HOME TOWN PAPER WEEK

Nation-Wide Movement
Set for November 7-12

Every Four Corners has its Home Town week now-a-days but all the boys and girls who have wandered from the Township Center cannot get back to enjoy the level surroundings. But all can subscribe to the old home town paper and thus keep well in touch with the little spot they once called home.

What joy to run over the school promotions and find that the lots of a few years ago are moving higher and higher in scholastic circles and eventually blossom forth as the "sweet girl graduates" or the clean strong boys discarding knickerbockers.

Just watch that hardened old city coder open up his home paper—it is the first thing he picks up out of his bunch of mail—and what can he find there to interest him? Angus McGugans horse died yesterday; P. McGregors will run for the county clerkship; Lydia Mungers has opened a millinery store; Mrs. Plater broke her ankle and is in the hospital and all the happenings of the folks back home.

Yet though he smiles at the old-time styles and expressions he enjoys it all over again for it takes his mind back home where his wonderful boyhood days—happy days—were spent.

GROCERY ROBBED MONDAY NIGHT

Monday night J. D. Asher's grocery, Main Street, was broken into and some groceries were stolen. The thief or thieves gained access to the building by tearing the screen off one of the rear windows and forcing the lock at the top of the sash.

According to Mr. Asher, some meat and flour was stolen. He said it was impossible to ascertain whether anything else was taken or not.

Hapsburg Liebe

Hapsburg Liebe (Charles Haven Liebe), a native of the Tennessee mountains has been soldier, timberjack and sawmill man. In his education he was denied even the little red school house, his alma mater being a log structure in the hills which he left by way of a window at twelve years of age. But he had a taste for reading and has acquired a fine command of English and a writing style through study of the best authors.

At seventeen he commenced writing and turned out eighteen stories, all rejected by the editors. He was almost discouraged, but his nineteenth effort stuck with a respectable magazine. Lack of education made the way doubly hard, but now when he sits at his typewriter, he will tell you that the experience was worth all it cost.

Gritty! Indeed he is! At eighteen he joined a regiment for service in the Philippines. Time to entrain found him ill with pneumonia. Against the wishes of his captain and the orders of his doctor, he accompanied the outfit, being carried to the cars by his buddies. Most of his stories are about the Tennessee and Kentucky mountains. They are his people and better than any other writer, he knows and loves them. "The Clan Call," his most delightful tale, will soon start as a serial in this paper. Your misfortune if you miss it.

AN APPEAL TO THE FARMERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY

That "Faith without works is dead" is true in secular life as well as in the religious. Especially is it true in regard to our County Farm Bureau. Almost every farmer I meet says that he believes in it, that it is a good thing and should be supported—but few have shown the courage of their convictions by paying the small fee and casting in their lot with us. What we need is more working faith and more faithful workers. Considering the size of our little County Bureau our achievements are remarkable. Among other things we have arranged for a lime shed at Marion where any farmer of the county will be supplied with ground limestone at cost price plus 50c per ton for handling. We have also secured 16 percent acid phosphate at a reduction of $5 per ton from the regular commercial rate.

Now please don't imagine that we can keep up this rate of success without your support. Remember that we are human and likely to become discouraged by your indifference.

Consider also the effect of your aloofness from us on the rest of the community.

Our business and professional men have so far manifested a great spirit of helpfulness and encouragement toward us. Do you think they will continue that attitude if our farmers as a whole remain so indifferent.

Now my friends we are badly hampered by a lack of a large membership. Our neighbor counties of Christian and Union have gone over the top in this respect and as a result are doing many needful things that we can't do for lack of men and means. We would remind you that it is your fight as well as our own that we are making so we intreat you to show your faith in our Farm Bureau by joining and help to put Crittenden County in the front rank agriculturally.

We are now accepting new members for the balance of this year and all of 1922 for one payment of annual dues, $6. So now is the time for new members to join as they get 15 months benefits for twelve months fees. Don't wait to be solicited but go to our Secretary G. W. Condit and sign up with him or any member can accept your application.

Apply at Farm Bureau Office at Marion for any further information. Yours, for a bigger better Farm Bureau, JOE M. DEAN

MISTAKE IN DATE

Due to a typographical error, the date in the Notice to Contractors, which appeared in last week's issue of the Press, read October 9, when it should have been October 7.

J. B. Carter was in Marion Wednesday on business.

M. H. S. FOOT-BALL TEAM DEFEATS PRINCETON

The M. H. S. foot-ball squad defeated the Princeton High School team at Princeton at Princeton last Friday afternoon 12 to 0.

The game was played in mud several inches deep and for the most part in a downpour of rain. Few fumbles were made by either side considering the condition of the field and the ball. Marion outplayed the Princeton boys all during the game and were at no time in danger of being scored on.

Threlkeld at full made both touchdowns for Marion, the Princeton men were unable to stop him. One touchdown was made with a sixty yard run around end and the other a line buck for ten yards. Princeton was unable to pierce the heavy Blue and White line and made few gains.

The girls basketball game was not completed on account of the rain. When the rain broke up the game the Marion girls had the lead by the score of 7 to 5. The girls were about evenly matched but in the short period Marion showed better teamwork than that of Princeton.

A large crowd of rooters from Marion accompanied the teams on the trip.

Following is the schedule for the M. H. S. football team for the remainder of the season:

Oct. 1 Marion vs Manual at Louisville
Oct. 3 Marion at Providence
Oct. 8 Henderson at Marion
Oct. 12 Dawson Springs at Marion
Oct. 22 Marion at Clay
Oct. 29 Marion at Greenville
Nov. 5 Morganfield at Marion
Nov. 12 Clay at Marion Thanksgiving Sturgis at Marion

COUNTY TOURNAMENT

The County Tournament held at Marion Saturday September 24 was not an average test of what the Rural Schools are doing along the line of stimulative and educative recreation for owing to the unfavorable weather, only the schools nearest Marion were represented. Nevertheless it was a success for it brought together from different parts of the county patrons, teachers and pupils in friendly rivalry and competition, which is always an incentive for better work to a red-blooded teacher or pupil.

The contests were confined to eight schools.

50 yard dash for boys: Hayden Harpending of Siloam; Guy Rushing of Cookeysville

40 yard dash for girls: Katherine Terry, Forest Grove, Ruby Whitt of Cookeysville; Estella Small of Oakland

220 yard relay for boys: Heath and Siloam

100 yard relay for girls: Siloam

220 yard dash for boys: James Swansey, Chapel Hill; Tommie Fritts of Freedom

100 yard dash for girls: Marie Hardin, Oakland; Ruth Bigham of Chapel Hill

A MISTAKEN IDEA

A rumor was current on circus day that the reason there was no parade was because there had been a license of $50 placed on a parade by the City Council.

The rumor was false and places the Council under a false light. There is no such license and never has been. According to reports the reason that the management gave for their failure to parade was that they were muddy and in no condition to parade.

Farm Bureau Notes

Junior Club Fair at Tolu

The Junior Agricultural Club Fair at Tolu will take place October 15, on T. N. Taylors' lot at the end of Main Street. This exhibit will show the Junior Club Pigs that were put out by the Farmers and Merchants Bank last spring to interest young farmers around Tolu. These pigs are to be the foundation stock for the Junior farmers herd. At this time the pigs will be judged and prizes awarded for the best pigs. A prominent farm speaker will be present to judge the hogs and make an address that will be of interest to all. Come out on that Saturday and see what sort of hogs the boys have made.

It is hoped there will be a large number of entries of other livestock and seed corn at this Junior Fair. All entries must be in place by 10 A. M. that morning. There will be no prizes for other classes than the Junior Pigs but ribbons will be awarded according to placing. Blue first, red second, and white third place.

The exchange list at the Farm Bureau office should be used by a much larger number of farmers. You will find there a large list of live stock advertised. Make it a point when in town to go there and look over the list. If you have something for sale yourself it will cost you nothing to list it. The more people that use the exchange list the greater will be its value.

Crittenden County Fair

The Crittenden County Fair and Baby Show will take place next Friday October 7 at Cooks Park, Marion. According to the interest that is being taken this fair should be a big one and long to be remembered. The entries in the livestock promise to be very large. Every one is urged to exhibit their good stock and make this a red letter day for Crittenden county.

Mr. M. S. Gaiside from the Experiment Station at Lexington has been secured to act as the chief judge. He has had considerable experience in judging at Agricultural Fairs and exhibitors may be assured of fair and honest decisions.

Don't forget the babies, who will have the honor of having the best boy and the best girl baby in the county? Don't forget the day.

Seed Corn

Wise farmers have already selected their next years supply of seed corn. When corn is selected in the field you see the parent stalks and you see the ears' location on the stalk. You can see if it is a two ear stalk. Remember like begets like. Dry your seed corn and you are sure of good seed for next year. The County Agent will be glad to help anyone in field selection of seed corn.

COME TO THE FAIR

NOTICE

By order of the Post Office Department the lobby of the Post Office will be locked at 6:30 P. M., beginning October 1.

PRETTY WEDDING

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at Saint Timothy's Episcopal Church, Chicago, Ill., Saturday Sept. 17, at seven o'clock when Miss Crystal Marie Persons became the bride of Mr. Walter A. Bilhuber. Rev. Andrews rector of the church officiated.

Following the wedding ceremony, sixty relatives and friends of the bride and groom escorted them to the Hotel Morrison where an elaborate wedding supper awaited them. Mr. Keysboe, Best Man, very ably performed the role of Toastmaster at the banquet, after which a reception and dance was held in honor of the newly wedded couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Persons, former residents of Dodgeville and Mineral Point and is well known in this vicinity. Mr. Persons has extensive mining properties in Marion and was present to give the bride away.

The young couple begin their honeymoon with the well wishes of their many friends and acquaintances and will make their future home at 164 North Cicero Ave., Chicago.

CROWD IN CITY CIRCUS DAY

An enormous crowd gathered in Marion Thursday of last week to see the Rhoda Royal circus. Many were disappointed in not getting to see the parade and went home. However the tent was packed at both performances.

The circus was the best that has been here this summer but did not come up to the expectation of the crowd. Due to some trouble among the musicians at Morganfield, there was a noticeable lack of good music.

CELEBRATE SIXTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

In honor of the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Moore, a celebration and family reunion was held at the home of their son, John A. Moore, Sunday September 25. There were seven of their children present and nineteen grandchildren.

Nothing was left undone to make the occasion a success and a great feast was spread consisting of barbecued meats and every other good thing that culinary art could devise.

After the feast music was furnished both vocal and instrumental and a very pleasant afternoon was spent. In addition to the children and grandchildren present, Mrs. Moore's brother, Charles Bourland and wife of Evansville were present.

Judge and Mrs. Moore have resided in Crittenden county all during the sixty years of their married life.

ATTENDS ASSOCIATION

W. R. Cruce attended the West Kentucky Hereford Association in Princeton last week of which he is a member. Mr. Cruce is also a member of the American Hereford Breeders Association.

We are advised that the West Kentucky Association have established permanent headquarters at Princeton and it is their intention to promote great interest in western Kentucky in the breeding of beef cattle. A very interesting feature of this enterprise will be the establishing of Boys' Clubs in each county. We know when boys and girls become interested in the raising of stock that a permanent good is assured and this will happen in Crittenden county.

The Clan Call

By Hapsburg Liebe

Located in one of those feud sections of the South, where one meets that oddly blended blood of Puritan and Cavalier; where God-fearing men recognize few laws excepting those of their own making; where they read the Bible, pray for their enemies and then go forth heavily armed prepared to kill on sight; where the sufferings of the women, mother-love, wife-love and sister-love are working a change in code and gradually subduing primitive instincts.

One of the most fascinating settings for romance and adventure, it has been too much neglected. Hapsburg Liebe helps to supply the deficiency with this charming story.

"TAKING THE SCHOOLS OUT OF POLITICS" IN OHIO

By a vote of more than three to one the state of Indiana a few weeks ago rejected the proposition to make the office of State School Superintendent appointive instead of elective.

We reprint herewith a letter the editor of The News has received from Mr. A. P. Sandies of Columbus O., relative to the experience of the state of Ohio with the same kind of constitutional provision as that proposed in Kentucky. Mr. Sandies is editor of the Rural Welfare Department of the Toledo Blade and he is one of the most conservative and best informed men of his state. He resides at Columbus, the capital of Ohio where he has excellent opportunities to observe the operations of the law. Mr. Sandies writes:

Received yours recent date advising that your state has at issue a Constitutional Amendment which, if adopted will take from the people the right to elect your State Superintendent of Public Instruction and vest in your Governor the power to appoint such Superintendent.

You ask what effect such action has had in Ohio. Ten years ago Ohio adopted such an amendment. The plea was made that this would take the office out of politics. It has not done so. The Governor always appoints a man of his own political faith.

Thirty four states in the union elect the State School Superintendent. In only six states the Governor appoints. In eight states the school head is selected by a Board or Commission.

In Ohio belief is quite general that officials who shape our school policy and educational sentiment should be responsive to the people rather than to one man who appoints.

Recently Indiana decisively defeated this amendment.

Everywhere is a reaction against centralizing power. There is decided protest against further surrender of Home Rule rights and locating in State and National capital the authority which the people themselves are fully competent to use.

Respectfully, A. P. SANDLES

Mr. Sandies says the amendment has been a failure in his State as the office is as much in politics now as it was under the elective system by the people. If adopted this plan would be just as much of a failure in Kentucky as it has been in Ohio. It will be a political asset of the Governor to help him to be elected to the United States Senate or to other positions. We will have a Democratic State Superintendent when we have a Democratic Governor and a Republican Superintendent when we have a Republican Governor.

There is no reason why the people should by their votes in November surrender a constitutional right to some Board appointed by the Governor. If they are qualified to elect a Governor they are certainly qualified to elect any subordinate officer to the Governor.

As long as the people pay the taxes to support the schools those who disburse these taxes should be responsible to the people.—Elizabeth-town (Ky.) News.

LETTER FROM W. J. HILL

Dear Editor:

Some things I want to tell you, we have had a great meeting at Hill Chapel, Rev. J. J. Smith gave us the old time Gospel. Holiness straight to the church and repentance to the sinner. God honored his word and there were 36 professions and 14 renewals. Scores of people got uplift. It was an old time revival. The Baptist, Presbyterians and Methodists sang, prayed and shouted together. The writing had nothing to do only hand out the envelopes and tell what he wanted done. Mrs. P. J. Hill was the treasurer. $75 was paid Bro. Smith. $1.60 was paid for incidentals. The converts will go into the different churches.

To God be all the praise. Peace on earth, and good will to all.

HOPKINS GRAND JURY TO PROBE ACTIVITIES OF THE KU KLUX KLAN

Circuit Judge Carl Henderson Monday ordered the Hopkins county grand jury to probe the activities of the Ku Klux Klan if there is such an organization in the county, or one in process of organization. He said: "According to newspaper reports, this organization has for its purpose regulation of the negro and of certain religious sects without resort to the courts of law. If such is true the organization comes under the statute providing for conviction of persons banding together or confederating for the purpose of taking the law into their own hands."

OBITUARY

Ira Campbell Hughes was born in Smith county, Tennessee, September 9, 1847, departed this life, September 21, 1921. He came from Tennessee to Kentucky in early manhood and settled in the county of Crittenden where he spent the most of his life.

In 1873 he married Lucy Ann Jones a daughter of James T. and Elizabeth Ann Jones; she departed this life in 1874. In 1878 he was united in marriage to Sallie Ann Carter, a daughter of Garland Carter; she departed this life in 1887 and in 1890 he was united in marriage to Millie Ann Mott, a daughter of James Mott and a sister of the Rev. William E. Mott.

He is survived by a wife and three children, brother and sister and one grandchild, his children, James Lacy, Virgil and Camilla.

He professed faith in Christ at an early age, living a true devoted life to his family, his friends and his neighbors.

"Weep not as those who have no hope" for in the bye and bye we shall see and know him. His bark has glided past ours and he now passes beneath the shadows and darkness and will drift to a sun-kissed sea where soft winds shall gently push his bark to the realm and beauty of that paradise of God.

Life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities, we strive in vain to look beyond the heights, we cry aloud and the only answer is the echo of our wailing cry. From the voiceless lips of the unreplying dead there comes no word; but in the night of death hope sees a star and listening love can hear the rustle of a wing.

"And the stately ships move on To their haven under the hill But O for the touch of a vanished hand

And the sound of a voice that is still"

GOOD TO REMEMBER

Maxims of Franklin have been the measure of various successes and failures for many years. Some of them are quite familiar, others are not so often quoted, all hold their full measure of truth. Among them are the following:

Great talkers, little doers.
Lost time is never found again.
A sleeping fox catches no poultry.
Let thy discontents be thy secrets.
He that can have patience can have what he will.
You may be too cunning for one, but not for all.
The wise and the brave dare own that he is wrong.
If you know not the nature? done, go; if not, send.
Many would like to live by their wits, but break for want of stock.
What signifies knowing the names, if you know not the nature of this?
'Tis easier to suppress the first desire than to satisfy all that follow it.
As we must account for every idle word, so must we for every idle silence.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Marion resident has withstood this sternest of all tests.

A. C. Melton, brick mason, 633 E. Depot St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills at different times for a weak and lame condition of my back and they have helped me. I certainly think they are a good remedy and gladly advise anyone troubled in this way to get a box or so of Doan's at Orme's Drug Store." (Statement given October 17, 1916) On December 22, 1920 Mr. Melton said: "I still think Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine kidney remedy and gladly confirm the statement I made in praise of them in 1916."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Melton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (advertisement)

THE pull of a strange fascination took Bill Dale, city-bred but mountain-minded, to the Tennessee hills. Joining the Morelands, he took up their friendships and enmities. Love healed one feud, but there was coal under David Moreland's mountain, and a new feud was born.

A tale of rare charm in which the beauty and strength of a woman's love is shown rising superior to the ties of blood and tradition.

GOVERNMENT HELPS HORSE INDUSTRY

Activity is Tending to Increase Number of Thoroughbreds in the Country.

Now that the United States Government is seriously and practically interested in the important work of breeding more and better horses, there are some things in this connection that the farmer and breeder should thoroughly understand.

The commercial mule the farmer stands ready to pay the highest price, for, it is the kind of mule Uncle Sam wants for his army. The medium-sized horse that the farmer knows and prizes for his activity, hardiness, and intelligence is the artillery horse, par excellence. The well-bred, rangy fellow, of bottom, "get up" and good disposition, preferred for all-round use either between shafts or under saddle, is sought by those whose business it is to keep our cavalry supplied with the right kind of mounts.

Thousands of scrub horses are raised annually in the United States. It is these unprofitable types that the Government, co-operating with the various organizations of the horse industry, aims to replace by pure-bred serviceable ones.

The project emphatically does not mean competition in the matter of types. Take it in its relation to the breeding of draft horses and mules. Both these kinds of animals are most necessary; therefore, encouragement and assistance for their breeders is contemplated. The Government's thoroughbred stallions are being so placed that they do not interfere. Meanwhile, many dealers in, and breeders and users of, mules are greatly interested in the possibilities of well-bred, light, thoroughbred mares to cross with the jack for the breezy "cotton mule" so much in demand through the South. The scarcity of this type of filly or mare is making itself felt in the industry of breeding mules—a scarcity which the Government work within the next few years should materially relieve.

Next time anyone tells you that—"there is no money in horses", call his attention to the work in the Tennessee Valley, where farmers produce colts as a by-product, and to the things the Bureau of Animal Industry, has accomplished in Virginia. But first, one must begin with proper blood stock and breed up. And since thoroughbred stallions are supplied by the Government, Kentucky farmers, if they have not thoroughbred mares, should investigate the possibilities that this practically new industry opens up, and send their best fillies to the thoroughbred studs which the Army Remount Association is placing at various points throughout the state.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

By C. N. LURIE
Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"TO ENJOY POOR HEALTH."

THIS is one of the incorrect phrases which have somehow crept into common usage in the English language, although a moment's thought will show the speaker or writer that it is absurd to say that a person "enjoys" poor health. "To enjoy" means "to experience joy or pleasure in; receive pleasure from the possession or use of or participation in; delight in" (Standard Dictionary). Why, then, should a person say, "I have enjoyed poor health during the past year?" You can enjoy only that which brings you pleasure or profit; and surely ill health brings neither.

Of course, it is quite proper to say, "I have enjoyed good health," since good health, being the greatest of human blessings, is to be appreciated and enjoyed.

A similar error it to be "agreeably" disappointed. If you are disappointed, the experience cannot be agreeable.

THE WORD "RUBBER."

THE material which we now know as "rubber" was formerly called elastic gum. One of the earliest uses of this gum had been to erase marks on paper, and the chemist, Priestly, in about 1770, suggested that the material which erased or "rubbed" so effectively should be called "India rubber." His suggestion was adopted, and the name soon became universal.

TOLERANCE.

A WEEDS are part of nature's plan. So do I think is weedy man. The deadly nightshade and the rue Hold deep within some purpose true. FRANKLIN ON A JOURNEY

To promote patriotism, especially among young people and the foreign born, this statue of Benjamin Franklin, designed by Paul W. Bartlett, the famous New York sculptor, is to motor from Baltimore, where it was cast, on a triumphal journey to Waterbury, Conn., where it is to grace a public square. In part the trip will retrace the one made by Franklin when he ran away from Boston to New York city, and across New Jersey to Philadelphia, his future home.

MENUS ARRANGED FOR USING RICE

This Easily Digested and Mild-Flavored Cereal Deserves Popularity.

IS RELATIVELY CHEAP FOOD

Combines Exceptionally Well With Meat, Cheese and Fruit and Vegetables—Supplies as Much Food as Do Other Cereals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

American rice is as good as that grown anywhere in the world; and with last year's crop about a fourth larger than ever before the housewife should plan to use more rice in the family meals, advise specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Except in the South, rice has never been so popular in this country as it deserves to be. It is relatively cheap, easily digested, so mild in flavor that it combines exceptionally well with meat, cheese, and fruits and vegetables of pronounced flavor. Pound for pound it supplies as much fuel for the body as does white flour, cornmeal and most of the other cereals.
Moreover, rice can be served in so many ways that no family need grow tired of it.

Good Served Hot or Cold.

As a breakfast cereal, rice is good served either hot or cold with milk or cream or with fruit. If the rice is cooked in milk in a double boiler (one quart milk to one cupful dry rice), it is especially nutritious and has a richer flavor than when boiled in water.

As a starchy food to eat with meat some persons prefer rice to potatoes, and many others would like it if it were always flaky and well-seasoned.
Boiled rice is not sticky when washed thoroughly, cooked in plenty of water.

Rice and Fruit Make a Good Salad.

and drained as soon as the grains become soft. Overcooking and using too little salt are common mistakes that have prejudiced many persons against rice as a part of the meat course.

For use in soups, rice is one of the best of all the cereals. It may be cooked in the soup stock, or left-overs of cooked rice may be added just before the soup is served. Soups or gravies may also be thickened with the water in which rice has been boiled.

As a basis for scalloped and stewed dishes substantial enough to be used as the main course of a meal, rice is excellent. Relatively small amounts of some of the higher-priced foods can in this way be made to go further.

Many attractive salads can be made by combining cooked rice with leftover portions of fish, meat, or vegetables.

Rice desserts have long been standbys in the American household, but new ones are constantly being added to the list. Some of the simplest rice desserts are best, and are particularly good for children. For example, either hot or cold boiled rice is very good served with jelly, jam, or marmalade, maple syrup, or cinnamon and sugar, or a sauce of fresh, crushed fruits.

The following recipes for cooking rice have been tested in the experimental kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Boiled Rice.

1 cupful rice. water.
4 or 5 quarts boiling 1 teaspoonful salt.

Wash the rice through several waters, until all the loose starch is removed, and drain it. Have the boiling water—sautéed in a deep saucepan; slowly drop in the rice, and allow it to boil rapidly for about 15 or 20 minutes or until a grain pressed between the thumb and finger is entirely soft. In order to prevent it from sticking to the pan, lift the rice.
If necessary, from time to time with a fork, but do not stir it, for stirring is likely to break the grains. When sufficiently cooked, turn the rice into a colander or sieve, and after the water has drained off, cover with a cloth and set over a pan of hot water on the back of the stove or in the oven; or turn the rice into a shallow pan, cover with a lid, and place it in a warm oven for a short time. Treated in this way the grains swell and are kept separate.

Cream of Celery Soup With Rice.

1/2 pound celery or chopped parsley, or asparagus. 1 cupful rice. 1 quart cold water. Juice.
2 tablespoonfuls butter. 2 teaspoonfuls salt. ter, drippings, or 1/4 teaspoonful pepper. 1 tablespoonful 1 quart milk.
Cut the celery or asparagus in half-inch pieces. Cook the rice and celery or asparagus in the water until both are tender. Press them through a colander and add the fat, the seasonings, and the milk, and reheat. This will make five or six average servings.

Oysters Scalloped With Rice.
2 cupfuls cooked rice. 1 cupful milk.
1 pint fresh oysters. 2 tablespoonfuls 1 cupful chopped flour. celery. 1/4 teaspoonful salt.
2 tablespoonfuls butter. 1/4 teaspoonful pepper or other fat. per.
Place alternate layers of rice, oysters, and celery in a baking dish and pour over them a smooth white sauce made by melting the butter and stirring in the milk, the flour, the salt, and the pepper. Bake for 20 minutes.
This will make eight or ten average servings.

Savory Rice Omelette.
2 eggs. 2 tablespoonfuls
1/4 cupful cooked rice. 1/4 cupful milk.
1/4 cupful milk. 1/4 cupful milk.
1 tablespoonful butter. 1/4 teaspoonful salt. ter or other fat. 1/4 teaspoonful pepper. 1/4 teaspoonful pepper.
Beat the whites and the yolks of the eggs separately. Mix all the ingredients, folding in the whites of eggs last. Pour the mixture into a hot, well-greased frying pan, and when it is brown, fold it over with a flexiblebladed knife. Turn the omelette out on a warm platter and serve immediately.

Rice and Tuna Fish or Salmon Salad.
Remove the bones and skin from a can of salmon or tuna fish, and mince it finely. Add an equal quantity of cold boiled rice, and season the mixture with salt, pepper, and vinegar.
Stir in enough boiled salad dressing to moisten it and set it away for a while in a cool place. When ready to serve, add a little crisp celery finely cut, and shape the salad in molds moistened with cold water.

VEGETABLE CHOWDER RECIPE Best to Learn the Type of Dish and Not Be Confined to Any Definite Formula.

Vegetable chowders offer a good way of using up vegetables and skim milk.
It is best to learn the type of dish and not be confined to any definite recipe, say food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, for materials are often wasted thereby which should be used. The following typical recipe is a good one and suggestive of the kind of dish one can easily make:

1/4 pound salt pork or 4 medium-sized potatoes. 1 onion. 2 carrots.
1 medium-sized 2 cupfuls of skim milk. 1 pint stewed tomatoes. 2 tablespoonfuls of 1 green pepper. 2 teaspoonfuls salt.
Put the bacon or pork, onion and pepper through the meat chopper and cook carefully about five minutes.
Add the water and tomatoes and cook until the vegetables are tender. Cut the potatoes and carrots into small pieces and cook in water until tender; drain and add with the skim milk to the other ingredients. Thicken with the flour mixed with a little cold milk.

REFRESHMENT FOR CHILDREN

Danger of Overeating Lessened If Food is Served at Time to Take Place of Regular Meal.

Children's parties present special problems because they give the mother the responsibility for feeding other people's children. One danger of such occasions—that of overeating—will be lessened if the refreshments are served at such a time as to take the place of one of the regular meals of the day.
The same care should be taken in selecting foods as in the case of the ordinary meals.

No hard, tough, rich, or highly seasoned foods should be served, say food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Cocoa or some other milk drink, fruit, sandwiches, ice cream or a gelatin dessert, plain frosted cake, and simple candies make a good bill of fare.

TRY OMELET WITH CROUTONS
Recipe Given for Making Dish That Will Tempt Appetites of Great Many People.

A well-made omelet or soufflé is a dish that tempts most people. Try this omelet with croutons for variety.
Make croutons by cutting stale bread into one-third-inch cubes; fry in butter until crisp and well browned.
Beat five eggs slightly, add four tablespoonfuls of cream or milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, and the browned croutons. Put two tablespoonfuls of butter in a hot omelet pan, and when the butter is melted and hot turn in the mixture. As it cooks prick and pick up with a fork until the whole is of a uniform, creamy consistency. Increase the heat and brown quickly underneath, then fold and turn on a hot platter; garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve.

DAIRY

MILK DELIVERED TO CITIES

Figures Announced by Department of Agriculture on Total Cost to Ultimate Consumer.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The total cost of milk delivered to the consumer's door in Columbus, O., during the first six months of 1920, ranged from 11.3 cents up to 15.3 cents per quart, if the costs of one company which does business in "certified" milk are omitted, according to the figures recently announced by the United States Department of Agriculture. The cost of the raw milk delivered at the dairy ranged from 8.7 cents to 10 cents per quart. The total cost of operating the dairy plant, including the pasteurizing and bottling of the milk, ranged from 1 cent to 1.4 cents per quart, and the cost of delivering the milk from the dairy to the consumer ranged from 1.61 cents to 3.9 cents per quart.

The item of administrative expense varies widely, being as low as two-tenths of a cent per quart for one small company and as high as 1 cent per quart for a large concern.

Two of the seven companies covered were small concerns which produced their own milk supply. The cost of producing the milk for these companies in 1920 was 8.9 cents per quart, which is very similar to the price paid for milk by the larger concerns.

One of the items of cost which has attracted most attention among students of the milk business is the so-called "bottle loss." The department's study indicates that for the companies covered in Columbus this item ranges from one-tenth to two-tenths of a cent per quart.

Great difficulty was experienced in getting any satisfactory information concerning the shrinkage which takes place in the handling and delivery of milk, but according to the best data available this item amounts to between 2.3 per cent and 5.5 per cent of the total volume of milk.

Columbus is a city of 237,031 population, which is reported to consume about 27,000,000 quarts of milk per annum. This milk is supplied by over 2,000 producers, from 15 different counties, and is transported to Columbus from a territory having a radius of 35 miles. Conditions appear to be fairly representative of many Middle Western cities.

The investigation covered seven companies, which sold about 16,500,000 quarts of milk and cream in 1920, or approximately 65 per cent of the total quantity consumed. The companies ranged in size from a very small one-wagon concern up to the largest, which operated 40 milk routes.

From the point of view of the farmer and the consumer, the important question is, What does it cost to handle the milk from the farm to the consumer? The cost of raw milk was between 63 per cent and 75 per cent of the total cost of the milk as it reaches the consumer.

During the period under study the retail price of Grade A milk in Columbus, as quoted by the dealers investigated, ranged from 15 cents to 14.5 cents per quart, though during 1920 the two small dealers sold their milk, which comes from tuberculintested cows, for 15 cents per quart.
At the same time the wholesale price of milk ranged from 12 cents to 12 1/2 cents.

The average number of customers per route in 1920 ranged from 109 to 297, and the number of quarts per wagon ranged from 178 to 378, the average being 252. It is noteworthy that the most profitable company was the one having the largest average wagonload.

TEACH YOUNG BULL TO LEAD

Calf Can Be Halter Broken With Little Effort if Taken in Hand at Right Time.

A bull that is to be kept for service should be taught to lead while he is a small calf. He can be halter broken at this time with a few minutes' effort.
He should not only be taught to lead without a tight rope, but also should be taught to stand. If given this lesson while young, in after life, when he is led out for visitors to look over or to be photographed, he makes a much better appearance.

"AMERICANS SHOULD BE PROUD OF WORK BY NEAR EAST RELIEF"

Says American High Commissioner. Congress Is Told of Great Accomplishment

Washington.—The annual report of the activities of the Near East Relief organization, filed with Congress by Charles V. Vickrey, General Secretary, constitutes the modest history of one of the greatest pieces of philanthropic work ever undertaken and carried through by American men and women, according to well informed persons in the capital. Admiral Mark L. Bristol, United States High Commissioner to Turkey, for example, declares:

CHARLES V. VICKREY

"I have been closely associated with the work of the Near East Relief committee for about 22 months. On the whole the work of this relief committee has been such that Americans should be proud of this great humane effort. The Near East Relief here in Constantinople is run more like a business organization than any relief organization with which I have ever come into contact."

Charles V. Vickrey's summary of the activities of the Near East Relief shows the disbursement of over $60,000,000.00 in cash and supplies, contributed by the American people to the salvaging of the Christian populations of the Near East. 711 American and Canadian men and women relief workers have been engaged in this huge task on little more than a volunteer basis. 63 hospitals, with 5,522 beds, and 123 clinics; 11 rescue homes, where young girls rescued from lives of shame in Turkish harems are taught to forget their sufferings, and to begin life anew, self-supporting and independent, are maintained.

110,000 Little Children

The most remarkable feature of the work of the Near East Relief is, however, the salvation of tens of thousands of children who have lost parents and relatives during the past six years. For these little ones American generosity has provided, through the Near East Relief, 299 homes—one in Alexandropol, Armenia, housing 18,000 children—where, last year, 54,600 children were housed clothed, fed and taught, while an additional 54,039, outside the Near East Relief orphanages, were saved from starvation and death by food and clothing sent them from the United States.

Mr. Vickrey's report states that approximately 2,729,499 Armenians are still living in the Near East, out of a pre-war population of over 4,000,000 and estimates that had it not been for the aid given by the American people through the Near East Relief, fully half of those now living would have perished. Food was furnished to 561,370 homeless refugees during a large part of 1920 while 200,000 garments, comprising 1,500,000 pounds of clothing sent out from the United States were distributed to barefoot and rag-clad wanderers, all the way from the Mediterranean to the Caucasus mountains.

Work Must Continue

Commenting on these figures Mr.
Vickrey stated that "this distinctive ly humanitarian relief work, as an expression of brotherhood, should help to mark the beginning of a new era of peace and inter-racial goodwill in the Near East."

"The tremendous task undertake-by the American people in saving the children of the Near East is one which cannot be left unfinished. We have an investment of over $60,000,000 in human life, that America has saved. If we falter or pause now that investment is imperiled, or may even be lost altogether. Most of the children we have saved from death are still too little to take care of themselves, and conditions throughout the Near East are still too uncertain to let them shift for themselves. It is morally sure that for at least five years, and until these little ones that we have snatched from a terrible fate are able to support themselves and enjoy an even chance of life as useful citizens, the American people who have rescued them must see them through.

"It is the purpose of the Near East Relief to do just this, and we appeal to the generosity of the American people to see this noble work is carried out in the spirit of mutual helpfulness and Christian charity which is so essentially characteristic of the American ideal."

Contributions to the work of the Near East Relief may be sent to
