Other libraries and collections of Archives have been discovered at Nippur, Babylon, Larsa, Eveh, and other lost cities. Some of these seem to date back to almost 3000 B. C.

WITH THE FUNNY MEN

Encouraging Silence.

"Sam Jobbles promised he would let me hear from him after he reached Washington," remarked Squire Withersbee.

"Well, has he written or telephoned?"

"No, and I'm beginning to think Sam either found a cheap place to board and hasn't run out of money yet, or he got th' job he went after."

Baffling.

Doctor White—I'm up against it. I've a patient suffering from aches and pains, and I don't know what is causing the trouble.

Doctor Black—Had his teeth examined?

Doctor White—That's the point. I had all his teeth taken out two years ago, but what are you to do when a man has quite run out of teeth?

Only Financial Pain.

"An eminent medical authority says the heart does not feel pain."

"I didn't know that before," said the thoughtful citizen. "Poets, novelists and playwrights had misled me. But I never did believe there was any kind of pain that could be alleviated by the 'heart balm' awarded in a breach-of-promise suit."

No Wall Flower.

"She's an intellectual young woman."

"Decidedly."

"And yet I understand she's popular. How do you account for that?"

"When she goes to dance she checks her brains, figuratively speaking, at the door."

Driven to It.

"But you told me you couldn't afford to buy a motorcar."

"I couldn't," replied the timorous citizen. "Something happened to me that made me desperate."

"What was it?"

"A motorist who nearly ran over me shouted: 'I'll get you next time.'"

Wife—John, do you spell "graphic" with one "t" or two?

Hubby—Well, my dear, you may as well use two if you are going to see any.

Wise Guy.

"The silent man's no fool," said Penn. "He knows what he's about. He thinks mistakes like other men. But doesn't blurt them out."

True Blue.

Ethel (telling experience at fortune teller's)—"She was just telling me about some gentlemen in blue whom I would meet—"

Maybelle—Well, did you meet them?

Ethel—I certainly did, for just then the coppers broke in.

Ground for Suspicion.

"I'm afraid that bank messenger we hired last week is crooked."

"You should not judge by appearances."

"I am judging by disappearance in this case."

Reply Discourteous.

The discussion of the two friends had become heated.

"But any idiot can see that," remarked one of them.

"That's where you have the advantage of me," was the other's rejoinder.

Translated into Prose.

Hicks—I must say I don't approve of half of those new woman activities. Every man wants to keep his wife close to the fireside.

Mrs. Hicks (firmly)—You mean, the cook stove.

Spent It Fitly.

"That money you laid aside for a rainy day, did you use it in the way you intended?"

"Not exactly, but I did not spend it altogether inappropriately—I bought watered stock with it."

Nothing Much.

"What's in your traveling bag?" asked the customs officer of the demure damsel.

"Oh, nothing," said the maid, "just some week-end wearing apparel."

Ideal Match.

Ethel—So you consider it an ideal match.

Ethel—Yes; he has money and she knows how to spend it.

In the Vernacular.

"I'm tired of seeing that girl."

"Some say she's sweet enough to eat."

"I'm fed up with her."

THE country's oldest course in point of consecutive years of racing, Churchill Downs, opens for 1921 with the assurance of a memorable season.

Never before have there been so many horses of high class quartered at Louisville's historic course; seldom has interest in thoroughbred racing been so keen, and never, perhaps, has it been so wide-spread.

Come and enjoy some of this greatest of sports. In the programs and the arrangements for the comfort of patrons, you will find that the management has done its utmost to make everybody happy.

Notice of Change in Voting Precincts

Crittenden County Court,
Regular Term, May 9, 1921.
Present and Presiding R. L. Moore, Judge.

Whereas, it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that in the division of the Magisterial Districts of Crittenden County, Kentucky, into voting precincts, made by the Commissioners, Aaron Towery, W. R. Cruce and Geo. T. Belt appointed by the Court, pursuant to Chapter 64 of the Acts of the General Assembly of the State of Kentucky, at its session of 1920, that in said division, the following precincts were created too large, viz: Marion No. 1, Marion No. 4 and Tolu.

Therefore in order to reduce the size of said voting precincts, and in accordance with law in such cases made and provided, Section 1444 of of the Kentucky Statutes, and as advised by the Attorney General of Kentucky; it is now ordered by the Court that the boundary lines of the hereinafter named voting precincts be and they are hereby changed to read as follows, and in making said change of boundary lines, it became necessary to create two new voting precincts in the County, said changes and new precincts created shall now be as follows:

BOUNDARY OF VOTING PRECINCT, MARION NO. 1

CO. WPEAS FIRST USED AS FOOD FOR HUMANS

Earliest Published Record in America Was in 1798.

Plant at Present is Best Known and Extensively Grown Leguminous Crop in Southern States—Can Be Grown in North.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The cowpea is undoubtedly a native of Central Africa. A wild plant differing little from the cultivated cowpea occurs throughout much of that continent. Hybrids of this wild plant and the cultivated cowpea are readily obtained. The cultivated cowpea consists of three main groups—the asparagus bean, the catjang, and the cowpea, each of which represents a group of varieties having much in common but connected through intermediate varieties. The cowpea is the most important of the three groups.

The large number and great diversity of cultivated varieties throughout Africa and over the southern half of A Good Stand of Cowpeas.

Asia and the adjacent islands as well as the Mediterranean region of Europe indicate that the cowpea is of ancient cultivation for human food. It was early introduced in the Spanish settlements in the West Indies and was grown in North Carolina in 1714, probably coming from the West Indies. Its culture in Virginia was reported about 1775 and no doubt was quite general in the United States early in the Nineteenth century.

Without doubt, the cowpea is the Phaseolus mentioned by the old Roman writers. In Italy the Blackeye cowpea is still called by the same name as the kidney bean, namely, "fagiolo," which is the Italian equivalent of Phaseolus. In East Africa both the wild and cultivated cowpeas are called "kunde," while in India, where the catjang is more extensively cultivated, the name "lubia," with many others, is used. In America the cowpea was first known as "callivance" and later as "Indian pea," "southern pea," "southern field pea," and "cornfield pea." The first published record of the name cowpea was in 1798 and applied apparently to a single variety.

The cowpea at present is the best known and most extensively grown leguminous crop in the Southern states, but it can be grown profitably much farther north. Although it succeeds under a greater diversity of climatic, soil, and cultural conditions than most other legumes, the best results are obtained in forage, soil improvement, and seed production by a thorough understanding of the requirements and the best varieties of the crop.

ICE-HARVEST TIME AT HAND

Farmer Should Lay in Ample Supply for Cooling Milk and for Household Uses in Summer.

Farmers who have not already done so, should prepare to lay by a store of ice now for cooling milk and for household use next summer. In places where nature provides a sufficiently low temperature, the cost of harvesting and storing ice is low when compared with the saving effected. Ordinarily, it is safe to harvest 2 tons of ice for each cow in the herd. This will allow for melting and leave enough for family needs. Where cream only is sold, about one-third of that quantity of ice will be needed.

Two farmers' bulletins, No. 623, Ice Houses and the Use of Ice on the Farm, and No. 1078, Harvesting and Storing Ice on the Farm, may be had by applying to the Division of Publications, United States Department of Agriculture.

ADDS BEAUTY TO FARM HOME

Shrubs Hide Foundation Lines of Buildings and Screen Many Unpleasantly Bare Objects.

Suitable plantings are necessary to unite the parts of a farmstead into a pleasing, homelike whole. Trees are used for windbreaks, as frames for the buildings or a background for them, and to give shade. Shrubs are needed in abundance to hide partially the foundation lines of buildings, support their corners, give reasons for turns in drives or walks, and to screen unsightly objects. Native trees and shrubs and those known by trial to thrive in the locality are the best to use.

EYE TALKS

The causes of impaired vision are: opacities; refraction or a defective nervous structure. Opacities exhibit as growths on the eyeball called sterygloma; scars blood or pus in the aqueous humor; cataracts on the lens or blood in the vitreous humor. They have a number of probable causes from eye strain to chemical derangements. They obstruct the passage of light through the eye and result either in bad vision or total blindness. The most common opacities are cataracts which are caused by injury; eyestrain or chemical changes subject to old age. Their growth can be retarded and in some instances completely removed by the proper correction glasses worn constantly. However after cataracts are fully developed they usually have to be desected away but this is never advisable if vision with the other eye is fairly good.

If all media are clear and refracting surfaces normal making a perfect image upon the retina and the optic nerve defective there would be no vision because we do not see with our eyes and the brain does not get the proper message.
