More than 1,000 citizens gathered at Dunsmuir Springs Wednesday to receive the American Legion Award (Vets' Magazine, June 30) The Legion's honor was presented to Judge W. R. Inlow, who was born in the town and served in World War II. The ceremony took place in the Dunsmuir City Hall. Among those present were Mayor Robert E. Gray, who presided, and members of the Legion's executive committee.

City News

Judge A. H. Gibson's court has been working overtime to clear the docket of cases that were backlogged. Among the cases tried recently were those of Charles C. Barker, who was found guilty of embezzlement, and John Doe, who was found guilty of theft.

COMMUNITY CLUB PLAY

On the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the American National Bank of Marion, the Community Club held a special event. The proceeds were to be donated to the local library. The event included a play written by one of the club members, a silent auction, and a dance. The play was well-received by the audience, and the auction raised over $1,000 for the library.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT

City Hospital recently added a new wing to accommodate the growing number of patients. The wing includes additional beds, a larger emergency room, and upgraded medical equipment.

First Presbyterian Church

The First Presbyterian Church in Marion was recently awarded a grant from the Presbyterian Church USA to fund the renovation of the church's sanctuary. The church has been in operation for over 150 years and is celebrating its centennial this year.

Court House News

Judge Jones held a hearing on a case involving a dispute over property lines. The case will be continued to a later date.

Old Wellings

Reopened after Many Years

The old Wellings, a popular old-time well, has been reopened after many years of neglect. The well, located in the center of town, was last used in the 1860s. Local residents are hopeful that the well will provide a valuable water source for the community.

LEMONADE SELLERS

Many lemonade stands are operating in the area, with children selling lemonade on street corners to raise money for local charities. The lemonade is popular with both adults and children.

OLD SETTLER'S DAY

Celebrated in Marion

The old settler's day is celebrated each year to honor the pioneers who settled in the area. Local residents participate in a parade, a historical reenactment, and a picnic. The event is held on the second Saturday of June.

MARION SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Marion School District has implemented a new policy to improve student attendance. The policy includes increased monitoring and incentives for attendance.

Bible Study

A Bible study group meets weekly at the First Methodist Church to study the Bible and discuss its teachings. The group is open to all interested individuals.

CHAPTER IV

In the midst of the schoolroom, in the rich southern country, where the old adage 'tis better to give than to receive' is still observed, a little girl of about five years stood looking out of the window. She wore a blue dress and a bonnet, and her hands were white and clean. Her face was round and pink, and her eyes were bright and merry.

"What is the matter, my dear?" said her governess, an old lady with gray hair and a kind smile.

"I want to see the rain," answered the little girl.

"Oh, how delightful it would be!" exclaimed the governess, as she stepped aside to let the girl go out.

"No. I want to see the rain properly," said the little girl.

"And how would you like to see it?" asked the governess.

"I want to see it through the window," replied the little girl.

"But why, my dear?" asked the governess.

"Because I like the rain falling through the glass," answered the little girl.

The governess laughed heartily, and said:

"Oh, my dear, you are a little philosopher!"

The little girl smiled contentedly, and walked back to her seat.

CHAPTER V

In the meantime, a little girl of about ten years stood in the same schoolroom, looking out of the window. She wore a brown dress and a bonnet, and her hands were white and clean. Her face was round and pink, and her eyes were bright and merry.

"What is the matter, my dear?" said her governess, an old lady with gray hair and a kind smile.

The little girl smiled contentedly, and walked back to her seat.

CHAPTER VII

In the meantime, a little girl of about seventeen years stood in the same schoolroom, looking out of the window. She wore a brown dress and a bonnet, and her hands were white and clean. Her face was round and pink, and her eyes were bright and merry.

"What is the matter, my dear?" said her governess, an old lady with gray hair and a kind smile.
