PREPARATIONS ON FOOT FOR BIG FREE BARBECUE

At a call meeting of the Marion Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night plans for a big free barbecue were laid. Committees were appointed and the date set for Wednesday July 27. The plan originated at a meeting of the Directors of the Farm Bureau where it was proposed to give a big barbecue and have a great Farm Bureau Day. The business men gladly fell in with this plan and are to co-operate with the Farm Bureau.

The men appointed on the various committees were:

Pledging and delivering carcasses: E. F. Dean; W. E. Dowell; Dallas Dunning; Maurie Nunn; Wm. Rochester; W. D. Sullivan; J. A. Hill; Lester Terry; W. R. Clement and Dave Postlethweight.

Dressing and barbecuing Carcasses: T. J. Sleamaker, Guy Givens and Will Crider.

Carving and Serving Meat: W. D. Sullivan, J. A. Fowler and T. J. Wring.

Drinks: Clarence Grady, Dave Moore.

Bread, Pickles and Miscellaneous: J. D. Asher; W. E. Cox; R. F. Wheeler and Herbert Morris.

Preparation on Grounds: J. H. Orme, W. R. Cruce; J. N. Boston; Bebe Boswell and W. O. Tucker.

Advertising and Entertainment: John E. Spencer; R. E. Wilborn; G. M. Gumbert and E. P. Hogard.

Music: M. H. Cannon, Mrs. J. B. Wiggins and Wm. O. Moore.

Arrangement of Service: J. R. Sowders, Ed. Sullivan and Felix Cox.

Finance: Sam Carnahan, R. F. Haynes, D. O. Carnahan and J. A. Stephens.

Several members of the Farm Bureau have already pledged to give carcasses and others are expected to donate and enough meat can be obtained easily. The business men have agreed to close their business houses for two hours on that day.

There will be speaking and other entertainments. The whole plan has not been completed yet but it is a fact that we are going to have a big barbecue and a big time.

Little Miss Haynes is only four years of age and this was her initial performance. Her mother is prominent in stage circles and is a well known actress.

Little Miss Gwendoline is being trained by Miss Ethel Hard of this city.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Crittenden County Institute closed Friday, July 8th. It was one of the best Institutes the county has had. The discussions were about locations of schools, school equipment required, qualifications of teachers, rather than how to teach Grammar, etc. Institute was better because it was different.

One of the best features came on Friday afternoon in the form of ice cream and cake served to each one of the teachers and visitors present. For this we thank J. L. F. Paris and his good wife.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, First: that we go on record as being in favor of the second proposed amendment in which ten percent of the school fund shall be held as a reserve for special uses.

Second: that we as teachers pledge ourselves to encourage more Bible reading in our schools.

Third: that we pay strict obedience to the Standard Rules of Sanitation and do more individual work in beautifying the school grounds and buildings in our respective schools.

Fourth: we hereby pledge ourselves to take an active interest in the County Tournament.

Fifth: that we heartily insist that the officers of the Enforcement Attendance Law do their full duty fearlessly and impartially during the entire term of school.

Sixth: that we endorse the action of the State Administration for having extended the State Normal School work to our town and county.

Seventh: we wish to thank all the citizens of Marion who have assisted in making this a profitable and enjoyable week and especially do we extend our heartfelt thanks to Dr. Frazer for his untiring efforts and interest in Crittenden childhood; also to the Board of Education of Marion Graded School for the use of this splendid building; and to the Farmers Bank for the nice notebooks.

Eighth: that we highly appreciate the work of Professors Jagers and Arnold and recommend them to other counties for efficient instructors.

Ninth: that we extend to the County Superintendent our thanks for his efforts in making this Institute the success it has been, and pledge to him our very best efforts in making this the best year the schools of the county have ever had.

Tenth: for the splendid fellowship and good will as shown by Supt. Paris and Mrs. Paris, who out of the goodness of their hearts gave us the remembrance we give the thanks of grateful teachers.

TO THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY

July 12, 1921.

Dear Friend:

Since announcing my candidacy for the office of County Judge I have been real busy with my farm affairs and have been prevented from making as thorough a canvass of the county as I had hoped to do. Therefore I am taking this method of presenting to you some of the principles that I advocate.

High taxes seems to be one of the chief concerns of the people of the county at the present time and I am in complete sympathy with them on that line.

Being a member of the Fiscal Court at the present time I feel that I am more conversant with the financial affairs of the county than any of my opponents who are asking for the office. Furthermore if you will examine my record as a member of this Court you will find that I worked and voted against all propositions that I thought to be needless and extravagant.

Indications are that the next Fiscal Court will be a conservative one and if I am County Judge the people of the county may rest assured that they will get value received for every dollar of their hard earned tax money expended.

Crittenden County must not stand still but the greatest care should be exercised in the functions of her public affairs.

Being a farmer my interest are naturally with the farming and laboring class of people but I believe every industry in Crittenden County should have due consideration as every industry is largely dependent upon some other for its success.

Now if the people of the County see proper to nominate and elect me to this important office all questions will be thoroughly investigated and equal justice given to all regardless of race, creed or color.

If you want a progressive, economical law enforcement County administration, I most earnestly invite your support.

Yours very truly,

L. E. WADDELL

BIG FIRE AT MADISONVILLE

Madisonville, Ky. July 8.—Fire originating in the Davis cafe on south Main street last night destroyed real estate and fixtures which will total about $40,000.

The fire was discovered about midnight in the rear of the cafe and had considerable headway. It quickly spread to the north and south, burning the stable on the south and spread to the jewelry store.

The heat of the blaze cracked plate glass windows across the street. The building occupied by the Hustler Printing Company was in the path of the flames for some time but was saved. The telephone service was not crippled but the operators had to leave their posts of duty.

All owners had some insurance.

HEALTH NOTICE

WHEREAS: Official reports from many widely separated counties indicate an unusual state-wide epidemic of typhoid fever, a serious filth disease, and of similar bowel borne diseases including diarrhea, dysentery and summer complaint in children; and,

WHEREAS: These diseases are spread from the sick to the well only from uncleaned-for bowel discharges and urine; NOW, THEREFORE acting under the authority conferred upon it by law,

The State Board of Health of Kentucky requests every citizen of the State to be vaccinated against typhoid fever by his or her family physician as soon as possible with the reliable vaccine material furnished free from this office which is produced in the same careful manner as that which successfully protected the lives of our 500,000 soldiers during the World War, and that every family living outside of the sewer districts of cities is requested to install a Kentucky Sanitary Privy.

Literature in regard to both these measures may be obtained by a postal card request to the State Board of Health, Louisville Kentucky.

Farm Bureau Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Farm Bureau Directors was held at the Farm Bureau office in Marion. A number of problems of interest to farmers were discussed at length.

The Directors authorized the making of fall seed order. Farm Bureau members will receive in the near future a letter asking the amount and kind of seed that is needed for fall seeding.

Several interesting facts were brought out at this meeting relative to the money saved thru co-operative seed purchasing last fall. A prominent bureau member stated that he saved $5 on his last years order, more than enough to pay his bureau membership for two years.

Mr. Pierce of the Livingston County Farm Bureau was present and told many interesting things in regard to their Farm Bureau. Livingston County has a rest room at the county seat for farmers and their families. Crittenden county may have one if the Farm Bureau membership increases sufficiently to provide funds for its maintenance.

Farm Bureau Picnic

Plans were made for a Farm Bureau Picnic and Barbecue to be held at or near Marion the 27th of July. A number of carcasses were pledged by the farmers present at the meeting. The committee of farmers selected are: T. J. Sleamaker; J. A. Hill, J. H. Fowler; J. I. Clement, Leslie Terry; G. M. Gumbert, Jno. R. Spencer.

It is planned to select an equal number of business men and make this the biggest of its kind in Marion for many years.

The Union County Farm Bureau is arousing sentiment to have their lands valued at a fair valuation and in line with the prices received for their products at present. The value of farming property should be based upon its net earning power. If its earning power is low its tax value should be similarly lowered. Crittenden County Farm Bureau members will receive a letter in the near future explaining the Union county plan more in detail. This is something of vital interest and all members are urged to give it their close attention.

George W. Condit of Marion Route 2 was elected Secretary of the Crittenden County Farm Bureau by a vote of the Directors.

Caldwell Springs Community Club

The Caldwell Springs Community Club will meet July 20 with the following program:

Cover Crops—Do we need them? C. Daughtrey, Ed Young and J. Patton. The Use of Limestone in Caldwell Spring Community: Sam Travis, Ray Linzy and Elmer Parish.

Poultry: Ietta Peak, Mrs. Mayes. All Day Farmers Meeting: Ray Linzy. Lantern Slides and Talk by the County Agent.

Poultry Culling

Most of the hens which will stop laying this fall and until spring are shedding their feathers now and can be distinguished by the farmer according to County Agent Spencer who is making plans to conduct a number of demonstrations on July 18 and 19 in order to help Crittenden county farmers pick out the hens in their flocks which are not laying. Feathers on the hen house floor during the next few weeks may be taken as the first warning that some of the hens are preparing to stop laying and loaf, County Agent Spencer said.

In molting the hen sheds her body feathers first then her tail feathers and last her wing feathers which are shed from the center out. Prior to the period of molting the hen also shows certain other characteristics which make it easy for the farmer to pick her out when they are known. These characteristics will be explained in detail by specialists from the Extension Division of the College of Agriculture who will co-operate with the County Agent in giving the demonstrations.

Several demonstrations on different farms have been scheduled for the county as a part of the campaign. Farmers and their wives in the vicinity of these farms will meet there at which time the specialists will use the flock on that farm and show the poultry raisers the distinguishing points between the loafer and the laying hen. Circulars will also be distributed outlining culling details so that the farmers can return to their own flocks and eliminate the loafer hen.

Watch for the time and places of the culling work in next weeks issue of the Press.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION

There will be a special registration held at the office of the county court clerk July 23 for those who are entitled to vote in the August primary and for legal reasons failed to register heretofore.

DROWNED AT WESTON

Clifton Overby, age 20 was drowned in the Ohio River near Weston last Friday night. Young Overby was visiting relatives in the Iron Hill section and with a crowd of young people had gone on an outing to Weston. The body was not found until about noon the next day.

The remains were taken to Sugar Grove and funeral services and interment were conducted there Sunday. A large number of friends and relatives were present to pay their last tribute to his memory.

The young man's home was at Johnson City Ill. He had been working in Virginia and Eastern Kentucky and was only here for a visit. He was well and favorably known in this section as he had spent several summers here.

MARION SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT CLUB

The Marion School Improvement Club composed of the mothers of the pupils was organized last year and during its existence has raised $1000 to be used in improving the school building.

It has set $2500 as its next year's goal.

These funds are to be used in putting the school in good repair, improving the grounds painting the interior of the building and making water connections to the building.

The club is to the Marion school what the Parent-Teacher Associations are to many other schools.

There are ninety-seven members and the teachers and R. E. Jagers superintendent of schools, attend the meetings and co-operate with the members in their work.

The club was organized last October to foster school spirit. It was decided one way to gain that end was to provide the pupils with a school of which they could be proud.

The club has been divided into five regional groups, each group of which is expected to provide an entertainment at regular intervals. These entertainments have proved not only a source of revenue but have filled a real need for community recreation.

The president of the club is Mrs. Walter McConnell. The other officers are: Vice President, Mrs. Sam Gugenheim; secretary, Mrs. L. E. Crider and treasurer Mrs. Will Carnahan.

Studebaker

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."
---EMERSON

Never in the history of the automobile business has the truth of this saying been proved so conclusively as in the SALES of Studebaker Cars in Greater New York (not including Metropolitan District), and over the entire country in the six months ending June 30, 1921. In Greater New York in June alone we sold

451 New Studebaker Cars

A comparison between June, 1921, and June, 1920, shows this remarkable increase in retail orders for Studebaker Cars in Greater New York.

June, 1921	451 Cars	$818,675.00
June, 1920	82 Cars	192,102.21
Increase 1921 over 1920, 369 Cars		$626,572.79
Percentage of Increase	450%	326%

A comparison between the first six months of 1921 and the same period of 1920 shows an increase no less remarkable:

First Six Months 1921	1659 Cars	$3,535,510.25
First Six Months 1920	655 Cars	1,478,670.92
Increase 1921 over 1920, 1004 Cars		$2,056,839.33
Percentage of increase	153%	139%

The fact that this remarkable increase in SALES is made in a BUYER'S MARKET—when the most rigorous inspection and comparison of car values is made by prospective buyers—is proof positive that Studebaker Cars offer the highest quality at fair prices.

COLVIN FAVORS THE AMENDMENTS

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Gives Reasons for Changes Asked in School Laws

Kentucky is perilously close to the end of the line of states in the education of her children. She is only three places from the end of that long line. This bare statement of a very disagreeable fact should force every red-blooded man and woman in the state to resolve that a change must be made in the near future for the childhood of the state.

The following statement, which was given your reporter when he visited Frankfort lately, is what the Hon. George Colvin, the present State Superintendent of Public Instruction, thinks of the school situation in Kentucky at this writing. Every man and woman in Kentucky should read it most carefully and then act definitely when voting on the two amendments to the Constitution at the November election:

"Education in Kentucky in the past has suffered more from lack of a definite policy and a continued program than from any other single cause. Every four years administration of our schools is changed. Under the law no State Superintendent can succeed himself. Our school laws are a sort of legislative crazy quilt. Each succeeding Superintendent adds a patch or two that may or may not harmonize with the whole. No business can succeed if its policies are changed every four years. The administration of schools is the State's biggest business. In no department of government is a permanent program more necessary than in the administration of schools. Kentucky will not have better schools until she has better administration of her schools. Kentucky will not have better administration of her schools so long as she has politically elected Superintendents serving only four years.

System a Growth.

"A school system is a growth and not an enactment. It cannot be created overnight. It must conform to the genius of the people of the state. It must meet the needs of the people of the state. Kentucky cannot borrow from any state a school system that will entirely meet her needs. She must develop her own system. It will need Kentucky's best leadership to develop this system. This leadership cannot be had under the present method of selecting State Superintendents.

"Those who tell us that Kentucky has not suffered from politically elected Superintendents are either misinformed or are deliberately misleading the people. In education Kentucky ranks forty-fifth among the states. Until recently the attendance in our public schools was 37 per cent. Our teachers are not only the most poorly paid but they are the most poorly prepared of any state in the Union with the possible exception of two. It is not because Kentucky children cannot be taught; it is not because Kentucky teachers lack capacity to learn or devotion to teach; it is simply because children and teachers alike have not been given a chance. No man who loves Kentucky, who loves Kentucky's childhood can be satisfied with Kentucky's condition educationally. Nothing has contributed to this condition more largely than lack of competent, conscientious, continued, educational leadership.

Parties Back Movement.

"Both political parties in Kentucky have proposed through a plank in their platforms to take the office of State Superintendent out of politics and to place it upon a professional basis and to make it possible for a Superintendent to succeed himself. The administration of our schools ought not to be a political issue. The rights of our children do not admit of any division of opinion. Democrats and Republicans alike believe that the Kentucky child should be given a school system worthy of that child. The two political parties do not differ in their attitude toward schools any more than they differ in their attitude toward the Ten Commandments. The adoption of the proposed Constitutional Amendment will unite the two parties in practice even as they are now united in principle in their support of schools. The adoption of the amendment will give the Legislature the power to fix the term of the Superintendent; will give the Legislature the power to prescribe the manner of his election; will give the Legislature the power to place the office upon a professional rather than on a political basis. The State Superintendent in Kentucky that is now politically elected. The President of the University is appointed by a competent board because of professional fitness alone. The Presidents of the two Normal Schools are appointed in the same way. The superintendents of our city schools are appointed by boards because of demonstrated fitness not because of political affiliation. County superintendents are appointed again in the same way.

Is Not a Political Issue.

"There is no opposition to the amendment anywhere. It has been unanimously endorsed by the Kentucky Educational Association. The Kentucky Educational Survey Commission insists that we cannot hope for any great improvement in our schools until this amendment has been adopted. The Federated Women's Clubs of Kentucky have endorsed it. Rotary Clubs and Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce throughout the state have endorsed it. Both political parties have endorsed it. The Legislature that proposed it did so by the votes of the members of both parties. It is not a political issue. It is not proposed in the interest of this party or that party; it is proposed solely in the interest of the Kentucky child. For the sake of the Kentucky child, the Kentucky voters should make the vote in favor of the amendment so overwhelming that no man could any longer be in doubt about Kentucky's determination to have a school system equal to any in the nation."

STANDING IN HIS LIGHT

PARTISAN POLITICS NOT WANTED

Authorities On Both Sides Agree That School Offices Should Not Be Political Plums

TIGERT APPOINTED NEW COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION.

CLAXTON ALSO APPROVES.

John J. Tigert, college professor of Lexington, Kentucky, who has been appointed Commissioner of Education to succeed Philander P. Claxton.

Two important amendments to the constitution of the state will be voted on at the November election. The general public is anxious to know more about these amendments and how they may help the definite development of a strong school system in Kentucky.

Your correspondent has been fortunate in securing a strong, short, and very-much-to-the-point statement concerning the proposed amendments from the Hon. J. Tigert. What Mr. Tigert has to say on the important subject of schools, should carry a great weight as he has lately been appointed Commissioner of Education for the United States by President Harding. Mr. Tigert was one of the faculty of the University of Kentucky prior to his appointment as Commissioner.

Mr. Tigert's statement is given below:

"In reply to your questions suggesting an expression in regard to the proposed constitutional amendments, one to take the State Superintendent of Instruction out of politics, and the other to allow a reapportionment of the State funds for school purposes, allow me to say that I do not know anything which would improve the cause of education in this Commonwealth more than the passage of these two amendments.

Keep Out of Politics.
"If the State Superintendent could be selected upon qualifications and aside from the issues of political campaigns, and then be allowed to continue in office after he has reached a high degree of efficiency, this one thing alone would improve the efficiency of our schools in an immeasurable way. I do not know of anything so important for the betterment of education in Kentucky.

Child Needs Square Deal.
"Hardly less desirable would be the amendment which would bring about a reapportionment of the funds so that educational opportunities might be equalized throughout the state. Giving a square deal to the children in the rural communities, to my mind, would be an inestimable benefit coming from such a reapportionment. It would give me great satisfaction if both of these amendments could be passed. In the name of the children of our great state, let us put them through."

All Equally Interested.
"From the standpoint of statesmanship and the public welfare, all people are interested alike in the schools. Our political parties do not differ in regard to educational principles or practices any more than they do in the Ten Commandments or the moral code; and to attempt to make education a matter of partisan politics is good neither for education nor for politics. Education is the largest and most important part of what has been called our 'purposive government,' through which all the people are served and united, rather than controlled under policies on which people are divided into parties."

That men and women in both of the great political parties think alike concerning the management of the public schools of the state, should go without the saying. For fear the average voter might allow partisan politics to sway him or her at the November election, some quotations from a recent article by the Hon. P. P. Claxton, are given here. Mr. Claxton of Tennessee served as Commissioner of Education for the United States under President Woodrow Wilson.

The reader is asked to compare what the new Commissioner has said above and what the retiring Commissioner has to say below concerning the very grave danger of mixing politics with the school affairs of the state. The reader should bear in mind the fact that these men represent in a measure the two great parties.

Mr. Claxton wrote as follows:

"Like Topsey, our state departments of education have just 'grewed up.' Few of them can look back to any definite birth as state departments of education. Very few, if any, except those that have been re-elected by recent acts of legislature or constitutional amendments, have been thoughtfully created and organized in full consciousness of the functions they should perform.

Office is Not Political.

"In most of the states the mistake was made of supposing that the office of State Superintendent could be made a political office subject directly or indirectly to the vicissitudes of partisan government, as if, forsooth, the political parties as such ever advocated different educational policies, and as if the people would tolerate partisan influences in their schools. As a political office, elective or appointive, it did not formerly and in some states does not now, rank with other offices, either in pay or in im-

OLD TIME FIRE ENGINE

Herewith is pictured a fire engine which was in use in Upper Austria in the eighteenth century. It is now on exhibition in the national museum in Vienna.

LITTLE TIME NEEDED TO KEEP LABOR DATA

Records Often Are Means of Saving Working Costs.

Farmer Enabled to Determine Number of Days of Man and Horse Power Necessary to Produce an Acre of Any Crop.

A record kept of farm labor does not require much time, yet it is often the means of saving labor costs. The labor records show just how much labor and team work is required on each crop and the time in the season when it is used. They should show what proportion of the labor is devoted to work that produces an income and the amount that is consumed on odd jobs of unproductive tasks. This will enable the farmer to determine the number of days of man and horse labor necessary to produce an acre of any crop, or the care of any class of animals for a year says the United States Department of Agriculture. Thus he may be able to rearrange his system of management so that he can get along with less labor and at the same time maintain production.

A year's labor records show also just how much man power and horse power is necessary to run the entire farm at different seasons, and point out accurately just when the rush seasons occur. With such records before him, the farmer knows approximately what his labor requirements will be in advance of the rush season. He is able to increase or decrease the different farm enterprises and fit them together until he has outlined a complete year's work with an even load of labor for the entire season.

GIVE GAS ENGINE ATTENTION

Vibration Tends to Loosen Bolts, Nuts and Various Connections Which Need Tightening.

All screws and nuts on gas engines should be kept tight. The engine should be gone over every day or so when it is used, and all connections tightened and all oil and dirt wiped off. Such practice will go far toward preventing operating troubles, since all gas engines vibrate to some extent and this vibration tends to loosen bolts, nuts and other parts.

MRS. R. I. NUNN

Mrs. Bertha Kamen Nunn was born March 18, 1858. Her parents were Rev. George H. Perkins and Mrs. Perkins. Mr. Perkins was a minister in the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. He also spent a portion of his time in teaching. She professed faith in Christ and joined the Presbyterian Church in Marion in her girlhood days. She was married to Mr. R. I. Nunn on October 12, 1882. Maurie Nunn, their only child is the worthy fruitage of this happy marital relation. She leaves one brother and two sisters living.

As a young lady she was fair and winsome. She possessed the modesty and refinement so characteristic of a true woman and yet that frankness and freeness which made her at home and a delight in any social circle. She was noble and generous in her nature, a splendid neighbor and a true friend in every time of need.

She was a true and noble wife, faithful in all her marital relations such a wife as the one so beautifully delineated in the 31st chapter of Proverbs. She was a splendid mother affectionate devoted and deeply interested in every feature of her dear son's welfare.

She was a true church member and earnestly devoted to every interest pertaining to the extension of the Redeemer's kingdom.

Her Christian life was a model of excellence. She had that supreme self-control which adds such luster of beauty to the true Christian life. For the last fifteen years of her life she was never known to be out of humor. With that composure of mind, that tranquillity of thought that only comes to one by the grace of God she would not suffer herself to come ruffled or angry. Every night before retiring she knelt by her bedside and offered her devotions to God. The cluster of Christian grace was fully ripe and the sickle was thrust in and she was reaped for glory. The tar of her life has set, but it has risen in glory with a diadem of immortality upon her brow.

IN MEMORY

Mrs. D. Woods was born August 16, 1840. She was the daughter of Rev. George H. Perkins who was a minister in the Presbyterian church.

At an early age Mrs. Woods united with the Presbyterian church and remained a consistent member of the same until her death. She was married to Mr. D. Woods on November 15, 1859. To this union were born six children two boys and four girls. No parents ever did more in rearing their children in the true, old-fashioned Presbyterian style than did Mr. and Mrs. Woods.

As a wife and mother she was true and faithful in all her domestic relations. As a church member none could be more true. She was regular in her attendance at prayer meeting, Sunday school and church services. She took a great interest in all these services and no one enjoyed good preaching more than she. She enjoyed the visits of ministers and always gave them a glad welcome in her home.

She was a true friend to those worthy of a noble friendship and she would make you feel her friendship.

She lived a beautiful christian life one patterned after the beautiful life of her Lord and Master Jesus Christ. She lived a life that others might know she had been with Jesus—a life that left its sacred influence in the wake of her actions of love and devotion to the cause of the blessed Redeemer. The glory of such a life casts its sublime radiance like the beauty of the setting sun amid the blessings of a grateful world. She has fallen asleep in Jesus only to wake up in glory. She has gone to meet loved ones in the beautiful land on the golden strand, there to enjoy the rewards of a well spent life.

Be Rid of That Ache

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend?

Mrs. Joel Pickens, 402 W. Depot St. Marion says: I was suffering from a weak and disordered condition of my kidneys. My back was the worst source of complaint. It ached dreadfully through the small part and my kidneys acted irregularly. I was troubled a great deal with dizziness too. I read much about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Haynes and Taylor's Drug Store. They helped me from the first and I continued using them until cured (Statement given Oct. 17, 1916).

On December 22 1920 Mrs. Pickens said: Although I haven't had need for a kidney remedy since Doan's cured me I am always glad to speak a word of praise for them.

Saved My Life With Eaton

Says New Jersey Woman

"I was nearly dead until I found Eaton and I can truly say it saved my life. It is the best stomach medicine ever made," writes Mrs. Ella Smith.

Acid stomach causes awful misery which Eaton quickly gets rid of by taking up and carrying out the acidity and gases which prevent good digestion. A tablet taken after meals brings quick relief. Keeps the stomach healthy and helps to prevent the many ills so liable to arise from excess acid. Don't suffer from stomach miseries when you can get a big box of Eaton for a trifle with your druggist's guarantee.
