(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT)

This statement is made to refute false charges that have been and are being made in connection with the campaigns of the last three years. I have always been a Democrat. If I was in favor of any newspaper as the time I registered with the Secretary of State, I ordered the registration of any real value to Rosendale to vote dry with all the other candidates except the Democratic ticket. I was willing to try the experience in Madison County, but I was more willing to try it in Madison County.

The election went dry and Mr. Laffoon was elected. He went to work in every way to enforce the law. He fought hard and won, and his election was a vindication of the law enforcement and the work done by the officers of the county and the county government.

The vote was not a protest against prohibition, but a vote for the enforcement of the law by the county officials. The people of Madison County are happy with the results of the election and are ready to support the county government and the county officials.

The following is a copy of the letter from Mr. John B. Williams, President of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League, to Mr. J. B. Laffoon:

"Dear Mr. Laffoon:"

"I am pleased to hear that the registration of the county officials was a success. It is a step in the right direction and will no doubt have a beneficial effect on the enforcement of the law in the county."

"I am confident that the results of the election will be a stimulus to the officials of the county to continue their efforts in the enforcement of the law."

"I am glad to hear that Mr. Laffoon was elected with a large majority. It is a clear indication of the people's desire for the enforcement of the law by the county officials."

"I am sure that the people of Madison County will be willing to support the county officials in their work."

"I am looking forward to the next election with confidence that the results will be similar to this one."

"Sincerely yours,"

"John B. Williams, President of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League."

CHAPTER IX

The Mystery of the Million

It was a very cold day in March, and as the sun rose over the flat, barren land, the first rays of light began to pierce through the thick clouds of mist that hung over the horizon. The wind whistled harshly across the field, carrying with it the chill of the winter. In the distance, a small cottage stood alone, its windows dark and uninviting.

At that moment, a young man emerged from the house, his breath visible in the cold air. He was dressed in a heavy overcoat and a scarf tied tightly around his neck. His eyes were fixed on the sky, searching for any sign of hope.

As he walked down the path, he noticed a group of people standing nearby, chatting among themselves. They watched as the man approached, their eyes following his movements.

"What do you think of that?" asked one of the onlookers, pointing towards the cottage. "Do you think they know what's going on?"

"I don't know," replied another. "But I think we should find out."

The man nodded, his expression serious. "Agreed," he said. "Let's go over there and see what we can find out."

As they approached the cottage, they could hear faint sounds coming from inside. They listened for a moment, trying to make out the words.

"I believe we should go in," said the man. "There's something going on here."

The group nodded in agreement, and they entered the cottage, their footsteps echoing through the small room. The man walked over to a window, peering out at the street. He had a look of determination on his face.

"We'll find out what's going on," he said. "I promise you that."

A CARD TO THE READERS

Friends of the Press if I fail to see you during my absence, I must ask you to believe me, and if I do not get your correspondence in the usual way, it is not because I am neglecting you. I am on the road, taking a short trip to see my far-off friends and relatives, and when I come back, I shall be happy to meet you and discuss the matters you have written to me. After making a few business arrangements, I shall be back as soon as possible.

MY LAST APPEAL TO THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY

I am submitting to you for your fair and impartial consideration, in this week's issue of the Crittenden Press, the testimonials of some of the good women and men of my home town and county, who know me personally and the moral character and fitness for the office of Judge of this judicial district and ask you if it would have been two thousand instead of two hundred who have voted for me, would you not have voted for me, and in the words of some of them, would you not have voted for me?

Ilinois Central System's Territory Leads

The In Nation Production

The Illinois Central System, extending from the Great Lakes and the upper Mississippi River valley along the Missouri River to the Gulf of Mexico, serves the most rapid and most direct railroad route to the eastern states from the same three greatest water systems—the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers—which form the clearest channel to the world's population.

The freight services which are directly served by the Illinois Central System, 4,235 miles of railroad lines are:

Illinois
Indiana
Mississippi
Michigan

These fourteen states are less than 30 percent of the territory of the U.S.

Their territory of 707,955 square miles is only 26.5 percent of the total area of the states.

The Illinois Central System, extending from the Great Lakes and the upper Mississippi River valley along the Missouri River to the Gulf of Mexico, serves the most rapid and most direct railroad route to the eastern states from the same three greatest water systems—the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers—which form the clearest channel to the world's population.

For the benefit of all the farms in the United States are located in these fourteen states, and in 1929 they produced corn total of all the farms in the country. The farms in these fourteen states are equipped with farms machines valued at the cost of operations of all the farm buildings, and with farm machinery valued at $87.5 percent of the nation's total.

In every practiced form every farm at the same as a significant leadership, despite the great variety of climate and soil environment between North Dakota and Louisiana. In 1929 they raised 15.5 percent of all the corn, 13.7 percent of all the wheat, 41.4 percent of all the soybeans, 41.5 percent of all the cotton, 13.7 percent of all the hay, 15.5 percent of all the small grains, 15.5 percent of all the all the dry grains, 15.5 percent of all the all the farm in the United States.

In the Illinois Central System, extending from the Great Lakes and the upper Mississippi River valley along the Missouri River to the Gulf of Mexico, serves the most rapid and most direct railroad route to the eastern states from the same three greatest water systems—the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers—which form the clearest channel to the world's population.

In addition to farm leadership the fourteen states served by the Illinois Central System produced 32.5 percent of the corn and 34.5 percent of all the farms in the country in the year 1929.

The Illinois Central System is proof of the railroad territory which it serves and its rail service in all the states. The Illinois Central System is the most rapid and most significant service for the excellent production of these states. We are constantly endeavoring to contribute to the development of the territory we serve, by making the best use of our facilities, especially by rendering a service of satisfaction to our patrons. We are eager to be of service to all our patrons. We are always ready to serve the patrons for which the Illinois Central System is the most rapid and most significant service.

Kentuckians Vote "Yes" For Both Amendments

November 8th

and take Kentucky Schools out of the gutter of Politics

The leaders and thousands of prominent men and women in both the Democratic and Republican parts of the state strongly recommend them. Edition, statement, educators urge it.

It is not a question of politics.

A MILLION SCHOOL CHILDREN IN KENTUCKY CRY OUT TO YOU

Our existing educational system is old, obsolete and temporarily in the way of the work of the people. Progress has outgrown it.

Other states have made the change and improved their educational systems 100 per cent by it.

Kentuckians need this law. This amendment is up for re-election.

The amendment is in the best interest of Kentucky.

The amendment is in the best interest of young people.

THE SPIRIT OF YOUTH—

...the same spirit that makes the young man of high school age want to be in the navy, is in the suits we're showing for younger men. They're made especially for the young man of today. There's a strong demand for these suits with extra features to match—and we have them.

FOOT BALL DOPE

We asked citizens in various parts of the country for their opinions on the subject, and the replies we received were most varied. Some thought that foot ball was a noble sport, while others felt it was too rough and dangerous. What are your thoughts on the matter? Should foot ball be allowed in schools? Why or why not? Share your opinions with us in the comments section below.
