KNOW THE TRUTH! Public Speaking Against Prohibition Friday, Jan. 8th

At 7:30 P. M.
At the Opera House

CAPTAIN D. M. SMITH will address the citizens of Madisonville, at the Opera House, on Friday evening, January 8th, 1909, Against Prohibition.

Every voter in the city is earnestly requested to come out and hear this question dispassionately discussed by an able speaker from a business standpoint. Nothing will be said to which anyone can take offense. Ladies are especially invited.

The Rev. Dr. West, president of the Ky. Anti-Saloon League will be given a division of time.

BUSINESS MEN'S COMMITTEE
By Ruby Laffoon, Chairman.

The above Speaking Advertisement is a true and correct copy of one that appeared in the Madisonville Daily Journal on Jan. 7th 1909, and Judge C. C. Givens says that the Business Men's League was composed of the Saloon men of Madisonville.

Ed Young said in his speech which was published in the Crittenden Record Press July 29th 1915 that Ruby Laffoon came to Frankfort while he (Young) was in the Legislature and tried to get him to vote against the County Unit candidate for Speaker saying that he (Young) could get "fixed" and he was a fool if he didn't do it. Mr Young said at the same time that in all the elections Ruby Laffoon had fought for the Whiskey side.

The Following Letter is From one Who Knows the Past History and Present Tendency of Ruby Laffoon.

Dawson Springs, Ky., Oct. 31, 1921
To Whom it May Concern:

It affords me pleasure to give my unqualified support to Judge Henderson and Chas. Ferguson for re-election to the offices of Circuit Judge and Commonwealth Attorney respectively. It has been my pleasure to watch very closely the acts of these men, and I am convinced that they believe in the enforcement of law and are and have used their every sincere effort to that end. For the above reasons I shall support them as good Christian men and efficient officials, and urge all lovers of good government to do likewise. I am and have always been a Democrat.

Respectfully,
WILLIS SMITH,
Pastor Presbyterian Church

I understand that there is being circulated a statement that it cost the county and state $500 every time a case is reversed by the court of appeals, if such statement has been made it is untrue. It has never cost either the county or state any thing whether the case was reversed or affirmed. In all criminal cases where a conviction is reversed the officers lose their cost and in civil cases the party who loses the appeal pays the cost.

Judge Henderson's record on appealed cases is a good record and I am proud of the record he has made.

D. A. LOWRY
Clerk Crittenden Circuit Court.

If it is true as reported that Mr. Laffoon and Mr. Bennett have been stating that certain cases where men have been indicted upon the charge against women, have been wrongfully reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor and a fine accepted when the party should have been sent to the penitentiary, they misstated the facts and if Mr. Laffoon made such statement as to the Hopkins County cases, he knew at the time such statement was false, because Mr. Laffoon knows that they were indicted charging that the girls in question were under sixteen and Mr. Laffoon showed by affidavit, as Attorney for the defendant, that the girl was over sixteen and that of its self reduced the offense to a misdemeanor. No prosecuting witness or interested persons have ever claimed that these cases were wrongfully reduced.

CHARLES FERGUSON
Commonwealths Attorney

It was stated in substance in last weeks advertisement of the Democratic Campaign Committee that you could look at your tax receipt and tell that Judge Henderson had not saved any money in Jury and witness fees. Such statement was an insult to the intelligent voter. They know who fixes the tax rate and that the Circuit Judge has nothing to do with fixing the tax rate.

Lets see if Judge Henderson has saved any money to the tax payers. It costs the tax payors of Livingston County $296 per year for petit Jury fees, it costs the tax payors of Lyon county $1052. per year. These Counties are just about the same size and about the same population. It cost the taxpayers in Crittenden County $424 per year and it costs the taxpayers of Ohio county $2022, these counties are about the same size, other counties over the state cost about the same as Lyon and Ohio according to population. We think that is some saving.

They say that Judge Henderson has been reversed more than other Judges, all of which is untrue. Ruby Laffoon stated in his speeches that Judge Henderson had been reversed 56 per cent of all the cases appealed. That statement was not true but if it had been true Judge Henderson's average would have been four percent above the average as the average over the state is 60 percent reversals, so the county campaign committee saw that Ruby had talked too much and it raised Ruby's figures.

It is strange that all these fellows in Marion who have been saying for the last six years that Judge Henderson had made the best Judge we had ever had, all at once have discovered that he has been so bad, and it is strange too that they have lost regard for truth. It was stated last week on the streets of Marion that even if Judge Henderson had saved a lot of money that it took it all to pay the cost of reversals in the court of appeals and they said it cost the county and state $500 every time a case was reversed when as a matter of fact it never cost the county or state one cent in any case whether it is reversed or affirmed. Again they have underestimated the intelligence of the voters.

Another thing Judge Henderson has done he has arranged for the Court house taxes that have been collected for the past three years to be paid back to those who paid it in without any cost to them and Judge Henderson is willing if elected to hold court for another six years in the same old Court house.

Now in conclusion let us appeal to the mothers of Crittenden County and to all honest and

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Please read and weigh what the good men and women who have known me longest and best have said to you in behalf of my candidacy for Circuit Judge.

My qualifications and fitness for this high and exalted office have not been called in question, but instead my opponent and a few of his followers who have an ax to grind in the event of my defeat have been exceedingly busy in trying to induce the voters of this District to believe that there is something wrong with my moral standing, and that for this reason alone I should not be elected to serve you in the office to which I aspire. If my MORAL CHARACTER is in TRUTH bad, then I have no right to ask or to expect your support. If on the other hand my accusers have charged me falsely, then may I not confidently ask and receive a vindication by your favor?

Some of the most eminent lawyers of our country have served you as judges of this district. I mention Cassell, Fowler, M. C. Givens, Grace, Pratt, Nunn and Gordon. It is a signal honor to occupy any position with such men as predecessors. If I am so favored, I promise you that I will follow their precepts and do my utmost to maintain the high judicial standard set by them. I will render you faithful and honest service, fair and just treatment, an impartial enforcement of every law without fear or favor, and will not seek to reward a friend or punish an enemy by any of my official acts.

Hoping that you will heartily support my candidacy, I remain,

Your friend,
RUBY LAFOON

HON. RUBY LAFOON

When the Democrats of this the Fourth Judicial District, with a unanimity rarely ever before equaled in Kentucky, nominated Ruby Laffoon as their candidate for Judge of the courts of the district, they not only honored Mr. Laffoon but did more than that, they honored themselves.

If there is a democrat, either man or woman in Hopkins county who is not supporting this nominee and that whole heartily, we know not nor have we heard of such a person. We fall now to call to mind in our history of politics where the party ever before had a candidate who was so generally endorsed. And Mr. Laffoon deserves all this.

There is no one who questions his ability to discharge the every obligation that will rest upon him when he shall take upon him the crinene of office. He is a lawyer of recognized ability all over the state of Kentucky. He is experienced in everything that will pertain to the office.

Not only this, he is a Christian gentleman, prominent in church matters, an honorary member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, stands for the enforcement of law, for civic improvement, and stands four square for that which is right.

While there is no particular need that the Democrats and others of Hopkins County who know the man should have their attention called to the qualifications and good points of the man, it is perhaps well enough to let the People of the other three counties in the district know that we have a candidate who measures up to the very highest standard of ability.

When we have such a candidate for office as Mr. Laffoon, it is a real pleasure to endorse him and ask our friends to stand by and vote for him at the coming election. We endorse him whole heartedly, knowing him to be worthy any honors that may come to him by the voters of the district.—The Hustler, Sept. 27, 1921.

C. C. GIVENS MAKES STATEMENT

I understand the position Hon. Ruby Laffoon took in regard to the local option election held at Madisonville thirteen years ago is being made the subject of misrepresentation in the lower counties of the district, where the people are not well acquainted with the facts.

The facts are: I was chairman of the prohibition committee for that election. Three years before, when an election was being held on the same question, I was opposed to Madisonville being made dry because of the proximity of Henderson and Hopkinsville and the ten or twelve trains daily thru Madisonville from either direction, (both Henderson and Hopkinsville being wet cities) and the further fact that I did not believe the then city officials would really seek to enforce the law.

At the election three years later, I said I still had my doubts, but was willing to give it a trial.

Mr. Laffoon and many other representative citizens believed it would be futile to vote Madisonville dry while Hopkinsville, Henderson and Evansville were wet. He occupied the same position I had three years before. I was asked the question publicly during this campaign if I was in favor of voting Henderson dry (I was the owner of a newspaper there at the time) I replied I was not—that I did not believe it could be made of any real value to Henderson to vote dry with Evansville just 12 miles from there and wet, but I was willing to try the experiment in Madisonville, giving the doubt to the dry side of the question.

The election went dry and Mr. Laffoon tendered his services to the prohibition forces to help in every way to enforce the law. He fought side by side with us all along the line of law enforcement and rendered very valuable service. His every act since that election has been in line with the law enforcement side of the question. His services were recognized by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of which he was made an honorary member, because of his splendid loyalty in this connection.

Mr. Laffoon's life has been an open book to our people. He is an exemplary citizen, a Christian gentleman, a lawyer of unquestioned ability and wide experience in the practice. Having been a citizen of Madisonville for thirty-eight years, and knowing Mr. Laffoon's high character, legal ability and fitness for the high office of Circuit Judge, I urged him to enter the race for this position and I firmly believe he will go out of Hopkins county with not less than 1750 majority on the 8th of November.

Respectfully,
C. C. GIVENS
Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 14, 1921

TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS MAY COME, GREETING:

We, the undersigned citizens of Madisonville, Ky., the home of Hon. Ruby Laffoon, Democratic nominee for Circuit Judge of the Fourth Judicial District, having known Mr. Laffoon intimately for a long period of years past, confidently recommend him to the favorable consideration of the voters of said district regardless of their party affiliations.

We regard Mr. Laffoon as being one of our most worthy and useful citizens, and as a man of high moral character,—in fact, a Christian gentleman. His sterling qualities and character as a man and as a citizen is not questioned by those with whom he has lived all his life. He has given liberally of his energy, influence and means for the support of those things having for their object the promotion of the common good and the upbuilding of good citizenship and the advancement of Christianity.

During the campaign for the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment for state-wide prohibition Mr. Laffoon was selected by the ministers and pastors of the various churches of Hopkins County as Chairman of the county campaign committee, and Hopkins county was carried by a large majority for the amendment.

Mr. Laffoon's ability and qualifications, legal and otherwise, to serve the people of this district acceptably as Circuit Judge are not questioned, and we take pleasure in saying that for years he has been regarded as one of the foremost lawyers of the Madisonville bar, which is admitted to be one of the strongest in the state.

CHAPTER IV

The Mystery of the Rifles.

An hour after John Moreland had sent his ten rifle bullets whining over the head of Ben Littleford, every Moreland and every Littleford in the valley knew of the declaration of war. And each man of them oiled his weapons and put them in better working order.

When Dale went to bed, there was too much on his mind to render sleeping easy for him. Tomorrow he would have to help in the fight against the Littlefords, kinsmen of the young women who had saved him, without doubt, from death by the murderous rifle of the mountaineer Goliath—or break his word flatly. It was a poor return for such a favor! The longer he thought over the dilemma, the more perplexed he became.

He thought, too, of the everlasting wonder, the tale of John Moreland's bedtime prayer. How a man could go down on his knees and ask the blessings of the Almighty upon men whom he meant to fight the next day was a thing that Bill Dale could not understand.

It was after midnight before he slept. He woke at the break of day, arose and dressed himself, and went out. Going toward the flower-filled front yard, he found himself facing a very angry John Moreland.

"What's the matter?" he asked. "Matter enough," clipped the mountaineer. "Bill Dale, I'm a-goin' to ax you a question, and I want the truth. Will it git it?"

"You'll get the truth if you get anythin'. Shoot the question."

"All right. What do you know about my gun?"

"About as much as you know of the left hind wheel of Ben Hur's chariot. What's wrong with it?"

Moreland's eyes were steady and

A little more than a quarter of an hour after Dale left John Moreland he entered by the gateless gateway at the cabin of the Hecks. It was a dilapidated place, and it stood not far from the river. By sat in the front doorway; he was lazily cutting a new midday sun mark in the place of the worn old one. Behind him sat his mother, who was busily knitting a gray yarn stocking.

The moonshiner looked up and started quickly to his feet.

"Hi thar, Bill, old boy!" he greeted stolidly. "My gosh, but ye've come at the right time, shore. We're a-goin' to have young squirrels fo' dinner, and a biled hamshank with string beans, and cawbread made with the yellor o' ben aigs. Live whilst ye do live, says I. Come right in, Bill, old boy."

"La, la, la!" cried Granny Heck looking over the brass rim of her spectacles. "How glad I am to see ye, Mr. Bill! Come right in and tell us the news."

Bill Dale crossed the threshold and accepted a creaking chair. His eyes took in at a sweeping glance the home-made dining table with its cover of red oilcloth, the broken cast-iron stove, the strings of dried peppers hanging on the log walls, the broken stillworm lying in the corner.

"The Littlefords," said Dale, "have declared war."

"Sakes!" laughed the old woman.

"We knowed that last night when we heered them ten shots."

"And all the Moreland rifles are missing," Dale watched the effect of his words.

"What!" the Hecks cried in one voice.

Their surprise seemed genuine.

Dale pressed the subject further and learned only that if they knew anything concerning the disappearance of the rifles they were not going to tell. Then he started homeward by way of the pool above the blown-down eye-amore.

There was a chance that Ben Littleford's daughter would be there fishing. Dale told himself, and it was barely possible that she could throw some light on the mystery of the rifles.

He crossed the river by means of the prostrate tree. Babe was there; she sat on the stone on which she had been sitting the morning before; her back was to him, and her bare feet were in the water to her ankles. Dale went up close, stopped and gathered a handful of violets and dropped them over her shoulder and into her lap.

Babe looked around and smiled.

"What luck, Miss Littleford?"

"Nothin'. I don't much want to catch anythin'." she said slowly, a spirit of sadness in her musical voice.

"I—I jest come off down here to be whar it's quiet. You ought to hear the noise 'at pap and the rest of 'em is a-makin'!"

Dale narrowed his eyes. "Are they—er, making a noise? And what about?"

"My goodness gracious alive! You'd think so ef ye could hear 'ers! Y'ought to hear pap cuss John Moreland!"

She shrugged her pretty shoulders, lifted the small end of her rod to its proper place, and went on. "I never did see pap half as mad as he was when he got home last night from a-follerin' me."

"Mad at you?" asked Dale.

"No; but he would ha' been ef he hadn't ha' had all his madness turned ag'in them Morelands. You knowed about pap's trouble on yon side o' the river last night?"

"Yes, I knew about that," Dale answered slowly. "But John Moreland thought your father was my antagonist of yesterday."

"An—antagonist?" Babe muttered inquiringly. "What's that?"

"I mean Adam Ball, y'know."

"Oh. That's what I told pap. But pap he wouldn't believe it, and he won't never believe it—'cause he don't want to believe it. I told him 'at John Moreland wasn't a-shootin' to hit, and he wouldn't believe that, neither. Pap's as hard-headed as a brindle cow, when he gits a fool notion on him. What—what did them Morelands say about their guns a-bein' gone?"

Dale straightened.

"How did you find that out?"

"Don't matter how!" She smiled almost saucily. "I knowed about it afore you did, Mr. Bill Dale. Don't you think whoever done it done a kind thing?"

"To disarm the Morelands so that when the enemy comes they will have nothing with which to defend themselves?" Dale didn't know much about these hill feuds. "No, Miss Littleford, I can't say that I think it was a kind thing to do."

Miss Littleford arose and faced Dale. Her cheeks were flushed.

"Has the enemy come?" she demanded icily.

"No, but—"

"All right," the young woman broke in sharply. "If the enemy hain't come, what're you a-kickin' about?"

Her brown eyes were full of fire.

They defied, and they withered, and Bill Dale suddenly felt that he was smaller and of less account in the scheme of things than that uneducated, widely superb creature that stood before him.

"I beg pardon," Dale said evenly. "I didn't mean to offend, y'know."

His quick contrition struck the girl. Her mouth quivered. She dropped her fishing-rod, and began to toy absently with the end of her long, thick plait of brown hair.

"I've seed so much o' this fightin'," she murmured tremulously, "that it makes me go to pieces. I ought to beg yore pardon, mebbe, and I do. . . . I've seed a good many fine, strong men brought home dead or a-dyin' from the Moreland bullets. And the Littlefords has killed Morelands, too. One side about as many as t'other, I reckon. I'd be glad to give my life to stop it!"

"I'll help you, if I can," Dale told her. "Perhaps we can make friends of the Morelands and your people."

"You don't know what a hard thing it'd be," she replied tearfully. "The two sets has hated each other ever sence I can rickollect. And you won't be here very long, I reckon."

"I may be here for the rest of my life," said Dale.

"Is it the coal?" inquired Babe.

"Partly—yes, it's the coal. I'm going to develop it for the Morelands."

Babe looked at him with a tiny her-aid of hope in her eyes. Before she could speak again there came from somewhere back in the meadow the sound of her father's voice—

"Habe! O-oh, Babe!"

"Comin'!" cried the girl, half turning. "We'll try to make 'em friends; we'll try. Old Major Bradley, he'll be up here afore long to spend the summer, and he'll help us. He's a mighty good man; you're shore to like him. He gen'ally stays with us when he's here. You go easy with John Moreland! But when ye git him, ye'll have 'em all. I'll work on pap. The ain't no danger o' trouble right now, anyway. Goodby, Bill Dale!"

"One moment, Miss Littleford," and he took a step after her. "Are you sure there's no danger right now?"

Babe halted, faced about nervously, and smiled a little.

"Don't call me 'Miss' no more," said she. "It makes me feel old. Call me what everybody else calls me, ef ye don't mind. Why, every one o' the Littlefords lost their rifles last night the same as the Morelands did! Meet me here at sundown, and I'll tell ye about it. Goodby, Bill Dale!"

"Goodby, Babe!" he smiled.

Moreland's Eyes Were Steady and Cold.

cold. He thrust his hands into the pockets of his corduroy trousers. Then his face softened a trifle.

"I reckon I ought to ax yore pardon," he said in a low voice. "Ye see, my gun's plumb gone!"

"You had it only last night," Dale said. "Did it disappear?"

"Whilst I slept," cut in the hillman. "Both o' my guns is gone. And Luke's repeater is gone, and so is Cale's, and we hain't got nothin' at all to fight them d-d Littlefords with!"

"Gone!" Dale exclaimed wondering ly—and it seemed to him—astutely.

"It must ha' been the Littlefords, I guess," frowned Moreland. "Fo' because who else would ha' done it? But to save the life o' me I can't see how they got in and took my rifle without wakin' me up, Bill Dale. I slept twice as light as a sick mouse."

Within ten more minutes, every man of the Morelands was gathered there at the house of their chief—and every man of them had lost their weapons during the night!

John Moreland called Dale aside and said to him:

"You're high on the good side o' them thar triffin' Hecks, and, so far as they know, you ain't interested in the feud. I wish you'd go down thar and see By and his mother, and see ef ye can find out whar our rifles went."

When Dale had gone off down the dusty oxwagon road, Caleb Moreland climbed a tall ash that grew behind his father's cabin and kept a watch toward the Littleford side of the river. He saw a group of men standing in Ben Littleford's cabin yard, and nothing else.

"Mad at You?" Asked Dale.

"No; but he would ha' been ef he hadn't ha' had all his madness turned ag'in them Morelands. You knowed about pap's trouble on yon side o' the river last night?"

Vote For The People's Judge Hon. Carl Henderson

He has dispatched the business of the Court in Crittenden County in a third of the term, thus reducing it from three weeks to four days or less.

He has saved tens of thousands of dollars of the people's money in jury and witness fees.

He has saved an untold amount of the people's time in getting cases tried promptly; witnesses stay one day instead of four or five; jurors stay 2 or 3 days instead of 12 or 18; and all because Judge Henderson thinks more of the rights of the people than he does of the delays of the lawyers.

He is fair, impartial, upright, able and fearless.

He enforces all the laws all the time. His record for affirmances by the Court of Appeals is above the average of Circuit Judges of the state.

Regardless of politics, the sensible thing for you to do is—

Do not fail to read what the people of Hopkins County and Madisonville, the home of Ruby Laffoon, Candidate for Judge of this District have to say about him in this issue of the Press, headed "Know the Truth."

Note too that C. C. Givens, Chairman of the Prohibition Committee at the time referred to in Judge Henderson's little circular letter, is endorsing Laffoon for Judge, and says that he (Laffoon) is being misrepresented in these lower counties.

A CARD TO THE VOTERS

Friends if I have failed to see you during this Campaign please don't think I did it on purpose for I am a poor man with only my labor to support my family and have canvassed all that it was possible for me to do. I have only run through each community not seeing any special one but talking with all I chanced to meet. After making a thorough investigation of the situation I am well satisfied with my situation.

Of course I find that the opposition is liberally attacking my reputation as Magistrate but I could hardly expect bouquets from my opponents. Consequently I am not disappointed. The record of my services in fiscal affairs of the county is safely lodged in the County Clerk's office and anyone interested enough to condemn me on accusation should be interested enough to investigate my record and I beg you to do so before you pass judgment. I have ever regarded my oath sacred and have acted on my very best judgment. I may have made some mistakes, but there are few men that don't make mistakes. Please blame my head and not my heart, for I have meant to try every case out on its merits dealing out justice to the individual and to the public equally.

Please don't take the word of my accusers for evidence against me and I don't ask you to take my word, but please investigate my record as I have begged folks to do all through the campaign, and investigate me in my home precinct. Inquire of my acquaintances if you find me unfair or unworthy I don't ask you then for your support, but I am the choice of my party fair and no one can dispute it. I am worthy of your confidence, your support and the position I seek and no one can dispute it. I only beg for what is due me, a square deal, and I will be your next Jailer by a big majority and you shall never have cause to regret the trust you gave me.

Once more I ask you for a square deal, if I am only asking for a small office, I am as much due fair treatment as those asking for higher positions.

I want to say that I am running now as I did in the primary, strictly on my own merits and not on the demerits of an opponent. I have no harm to say of any one.

Thanking you all for past favors and soliciting your support on November 8, and promising if elected to always appreciate the office and the friends who gave it to me, I beg to remain yours truly,

CHAS. T. RILEY

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS QUALEN CONCERT COMPANY

The Qualen Company, the first number of the Lyceum Course, gave a very pleasing entertainment at the School Auditorium Friday evening. The concert was well attended, the house was almost filled to capacity.

The curtain rose at 8:00 o'clock on one of the most pleasing numbers that has ever been presented in Marion. The program consisted of musical numbers by the trio that constituted the company and readings by Miss Armfield and Mr. Qualen. A satirical sketch on married life was presented by these two young people which was highly entertaining. Miss Ruth Mishey, at the piano and in the soprano solos, received much well deserved applause from the audience.

MY LAST APPEAL TO THE VOTERS. OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY

I am submitting to you for your fair and impartial consideration in this week's issue of the Crittenden Press, the testimonials of some of the good women and men of my home town and county, who know me personally and my moral standing and fitness for the office of judge of this judicial district and by asking it would have been two thousand instead of a hundred. I profess to be all that the signers of this article claim me to be. I am willing for the good people of Crittenden County to pass judgment on my character. A vote for me is a vindication of my character as a Christian gentleman and law-abiding citizen. A vote against me is to give credence to the wilful and malicious falsehoods which have been circulated by those who have an ax to grind by destroying my good name, that my opponent, Judge Henderson, may continue in office. It is indeed strange that a great party composed of citizens with like interests for their country's welfare as the great Republican party, cannot find a man to run against Judge Henderson for this high and exalted office that is not either a bootlegger or a night rider. I confidentially believe that the good people of Crittenden County will resent those charges that have been so flagrantly made and circulated as to me being a whisky man, a bootlegger and a night rider, that will forever deter men from seeking to ride into office upon falsehoods, misrepresentations and slander. I have never uttered one word against the moral character of Judge Henderson, nor will I. If I am elected to this office I want it to be upon my merits. If elected, I will enforce all laws upon the statutes books fearlessly and impartially, giving every man a square deal. I will deal kindly but firmly with all, litigants, lawyers, and the more unfortunate class, the man arraigned before me for trial. I can bear no malice against any one. Confidentially believing that the good people of Crittenden County of all parties will give me their hearty support and thereby resent those false charges I submit my claims to you.

Respectfully,

RUBY LAFFOON

FISCAL COURT

Fiscal Court convened Tuesday and besides the general routine of business passed a resolution to refund the money collected for building the new court house. The higher court had rendered a decision that it was unconstitutional. Esquire Davidson wrote to the Attorney General in regard to these taxes and he reported to Mr. Davidson that the taxes could be refunded and save any litigation. The Sheriff will begin to pay the taxes back to the tax payers Jan. 1.

Farm Bureau News

Saturday evening November 5, the Forest Grove Community Club will give their Halloween play at their school house. Everyone come out that night and have a good time at the school.

The week of November 7 to 12, inclusive will witness six night meetings in Crittenden county in the interest of the dairy cow. Dr. Polk, Extension Veterinarian from the Experiment Station at Lexington, will bring a motion picture outfit and two reels entitled "Out of the Shadows". This picture deals with tuberculosis eradication work showing through a story-play how tuberculosis gains a hold in a dairy man's family through drinking milk from tubercular cows. Dr. Polk will also make a talk on the work as carried on in the State of Kentucky and it will be of interest of everyone who drinks milk to hear him. The County Agent has also received several reels from the American Jersey Cattle Club showing the many good points of dairying with good Jersey cows. The picture entitled "Hearts and Jerseys" shows a romance of cattle raising of interest to all farmers. While the lifting up of a rundown farm thru the application of modern ideas and up to date appliances interwoven with an interesting love plot makes the picture very entertaining as well.

The list of meeting dates are as follows: Brown School House, Monday evening November 7th; Cisco's Chapel Tuesday; Chapel Hill Wednesday; Forest Grove Thursday; Tolu Friday and Marion High School Saturday November 12.

Arrange to attend the meeting nearest to you; all free no admission; you will miss something great if you miss these pictures.

Seed Corn Selection

A number of Crittenden county farmers have already or are now selecting their seed corn in the field. There is a lot of poor corn this year and wise is the man who selects his now, for if seed is poor this fall how scarce will it be next spring.

A number of farm ladies have signified their intention of entering the winter egg laying contest and have already started their feeding. No expensive feeds, simply balancing up the hens ration so that she will receive the materials that go into egg making. Could you work hard and feel good if you ate corn bread and water alone? Neither can the hen. Every one interested is urged to telephone or see the County Agent.

The County Agent will be in Paducah Monday, November 7th attending a County Agents Horticultural Conference.

An extended notice of the death of Messrs. John and C. H. Franklin will appear next week.

Illinois Central System's Territory Leads

The Nation In Production

The Illinois Central System, extending from the Great Lakes and the upper Missouri River valley along the Mississippi River to the Gulf of Mexico, serves the most productive district in the world. This wonderfully fertile territory drained by the nations three greatest water systems—the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio river—furnishes the raw material to feed, clothe, shelter and warm many millions of the world's population.

The fourteen states which are directly served by the Illinois Central System's 6,233 miles of railway lines are:

|----------|-------------|--------------|
| Alabama | Kentucky | Nebraska |
| Arkansas | Louisiana | South Dakota |
| Illinois | Minnesota | Tennessee |
| Indiana | Mississippi | Wisconsin |
| Iowa | Missouri | |

These fourteen states are less than 30 percent of the number in the Union. Their territory of 797,793 square miles is only 26.3 per cent of the total area of the United States. But how much greater are the percentages which show their leadership in the substantial things of the world!

Forty-five per cent of all the farms in the United States are located in these fourteen states, and in 1920 they produced crops valued at 39.2 per cent of the total valuation of all the farm crops in the country. The farms in these fourteen states are equipped with farm buildings valued at 46 per cent of the valuation of all the farm buildings of the country, and with farm machinery valued at 46.3 per cent of the nation's total.

In practically every farm crop these fourteen states as a whole take a pre-eminent leadership, despite the great variety of climate and soils encountered between South Dakota and Louisiana. In 1920 they produced 65.9 percent of all the corn, 30.7 percent of all the wheat, 62.4 percent of all the oats, 45.3 percent of all the barley, 49.1 percent of all the rye, 30.9 percent of all the white potatoes, 45.6 percent of all the sweet potatoes, 39.8 percent of all the tame hay, 61.3 percent of all the wild hay, 27 percent of all the cotton 63.7 percent of all the rice and 42.5 percent of all the tobacco raised in the United States.

The Illinois Central System's territory also is a leader in livestock production. The fourteen states on January 1, 1921, contained 46.8 percent of all the horses, 49 percent of all the mules, 43.1 percent of all the cattle, 19.3 percent of all the sheep and 62.2 percent of all the swine on the farms of the United States. The aggregate value of livestock in the fourteen states was 41.4 percent of the aggregate value of the livestock on all the farms in the country.

In addition to farm leadership the fourteen states served by the Illinois Central System produced 37.5 percent of all the lumber and 34.5 percent of all the bituminous coal produced in the country in the year 1920.

The Illinois Central System is proud of the magnificent territory which it directly serves with transportation. Transportation is the factor which gives real value to the excellent production of these states. We are constantly endeavoring to contribute our part toward making this territory of even greater productive value, especially by rendering a service of satisfaction to our patrons. We are eager to be of service because that is the end for which the Illinois Central exists.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM
President, Illinois Central System.

JOHN L. FRANKLIN BURIED AT UNION

On the fourth day of September 1858 John L. Franklin was born near Levas in Crittenden County, where he resided until about twenty years ago when he moved to the Tolu vicinity where he resided on his farm until his death last Friday at 8:30 p. m.

John Franklin was one of the best known and loved men this county has ever had. His many friends, white and black, rich and poor, confess a lack of words with which to express the grand and noble qualities of him while living and the loss of the county and community when he ceases to live and radiate his wonderful influence for good for humanity, the sick, the orphan, the homeless and the poor.

At a time like the present when men are prone to neglect the wants and needs of the fellow-man and live the Golden Rule, there are a few people who so steadfastly clung to the traditions of their youth as did John Franklin and his good wife, Anice. Their house, their home, their fireside, their pocket-book, the whole heart of these two great people were always open and many shared their prosperity and grieved with them in all their sorrows.

When life was breathed into the bodies of John Franklin and the good wife, who survives him, the universe burst forth young plants of kindness which took root in their hearts and grew an abode fruit which is and shall always be, a priceless heritage to those of us who survive him, lamenting but not complaining, that he was called into the great beyond. We cherish his memory and beg God's helping hand and love to strengthen her in this hour of sorrow.

WHAT THE COURIER JOURNAL SAID ABOUT JUDGE CARL HENDERSON, THE PEOPLE'S JUDGE:

The Courier Journal is the leading Democratic newspaper of the South.

In its issue of January 17, 1921, it pointed out the record of Judge Carl Henderson and Commonwealth's Attorney Charles Ferguson as a model for other Circuit Judges and Commonwealths Attorneys in the state.

The plain facts of the case are shown to be that Judge Henderson and Mr. Ferguson have saved the money of the taxpayers and the time of the People by their methods of holding Courts in a business like way, until the total saved runs into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Read what the Courier Journal says:

"The remarkable record of Judge Carl Henderson and Commonwealth's Attorney, Charles Ferguson, of the Fourth Judicial District in holding down jury fees and collecting fines and forfeitures is held up by the State Inspector and Examiner, Henry E. James, as a model for Court officials of other districts in his report on Livingston County where petit jurors did not average more than a week apiece during the two year period from November 1918, to December, 1920.

The Inspector attributes the good showing to care in arranging the dockets so that cases may be tried the day they are set, instead of compelling witnesses and jurors to wait around from day to day. Witnesses in Livingston County rarely drew more than one day's attendance. The State pays the jury fees and a commission to the Trustee of the Jury Fund and for the 120 counties last year it amounted to $294,862, of which $236,946 was paid petit jurors.

The condition in Livingston is typical of all the Fourth District Counties and the records in the Auditor's office shows that for the last year the four counties of the District, Caldwell Crittenden, Hopkins and Livingston, averaged $441.50 for petit jurors, compared to an average of $1,974.50 for the State and $729.50 for all jurors, compared to an average of $2,457.20 for the State.

Grand juries are limited to a week unless the time is extended but the Fourth District counties were among the lowest in the cost of grand juries. A comparison of their petit jury fees the last year with some of the smaller counties of the State is illuminating:

|------------|-----------|-------------|
| Caldwell | $ 472.00 | Judge |
| Crittenden | 424.00 | Henderson's |
| Livingston | 296.00 | District |
| Hopkins | 574.00 | |

| | | | |
|-----------|----------|----------|----------|
| Adair | 1,210.00 | Laurel | 2,813.00 |
| Ballard | 1,134.00 | Knox | 4,244.00 |
| Bath | 772.00 | Leslie | 1,200.00 |
| Boone | 1,174.00 | Lincoln | 2,394.00 |
| Bracken | 2,216.00 | Lyon | 1,052.00 |
| Carlisle | 1,436.00 | Marshall | 745.00 |
| Clay | 3,295.00 | Martin | 2,436.00 |
| Floyd | 3,771.00 | McCreary | 2,531.00 |
| Fulton | 1,656.00 | Ohio | 2,022.00 |
| Jackson | 2,261.00 | Union | 1,358.00 |
| Jessamine | 1,023.00 | Webster | 1,298.00 |
| Knott | 1,075.00 | | |

The Courier Journal is interested principally in money saved the State.

But think of the saving to the citizens of this district in time. Witnesses once had to hang around the court house day after day at $1.00 per day while absent from work which in many cases would have paid them $5.00 or $6.00 per day.

That is all over under Judge Henderson.

Jurors once had to spend weary weeks in town at $2.00 per day, which scarcely paid their expenses, while the farm and crops went to rack and ruin in their absence.

And that is all over under Judge Henderson.

HOW DID HE DO IT?

He conducted his court just as you would conduct your business. His sole desire to see that the laws were enforced and every man received justice—and he didn't find it necessary to put up with the lawyers' delay to get these things done.

After the lawyers understood that Judge Henderson meant business, they got busy too.

And the Courier gives you the result in facts and figures.

And there are other splendid results of Judge Henderson's administration.

We have peace and good order in Hopkins County.

Every man knows, that when he comes before Judge Henderson's Court, he will pay prompt Penalty for any violation of the law of which he has been guilty.

Every citizen from the humblest to the richest knows that he can take his case to Judge Henderson's Court and get equal and exact justice, a prompt trial and a fair one.

Partisan Politics

The leaders and thousands of prominent men and women in both the Democratic and Republican parties throughout the state recommend it. Editors, statesmen, educators urge it.

It is not a question of politics.

All the progressive men and women in both parties agree that it is the thing to do—LET'S DO IT.

A Million School Children In Kentucky Cry Out To You

Our existing educational system is old, obsolete and rendered inefficient by the manner in which our political system compels its administration. Progress has outgrown it. Other states have made the change and improved their educational systems 100 per cent by it. Kentucky children deserve no less.

This advertisement is paid for by patriotic Democratic and Republican men and women of Kentucky who want the million school children of Kentucky to enjoy the benefits of an educational system equal to other states.

Home Town Helps

SEE CITIZENSHIP AS A DUTY

Happy the Community Which Has a Number of Public-Spirited Men and Women.

A good citizen is a man or woman who takes a real interest in his or her home and the community in which he or she is maintaining that home.

A good citizen is one who makes every effort within his means to make the community a better place in which to maintain the home.

A good citizen does not "forget" when election day comes round. He makes it a point to remember that it is his duty as well as his privilege to exercise the right to the ballot.

A good citizen takes the time and trouble to study the candidates in the field at election time. He looks into their records, weighs the facts concerning each one, and determines their worth as public officials. Then he votes accordingly with reasonable intelligence.

A good citizen studies the propositions that will be submitted to him at election. He weighs the value of the issues, determines from the facts as he understands them, whether the propositions are good or bad. And he votes accordingly with reasonable intelligence.

A good citizen, then, is one who fulfills his civic, home, and political duties; one who is a part of the government of himself and his fellow men through the ballot that is given him by the American Constitution. He is not a slodestapper. He meets the issues squarely and answers promptly when his name is called. He is present at the polls on election day and he knows what he is doing when he casts his ballot—Quincy, (Ill.) Whig.

WILL DELIGHT THE CHILDREN

Vine-Covered Playhouse Which Can Be Made to Add to Appearance of the Lawn.

An attractive children's playhouse which does not spoil the appearance of the lawn, can be made as shown in the drawing. It consists of a wooden frame covered with wire netting, over which vines are grown. The frame is made of seven six-foot two-by-fours, the rafters being set with their bases five feet apart. These are then covered with wire netting, and the seeds of wild morning-glory, clematis, or other rapid-growing vines are planted along the edges. The frame may be painted green for better appearance. In six or eight weeks, the playhouse is very attractively covered with vines and furnishes a fine place for the children to play.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Evil in Scarcity of Homes.

Much of the unrest of the country is due to the scarcity of homes, according to F. Roger Miller, secretary of the chamber of commerce, Macon, Ga., who addressed the convention of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries at their meeting in Chicago.

"Marriages have continued at the rate of 1,040,000 yearly in the United States," he said. "But in 1918 only 20,000 new homes were erected, while in 1919 the number of new homes was only 70,000."

"This home shortage is not due to the war, but to a neglect of the principles and ideals of our forefathers. Out of every 100 Americans 90 are discontented."

Mr. Miller suggested placing the housing problem upon a community basis, with opportunity for every man to buy a home suitable to his income, and enactment of bills to provide federal aid for home builders.

The Tide Cityward.

The congestion of population in urban districts is an old complaint. It seems to be an inevitable consequence of our industrial civilization, and none of the schemes for checking it have proved effective. The disclosure by the census that the cities are growing seven and a half times faster than the rural districts is therefore no surprise. It is not so much that the cities have forged ahead as that the country has fallen behind. In the years from 1910 to 1920, indeed, the cities have gained only five new inhabitants where they gained six in the preceding decade. But rural growth has been only one-third as great.

Judge Henderson is asking the voters to re-elect him upon his record for hurrying the business of the court and claiming that it has been a great saving to the people.

It is true that he has rushed through his courts, but has it been a saving to the people or litigants? "Haste makes waste" is a true proverb. The fact that he has been reversed by the Court of Appeals in thirty-eight out of sixty-eight appealable cases shows that he either is not capable or does not take sufficient time for investigation of the law and facts to enable him to decide correctly. That being true of those cases that he knows are subject to appeal to a higher court, how much more so would it be in those cases in which there is no appeal from his decision.

More than ninety percent of the cases in his Court can not be appealed for the reason the amount in controversy is not sufficient. In his zeal to make a record for rushing business through his court, he gives only a superficial hearing, and renders his decision, right or wrong, and calls up the next case, there can be no appeal and litigants go away feeling they have not had a fair trial. The chances for making mistakes are always against him when he does not take time to look up the law, but depends upon guessing at it as he did when he published a letter last spring in reference to the commission form of government when Esq. Riley corrected him, and showed that he was wrong in his idea of the law.

BONUS FOR KENTUCKY VETERANS

The people of Kentucky are beginning to realize that this State has done practically nothing to show that she recognizes that her sons and daughters lately went forth into the greatest and bloodiest war of History. She has even forgotten to remember by any memorial or mark her honored dead.

Few Kentuckians know what other countries and states have done for their veterans of the World War. Shall Kentucky do less or fail to recognize the services of her valiant sons and noble daughters? The State of North Dakota has provided the sum of $25 per service month; Michigan, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington, Minnesota* and Wisconsin $15 per service month; New Jersey, New York, Missouri and Vermont $10 per service month; Massachusetts, Maine, Rhode Island and New Hampshire the sum of $100 as Adjusted Compensation for their ex-service men and women of the World War and the States of California, Colorado, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Tennessee have Adjusted Compensation measures pending at the present time, and war-ridden, devastated France has paid Adjusted Compensation up to $233.58; Great Britain has paid Adjusted Compensation up to $149.94 and Canada has paid up to $600. This country has paid her Civil Service employees a bonus of $240 per year but thus far she has nothing to offer to the men and women who defended her with their lives.

Veterans of several counties assembled at Lexington, October 18 and formed a permanent State organization and adopted a constitution and by-laws under the name of "The Veterans Welfare Association." It is intended to organize units of this Association in every city and county in Kentucky and all ex-service men and women, and their families are eligible for membership. There are no dues and no salaries officers.

The object of the organization is to first secure a bonus from the Kentucky legislature for veterans of the World War and to secure the enactment of Civil Service Preference Acts in the State and counties and cities and to generally provide for the welfare of veterans of all U. S. wars. Many states have granted preference to ex-service men in Civil Service. The organization wishes to expand as rapidly as possible as time for action is short and the Association has no salaried organizers and must depend wholly upon the united efforts of Kentucky veterans. Those eligible for membership are urged to call a mass meeting in their city form an organization and ask for charters and to do their bit for their buddies and themselves.

Every ex-service man and woman and members of their families who favor Kentucky paying a bonus shall send their names and addresses to R. E. L. Murphy, State President, Veterans Welfare Association, Lexington, Ky., or Taylor N. House, Corresponding Secretary, Veterans Welfare Association, Lexington, Ky. Signed

TAYLOR N. HOUSE,
Corresponding Sec.

FOOT-BALL DOPE

"Little Colonels" Win Close Game
From Greenville in Last Quarter

First quarter, nothing to nothing; second quarter, nothing to nothing; third quarter, nothing to nothing; fourth quarter, Marion 7, Greenville 0—boom—smash—zowie—sping! Oh joy! A stranger on observing the playful attitude of the enraptured natives of this city would have decided that the football game of the season had been played and won by Marion. Not so. The antics of the populace came as the result of the realization that we have a winning football team and therefore it was less of the chant of victory over Greenville than it was of a roar of defiance to Morganfield and Sturgis, the Union County Twin Cities. More than that the people were considerably stirred up over Centre's victory over Harvard, pronounced Ha-abvahl, Greenville is pronounced the same way it looks. And still you wonder why John Y. Brown carries such an open smile on his face this week?

Chief Hina and Wilson performed in the direct focus of the spotlight during the game and were ably assisted in the chorus and high notes by the rest of the team. It all started from a joke. A native of Greenville told the "Chief" a funny joke just before the game. He told "Chief" that Greenville had some line—stonewall defense and all that sort of thing. Chief soon saw thru the joke, in fact it was easy to see thru. Chief was seen laughing up the sleeve of his blue jersey several times during the game, especially at such times as he dashed through the joke anew. Naturally the Chief happened to think of a joke himself, as a fellow will. He whispered it to the quarterback of the Greenville team one time after he had thrown that gentleman for a five yard loss. The quarterback refrained from comment. And now for the serious part of the affair.

The game was an airtight affair. The old football swayed up and down the field during the first three quarters of the game. Greenville advanced the ball to the three yard line and lost it on downs. Marion punted and the ends were under the ball and ready to put dirty hands on the safety man when he grabbed the ball. It was noticed that after each down, from the middle of the game until the glad news came, the Marion warriors held an anxious hand over the brow, scanning the horizon trying to catch a glimpse of the telegraph operator with the news from Cambridge. Finally when the news came Marion settled down and won the game in a very pleasing manner. Wilson skipped blithely around right end for forty yards, a touchdown and victory all in one. John Oliver placed a delicate foot under the ball and registered a goal.

The feature of the game, aside from the little private sprint put on by Capt. Allen, was the unique method of keeping tab on downs which was introduced by the head linesman whom, we are informed, is a resident of Greenville. The linesman had twenty cents in the shape of four nickels when the game started. From the fact of the extreme difficulty in keeping account of the four downs in ten yards, which is real taxing on the brains of some people, this boy would shift a nickel from one vest pocket to the other after each down. This methodical arrangement of pecuniary promulgating the situation relative to downs will be lauded for its inimitableness and innocuousness by all head linesmen. Aint it so?

OBITUARY

Mrs. Nannie Bell Dycus died at her home in Dycusburg, Ky., Wednesday October 26, 1921.

law abiding citizens to vote for Judge Henderson on account of prohibition and for the welfare of the Boys, we all know where Judge Henderson stands, that he has done his full duty and most of the people know that Laffoon has always been on the Liquor side, that he has been the paid attorney for the Liquor interests. Judge Henderson has been the people's friend lets stand by him.

We hope the voters will not be deceived by false charges and untrue statements that will be made by the "Marion Clique" at the last hour.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

PUBLIC LETTER BY REV. J. B. TROTTER, LIFE LONG DEMOCRAT--Read What He Says About Judge Henderson

AN OPEN LETTER TO MY FRIENDS

Since I am paying tax in Crittenden county this year but can not vote there, I feel justified in making a public statement as to some issues in the election November 8th.

From all accounts both of print and personal, Judge Henderson's enemies are working themselves to defeat him.

I wish to call your attention to the fact that Judge Henderson is only asking for endorsement. If he had broken his pledge to the people it would do no harm to the country at large to turn him down, but when a man has kept his pledge with the people they are honor bound to give him the endorsement, otherwise no officer would feel that he would gain by doing what he promised.

I wish to call attention to three of the issues involved in his election six years ago. First was that of Law and order, Judge Henderson promised to uphold the law and his enemies must confess he has kept his pledge and dignified the law. The time is upon us now in the midst of this reckless time, that we must have men in office that greatly respect the law. All men have looked alike to Judge Henderson. I don't doubt for one minute that although I was his pastor and a close friend, had I ever violated the law and been called before him, that I would have been as any other man in his court and that is the only way we will save our country. He certainly kept his pledge on this issue. Second, Judge Henderson promised to dispense business in a business way to save money by having the cases tried promptly. It looks like the committee of my party is trying to throw dust in the sky when they say "Look at your tax receipts. We all know taxes have gone up" but we common people know regardless of this that if these jurors and witnesses lay around the court room they must be paid and the tax payers do the paying. I believe in being fair and not trying to fool the people. We know that Judge Henderson has saved us money. There is a danger if we disregard this pledge made and kept, that those who have charge next time will be reckless in expense.

Temperance is the third issue to which we wish to call your attention. Judge Henderson has been a thorn in the whisky peddlers flesh and I rather expect this is one reason for a hard fight on Henderson. I want to remind you good Christian people both men and women that we are facing the most trying time in our history on this question and the whisky men are shooting officers all over our state and what we need now is, to put in men we know to be tried out on this question. I am getting letters every day from the Anti-Saloon League asking that we not allow our people to overlook the importance of voting for men on whom we can depend for law enforcement.

While I am a democrat I reserve the right to vote for good men in what so ever party I desire. If I was allowed to vote in old Crittenden this year I would vote for Judge Carl Henderson

Yours as ever,

J. B. TROTTER
