Farm Bureau Notes

The Crittenden County Wool Pool of 256 lbs was delivered last Saturday to a local dealer. The prices obtained were 3-4c above the standing market quotations illustrating well the advantages of farmers co-operative pooling. Eighteen cents was paid for the clean wool. The buyer stated at the end of the delivery that it was the best quality of wool he had handled this spring.

You read in the newspapers of the tobacco growers co-operative marketing plan and their desire to better their condition. Co-operative marketing is the cure for a great many of the present farmers' ills. It is simply this "United we stick, divided we break."

Meeting at Brown School June 20 and 21 and 22. The regular meeting the fourth Friday at Cisco Chapel will fall on June 24.

Marion Limestone Shed

Due to the efforts of the Farm Bureau a limestone shed will be established in Marion in the near future. This is an achievement for which great credit must be given to this farmers' organization. Crittenden county has needed a limestone supply of this kind for a long time. Many farmers come to town with a loaded wagon and often times go back with an empty wagon. Now they will be able to take back a little limestone each time and spread it when the time and conditions are favorable. Crittenden County needs limestone. Everyone knows that, but in the past it has been difficult to obtain.

The Marion Milling Co. will erect and maintain this limestone shed and sell for cash. They will handle it at a reasonable profit over the list price plus the freight. Mr. Nunn of the Milling Co. states that they hope to have the shed in operation within the next four or five weeks.

Farmers the Farm Bureau started that line shed but the sale of lime stone is open to all. You will receive some of the benefits of the organization. "You are all riding on the Farm Bureau train and the only question is whether you are paying your fare or bumping a ride."

Junior Week at Lexington

June 20-25 is set aside at the Kentucky College of Agriculture as Junior Week. Members of the Junior Agricultural Clubs of the state. Three members are allowed to go from each county. Due to the efforts of the County Agent he is authorized to award one free trip to Junior week from this county. The Oliver Chilled Food Company of South Bend Ind., has donated sufficient money to cover the cost of the railroad fare to Lexington for this event. All Junior Club members have been sent particulars regarding this trip. The method of award will be a drawing from a list of all members who have returned their cards saying they wish to go. The committee who will do the drawing is Supt. Paris, J. A. Hill and the County Agent, the time being so short this is deemed one of its fairest means possible.

Mr. J. A. Hill president of the Crittenden County Farm Bureau and County Agent Spencer were at Pembroke in Christian county Thursday and Friday inspecting the co-operative cream shipping organization there. Pembroke has a farmers cream association that enables them to sell their cream regularly above market quotations. The farmers co-operate, pool their cream trust absolutely the manager and gain an increased price for their cream. Crittenden county needs an organization of this kind and if there is sufficient interest and backing one will be established.

GOOD ROADS

A contract was let this week to complete the pike from Princeton to Leno county line also the Chamber of Commerce of Hopkinsville has appropriated $10,000 to finish the pike from Hopkinsville to Princeton and Caldwell county people are getting busy to put enough money to finish that pike. Quite a number of miles have recently been contracted in Hopkins county. We are glad to see the good work go on. When our people get in touch with good roads they will be more willing to give the right of way to have good roads here.

THE ROAD QUESTION

The Fiscal Court at a called session met on the fourth to complete the right of way for the Federal Highway.

The following is the action of the Court:

"On motion of Esq. Truitt, seconded by Esq. Riley the matter of right of way for Federal Highway Project No. 8, being under consideration and the prices submitted by Ira Hughes, Walter Simpson, Mrs. Pierce, Henry Murray, G. D. Summerville, W. E. Smith, Bettie Nation and Z. E. Clark; it is the sense of this Court that no further action should be taken looking to the securing said right of way, until such time as the owners of the land over which proposed Highway would pass, are willing and sufficiently interested in securing said road to give said right of way or at least place a nominal price upon it."

The Press regrets that the Court was forced to take this action but evidently there was no other course to pursue at present. It is to be hoped that the parties whose lands are touched by the survey will see that instead of being injured, their property would be very much enhanced in value otherwise the matter will be decided by the Court. The road will be built.

The right of way for Project No. 10 leading from Marion to the Caldwell county line to Fredonia and Princeton has been secured and papers signed and forwarded to Frankfort and parties in touch with the situation are very hopeful that arrangements will be made to let contracts in the near future for this road. This will give us a southern outlet. So mote it be. Let no man's faith fail him in good roads. Keep pushing and agitating. We must and will have the good roads.

POPULAR COUPLE WED

On the tenth of this month Mr. H. I. Morse and Miss Ruth Moore were united in marriage at Princeton by Rev. A. D. Leitchfield, pastor of the Methodist church of that city.

Miss Ruth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Moore of this city, and possesses many charming graces besides being a beautiful young lady.

Mr. Morse is a son of Mrs. Ida Morse of Deanwood, and is a splendid young man. He served overseas in the recent World War and was honorably discharged. He represents the Metropolitan Life Insurance of this section and is an untiring worker. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Morse left for Louisville, returning Wednesday afternoon to Marion where they will make their home.

The Press extends hearty congratulations.

BEN GREY PLAYERS

The famous Ben Grey Players with a splendid cast will appear on the fourth night of the coming Redpath Chautauqua in Shakespeare's immortal comedy "As You Like It." Sympathetic interpretation of the dramatist's subtle humor and brilliant characteristics distinguish this excellent production.

Miss Grace Halsey Mills of New York City, who will appear as Rosalind has for many years interpreted leading roles for the Ben Grey Players. She is thoroughly experienced and rarely gifted in Shakespearean portrayals.

As Rosalind she is generous, womanly charming, capricious—everything that Shakespeare painted in his word picture of this delightful heroine. Her exceptional art is characterized by beauty, strength with intelligence and feminine charm.

Miss Mills is only one of an exceptionally strong cast which will present "As You Like It" here.

While Shakespeare's plays make enjoyable reading, they were primarily written to be acted. This is especially true of his comedies.

This exceptionally strong cast of Ben Grey Players will revive the loves, laughter and emotions of Shakespeare's very human people in "As You Like It."

Mr. Hugh McKee of the Fishtrap section was in Marion Monday. He is one of the oldest citizens in the county. He served in the Confederate Army and is an honorable gentleman of the olden type.

Chapel Singers Are a Chautauqua Attraction

At the coming Redpath Chautauqua the Chapel Singers will feature representative church music, beautifully sung. Soul-stirring sacred songs, operatic selections, pianologs and popular numbers will comprise a program of variety and melody.

The members of the company are experienced church, concert and operatic singers, who have delighted discriminating audiences throughout the country.

Chautauqua Week—Marion—June 18th to 25th.

FROM AN EDITORIAL IN KNOXVILLE, TENN. SENTINEL

Not the least of the public services that are being performed by the Chautauqua is the keeping alive of the spoken-drama, and especially in causing the revival of the Shakespearean and other classic drama, with the result of familiarizing the coming generation with these masterpieces of literature. Organizations like that of the Ben Grey Players that maintain the high standard and best traditions of the old heroic drama should be encouraged because of the educational benefit they bestow that persists after the immediate object of the entertainment for the moment has been served and has passed. That the present day taste for and appreciation of the excellence of the legitimate drama have not been vitiated beyond recall by the picture plays and other innovations in the amusement world is attested by the numbers and avidity in and with which the people of the city crowded the Redpath Chautauqua tent to greet the Ben Grey Players in their one-night Shakespearean revival here.

KATHERINE RIDGEWAY

An interpretative recital by Katherine Ridgeway will be one of the greatest features of the coming Redpath Chautauqua Program, Miss Ridgeway's exceptional art has been recognized and enthusiastically received by audiences in every part of the United States.

When building her programs she displays an unfailing instinct for fresh and thoroughly entertaining material. Wit and fancy, power and pathos, spirit, dash and charm all stamp her work with the impress of genius. This season the presentation of two one-act plays will be a feature of her program.

Miss Ridgeway is a southern woman of distinction and charm, whose soul is in her work and marks it with a striking individuality.

"THE MAN FROM HOME"

The sparkling comedy "The Man from Home" will be presented here on the sixth night of the Redpath Chautauqua by an exceptionally capable New York cast.

The company for this Chautauqua was selected by William Keighley, manager of the Redpath Bureau's New York Producing Department. Mr. Keighley's long experience in directing a large number of repeatedly successful plays insures the professional excellence of the production.

"The Man from Home" refreshing comedy drama of proved popularity, presented by a thoroughly competent New York cast, is an extraordinary Chautauqua offering. There will be laughter, thrills and clean amusement to delight every member of the community.

The Methodists are planning for a big barbecue at Tolu on the Fourth of July when they are to lay the corner stone of their new church.

SCORES GAMBLING AND DRY LAW VIOLATIONS

PRINCETON, Ky.—In his charge to the grand jury at the opening of the Caldwell Circuit Court here Judge Carl Henderson condemned all forms of gambling and called upon the jurors to return indictments in all cases warranted by the evidence. He said that raffling anything of value, betting on baseball games or a horse race were violations of the law and should be punished. He made a plea for a fair primary election and condemned Sabbath desecration urging a stricter observance of the law against the doing of unnecessary labor on the Sabbath day.

He scored violators of the prohibition law and urged a thorough investigation of any infractions of the anti-liquor law and said that he would aid the grand jury to the fullest extent in ferreting out alleged violators of this law.

DR. F. L. LOVELAND

"The Perils of Democracy" will be the title of Dr. Frank L. Loveland's challenging address at the Chautauqua. His lecture is the culmination of thorough investigations, both in America and in Europe.

Into all of his utterances Dr. Loveland injects an intense patriotism based upon a sturdy Americanism and a sanity of vision that are stimulating and refreshing.

Dr. Loveland is so fired with his theme and is so thoroughly the embodiment of that theme that he stirs the hearts of his hearers to a new pride in the past and new faith in the future of America.

Dr. Loveland's lecture fills a genuine need in these days of baffling social and economic unrest.

JUDGE CARL HENDERSON

State Inspector H. E. James has reported that in the Fourth Judicial District over which Judge Henderson presides that in jury fees alone there is a saving of over $4500 yearly. Hundreds of dollars are saved on jury fees besides the saving in time to jurors and witnesses who attend court. All this saving is due to the fact there is no time wasted in the trials in court.

When Judge Henderson went into office nearly six years ago some sections of the district were in a state of lawlessness and men's lives were not safe, but today we have peace and good order. Judge Henderson has been untiring in his efforts to stamp out lawlessness of every kind. He has recently announced as a candidate for re-election under the new Non-partisan Judiciary Act which was passed by the last Legislature for the purpose of taking the Judiciary out of politics. Judge Henderson has not been a partisan, he has appointed commissioners to select the Juries from both political parties and has never appointed a commission composed all of one party. His decisions have been fair and he does not seem to have any pets. He stands for law and order.

V. Y. M. BARBECUE

Our big souled Dr. James H. Orme promised the mens class of the Methodist church a barbecue some weeks ago provided they would make an average of 125 present up to the middle of June. The class failed to make the average but Mr. Orme would give the barbecue. The date was set for June 15. It was an event that the class looked forward to with pleasure.

The feast was spread at Orme's Park. An expert had charge of the pigs and lambs and he was certainly onto his job of preparing barbecued meats for they were well cooked and seasoned to be most palatable. Ice cream and coffee and bottled drinks of all kinds were in abundance. The Dr. to give the finishing touch to all who enjoy smoking by passing fine cigars around. A hard rain fell while the feast was at its height but it created no confusion nor did it dampen any man's ardor.

Mr. Orme had selected three men to carve the meats: J. I. Clement, Dick Cruce and Guy Givens and where could he have gotten a more suitable trio than they?

The Marion Orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. The male quartet rendered several selections which were enjoyed by all. C. W. Haynes, teacher of the class introduced the Hon. V. Y. Moore, who organized this class and he delivered an appropriate address. Miss Roberta Moore, in her charming manner entertained the audience with a reading.

Twelve members of the Wesley Brotherhood Class of Madisonville were present. Tolu was well represented at the table. But the happiest man on the ground and the one who got the most out of the barbecue was Dr. James H. Orme and Marion would be glad if we had more of his type.

NATIONAL MALE QUARTET

The National Male Quartet will be one of the popular musical features at the coming Redpath Chautauqua here.

The National Male Quartet is an organization which is notable for an unusually harmonious blending of exceptional solo voices and for rare musical entertainment ability. Charles Cox, basso is the director of the quartet. His is a voice with a phenomenal range from F above to pedal C below. He is also a capital character comedian and his sketches form an unusually entertaining feature of the program. Mr. Cox was captain in charge of an entertainment division in the A. E. F. during the Great War serving immediately under General Pershing.

Thurlock Lieurance, well known composer of "By the Waters of Minnetonka" has written the following appreciation of this great quartet:

"It was my good pleasure to hear the National Quartet at the Rotary Club of Lincoln Neb. I can frankly say that this undoubtedly is one of America's best quartets, if not the best. They sing the best classics written for male voices. Besides being a fine singing organization, composed of fine fellows they are excellent entertainers."

"No one who has every appeared before the Rotary Club or at the University Convocation ever entertained like Mr. Charles Cox of the National Quartet."

The National Male Quartet will be one of the popular attractions at the Chautauqua.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

The Redpath Chautauqua opens here tomorrow afternoon. The program this year is to be one of the best we have had. All indications point toward a record breaking attendance. Following are members of the staff who will have charge of the tent in this city: Superintendent; John S. Tome Junior Supt.; Miss Hendrickson Prop man; Hays Owen Cashier; R. T. Elsey Gate; Wm. Taylor Usher; R. C. McCormick

REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA OPENS HERE TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the big Redpath Seven Day Chautauqua will open here. It will be held in the tent auditorium erected east of the jail adjoining jockey lot. Reports from the local committee in charge indicate that the Chautauqua will be a tremendous success.

The Redpath management has prepared a program which is replete with up to the minute attractions. Among the features are the rollicking comedy, "The Man from Home" and a notable production of Shakespeare's "As You Like It" by the famous Ben Grey Players.

Tomorrow afternoon the attraction will be the Oceanic Concert Company a splendid musical entertainment feature and at night after a short concert by this company, Montaville Flowers eminent publicist will give his timely lecture "America Looking Ahead."

"THE MAN FROM HOME"

"The Man from Home" well-known comedy success will be presented here by a New York cast on the sixth night of the coming Redpath Chautauqua.

The play is rich with amusing and sometimes almost tragic situations resulting from the clash between midwestern American ideals and old-world class distinctions. The characters are drawn from real life. Their quaintness, their absurdities and loveableness are all marked by the sure craftsmanship of those popular play-wrights, Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. There is a collaboration that resulted in clever rippling and sure-fire comedy.

The plot centers around the adventures of Daniel Voorhees Pike, an eccentric young lawyer of Mkomono Ind. Pike is first, last and always an American. He is a two-fisted, fearless fighter in the face of well nigh insurmountable difficulties. He is amusing and sometimes stubborn, but he is always delightfully American. He stands out prominently and often pugnaously in strong contrast to a group of intriguing, unscrupulous and grasping foreigners. His efforts to save his ward, a romantic title hunting girl, from the machinations of a conspiring family of the "fine flower" of Europe furnish material for most thrilling situations. While the entire action of the play takes place in a picturesque section of southern Italy, it is dominated by Pike and a refreshing American atmosphere.

PICNIC AT HARRISON

On last Tuesday Miss Ethel Hard took the juvenile classes of the First Baptist church, of which she is the superintendent on a picnic to the picnic grounds near Harrison Bridge.

About seventy of the youngsters, accompanied by Bro. Meroney and Sam Carnahan, superintendent of the Sunday School, and other adults made the trip. All report a gala day and are anxious to go again.

BIRTHDAY

On last Sunday Mrs. C. C. Long spent her seventieth birthday. Her nice country home is in the Chapel Hill section noted for its good citizenship. Her children and grandchildren to the number of 41 did not forget the day. They arranged to give mother and grandmother a surprise. The social feature was all that could be expected and the dinner brought in by the relatives was superb. Bob Enoch was there and he pronounced it great and Bob knows.

MAHAN-CLARK

Miss Mary Mahan and Mr. J. D. Clark were united in marriage Sunday June 13th, Rev. W. P. Matoney officiating. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clark left for Spring Lick Ky., where Mr. Clark is employed by the F. C. Railroad Company.

PICNIC

On last Wednesday morning Prof. Jaggers took his class out to Oak Grove school house three miles west of town and there they spread their breakfast consisting of bacon, coffee bread, pickles etc. They all reported a delightful time.

THE CHAPEL SINGERS

Representative church music, beautifully sung will be feature offering of the Chapel Singers who will appear here on the second afternoon and night of the Redpath Chautauqua.
Soul-stirring sacred songs are presented. Then there are operatic quartets and solos, groups of modern quartets and pianologs.

The initial success of the Chapel Singers was attained on a trip to the western coast. Almost unheralded these artists surprised and delighted discriminating audiences in the largest cities with their interpretative ability.

"The variety and excellence of this company" says the Spokane Wash.
Review "was received enthusiastically by an audience that filled every seat.
The program opened with a group of sacred songs among them being 'Rock of Ages,' and 'Onward Christian Soldiers.' The 'Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's 'Messiah' gave the company full opportunity to exhibit a rare blending of voices. Lovers of Tennyson and Kipling were pleased with the interpretations of poetry in terms of music. Operatic numbers were given with dramatic intensity and remarkable volume."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heart-felt thanks to the people of Blackford, those who so kindly assisted during the sickness and death of our precious mother, Mrs. E. A. Bennett.
May God bless you one and all and when your head presses a dying pillow, may there be friends there to minister to you as you have done our loved one; some one to speak sweet words of sympathy as you did to us in our darkest hour. We also thank the good people of Repton who were so kind and spoke sweet words of comfort and cheer.

DETECTIVE H. J. LOOSE

Detective Harry J. Loose will lecture to Redpath Chautauqua audiences here on "Crime—Its Cause, Practice and Prevention."

Mr. Loose has had a remarkable career as a detective. He was appointed to the Illinois State Police in 1901, leaving to join the famous Pinkerton detective forces. He resigned this position in 1906 to become a police officer for the city of Chicago. He was then assigned to detective work and later detailed to the Juvenile Protective Association of Hull House, at the head of which is Jane Addams. While there he made intensive investigations for corrective legislation and arrests in the heavy criminal prosecutions brought by that institution.

Mr. Loose was later assigned to the Chicago Council Crime Committee and placed in charge of the investigations made by that body into the cause of crime. He collected and produced evidence proving the existence of the "system" of crime.

Mr. Loose carries with him a remarkable display of tools of crime which he has captured during his work as a detective.

His lecture on the fourth afternoon is thrilling, constructive and of value to every community.

SOME SMILES

Something Else.

Business Man—As soon as I found there was a possibility of dishonest profit being made in the position, I got out of it.

Reporter—Yes, go on and finish the sentence.

Business Man—I have. I say I got out of it.

Reporter—Yes, yes; but my business is to discover what you got out of it.

—Tit-Bits.

Objection Sustained.

"But, my love, it was only a little game of poker."

"Didn't it last all night long and wasn't it still going on when you left at daybreak?"

"Why—er—yes."

"And you call that a 'little' game. I wish you had the same idea about giving me money to run the house with."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Considerate Woman.

Hostess—Now, professor, I want you to have numerous pianissimo passages in your selections for the musical.

Professor Pounder—You are fond of the sentimental, then?

Hostess—Not especially; but my guests will want to hear themselves talk once in a while.—Boston Transcript.

An Expert.

"Who's the editor of your 'Advice to Lovers' column?"

"The fat man over there at the corner desk who is smoking a pipe."

"Umph! What does he know about heart affairs?"

"A great deal. He was a divorce lawyer before he entered the profession of journalism."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Discarded Style.

The City Nephew—I'm glad to see Aunt Hetty dresses her hair successfully instead of wearing those silly puffs over the ears.

Uncle Talltimber—She tried 'em once an' they got tangled up with the telephone receiver an' she missed more'n half the gossip goin' on ever our 20-party line.

HE'S RIGHT TOO

She: I never saw you in the light of a lover, George.

He: You can only see me in the light of a lover, usually, in the dark.

Where Charity Didn't Begin. Jack Spauld could not be fat. His wife could not be lean. But he took up funds for them to look the palmer clean.

That's About All for the Boss. "Say, Smith, what's that?" Yesterday when the boss told a joke you laughed your head off, and today when he told you two you didn't even grin.

"No; it wouldn't serve me. He told me this morning that there'd be nothing doing about my raise."—Richmond Times-Star.

Soft Melodies.

"Why are angels always represented as playing on harps?"

"Probably," replied Miss Cayenne, "to keep our minds as far as possible from thoughts of the customary music provided by a phonograph in an advertisement."

In the First Person.

"This typewriter?"

"Formerly belonged to a celebrated pugilist. He fought many a battle on this machine."

"You can see that by the battered condition of the letter 'I'."

An Important One.

"Have you solved any of the great problems of the time?"

"Only one so far," replied Senator Bingham. "By great industry and study I managed to get myself re-elected."

Don't Think Much of It Musically. "What did Mrs. Dubois think of Miss Yowler's music?"

"She pronounced the lettuce salad wibes delicious."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

And She Did.

Smith—I got a hat at such a bargain this morning I just feel like hugging myself.

Jack—Hadden't you better have it done by proxy?—Boston Transcript.

It Was a Grand Finale.

Heaven—Was Strauss a musician or a professional street man?

Heaven—Well, we know the end brought down the house.

Me-o-my,
how you'll take to a pipe—and P. A.!

Before you're a day older you want to let the idea slip under your hat that this is the open season to start something with a joy'us jimmy pipe—and some Prince Albert!

Because, a pipe packed with Prince Albert satisfies a man as he was never satisfied before—and keeps him satisfied! And, you can prove it! Why—P. A.'s flavor and fragrance and coolness and its freedom from bite and parch (cut out by our exclusive patented process) are a revelation to the man who never could get acquainted with a pipe! P. A. has made a pipe a thing of joy to four men where one was smoked before!

Ever roll up a cigarette with Prince Albert? Man, man—but you've got a party coming your way! Talk about a cigarette smoke; we tell you it's a peach!

Prince Albert is sold in tippy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome papers and half pound tin humidors and in the grand crystal glass humidors with sponge moistener top.

CONVIS TO SPEAK ON RUSSIA AND SIBERIA

Chautauqua Audiences Will Hear Masterly Address.

Lecturer Tells of Personal Experiences With the Bolsheviks, Giving a Deep Insight into Russia of Today.

Lewis A. Convis, at the coming Red-path Chautauqua, will present a significant, informative address on Bolshevism in Russia and Siberia. In 1918, Mr. Convis was assigned as a civilian worker to the Polish Legion of Siberia. He remained with the Legion through varying fortunes and vicissitudes until its total collapse when only 870 men survived.

Mr. Convis was peculiarly fitted to serve among Slavic peoples because of his long study of Polish as well as Russian peasants and upper classes both in America and in Europe. The ambitious, impulsive and reactions interpret with fidelity and sympathy.

CLEARING OUT.

The chief operator stepped up to the new girl and tapped her on the shoulder.

"You're fired," he said simply.

"Fired?" the girl gasped. "Why, ain't I doing my work right?"

"Maybe so," said the C. O. calmly.

"But you're fired just the same. The way you give people the right numbers the first time they ask for them makes the rest of our service look so rotten you're causing all kinds of complaints."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

SHIP OUR SHIPS ON THE SEVEN SEAS

American ships, flying the Stars and Stripes will carry you and your goods anywhere

Two and three generations ago, the Stars and Stripes were all over the world. Then they almost vanished from the seven seas. But today they are back again.

Big splendid steamers, American owned and operated, carrying passengers and goods, are crowding their way into all foreign harbors with the Stars and Stripes proudly fluttering from their masts.

American exporters, importers, travelers—all can help by shipping and sailing under the Stars and Stripes.

BEST DESIGN FOR CHIMNEY

Style of Construction That Reduces Danger of Fire to the Lowest Possible Point.

It is well-known that the ordinary brick-and-mortar chimney, as usually constructed, is a source of danger. The constant heat from fire in time causes the mortar to become dry, so that it falls out of place, leaving holes in the chimney. Such a condition usually goes unnoticed and is a constant source of danger from fire.

In constructing chimneys in buildings made of combustible material, the chimney should be built straight up from the ground, and not placed on a bracket, as is often the case, and should extend two feet or more above the peak when the chimney is in the center of the roof, and three feet or more above the surface when a flat or slanting roof. For a proper draft the minimum-sized opening for the flue should not be less than 64 square inches, while the walls should be at least eight inches thick. At the base of each flue a clean-cut door should be provided, if possible. Whatever the material used in construction, it should be of good quality and laid in conical. Flue holes should never be filled with any inflammable material, but should be covered over in a secure manner with a metal flue stop.

The joints used to support the floors through which the chimney passes should not have their ends supported in the brick, as the chimney may settle, leaving at these points cracks through which fire may creep to the joists; furthermore, no other woodwork should come in contact with the chimney.

GET TO WORK ON GARDEN

Really There is No Reason Why There Should Be Any Unused Ground in Community.

A garden is a good investment. A garden saves money. A garden promotes health.

The cost of living still is burdensome to multitudes. Here is where the garden can be made to help. It all depends on the man with the hoe. Enough of him, working at odd times during the next few weeks, with slight attention during the summer, can accomplish more for the general material welfare than can be accomplished through the operation of treaties and tariffs. No doubt about it at all! Let the available unused plots of ground in the nation be utilized for garden purposes; let every citizen tend his little patch—rich man, poor man, beggar man—with the school children doing their bit, as was done during the war, and let the most vexing internal domestic problems will be settled, and millions of people will be out of the trenches of trouble before Christmas.

Now is the time for the man with the hoe to get busy. Whether prices be high or low, it pays to make a garden. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Home Garden Saves $100.

The average American family can grow one-eighth of its food and save $100 annually by home gardens, a Columbia university survey shows.

O. S. Morgan, professor of agriculture at the university, in making public the survey urges the thousands of gardeners who made a start with home gardens during the war and who "quit them just on the eve of victory," to re-enlist. He says that 22,540 farms have been abandoned in New York state during the past decade, a reduction of 105 per cent of the total number in 1910.

"In a recent survey of a thousand families with home vegetable and fruit gardens, it was shown that as an average the garden produced one-eighth of the food requirements of the family," Professor Morgan said. "At current prices it is estimated that even in remote suburbs this would represent well over $100 actual saving to each family."—New York Sun.

Plant Memorial Trees.

More human art, no matter how great the genius of the artist, cannot begin to compare with the art of nature. There is something appealing in the latter which renders it far superior to anything of the kind in stone or metal or on canvas.

Cities and towns, nay, even villages, on this side of the Atlantic that have been bereaved of their sons in the world conflagration of the second decade of the Twentieth century cannot do better than to take a leaf out of a book of the gold diggers of Ballarat, Australia and create memorial avenues lined on either side, not by stone or bronze statues but by beautiful living maple or oak trees that will bear their names and that will develop and flourish with the growth of the country.—Montreal Family Herald.

Good News for Lawn Owners.

By using ammonium sulphate in the same quantity as nitrate of soda is used for fertilizing the lawn, the required amount of nitrogen is furnished, but the weeds are so weakened that they are crowded out. The cost is about the same.

ONIONS REQUIRE VERY RICH SOIL

Work Into Seed Bed 3 or 4 Inches of Well-Rotted Manure. Say Specialists.

USE HIGH-GRADE FERTILIZER

Plants Grow Rapidly and Should Have Frequent Shallow Stirring of Surface Soil—Plant "Sets" in Rows 15 Inches Apart.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Onions require a mellow, rich soil; in fact, very few gardens are rich enough to grow good onions without some fertilizing. In preparing the soil break it up with a spading fork, working into the top 3 or 4 inches of well-rotted manure, suggest garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Ten pounds of high-grade commercial fertilizer should also be spread over each square rod of ground and well raked into the soil a few days before planting the onion "sets." Poultry and sheep manure are both good fertilizers for onions, but must be used sparingly and well mixed with the soil to prevent burning the onion roots.

Require Frequent Stirring.

Onions grow very quickly and require frequent shallow stirring of the surface soil. The usual method is to plant the "sets" in rows about 15 inches apart and 3 to 5 inches apart in the rows, covering them just as the tops will be below the surface. A narrow steel rake is a good tool for working between the rows at first, but later as the onions attain some size a wheel hoe can be used. For the very first working and for getting between the individual plants in the rows there is nothing better than a short piece of lath with three wire brads driven through it at one end, making what is known as a "scratcher." By and by the onion tops will get so large that they almost fill the spaces between the rows and hand weeding may have to be resorted to in order to keep the crop free from weeds.

Scatter Nitrate of Soda.

About the time the onions begin to enlarge at the base, or to "bottom," as the growers say, it is a good plan to scatter a very little nitrate of soda, not more than two pounds to the square rod, over the soil between the rows and work it in with a hoe or rake. This will stimulate the growth just at the time that the plants most need a little extra food and will usually increase the yield.

A quart of onion "sets" properly planted and given a fair chance will produce about one-half bushel of mature onions.

USES OF BORDEAUX MIXTURE

Best Fungicide to Apply on Vegetables, Grapes, Ornamental Plants and Potatoes.

Bordeaux mixture is our best fungicide for use on vegetables, potatoes, grapes, and ornamental plants. For apples and stone fruits, lime-sulphur replaces bordeaux. On potatoes bordeaux mixture not only protects the potato plant against fungal diseases, but also prevents the burning of the leaves which comes in hot, dry seasons. Sprayed plants outyield the unsprayed plants. For use on potatoes to control the potato beetle, one-half pound of paris green, or two pounds of arsenate of lead may be added to the bordeaux mixture.

POISON BAIT FOR CUTWORMS

Paris Green or Arsenate Mixed With Wheat Bran and Molasses Is Specific Remedy.

Poisoned bran bait is the specific remedy for cutworms. The accepted formula for large acreages is wheat bran, 50 pounds; paris green or crude arsenic, two pounds; black strap molasses, two quarts; water, two to four quarts or more as needed. Mix the bran and poison thoroughly in a dry state, then add the diluted molasses, and stir vigorously until thoroughly mixed. Distribute the bran over the infested field broadcast, taking care to sprinkle it sparingly around each hill. Middings or alfalfa meal may be substituted for bran.

THE GIRL ON THE JOB

How to Succeed—How to Get Ahead—How to Make Good

By JESSIE ROBERTS

HOME VOCATIONS

IN THE old days women did their work in their own homes, and they did pretty much all the work that was required to make a home complete. Today women have gone out into the world to earn their living, and what they use in their homes they buy. But there is a curious return to some of the older types of work. Once again women are spinning and weaving. But now they do it for its commercial value. They make a vocation of some household task of their grandmothers', and earn a living by it.

Specialty shops and private customers pay big sums for fine work of this hand sort. It is a good business venture for a woman who really wants to make money and who cannot go out into the world to do so, to learn the processes of weaving, provide herself with the proper equipment and then get to work. She should get in touch with some selling center, and keep herself informed of the best work that is being done in her line. This she can do by joining some crafts society. A course of six weeks with a good teacher, working every day, is advised. The loom itself will cost from fifty to sixty dollars, but it is useless to invest in a poor one. The workwoman is worthy of her tools and she should see that her tools are first-rate in quality.

Many women do their own dyeing, getting excellent results. Many make their own designs, or copy certain well-known ones from old sources. The marketing is part of the work. If you belong to a crafts society you can usually sell through it. Or you may hold private exhibitions in your studio or house, or use the various exchanges that have been established, or get in touch with commercial dealers who handle such things.

With patience, and by avoiding putting too high a price on your work until you are well established, you will build up a paying art.

Last Night's Dreams—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF DOGS?

TO DREAM of dogs is, as a rule, accounted a lucky omen. If the dog is vicious and attempts to bite you, and you succeed in keeping him off or driving him off, it means that you will get the better of your enemies—if you have any. Even if the dog bites you it is not so bad, for it indicates only temporary annoyances. If the dog barks at you, or you see two dogs fighting, you are in for a quarrel with some one, or some people are jealous of you—very likely both. At any rate if the dog snarls and barks at you pay closer attention to your business. If you see a dog sleeping, be assured that everything will come out all right for you in the end. If you see a female dog with her puppies the oracles are united in saying that it signifies that something over which you are now worried, or disappointed, or angry, and which you regard as unfortunate will, in the long run, turn out greatly to your advantage. If you dream that you are playing with a dog it is supposed to signify that you are too free with your money; don't spend so much on mere trivialities and pleasures. To see a dog in a dream under any circumstances means that you have faithful friends who will stand by you.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"BOGUS"

"B OGUS," originally the least of counterfeit or spurious, slipped into the language through a corruption of the name of a man named Borghese, reputed to have been a very corrupt individual who, around 1825, flooded the west and southwest with vast amounts of counterfeit bills. Borghese, it is interesting to note, turned out his currency so rapidly that he didn't even stop to find out if the banks on which the bills were drawn were even in existence. As a result, much of his money was counterfeit in a double sense—it stimulated currency and it bore the name of a fictitious financial institution.

The Westerners, being rather rapid in their speech, shortened the Italian name of Borghese first to "Borges" and then to "Bogus," applying the term to counterfeits of all descriptions. The earliest use of the word yet reported is recorded in the "New English Dictionary" as occurring in the Palmetto, Ohio, Telegraph of July 6, 1827. Then, of course, it was spelled with a capital "B" and it was not until nearly half a century later that it took its place in language as generally used.

SWISS CHARD GROWN MAINLY FOR GREENS

Soil Should Be Rich and Thoroughly Prepared.

When Young Plants Are Nicely Started They Should Be Thinned Out—Lucullus Is Considered the Best Variety.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Chard, usually spoken of as Swiss chard, is a form of beet with fleshy leaf-stems grown mainly for use as greens during early summer and fall. The seeds resemble those of the common garden beet and are planted in exactly the same manner. The soil on which chard is planted should be well enriched and thoroughly prepared, say garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Plant the seeds in rows 15 inches to 2 feet apart and 10 to 12 seeds to the foot to insure a full stand. The seeds should be covered about 1 inch deep, and the surface slightly packed with the back of the hoe after the seeds are covered.

When the young plants are nicely started they should be thinned to stand about 4 or 5 inches apart in the row. The plants thinned out are commonly used as greens. Cultivate the same as beets, and in cutting for greens remove the leaf stems, leaving the roots and hearts of the plants to produce more leaf stems. The thick leaf stems are cooked the same as other greens. The variety of chard known as Lucullus is considered best. Chards are of an ornamental nature and can be planted as a border along the garden.

PLAN TO SMOTHER BINDWEED

Alfalfa Is One of Best Means of Controlling Wild Morning Glory—Other Crops Useful.

Alfalfa, because of its excellent smothering effect and frequent cutting it receives, is one of the best all-around means of controlling bindweed (wild morning glory) in sections where alfalfa grows well. United States Department of Agriculture experts find, Cowpeas, sorghum, millet, soy beans and buckwheat are also useful as smothering crops, but are rarely as successful as alfalfa. It is well to follow alfalfa with a clean cultivated crop, such as corn.

Hogs are fond of both the underground and above ground growth of bindweed. If the land is plowed it will greatly assist the hogs in removing the underground parts. Sheep pasturing has been found helpful, but it is not as useful a method as hog pasturing. Grazing helps to hold bindweed in check, but can not be depended upon to secure eradication.

The use of chemicals other than salt has not been successful except under special conditions and is not recommended. Care should be exercised to prevent the introduction of the pest by means of (1) impure seed, especially impure wheat seed; (2) manure—bindweed seed may be contained in the droppings or may enter manure by the addition of bedding containing bindweed seeds; and (3) thrashing outfits, thrashing machines, unless thoroughly cleaned, may carry the seeds of bindweed from farm to farm.

POTATO SCAB LOWERS GRADE

Presence of Few Scabby Specimens May Cause Severe Depreciation in Value of Crop.

Scab is an example of a field disease that causes severe depreciation in the value of a crop of potatoes. says the United States Department of Agriculture. The presence of a few scabby potatoes may lower the grade of an otherwise fancy lot. In some sections scab can be controlled by seed treatment, but in many instances careful grading will prevent scabby potatoes as well as those affected with wire-worm, white-grub, nematode, and flea-beetle injury from reaching the market.

CONFINE DUCKS IN MORNING

During Laying Season Fowls Should Be Kept in House Until 9:30 or 10 o'clock.

Ducks lay their eggs early in the morning, and should be confined to the house or pen until 9:30 or 10 o'clock. If allowed to roam earlier, they may lay in a pond or stream and the eggs be lost.

THE LOVING-CUP.

THE two-handed form of cup, now used mostly as a prize or a testimonial, had its origin in a more suspicious and violent day than ours. The cup, as served, had a cover and a napkin. One man, drinking with another, would hold the cup by one handle and the cover and the other removed the cover and held the other handle. Both hands of both men being thus occupied, they might drink without fear of bodily assault with a dagger or other weapon.

FARM LIVE STOCK

MUCH LOSS IN BEEF CATTLE

Average Price Per Head Dropped From $44.22 in 1919 to $31.41 in 1921—Hogs Also Drop.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Beef cattle on farms lost in average value per head from January 1, 1919, to January 1, 1921, all that they gained during the participation of the United States in the World war and more than half as much again, according to the bureau of crop estimates, United States Department of Agriculture. The loss occurred mostly in 1920. This has been established beyond doubt by the recent annual investigation of prices of farm animals per head made by the bureau. The average price per head, all ages, of cattle other than milk cows was $35.92 in 1917, $44.22 in 1919, and $31.41 in 1921. On January 1, last year, the farm price was $4.51 below that of 1917, some months before this country declared war.

In the case of swine on farms, the average price per head, all ages, declined in the two years 1919 and 1920, 88 per cent of the gain in 1917 and 1918, and two-thirds of the decline was in 1920.

From 1916 to 1919, the average farm value of the product of corn per acre increased from $21.67 to $38.54. The corn crop of 1920, taking the average value of the product of one acre, fell to $20.93, and this drop not only wiped out the gain of the preceding three years but perceptibly exceeded it. The commonly used percentage of decline since the break in price began, fails to discover this fact, because a percentage of decline from a higher number is not comparable with a percentage of gain during the preceding years, which is based on a comparatively low number.

FARM DOG IS ALSO PUREBRED

Ohio Farmer Keeps Registered Cattle and Hogs—Poultry Entirely of Pure Breeding.

Of 95 head of live stock on an Ohio farm, 90 are purebred, according to the owner, who is co-operating with the United States Department of Agriculture in the better-sires movement. His statement of the pure breeding is verified by two other live stock owners.

A registered Aberdeen-Angus bull and a registered Duroc-Jersey boar are kept. One grade Angus cow and four crossbred mares are the only stock not purebred. The poultry are entirely Barred Plymouth Rocks of pure breeding. The farm dog, a beagle, is also purebred.

TREES THRIVE IN ODD LAND

Hillside, Corners and Waste Strips Can Be Made Quite Useful in Growing Timber.

By planting hillside, odd corners on the farm where a road or railroad has cut it off and places where erosion has been had, a good return on such an investment can be gotten. If land is subject to overflow cottonwood will grow and it will in a short time furnish desirable rough lumber. Soft woods make excellent fence posts when treated with creosote and have been found to last over ten years which makes them desirable from the standpoint of cost.

SUMMER ATTENTION TO HOGS

Foundation Laid at This Time to Begin Things Necessary for Cheap Production of Pork.

You may think that your hog crop needs the least of your thought and attention during the summer months, but it would pay many pork producers immensely to give deeper thought to this summer handling of the herd than they do, for at this time can easily be laid the foundation of successful avoidance of many troubles as well as to begin some things necessary for cheap pork production.

SUPERIORITY OF SUGAR BEET

Authoritative Reports and Opinions on Feeding Value of By-Products for Live Stock.

There is now available a considerable library of authoritative reports and opinions on live stock feeding with sugar beet by-products. Experiments extending over a term of years have been conducted, showing the comparative superiority of these feeds.

OBITUARY

Once again within a year the Death Angel has visited our home and took from us our dearly beloved mother, Mrs. E. A. Bennett. She was born September 28, 1863 and married to James W. Bennett at Blackford May 10, 1882. Six children were born to this union; three boys and three girls. The girls survive. Mother professed faith in Christ about 25 years ago and in 1902 she joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Weston and remained a faithful member until death. She was the daughter of William and Susan Green who preceded her to the grave several years ago.

We children, the dear sister, the kind neighbors made a wonderful fight to keep her but on May 21 God called and the spirit took its flight to the God who gave it.

Mother was sick only three weeks with bronchial asthma. Just a few minutes before she died she called father and grandmother, saying she saw them and they were coming to meet her. It is so hard to know we have to live without mother, but God knows best we must submit to His will. Everyone knew Mother for she was always ready and willing to help those in distress. She made friends wherever she went.

Mother's earthly life is ended that sweet voice we loved so much is hushed in death. All that is mortal of her whom we loved is mingled with the dust. Now we loved Mother very much (and oh how we miss her) at God loved her more and now that her life which scattered so much sunshine has gone to shine more beautifully on the other side, may it prove a beacon light to land the loved ones together in a land of happiness and perpetual sunshine radiant from the throne of God.

She leaves besides the children, three brothers, John Green of Sturgis; Lee Green of this place; Dick Green of Providence; two sisters, Mrs. Archie Kistner of Bailey and Mrs. Mollie Derbin of Uniontown.

She was laid to rest in the Repton Cemetery May 23rd. The grave was covered with beautiful flowers.

Goodbye dear Mother, goodbye till we come to join you and Father in that far clime. We miss thee from our home dear Mother, we miss thee from thy place, a shadow o'er our life is cast, we miss the sunshine of thy face. We miss thy kind and willing hand, thy fond and earnest care. Our home is dark without thee, we miss thee everywhere.
