Blue and White in season in your glass Sept. 11, Win-of Season Here was which
With Princeton

The football season will be officially ushered into Marion on next Saturday when the Blue and White opens the argument with Princeton.
According to John Oliver's "almanac" the weather will be the best that can be dished out for the occasion at this season.

The Blue and White is fast rounding into form and shows signs of becoming a championship outfit. The backfield with Brown, Wikel, Capt.
Wilson and Dillard is equal to the best in the C. I. A. At center we still have the old reliable John Oliver and at ends we have Travis and Hicklin. Belt and Gass will easily take care of the tackle positions and Towery, Hughes and Wicker will handle the situation on either side of the center. We have a husky bunch of second string men who will have plenty of opportunities to get action before many games have been played this season.

The season's schedule is very attractive, there being ten games on the list. These are:

Sept. 23, Princeton at Marion
Sept. 30, Marion at Owensboro
Oct. 7, Marion at Paducah
Oct. 14, Greenville at Marion
Oct. 21, Clay at Marion
Oct. 28, Marion at Morganfield
Nov. 4, Marion at Sturgis
Nov. 11, Marion at Henderson
Nov. 18, Marion at Clay
Nov. 30, Providence at Marion

The home games will be played at Cooks Park, Mr. Cook having offered the grounds to the school for use in all athletic events.

RESIGNS PASTORATE

Rev. N. C. Lamb of Dawson Springs who has for a number of years been pastor of the Freedom Baptist church, has resigned owing to the infirmities of old age.
He preached his closing sermon at this church last Sunday to a good sized congregation. Mr. Lamb is 73 years old, has been in the ministry for 50 years and during the last 28 years has missed only two appointments, although his pastorates were widely apart, in this and adjoining counties.

It is not known who will succeed him as pastor of the Freedom church.
Freedom is one of the oldest organizations in the county, having been organized soon after Crittenden was made a county and Marion founded as its county seat.

The year for the Marion County High School is very promising. The course of study has been enlarged this year to include a Department of Home Economics under the direction of Miss Helen E.
Williams of St. Petersburg, Fla., who received her degree in Home Economics from the Florida State College for Women last Spring. The department was quickly filled with eager students. There are forty enrolled in this department.

The enrollment up to date has reached more than 160 and new students are being enrolled every day.
Last year during the entire year we enrolled 164 and if the same ratio continues until the close of the year the enrollment will reach nearly 200.

The senior class has organized with twenty-two members. Richard Hick-lin is president. The class is planning to put out an Annual this year.
In addition to the Annual the class is backing the Lyceum Course. This course is probably the best ever given in Marion High School.

The Parent-Teacher Association has just elected officers for the year and has begun to plan its work for the fall. Mrs. Ira T. Pierce is the new president and may be seen daily about the business of the organization.

The football team is going to be a wonder this year. From twenty-five to thirty boys are in uniform every day following the ball across the field. The business men of Marion are backing the school and the team.

Literary activities are beginning to take form. The faculty play will be given Oct. 13. On Oct. 27, Operetta; Nov. 2, Clifford Fuest Trio, Lyceum Number; Dec. 15, Christmas Play.

OLD RESIDENT VISITS MARION

Mr. A. S. Threlkeld, a former Marion citizen, returned Monday for a short visit. Mr. Threlkeld left here forty-two years ago and he reports that when he got off the train Monday he met only a crowd of strangers. Not a person recognized him, and not a soul was there he recognized. He might as well have been in Timbuctoo. He says the town looks strange to him and that even the hills around seem flattened out and unnatural. After being here twenty-four hours he says he saw but two people that lived here when he left. C. E. Doss and W. L. Big-ham. Mr. Threlkeld's home is now in Fredonia.

ARM BROKEN

J. D. Asher, Jr., the ten-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Asher, fell from the station platform at the
I. C. Depot Friday night and broke his left arm below the elbow in two places. Drs. Cook and Frazer dressed the wounds and the injuries are improving. The child had gone to the station to meet his sister and was playing on the platform with other boys when the accident occurred.

Mr. D. O. Boaz of Fredonia was in Marion Tuesday.

MANLEY AND GAS- KINS "NOT GUILTY"

Henderson Jury Returns Verdict of Acquitted on Assault
Charge

George H. Manley and J. L. Gaskins, federal prohibition agents, were tried before Judge Hunt, at Henderson, Thursday on a charge of drawing concealed deadly weapons on George Green, former sheriff, when several agents and some members of the police force made a raid north of Henderson last June. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict of acquittal.

Green testified that he and Ed Presley were driving a well on the farm of W. A. Stevens, who had given him permission to feed hogs there. While thus engaged he was surprised by the raiders. The first demand for "hands up" was complied with by Green, but Presley hesitated until a second command from Agent Gaskins, accompanied with presented rifle, caused him to raise his hands also.

The federal agents testified that a still was in operation in the Horseshoe Bend and it was their duty to investigate; that the barrels found where Green was sinking the well indicated that they had been used as containers for mash, and that only one rifle, that of Gaskins, was presented at Green and Presley, which was caused by the refusal of Presley to obey orders.

Judge Belaurum of Lexington was chief counsel for the prohibition officers, and F. J. Pentecost was special attorney for the prosecution.

At a former trial held in a magistrate's court the federal agents were given a fine of $100 each.

SHORTAGE OF TEACHERS

County Superintendent J. L. F.

districts that have not procured teachers. Mr. Paris attributes the shortage of teachers mainly to the workings of the new school laws.

HAVE STAKE IN COMMUNITY

Home-owning Citizens Feel Responsibility of Their Position and Govern Themselves Accordingly.

It almost goes without saying that home ownership is by far the most valuable adjunct to government and that the former is a tremendous power in stabilizing the latter. The nomad constantly desires change, because wherever he pitches his tent he considers himself to be at home. On the other hand, the responsible property owner abhors nothing so much as change, because his hearth is not one which can be moved and which would be the last thing he would wish to see affected. The classic illustration, which has been used before this by many writers, is that of Alexander's conquest of Persia; this country was a constant source of civil war and rebellion until, acting upon the advice of one of the philosophers attached to his court, Alexander saw to it that the Persians became a nation of shopkeepers, which in turn caused them to set up permanent dwellings and ultimately to become the most peaceful and law-abiding citizens. The irresponsible cowboy was inclined in the old days to shoot-up frontier towns, since if the neighborhood became too hot for him he could simply pull up stakes and "drift" to some other part of the country; nobody to my knowledge in those days ever heard of a substantial citizen being guilty of that sort of conduct.—Exchange.

WORK WITH DEFINITE OBJECT

Real Estate Men Have Right Idea in Their Advocacy of Zoning System for Cities.

The value and the salability of real estate depends upon what? Mostly upon the skill with which it is subdivided; upon the transportation facilities, the utilities and the street system which serve it; upon the parks and recreation facilities available to it; upon its outlook; upon the business and social wealth, and producing capacity to the community; and upon the protection given it against offensive use of neighboring property, says Jacob L. Crane Jr., zoning and city planning engineer and adviser on zoning for the Chicago Real Estate board.

The last of these factors is controlled by zoning. All the others may be controlled very largely by city planning, which deals with all of these things in a definite and comprehensive way. The real estate business, therefore, like all other business, to a large degree depends on the results of city planning, whenever it is taken up. This explains why real estate men are so vitally interested in the subject, and why they are usually the first ones to support city planning and zoning projects.

Aim to Prevent Fire Loss.

Let the city fire department be as efficient as is that of the district. There still remains much for the average citizen to do in preventing fire. After all, prevention is better than cure in this matter, as in all others. Even as modern medicine is coming around to a serious campaign throughout the nation to prevent illness, rather than cure it after it occurs, so a city may campaign strenuously to prevent fires before they break out.

The responsibility of the individual man, woman or child, therefore, is the crux of the matter. Until, through educating the public in every way possible to the necessity of such prevention, the average person is made to be always on the watch for incipient fires and actively thinking about them, a community is not true to itself along these lines.

What greater absurdity, for instance, than allowing a carelessly thrown match to set fire to a great building and then calling out half the fire-fighting equipment of a city, when the active thought of the man who threw the match might have prevented the whole thing?—Washington Star.

Schools Use Buses.

There are 12,000 schools in the United States now using buses to transport their pupils. The day of the little red schoolhouse is numbered. Consolidated or community schools are taking their place because of the increased educational facilities and standard permitted by pooling of appropriations. Better buildings, better equipment, better instruction are the immediate result. But with consolidation comes the factor of distance, so buses were the answer and this form of transportation is making good for better education.—From Federal Traffic News.

Teeth-Grinding and Adenoids.

Among 2,395 collected cases of adenoid growths, Benjamin states grinding the teeth was mentioned in 904 cases. Out of 1,791 personal cases Benjamin found: Snoring, 1,085 cases; impaired hearing, 906 times; catarrh of the upper air passages, 978 times; grinding the teeth, 615 times; apnoea (inability to concentrate the mind), 566 times; enuresis, 462 times. Removal of the adenoids does not, however, always give relief from these symptoms.

If comparative figures from 14 of the leading horse-producing states can be taken as showing the tendency in all parts of the country, there has been a decrease since 1915 of about 60 per cent in the number of stallions in service in the United States. Grades, cross-breeds and scrubs have been falling behind at a greater rate than the purebreds, the latter decreasing a little less than 50 per cent. These statements are based upon a report, "Stallion Enrollment as Related to the Horse-Breeding Situation," just compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture from reports from 18 to 24 states having stallion-enrollment laws.

There has been a decrease in the total number of stallions and jacks every year since 1915, but the date of decline slackened somewhat in 1921. Fourteen states having an enrollment of 40,121 stallions in 1915, had only 18,002 in 1921, a decrease of 55.8 per cent. Of the stallions in 18 states in 1921, 74.2 per cent were purebred. In 1915, only 60 per cent were registered sires. As the numbers decrease the quality improves. Farmers are finding that it pays to raise only good horses and mules.

The number of stallions of the light breeds has been decreasing more rapidly than the number of draft stallions. The total of jacks has been increasing gradually until the last year, when there was a slight decrease. There has been a striking increase in the actual number of purebreds. The change in the ratio of jacks to stallions is a fairly accurate measure of the popularity of the mule. Twenty-nine per cent of the total number of stallions and jacks enrolled for public service in 15 states in 1921 were jacks, while in 10 states in 1915 only 9.8 per cent were jacks.

Several states have recently enacted enrollment legislation that should lead to further improvement of breeding stock and the general run of work.

Purebred Stallions of Size and Quality.

stock. Pennsylvania and Indiana now permit the use of only purebred stallions and jacks for public service. They also disqualify stallions and jacks that are unsound or of such inferior type or conformation that they may prove a detriment to the horse-breeding interests of these states. Michigan, also, has passed a similar law that will become operative January 1, 1923.

A copy of the complete report on stallion enrollment may be obtained by writing to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

BALANCED FEEDS MAKE MEAT

With Suitable Rations and Careful Supervision Farmer Should Make Hogs Pay.

There is no place on the farm where it will pay the farmer for keeping his weather-eye peeled, and his think-tank active, as when he is feeding his domestic animals. Balanced rations will help to turn coarse feeds into high-priced meat products, but along with balanced rations must go balanced personal supervision. With both, the farmer who can't make money raising hogs in these days has something to learn.

GIVE PIGS PLENTY EXERCISE

Animals from Pasture Range and Plenty of Exercise Will Be sturdy and Healthy.

Pigs that are shut in small, dry yards do not do as well as those that have pasture range. A pig that has plenty of exercise may not be quite as fat as his shut-in relative but he will invariably be much sturdier and healthier.

Lack of Protein

The lack of protein causes animals to shed their hair late in the spring, and causes them to fatten slowly during the early pasture season. The feeding of straw likewise causes this condition.

Good Mixture for Lambs.

Lambs should begin to nibble at grain when about two weeks of age. A good mixture is ground corn two parts, crushed oats two parts, linseed meal one part, wheat bran one part.

SPECIAL-SIX SEDAN

Studebaker
$2050

THE Studebaker Special-Six Sedan will win your admiration at first glance. After you have examined it you will be even more delighted with it. When you have ridden in it you won't be satisfied with anything else.

The market does not offer a more beautiful enclosed body. Certainly none is built of better materials and finer workmanship. It is a striking example of the handicraft of Studebaker artisans.

Everything is in exquisite taste. Its distinctive body lines are enhanced by massive headlights, the graceful cowl lamps and the courtesy light just above the running board on the driver's side, which illuminates the roadway in passing other cars at night.

Inside, the inviting depth of the cushions, the subdued harmony of upholstery, the soft carpeting and the completeness of appointments offer an irresistible appeal.

It is mounted on the same Special-Six chassis which has won the enthusiasm of thousands of owners for its dependable performance, power, comfort and economy in fuel and tires.

The Studebaker Special-Six Sedan offers the utmost closed car refinement—and at moderate cost. At the new low price of $2050 it represents the greatest closed car value that Studebaker ever offered.

The name Studebaker is your assurance of satisfaction.

Four doors that swing wide open; simple, automatic window lifts raise or lower plate glass windows; equivalent courtesy lights; massive headlights; artistic coach lamps; courtesy lights; cowl ventilator; windshield wiper and rain visor; jeweled eight-day clock; exhaust heater; three speed transmission lock.

When King George Ate Kentucky Ham

A short time before his death Lord Northcliffe invited King George to dinner. The agreement was that he was to give the English ruler a feast such as he had never sat down to before.

The King came and the dinner was served. In its proper course one of Trigg County's famous hams was brought on the table. The King was delighted. Never had he tasted anything equal to it.

"My grandmother, Queen Victoria, used to buy her hams in America, but never have I tasted anything like this."

Do you want to know more about the story of the world-famous Trigg County Hams? Never enough to supply the demand. You are lucky if you can get one.

Read the Entire Interesting Story in the

Louisville Post

Mr. Ralph Coghlan, a special writer for the Louisville Post, is visiting the 120 counties of Kentucky. You will want to know the story of your own county as well as the other counties of the State. This series will begin Monday, October 2, and continue daily thereafter. Lots of interesting and little known facts about Kentucky, its roads, schools, business enterprises, industries and other facts. The greatest feature story ever to appear in a Kentucky newspaper.

Do You Know that wonderful metal—Fluorspar—in its pure state can be kept only in gold or platinum containers? One of the most valuable metals in industry. The world comes to Kentucky for its fluorspar. What county? The Louisville Post article will tell you. It will appear in an early issue.

- How Paducah got its High School gymnasium? An example of public-spirited citizenship.
- That the United States Capitol came near being in Kentucky instead of at Washington?
- How an enterprising Kentucky county spent $300,000 to get out of the mud?

President Tyler, as a coal miner in Kentucky, is another unusual story, the facts of which have been dug up by Mr. Coghlan. Every one of the 120 counties has its own interesting story.

News of the World

These are just some of the interesting features that this series will contain. But even aside from these, you will want to subscribe for the Louisville Post. It gives you all the telegraphic news and political news of the world. Its bond and market reports are complete, accurate and up to the minute.

Women! Read Ann Stirling

The Woman's page is a daily delight, with its Ann Stirling column of helpful heart-to-heart talks that hold and interest every woman and girl. Bedtime stories for little ones.

Special Political Articles

Are you interested in politics? David Lawrence's famous letters appear exclusively in the Louisville Post. The Post editorials are famous for their sterling Americanism—America and Kentucky—first, last and all the time.
