How the use of building quality tires has been brought down to the lowest level in history was reported by H. B. Firestone, President of the Company, to the stockholders at the annual meeting on December 12, 1921.

1. Tires for farm use have been reduced.
2. Improved manufacturing efficiency and volume production reduced factory costs rapidly.

For a tire reduction of 47% to 48% on the sizes above, which are the most popular, we have evidence that this is not the last word in tire reduction. The Firestone Company is determined to push the campaign for tire reduction beyond the present stage, with the result that the next year will see even larger cuts in the prices of tires. The Firestone Tires are designed and manufactured to meet the needs of the modern farm, and are the result of years of research and development. The company is committed to providing the best possible service and support to its customers, and is dedicated to the continuous improvement of its products.

SEEK DEFINITION FOR TRUCK
But Few Maps Follow Data as to Size of Vehicles Using Highway

A recent report by the United States Department of Agriculture states there is no satisfactory definition as to the size of vehicles using the highway. There is a movement on the part of some officials to define the size of vehicles using the highway and to limit them to the size of a single axle, but this definition will not be satisfactory to many of the truck owners, as many of the trucks are used for carrying goods and are too large to be included under the definition. It is feared that this definition will not be satisfactory to all the truck owners, as many of the trucks are used for carrying goods and are too large to be included under the definition.
